Several charming visitors have provided inspiration for much of the way of pleasant and informal social entertainment during the week and will probably continue to do so the coming few days with the arrival of other out of town folk, some of whom are planning to spend several weeks in the city as the guests of relatives.

Mrs. A. R. Moore Entertains With Lovely Affair

A wholly lovely affair of Thursday was the one o'clock luncheon and bridge party planned by Mrs. A. R. Moore in compliment to her house guests, Mrs. T. A. Wilson of Portland and Mrs. James Williams of Eugene, a group of sixteen prominent matrons being asked for the afternoon.

Luncheon at the Empress Hotel was followed by the bridge game at the attractive country home of Mrs. Moore. The rooms were brightened with bowls of sweet peas and other summer blossoms. Honors for the afternoon went to Mrs. A. D. Abbott and second prize was won by Mrs. Fred Chapman. Guest prizes were given Mrs. Wickes, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. L. W. Jones of Portland.

Mrs. W. C. Small of Roseburg is spending the week-end in Portland having left Friday to meet a party of friends enroute from Alaska to Washington, D. C., and visit with them, including in the party Mrs. Harry Blake and Miss Emily Blake, her daughter, and Mrs. Chas. Creager.

Mrs. Geo. Nesbitt of Houston, Texas, will arrive in the city the coming week to visit with her niece, Mrs. A. M. Thorne, and other relatives.

Program of Early Oregon History Given

An interesting program of early Oregon history and pioneer incidents was the feature of the Bellview Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Roslund the afternoon of July 1.

Mrs. Fred L. Strang sang several delightful numbers accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Bell and the Misses Roslund sang several selections. Mrs. J. O. Arthur, who is leaving to make her home in Chicago, was presented with a silver picture by her group of friends in recognition of her interest in the club.

Irvin Terrill Weds California Maid

A recent wedding of note which will be of interest to couples in Roseburg is that of Mr. Irvin S. Terrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Terrill, former residents of the city, and Miss Helen M. Thompson of Riverside, California, which was solemnized at an afternoon ceremony the first of the month at the home of Justice George W. Holbrook in San Bernardino.

The wedding was attended by only a small group of intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom. William Stewart, Jr., netted as best man and the bride was attended by Mrs. Marjorie Heaton. Mr. Terrill attended school in Roseburg, later attending O. A. C. where he was a member of Kappa Sigma national fraternity. He moved to Medford with his parents several years ago and recently has been making his home in the south. Mr. Terrill is a member of the editorial staff of the Evening Telegram at San Bernardino, where he and his bride will make their home.

Mrs. W. H. Carter Entertains Aid Gathering

For the meeting this week of the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church Mrs. W. H. Carter asked the members to her home on South Pine street Thursday. Matters pertaining to the organization's part in the building of the new church were discussed and charity relief work was taken up. The ladies also formed plans for a cooked food sale for July 18.

During the afternoon several sewed on articles for the bazaar to be held in the fall. A committee composed of Mrs. Fred Perry, Mrs. C. H. Rusho and Mrs. Chas. V. Stanton served to the fifteen ladies.

Nina Carter and Marion Weatherford Wed in Centralia

An announcement this week proving an interesting surprise to many of the younger set was the marriage of Nina Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Campbell, and Marion Weatherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Weatherford, the wedding taking place July 3 at Centralia, Wash.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended and graduated from Roseburg high school and have a wide circle of friends among the younger set. This bride has been employed at the office of Dr. L. M. Leimbach and Mr. Weatherford is employed at the Highway Service Station. They will make their home on South Pine street.

On Thursday evening a group of their friends gave a chaperon for them and at the close the group were their guests at the Palace of Sweets.

Mrs. Eugene Hampton was hostess Saturday afternoon at her home for a pleasurable affair she planned in honor of Mrs. Oscar Carlson (Helen Day) of Spokane who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Edith Day. The afternoon was given over to needlework followed by tea and twelve friends were asked to call to greet Mrs. Carlson—Eugene Guard.

Visitors Entertained at Evening Affair

A very delightful affair of last Saturday evening at South Deer Creek was arranged at the Grange hall for the pleasure of four visitors, the daughters and nieces of Wm. B. Melton, Sr., from Sacramento, and the guests of Sherman S. Conline, from San Francisco, who are spending a few weeks at South Deer Creek.

