U. S. AVIATION
EXPERT LAUDS
PLANE SERIES

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—F. Truebee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aeronautics, is one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the building of model airplanes by young America. He believes that if enough boys and girls can become interested in aeronautics, America's future supremacy in the air will be assured. He remembers that many leaders of aviation experimented with models during youth. "I am so interested and enthusiastic over the idea because I believe in the future of aeronautics," he explained in an interview. "The fundamental need of aeronautics is in the minds of the people. The best place to begin this is with the kids. We ought to get them to thinking along aeronautic lines and interested in the problems of aviation and means for overcoming them. This kind of a movement will pay big dividends, both to commercial aviation and the national defense. Many real authorities in aeronautics today were fusing around with models when they were youngsters. It was a mighty good start for them and I recommend it to the young people of the nation. They will not only be having a great deal of fun, but they will also make a large contribution to aviation. "Los Angeles has developed this idea in admirable fashion. We have an active reserve squadron at Clover Field, which has developed a system of 'aerial godsons.' The aviators have come into the public schools, inducing their boys and stimulating, guiding and directing their interest, all of which is both important for the boys and important for aviation. "Aviation is primarily a young man's game. A man must learn how to fly while he is young. It's very difficult after one gets along in years. "It is the one pursuit in American industry and government today where the ground floor will be open for the next 15 or 20 years to the school boy of today who prepares himself for it. "We are just now at the dawn of aviation. What we do with it depends on the interest and participation of the nation's kids. "No science is developing so rapidly. Anyone who says 'can't' in regard to flying is taking an awful chance. "Buy your fencing now while it is easy to get it hauled. We have a carload of American fence in stock. Wharton Bros. Sure of Term as Sioux Chieftain

Whether or not President Coolidge is renominated by the Republicans, he is sure of one term anyhow—as Chief Leading Eagle of the Sioux tribe. The president was recently received into the tribe at the Days of 1876 celebration at Deadwood, S. D.

DEMPSEY STARTS
TRAINING; LIGHT
WORK ON PROGRAM

Weight Will Be Cut From
203 to 195—Ringside
Seats to Be Given Chosen Few.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Manassa, Colorado's prize—the training, slashing former heavyweight champion of the world, Jack Dempsey, planned to box gingerly with his shadow and punch unoffending punching bags today at his Lincoln Field training camp. It was his first local gesture of preparation for his debut in the ring against Toney a month hence weighing around 195.

At virtually the same time, the ticket sale was started with more than 7,000 of them going into the hands of receivers during the first few hours.

The police declared their intention of keeping the title bout entirely free from "hoodlum" disorders by preventing any known gangsters from obtaining tickets or entering the Soldier Field stadium, scene of the conflict.

Jack weighs about 203 pounds, Trainer Gus Wilson said, and expects to go into the ring against Toney a month hence weighing around 195.

The great puzzle of the Dempsey-Toney boxing imbroglio—Tex Rickard's mysterious committee of five—today continued to baffle the fans.

This secret set of individuals alone controls the destiny of the choicest seats immediately adjoining the ringside, known as "millionaire's row" and no one can get one of these prize positions without the gratuity of the mysterious five. Tex Rickard maintains that no one will ever know who these "mystery" men are, but it is no secret that the seats they control still are locked in a bank vault waiting to be passed out to the chosen few.

EXPLODING BOMB DEALS DEATH IN CHINESE BANK

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
CANTON, China, Aug. 22.—(Delayed)—A bomb was exploded at the main offices of the government bank today immediately after a number of persons had been arrested for taking part in a hostile demonstration in front of the bank. Although the authorities denied that there were casualties, the general belief is that several persons were killed when the bomb exploded.

A hostile demonstration against the bank caused the authorities to surround the property with a heavy guard. Policemen searched all those who entered the building.

(Previous advices from Canton said rumors of the imminent failure of the official depository and of the discounting of national notes by 20 per cent caused a large number to withdraw their accounts. It was stated that a prominent member of the Chamber of Commerce was arrested on the charge of spreading the rumors.)

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The landing near Nanking of 150 marines from the British warship Hawkin is reported by Reuters, Shanghai correspondent. He says the marines are to guard the extensive premises of the international import and export company, adjacent to Nanking, owing to the bombardment of Nanking by the northern Chinese forces and the general danger and uncertainty of the situation. A small foreign community is concentrated on the premises of the international import and export company.

