ADVERTISING SLOGAN IS PROVING BIG SUCCESS (Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—The "Save the Surface" educational campaign waged by the National Paint, Oil and Varnish association has been among the most successful industrial advertising programs ever attempted.

"Many other industries are now planning educational campaigns along the same lines," Cassidy said.

"Another equally important work of the association is the organization of the national 'clean up and paint up week' which has resulted in better business for many small town dealers as well as improvement to the appearance of the towns."

Cassidy said the national association was backing the lumber industry, because it felt that homes of lumber were more permanent and also more attractive than those built of other materials.

FARM PRICES SHOW ADVANCE FOR LAST MONTH

The general level of farm prices advanced four points in June, from 126 to 130, the largest advance made in a single month since March, 1925, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The increases in farm prices are attributed largely to adverse weather conditions this spring. The Mississippi flood affected cotton prices and some of the other farm products.

The farm price of potatoes and the f. o. b. and market prices show opposite trends for May and June. The market price declined while the farm price advanced.

Corn again advanced sharply breaking all records back to 1909. The gains of June over May, the increase amounts to about 18 per cent over the previous month and is about 23 per cent above the 1914 average for the month and approximately the same degree above June, 1925.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY KNICK

"Oh, see! Oh, my! Oh, goodness me!" cried Clowdy, scared as he could be. "Won't someone kindly save me from this horse. He's going mad. The merry-go-round is his real home. What business has he got to roam? Of all the thrills this is the worst that I have ever had."

"Oh, don't be frightened," Copy cried. "That horse will show you how to ride. Just hang on tightly to his neck and you'll be safe and sound. The horse I'm on is frisky, too. The only thing that we can do is keep from being thrown off, else we'll land upon the ground."

The other Tinymites kept real still. They didn't want to take a spill, and feared that if they shouted, they'd be thrown up in the air. "Twas best to let the horses run, and try to make it seem like fun. Of course they might jump to the ground, but felt they didn't dare."

And, in the meantime, Princess Fan, just laughed and laughed at what she'd done. For she had waved the magic wand and turned the horses loose. She watched them for a while, then thought it best the animals were caught. She then brought forth a magic rope and put the thing to use.

It floated out upon the air and seemed to pick its way with care. Right after all the horses went the funny looking rope. The Tinymites saw it come their way and they shouted loud, "Hurrah!" They knew that rescue thus was near, which filled them all with hope.

And, as the rope's good work was done, it grasped the horses one by one. It circled round about their necks and made them stop real short. "At last, we're safe,"

SYNTHETIC RUBBER SECRET MAY YIELD TO THE X-RAY

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 7.—The secret of synthetic rubber may be disclosed by the X-ray, speakers today told the institute of chemistry of the American Chemical Society in session at Pennsylvania State college.

George L. Clark, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Illinois, said that experiments now in progress were revealing new knowledge of the fundamental properties of rubber which, eventually, may enable the chemist to produce a successful synthetic product.

"X-ray photographs show the amorphous pattern of unstretched rubber, and the fiber-crystal structure of stretched rubber," said Professor Clark.

"The most interesting feature at present is that no sample of synthetic rubber has been found to produce this sharply fibered diagram. It is possible that this is the criterion of the successful artificial reproduction of rubber."