The hall was transformed with protusions of crimson rambler roses and white lilies into a pretty setting for the musical program and following entertainment. The program was presented by Mrs. H. Bailey, worthy lecturer of the Grange, who assisted at a piano duet by Miss Isabelle Karcher and Mrs. Bailey, recitations by Freida Duncan and Calvin Smith, piano solos by Lois Duncan, Albert Karcher, Josephine Cachelin, May O'Donnell, piano duet by Roberta and Arline McLaughlin. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed in dancing and at the close refreshments were served.

Mrs. L. A. Dillard and son, Lewis, have taken a cottage at Ildley for the remainder of the summer. Dr. Dillard will spend the week-ends there with his family.

Son Former Residents Weds in East

Interesting to the older residents of the city is the news of the marriage of Wilbur Schofield Hulin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Hulin, former residents of Roseburg now making their home in Eugene, and Miss Marion Wynne Nagel. The wedding was an event in the evening of June 17 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Nagel, in Reading, Pennsylvania.

Only members of the families attended and Rev. P. A. McMillen, vicar of Christ Episcopal church, read the service. James Gibson of Princeton was best man.

The bridegroom attended school in Eugene and is a graduate of the University of Oregon. He received a B. S. degree, for one year work at Harvard and Princeton and is now instructor in psychology at Princeton university, Princeton, N. J., where he and his bride will make their home. Mrs. Hulin is a graduate of Bryn Mawr. They expect to visit the Pacific coast the coming year.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Wade returned home Thursday evening following a two week's trip to Idaho, visiting in Boise where Dr. Wade attended the Northwest Medical meeting. Wives of the physicians attending the meeting were guests at various delightful affairs arranged by wives of physicians at Boise during their stay in the city. Dr. and Mrs. Wade also visited Yellowstone National Park.

Women to Play Golf Thursday at Country Club

The women's day at the Roseburg Country Club is proving an interesting variation of the week. Thursday being set aside as the time when the golf team meets for practice. All women members of the club who are interested in the game are asked to meet next Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the clubhouse to tee off immediately afterward. A women's golf team is being organized to participate in a tournament in the near future. Luncheon will be served at noon and those wishing reservations are requested to call Mrs. I. G. Broadway at the clubhouse.

SPORTS' INFLUENCE ON THE MODE

Response to Demand for "Something With Sport Effect" for Afternoon Wear

BY HENRI BENDEL
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, July 9.—I sometimes wonder if smart America won't soon be attending debutante balls and formal dinners in sports suits and sweaters, so insistent in Milady's summer demand for "something with a sports effect," even for afternoon wear.

Of course this is the logical trend of fashions. For women grow more addicted to outdoor activity each year and it is natural that their taste in clothing reflects it. Sportswear, consequently, grows more lovely and original as it basks in the warming rays of popularity. Couturiers, taxing their originality, are creating most unusual and enchanting sports effects.

Personally, I am partial to the sports outfit that has a natural simplicity instead of a studied, sophisticated effect of it. And I like white, or clear, exquisite line and color combination giving dash rather than bizarre figured materials.

Matching Skirt, Coat, Jumper
I show today the smartest of summer's sports ensembles, to my way of thinking. This is the skirt and long coat that matches with a jumper of contrasting color. Perhaps it's a harbinger of a revival of the coat and skirt for afternoon wear next winter. At any rate it signifies the breaking down of prejudices against contrasting skirt and bodice that banished the skirt-waist years ago.

This coat suit today is of white Rodier cloth, a kind of hand-woven basket-weave. The coat is delightfully simple, unlined, with patch pockets and tiny rolled back cuffs. The skirt originates a circular front godet effect, giving a charming flare.

The Angora jumper, of the soft variety that rolls into a tiny ball is so sheer, is sun yellow, with a narrow white ribbon edging its sleeveless armholes, the bottom and neck.

Large Hat Betalored
The big white basket-weave hat demonstrates that the large hat can grow tailored as summer progresses. Its bulbous crown is new, as is its black flange across the top of its brim. Black grosgrain ribbon wings a bow across the front and edges the brim. Yellow stockings matching the jumper are worn quite appropriately with this suit.

The long-sleeved sweater that stands alone with no coat to complement it deserves praise this summer. I show perhaps the loveliest one I have imported 'this year, a sheer pebble hand-weave in silk and wool.

