THIS YEAR BRINGS A REVUE

Chautauqua Keeps Up-to-the-Minute in Entertainment Features.

The 1927 Chautauqua is bringing a 1927 program. One of the outstanding features of the entertainment world in the past two years has been the increasing popularity of what is known as a Revue. This year's Chautauqua will bring a Revue as a part of the program.

However, a Revue as it has been given in the cities has often times been subject to criticism on account of the type of entertainment offered. The Chautauqua Revue that is being given this year, is the kind which has achieved popularity among those who insist that the entertainment be kept clean and those who appreciate quality rather than mass production in their entertainment.

The Lucille Elmore Revue is led by a diminutive Broadway star, who secured her training under Fred Stone in "Stepping Stones." Fred Stone is famous throughout America as the "Christian Comedian" and has long stood for clean entertainment. At the same time, when his show is on Broadway it is generally harder to get seats for it than any other theatre in town.

Miss Elmore has learned just how to build a program of the Stone type which is sparkling in its comedy, swift moving in its action and thoroughly above criticism in every respect. Her own numbers are all plays received with a storm of applause.

Another notable member of the Revue is Stewart Churchill whose Marimba playing has been a sensation wherever this young wizard has appeared. The present tour is his first trip to the far Western States. Western audiences have seen some good Marimba people in their time, but unless all predictions fail, Churchill's playing will be remembered for many a day.

The Lucille Elmore Revue with its interesting innovations is an other example of the reason that Chautauqua has been increasing in popularity during the last two years, especially in the larger and more cultured centers.

Symbol of Permanent Peace

The first international flag day is to be celebrated at the giant peace arch at Blaine, Wash., on July 2. The arch, which spans the international boundary between the United States and Canada, was dedicated in September, 1921, by Marshal Joffre of France. Queen Marie of Rumania officiated at similar ceremonies conducted last year. At the flag day rites this year, William Lyon Mackenzie King, Canadian premier, will make the principal address. Henry Ford has been requested to obtain a keynote message for the celebration from Col. Charles Lindbergh.
