NAVAL PARLEY IS DEADLOCKED, BUT FEELING FRIENDLY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
GENEVA, July 12.—The delegates to the tripartite conference today decided to convene a plenary session tomorrow in order that assurances can be given that the negotiations are continuing in the friendliest manner.

Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation, probably will pay tribute to Kevin O'Higgins, Irish Free State minister, who was assassinated Sunday.

The atmosphere at Geneva today was most friendly, although a meeting which was held today did not result in any agreement on the cruiser problem, the Japanese insisting that they must have real limitation.

Expansion Opposed
Chief interest at the meeting centered on the question of cruisers and Japan's announced intention to sign no treaty which involves the expansion of the Japanese navy.

In the meantime the Japanese suggestion that the United States and Great Britain negotiate a treaty between themselves has awakened an enthusiasm in American circles. First of all, a treaty making 400,000 tons as the limit of cruisers strength of Great Britain and the United States is not to the liking of the American delegates because it means expansion of the American navy. Even if it were accepted as a compromise, it is believed that any bilateral convention would not achieve the objects for which the conference was originally convened.

Moreover, it is regarded as difficult for Great Britain and the United States to tie their hands by a treaty with Japan free to do as she wishes and to concentrate naval building in any one category as for instance, submarines.

Still another objection is that the United States would be unable to determine in advance just how far it can go in acquiring parity with Great Britain by the actual construction of ships. Receiving the press this afternoon, Hugh Gibson, America's chief representative, denied that a division exists in the American delegation. He denied also that the Americans ever demanded the right to build 25 10,000-ton cruisers.

Asked if the convocation of a plenary session should be interpreted as a good omen, Mr. Gibson replied he preferred not to interpret until he sees what actually develops tomorrow. He added his understanding was that it would merely be a general summing up of the situation.

FIRST MARRIAGE ALIMONY BINDING, RULING OF COURT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, July 12.—The responsibility of a first marriage constitutes a first lien on a man's earnings and a second marriage can only be considered in the nature of a second mortgage until the alimony payments of the first are completed, Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis ruled in freeing Orlando P. Blake, member of the Cook county jail anti-alimony club.

Blake's wife, Mrs. Catherine M. Blake, is suing him for separate maintenance and had him committed to jail when he failed to pay her temporary alimony. Blake told the court that he had a job but could not work at it because his wife insisted on keeping him in jail. Even if he did work, he said, he could only make enough money to support his two children by a previous marriage.

DIVORCES SOON TO PASS WEDDINGS, IS PORTLAND'S FEAR

PORTLAND, Ore., July 12.—"It won't be long now," says attaches of Multnomah county clerk's office, until divorces exceed marriages in number in Portland, unless conditions change.

A total of 322 divorces suits were filed in this county during the first six months of this year, as compared to 915 the first six months of 1926. Eleven hundred and forty-seven marriage licenses were issued during the same period, as against 1,178 last year.

In January, 154 divorce suits were filed, as compared to 135 marriages, while February registered 155 divorce suits against 137 marriage licenses.

CONTROL BOARD IN BAD WAY IF RULING STANDS

Big Projects Affected
Should it be held that the opinion can apply to any of the appropriations in excess of visible revenues members of the state board of control feel it is probable that no money will be available for the construction of the new normal school at La Grande, the new tuberculosis hospital at The Dalles, possibly the Dornbecher Hospital appropriation and numerous others.

Taking these as examples, the legislature appropriated $215,000 for the normal school, $220,250 for the tuberculosis hospital and $136,410 for the Dornbecher hospital.

In this connection, however, there arises the question of who is to receive what state activities are to proceed under the appropriations made for them and which are not, assuming that some are to have that privilege and some not. Which ones would fall under the $1,100,000 total excess approved by the legislature?