White, yellow and brown join hands to give it beauty and contrast. The white affects a deep drop yoke that includes the top of the sleeves in its scheme. The yellow forms the function of fusing the white and cedar brown without the shock of contrast. This is a perfect model for the tall girl or woman.

Unadorned Brown Hat
With this smart sweater a red-corded brown flat crepe skirt takes triple-tucked box pleats, carrying out the triple idea of the sweater's color. A cowhide belt quite simple and effective, holds the sweater at the waist line.

The best hat for this type of semi-formal sweater outfit is a cocoa panama mushroom that has a shape as conservative as the style of the costume it accompanies. It needs only a smart pump bow banding and edging of grosgrain ribbon to set off its chic.

Matching skirt and long coat, with contrasting jumper — "the smartest of summer sports ensembles."

Visiting Matron Is Honor Guest at Picnic

Mrs. Tom Wharton and Mrs. F. H. Churchill arranged a charming informal evening picnic on the banks of the Umpqua bordering the Wharton home on Friday evening for the pleasure of Mrs. A. E. Ellis, an interesting Portland matron, who has been a visitor here as the guest of both Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. Churchill. She is returning home the coming week.

Guests for the occasion were Mrs. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Marsters, Miss Dorothy Marsters, Miss Helen Churchill and Miss Seely.

Mrs. R. E. Duncan and Children to Visit

Mrs. Robert E. Duncan (Cora Campbell) and children of Cincinnati, who are expected the coming week, will be warmly greeted by friends during their stay. They will be guests of Mrs. Duncan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Campbell, at their home on Harvard avenue for several weeks. Mr. Duncan accompanied his family as far as Colorado, where they have been visiting, and is going to New Mexico to look after property interests before visiting his parents in St. Louis, after which he will return to Cincinnati where he is superintendent of the soap department of the Proctor & Gamble company. Mr. Duncan was formerly dean of chemistry at O. A. C. Mrs. Duncan and children will be entertained by Mrs. George Neuner, her sister, in Portland a few days before coming to Roseburg.

Mrs. S. F. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Cobb, Lucien and Elsie Cobb of Roseburg and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cameron of Eugene formed a party motoring to Crater Lake over last weekend. The party found a one-way traffic as they left government headquarters, as about 23 miles from the lake the snow had to be blasted out by out by dynamite. In some places the snow was ten or more feet deep and workmen were engaged in clearing the way. The lake road was opened July 3 and a number of cars of tourists were awaiting to drive in the Roseburg people found. Since her return Mrs. Cobb has been domiciled at the Cobb country home near Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trew Are Visitors in City

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trew of Detroit, Michigan, who are guests at the country home of the late's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. LaBrie, are being welcomed by their many friends in the city. They arrived this week for a visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Trew visited in Roseburg during the summer last year and have a number of friends.

All Day Picnic Enjoyed by Group

An interesting all day picnic was enjoyed on the Fourth by members of the Presbyterian church and additional guests, numbering thirty-five, the group motoring to the Canyonville Park to observe the national holiday. Games and sports were diversions of the day and a dinner was served at noon. In the evening following the program a supper was enjoyed.

Miss Emma Ueland Expected From East

Miss Emma Ueland, who has been spending the past winter in New York City attending Columbia University, is expected home this afternoon and will spend the remainder of the summer visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ueland.

Miss Ueland received the M. A. degree in the home economics course at the university and later took a course at Pratt Institute. Miss Evelyn Mayes, formerly of Roseburg, who also has been in New York City for the winter, attended the university, received the M. A. degree in the course which she studied. She will remain in the east this year. Miss Ueland was a member of the party leaving Buffalo, N. Y., on the Octobera on a recent cruise of the Great Lakes. Enroute home she has visited at various points, including Detroit and Canadian places of interest.

Rebekahs Hold Installation Ceremony

Installation ceremonies for the new officers of Rebekah lodge were held on Tuesday evening, the following officers being installed: Elsie Russell, N. G.; Ida Laubach, V. G.; Gertrude Hall, recording secretary; Emma Leoux, financial secretary; Maude Plyler, treasurer; Leah Vile, warden; Mrs. G. Barker, conductor; Anna Reynolds, chaplain; Mayne Pickens, R. S. N. G.; Evelyn Hoover, L. S. N. G.; Tillie Johnson, R. S. V. G.; Lucille Angst, L. S. V. G.; May Pyron, inside guard; Minnie Clark, outside guard.

