

AUTO PIONEER NOW DRIVES LATE MODEL CHRYSLER

Twenty-nine years ago Alexander Winton, who became famous later as a manufacturer of fine cars, shipped the first automobile sold in America from his modest little factory in Cleveland, Ohio. Except motor and chassis, it lacked practically everything the modern motor car possesses.

Yet it was No. 1 of $5,000,000 or more motor vehicles that have been made since and sold to people in every walk of life.

Just a few days ago, Alexander Winton, still hale, hearty and recently remarried, and still actively interested in the automotive industry, bought himself an automobile.

Walter F. Wright, distributor of Chryslers in the Cleveland territory, rather proudly revealed the fact with Winton's permission.

Winton, called by some the father of the automobile industry and for years head of a concern that manufactured a high class motor car bearing his name, chose his new car from among the four Chrysler models. His selection was one of the new Imperial '80' four-passenger coupes, a luxurious personal car.

Comparing the new Chrysler with the thin-wheeled, buggy-like vehicles of 29 years ago, one would think there was a century's difference between them, so rapid has been the progress of the automobile world.

Mr. Winton, who even to this day occasionally sends an application for a new patent to Washington, contributed greatly to that rapid development.

"Yes, indeed, we are proud that Mr. Winton chose one of our Imperial '80's for his personal use," said Mr. Wright. "I know of no finer compliment that could have been paid the car than that it should have been chosen by a man who built the first automobile sold and for years manufactured a fine car that bore his own name."

"Mr. Winton, you might say, spent a lifetime with automobiles, and we are indeed proud of the fact that a man so well versed in fine car manufacturing chose one of our products when it came to selecting a car for his personal use."

SPEED LIMITS VARY ON EUROPE'S ROADS

By NEA Service.
LONDON, July 12.—While England is considering either increasing the speed limit of auto traffic, or abolishing it altogether, traffic experts are looking over the wide range of speed regulations in various parts of Europe.

This runs the gamut from the low limit of three miles an hour in congested parts of Bulgaria to no limit at all in northern Ireland.

The average speed limit runs around 25 miles an hour in open country, but for city driving it ranges from four to 15 miles. Traffic, however, especially in cities, like Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Brussels, shows that the police officials are rather lax in enforcing the laws.

Finland has a limit of 28 miles an hour on the best roads by day, but at night this limit is cut down to 12 1/2 miles an hour.

Bulgaria has gone even farther. Drivers are forbidden to smoke or speak while driving through towns or other congested districts where the speed limit is from three to eight and a half miles an hour.

With production running at the record clip of more than 5,000 units daily and demand for the product constantly attaining new levels, the Chevrolet Motor company announces a $2,000,000 development of its properties at Flint, Mich., to relieve congestion brought about by steady increases in output.

This will include two buildings—a new parts structure and a three-story office building. They will be completed by October 1, according to Charles F. Barth, vice president, in charge of manufacturing.

On the completion of the new buildings the present structures used for offices and parts will be razed and a modern factory building erected in their place, asserts Mr. Barth in a communication to the Chevrolet zone office in this territory.

The new parts building will be a three-story structure, 530 by 122 feet, and of concrete construction. The new office building, of brick and concrete, will be 260 by 60 feet.

"Completion of the project will provide additional manufacturing facilities to a plant that is already one of the finest in the automotive industry," commented H. P. Hansen, the local Chevrolet dealer.

"The rate of production increase, showing the growing demand of the motoring public for the Chevrolet line, may be seen by the fact that only a few months ago the factory completed an expansion program costing $10,000,000."

My office will be closed from 11:00 a. m. Thursday, July 14th, to 3:30 p. m. July 15th.

DEDICATION OF PORTLAND AIRPORT IS POSTPONED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—The Swan Island Airport of the Port of Portland will not be dedicated in September, following the national air races at Spokane, according to a decision reached, when it was found the field would not be in condition for any extensive flying this season.

The field will be the control point, however, for the Pacific Coast air derby from San Francisco to Spokane on September 19 and 20. This event will bring about 50 planes to the field for a day and the damage to the turf will be slight.

WHOOPIING COUGH AND MEASLES SHOW INCREASE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—Whooping cough and measles made an upward jump on the records of the week ended July 9, issued by State Health Officer Stricker.

Twenty-two new cases in Washington county; as against only four in the previous week, indicate a possible trend toward epidemic in that county. There was a slight increase in the number of cases reported in Portland also.

Jackson and Josephine county added the greater part of the 21 new cases of whooping cough reported.

Curry, Gilliam and Lake showed clean bills of health in the matter of contagious diseases. Only three cases of scarlet fever were reported, one in Morrow and two in Baker county.

The accepted salad etiquette

Today's salad is served like this. A silver tray is placed before the hostess, with two cruets—Venetian glass or crystal or colored Bohemian are all in vogue right now—and a silver ewer or bowl and all the little pepper pots and shakers one wishes.

She then makes the dressing—French, of course—in the silver ewer. Measures and stirs and pours it, freshly blended, onto the salad.

Fashionable folk consider it much smarter to dress the salad in this way at the table. And, too, a freshly blended French Dressing has a "life" to it, a piquancy that cannot be denied.

Three parts of Wesson Oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice gives a bland, mild dressing. Two parts of vinegar gives a tart dressing. It depends somewhat on the strength of your particular lemon or vinegar. Plenty of salt...pepper...paprika too, if you like color.

It is delightful to surprise your guests by adding little touches of strange condiments. For meat salads you might like to add a bit of chutney or mustard. If you are serving a fish salad try a little ketchup—or if you choose, some Worcestershire Sauce.

But you must have a choice salad oil. Wesson Oil is very delicate in flavor and it is so good to eat that it makes a delicious French Dressing.