May Affect All Funds
The Hare bill is an emergency measure to help out state finances and relieve the state treasurer of the necessity of borrowing money from banks at 5 per cent interest by authorizing him when the general fund is exhausted to borrow from the surplus in various state funds at 2 per cent. From this act the agricultural college interest fund, University of Oregon interest fund, University of Oregon interest fund, the state land board and of the industrial accident commission are exempted.

State officials believe that if it is unconstitutional to borrow from the accident funds to erect a building it would likewise be unconstitutional to borrow from any other fund for general state expenses.

It has been customary for the state treasurer when the general fund becomes short to borrow from banks. When the state went into the red last October State Treasurer Kay borrowed $100,000 from Portland banks on certificates of indebtedness under chapter 98, laws of 1923. This act is amended by the Hare bill of the 1927 session.

Another difficulty arises in that the act of 1923 prohibits the issuance of state warrants stamped "not paid for want of funds," yet that would be the only recourse if the supreme court opinion of yesterday ties up state funds as state officials believe.

Precedent Cited
It is pointed out that the state emergency board during the biennium of 1925-26 issued certificates of indebtedness totaling $577,290.96 including interest of $6,314.50. Since the supreme court opinion construes the proposed loan from the accident funds as a debt because of the proposed interest payments, it would apply in the same way to emergency board transactions of transactions under the Hare bill, say the officials. Of the emergency board allowances of last biennium $23,022.87 went to the payment of salaries for supreme judges, including interest of $241.37, the officials show.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE MADE IN LOCAL MAIL SERVICE

Through changes made in the schedules for mail dispatching from Roseburg it will be possible to save considerable time on north-bound and eastern mail from this city. Postmaster Heintz stated today. Postmaster Heintz has been secured by the postmaster to send out first class, air mail and special delivery mail on train number 32, leaving here at 12:35 p. m., instead of number 12, which leaves here at 4:25 p. m.

Mail to be dispatched on number 32 must be in the local post office before 11:30 a. m. as the mail is made up at 11:46 in order to catch the 12:35 train.

Special delivery mail sent out on number 32 to Eugene, Salem or Portland, will reach its destination by the postmaster to send out first class, air mail and special delivery mail on train number 32, leaving here at 12:35 p. m., instead of number 12, which leaves here at 4:25 p. m.

Another change which will improve the local mail service is in connection with the Sunday mail. Heretofore all mail Sunday morning was brought in by No. 13, arriving at 8:30 a. m. In the future, however, this mail will be carried on number 31, arriving at 3:30 a. m. Postmaster Heintz will have the mail distributed as at present by two clerks so that mail will be placed in the locked boxes early Sunday morning.

THREE KILLED OUTRIGHT, TWO OTHERS DYING

The front of the real estate office. Nearby residents who heard the screams, came to the aid of the party. Young Dietz and Goldberg were dead. Humes died on the way to the emergency hospital in a police ambulance.

The police said a charge of suspicion of manslaughter would be brought against the girl, if she lived, and that the Myers boy, if he survived, would be charged with suspicion of grand larceny. They reported they found no evidence that any of the party had been drinking liquor.

LARRY FRENCH MAKING RECORD WITH BEAVERS

Larry French, Sutherlin boy pitching for the Portland Beavers, has been attracting a great deal of favorable comment from sports fans and writers in Portland. He added to his laurels yesterday by winning from the Missions in a 5 to 2 game. He allowed only three hits until the last inning when two more hits, one of them a home run, were gathered in. French started the season as a relief pitcher, but because of his excellent work has been used on the regular staff. Although only 20 years old he is ranked as one of the best pitchers in the Pacific Coast League.

YOUTH CONFESSES TO THEFT OF MOTORCYCLE

Glenn Yau, Los Angeles youth, who has been held in the city jail on a charge of stealing a motorcycle, today confessed to the crime. The motorcycle, the property of a California man, was taken from Winnamucca, Nevada, according to the lad's story. He said that he had a companion as far as Ashland, but that the companion left him there, fearing to travel further on the stolen machine. Officers in California and Nevada have been notified and the boy will probably be taken to Nevada to answer for the crime.
