Orgy of Spending, Checked
by Government, Gives Way to Careers of Industry.

PAWHUSKA, Okla., July 27.—The Osage Indian, who has been groping around trying to find some satisfactory way to spend his oil riches, at last is achieving success. Where seven years ago the Osage was bewilderingly surveying his band book and trying to see how fast he could spend his mounting wealth on fancy motor cars, fine clothing and other gewgaws, he now is contentedly building fine homes, buying purebred livestock and reaping benefits from his millions.

The shock of sudden wealth, which came when oil wells spouted black gold all over the hill-dotted Osage prairie, floored the tribe nearly ten years ago. The government stepped in with a law restricting the disposal of Indian money to curb the spending orgy.

Two classes of Indians were established by this law—the competent and the incompetent. The competent Indian could draw his full allotment each quarter, while the incompetent could draw only $1,000 of his allotment, the remainder going into a trust fund at Washington.

Under this law there were certain items, however, for which money could be withdrawn from the trust fund. One of these was for the purchase of livestock.

Successful Cattle Men
Since January 1, figures at the agency here reveal, more than $30,000 has been allotted to the restricted members of the tribe for the purchase of purebred livestock. This, however, is but a small portion of the total expenditure for this purpose, as thousands of dollars have been spent by the competent members of the tribe.

Henry Tall Chief, a full blood, owns one of the finest herds of shorthorns in the state. He has 40 registered head that cost him $12,000. He owns a modern home and is one of the leaders in a movement to interest his tribesmen again in tilling the soil.

Then there is Noah Hamilton, whose herd of Herefords is valued at more than $8,000. He is continually adding new stock. Ben Ma-shunkashley, another Osage, is interested in raising Poland China hogs. He points proudly to the blue ribbons his hogs have won in livestock shows.

There are many others, but perhaps the outstanding cattleman in the Osage tribe are W. T. Leahy and J. T. Leahy & Sons. Thousands of Herefords roam their ranches, and many are the awards their show herds have carried off at state and national livestock exhibits.

MAJOR LEAGUE RESULTS

(By The Associated Press)
The St. Louis Browns have yet to win a ball game from the Yankees this year. A crowd of 30,000 welcomed the American league champions on their return to New York yesterday and Miller Huggins' outfit replied with a broadside of hits that laid the Browns low in two games. The Huggins took the opened 15-1 and then pounded out a 12-3 victory. Cleveland trimmed Boston 7-2.

Both teams scored all their runs in the third inning.

The Athletics and the Detroit Tigers split a double header at Philadelphia. Detroit won the first game, 19-4, and the Mackmen the second, 5-2.

The Washington Senators returned to their home grounds and won a tie bill from Chicago, 5-3, and 6-5. The second game went 11 innings.

Pittsburgh went into a tie with the Chicago Cubs for first place in the National league when they defeated Brooklyn, 6-5.

Cincinnati made it four straight from the St. Louis Cardinals by handing the world's champions the short end of a 11-10 count.

The Cubs were idle, preparatory to opening up their home stand today against New York.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