At the conclusion of the impressive ceremony a dinner was given, the members of the losing team in a recent membership contest entertaining for those of the winning group. The hall was decorated with profusions of lovely blossoms and pretty favors at the tables were corresponding in detail.

San Franciscans Visiting at Curry Home

Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. McElride and two charming daughters, Dr. Mary Glover of San Francisco and Miss Lulu Curry, who have been on an extended trip through Alaska and Canada, including a visit in the Canadian Rockies, arrived today to be guests of Miss Curry's mother, Mrs. N. Curry, at the Curry estate near the city for the coming week. Following their stay here the party will return to San Francisco, where Mr. McElride is secretary of the California Hawaiian Sugar corporation. Prior to her trip north with the party, Miss Curry spent several months visiting in the bay city, having gone there last fall.

Afternoon Party Honors Matron

The lawn at the home of Misses May and Margaret Baldwin was the scene for a delightful afternoon party on July 1 at which they entertained for the pleasure of Mrs. J. O. Arthur, a popular matron who is leaving soon to make her home in Chicago. The members of the Stedfast Bible Class were invited guests to bid adieu to the honoree.

The lawn was lovely with a variety of arrangements of summer blooms in baskets and small tables, where refreshments were served were appointed with bowls of colorful flowers. Thirty were included in the group spending the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Dinner Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dillard were hosts for an informal dinner on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock at their home on Kane street. Covers were placed about a charmingly appointed table for Mr. and Mrs. John Gerety, Mr. and Mrs. Bert G. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard and Charlotte Lee Dillard.

Early Pioneers Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. Henry C. Hedrick and his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Putnam-Hedrick, both of whom are early Oregon pioneers, celebrated their golden wedding at Drain last Friday, July 1. The home, in South Drain, not being large enough to hold the large assemblage of relatives and friends, they gathered in the city park where a dinner was served. To Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick seven children were born all of whom are living. Of these all but two were present as follows: Mrs. Mabel Swearingen, Mrs. Ada Redford, Mrs. Lulu Anderson and Roy Hedrick of Drain and Mrs. Eva Applegate of Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Nellie Taylor and Mrs. Gertrude Whitney of Portland were unable (Continued on page 3.)

LIBERTY THEATRE

The management of the Liberty Theatre believing that it is impossible to please all of the people all of the time is at least making an effort to please them all some of the time. This feat is promised today when "Flames" will be shown at that theatre. "Flames" is a romantic story of the Northwest, featured by Thrift and fast action, the main dramatic moment being one of the most awesome and realistic forest fires ever screened. To make sure that this picture would please one hundred per cent, the producers did not stop at the story but gathered together a cast for its presentation that is truly all-star. Four of the most popular and best known screen favorites have the leading roles. They are Virginia Valli, Eugene O'Brien, Jean Harsholt and Bryant Washburn.

LIBERTY THEATRE

Chaplin "Better 'Ole" Is His Best Yet

Syd Chaplin, star of Warner Bros. production of "The Better 'Ole," which comes to the Liberty theatre Sunday has scored the hit of his career in this new picture. The locale of the picture is a part of the British front in France during the World War. The regiment has been relieved from front line duty on the eve of an unexpected German attack, and has marched into the little French village anticipating a good rest, some fun and plenty to eat. After several days some of them try their hands at amateur theatricals which include a horse in the town hall. Old Bill and his pal, Alf, are drafted for the horse. The preparations and presentation of the play are funny enough, but that is just the beginning. When the Germans suddenly advance and capture the town, not leaving the retreating British time to help their friends out of the horse and they find themselves in this masquerade within the German lines. Then the fun really begins.

ANTLERS THEATRE

MYSTIFIES CROWD AT ANTLERS THEATRE

Richards, the famous magician, bewildered, amazed and highly entertained at the Antlers theatre last night with the greatest attraction of the nature that has ever been witnessed in Roseburg. Richards lived up to all his advertisement within the German lines. Then the fun really begins.

vance billing, as he carries a tremendously staged show, that is as large as any of the best three dollar musical and dramatic productions on tour. There is an abundance of comedy, as well as a thrilling mystery and everyone who is able should see Richards before he closes his engagement here Sunday matinee and night.