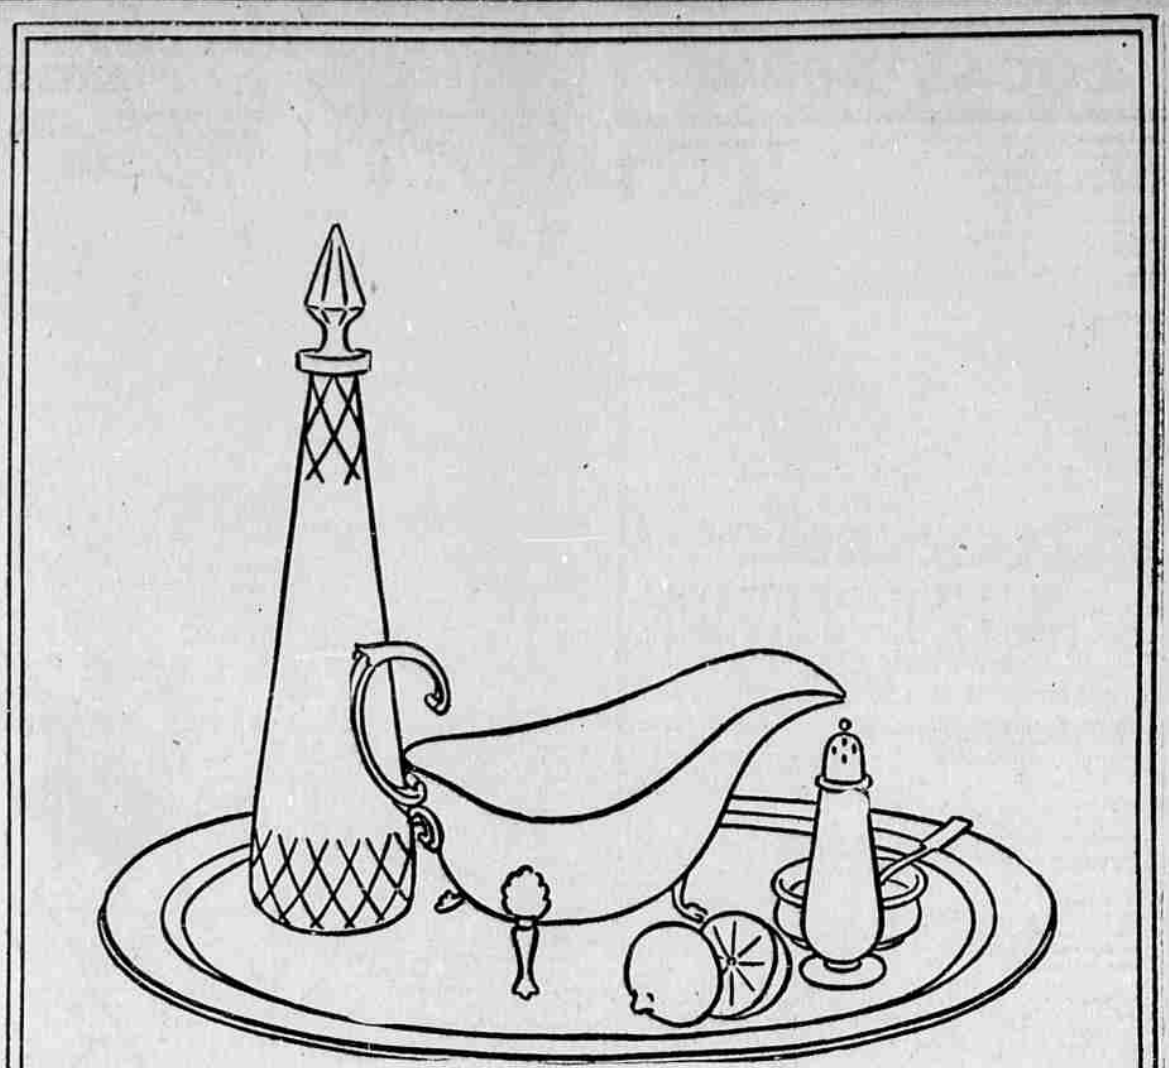

CAMBERN, N. J.—A romance of June and September is in the courts. John W. Hornsby, 39, avowed that when employed by Mrs. Wilhelmina McArdle, 55, wealthy contractor's widow, as a chauffeur at $50 a week he was persuaded to marry her because she bought him a car and a filling station business. The ceremony was at Elkton, Maryland's Gretna Green. He is now living at the gas station in Atlantic City and she is seeking a receivership for it.

PHILADELPHIA—Now the hot rooting of some home town baseball fans is explained. They have mental hypertrophy, in the opinion of Dr. Thaddeus L. Bolton, professor of psychology at Temple university. A hypertrophy is a growth like bunions and boils. Mentally, the doctor sets forth, a hypertrophy is manifest in the case of the baseball fan by "a tendency toward over-ardent hysterical devotion to one particular sport."

NEW YORK—Uncle Sam is adopting a clever young flier, Berni Balchen, 27, who was with Byrd on the trip to France, has his first citizenship papers. He came from Norway a year ago.

CHICAGO—Accused of having taken a girl to the movies a married police official of Zion City has lost his job. Charges were preferred against Lieutenant Benjamin Fisher by Overseer Glenn Voliva.

NEWARK, N. J.—The railroad girl expects the average man to spend from $50 to $100 for an evening's entertainment, as the situation is viewed by W. L. Barnhart, vice president of the National Society company. It was once possible to have a good time for $5.

INCREDIBLE but TRUE

Had she made the French Dressing before they came they would never have believed it was her handiwork, for it was a very exceptional dressing.

But she waited until they sat down to dinner. And then, right at the table, expertly, assuredly, she stirs and blends and seasons. They watch. They taste. They exclaim.

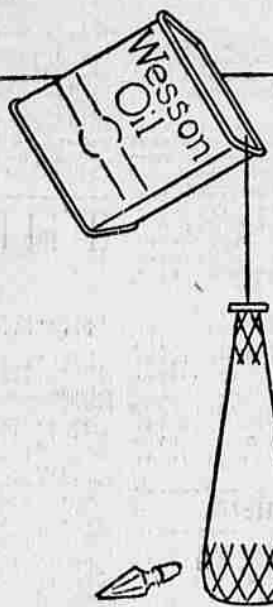

Your salad is twice as interesting, twice as much admired if you dress it yourself at the table. And your dressing is so much more appetizing when it is freshly blended.

If you like a mild-mannered French Dressing use three parts of Wesson Oil to one of lemon juice or vinegar. For a tart dressing try two parts of vinegar. Let your own taste, and the strength of your vinegar or lemon juice decide it. Salt and pepper—paprika to make it gay.

Then, if you like, vary it. Add a bit of hardboiled egg—for a vegetable salad. Or bar-le-duc—for fruit salads. Or a sprinkle of grated cheese—for green salads.

You will find Wesson Oil an important part of this recipe. It is delicate in flavor and blends just as you want it to. And, as everybody knows, Wesson Oil is good for you. Three excellent reasons for its popularity.

The will, disposing of more than $1,000,000, leaves the widow nothing. Provision was made for her during her husband's lifetime.

NEW YORK—The will of Mrs. Joan L. Mott is interpreted as showing that her son has been forgiven for his elopement 15 years ago with Mrs. Frances Hewitt Boone, an actress. He is bequeathed $25,000. The rest of the estate goes to Mrs. Mott's husband, wealthy head of the iron works bearing his name.

ROQUE VALLEY SELLS HALF OF BARTLETT PEAR CROP

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

MEDFORD, Ore., July 27.—According to local fruit brokers, half of the valley Bartlett pear crop, about 5,000 tons, has been contracted for by canneries at a price averaging about $50 per ton. Recently 2500 tons of Bartletts were sold to Ray Brown and Ray Mailing of Salem and nearly all the canning contracts are with Oregon firms. To date the California canneries have not met the Oregon price according to the local fruit brokers, and practically no Bartletts have been sold in that state, as far as can be determined.