WHEAT PLANTINGS TO BE LESS THIS FALL THAN IN 1926

An inquiry as of August 1, 1927, relative to farmers' intentions to plant winter wheat and rye this fall indicates that Oregon farmers expect to seed only 95 per cent as much acreage to wheat this fall as was seeded a year ago. This decrease is largely due to this year's seeding of spring wheat on spring plowing or disked stubble, thus reducing the usual summer fallowed acreage available for planting this fall, according to F. L. Kent, statistician of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For the United States, "Intentions" indicate an increase in the area to be seeded this fall, of 13.7 per cent or an area of 48,637,000 acres, compared with the actual estimated seeding a year ago of 42,251,000 acres.

For the eleven far western states an increase of 8.8 per cent is indicated, or a total area of 6,789,000 acres compared with the estimated planting of 6,261,000 acres last fall. An increase of 25.0 per cent in Oregon rye acreage is indicated by replies to the "Intentions" inquiry. But since the greater portion of the Oregon rye acreage is used for pasture or hay, this increased acreage will not materially affect the feed grain supply of the state. For the United States indications are that there will be about Modern people spend more for the joys of living than in any other age ever known. But they demand the utmost value for their money.

Present-day
smokers find their sheerest enjoyment
in Camels

THE people of this age spend millions for the good things of life. And they place Camel first among cigarettes.

Modern smokers make money, but when they spend it they insist on quality, and more people today buy Camels than ever bought any other cigarette.

Camel value has won the modern world. Money cannot buy choicer tobaccos, nor a more glorious blending. That's why increasing millions in the modern age single out this famous smoke as their favorite. You, too, will find it yours.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 23.—Fifty eunuchs, the only survivors of the once famous imperial group of 2,000 whose chief was as powerful as the Grand Vizier himself, have fallen upon such hard times that they have organized a mutual aid society and have taken over a ramshackle house for a club building.

DWINDLING EUNUCHS
FORM AID SOCIETY

Hundreds of eunuchs fled with members of the royal family, hundreds more found their way to Egypt to families of Egyptian royalty, and hundreds more, left behind in a changed Turkey, have died of misery. The fifty survivors have put their savings together and have purchased quarters where they can pass the rest of their days reminiscing over their past glory as masters of fair Circassian slaves, instructors of princes and confidants of grim sultans. These majestic, gigantic black men, now try to earn a livelihood selling peanuts and knickknacks in the street or serving as bell-hops at Yildiz, the palace that has been made a gambling casino.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon by Douglas County, Josephine Atkinson, Plaintiff, vs. Josephine Atkinson, Defendant. To Josephine Atkinson, the above named defendant: In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and cause, on or before the expiration of the time prescribed in the Order for Publication, to-wit: on or before the expiration of four weeks from the date of the first publication hereof, and if you fail to appear or answer for want thereof, default will apply to the extent for the relief prayed for in the complaint, which is in substance as follows: For a decree of the court dissolving the marriage contract now existing between him and defendant and for such other and further relief as to the court may seem just and proper.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of the Honorable R. W. Hamilton, Circuit Judge of Douglas County, Oregon, made and entered August 11th, 1927, and the first publication hereof is made on the 12th day of September, 1927. HOWARD M. BROWNELL, Attorney for Plaintiff, Residence and address: Eugene, Oregon.

BARTHELEMESS TO
WED AGAIN; NO. 2
ALSO OF MOVIES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Richard Barthelmess, motion picture star whose first marital venture ended in a divorce, is to marry Miss Katherine Young Wilson, stage and screen actress, who appeared in several pictures with him. Announcement of the engagement is made by Miss Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Young Wilson of Jacksonville, Fla. The ceremony will take place in New York probably in November. Mr. Barthelmess who is now in New York to attend the opening of his latest picture, plans to leave Saturday for Hollywood to begin work on a new production.

Mr. Barthelmess' first marriage was to Miss Mary Hay Caldwell, known on the stage as Mary Hay. Married in 1920, they were divorced early this year. They had one child, a daughter, Mary, who is now four years old. Miss Wilson has been on the stage for about four years and also has appeared in film versions of "New Toys," which starred Mr. Barthelmess, and "Quarantine."

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By the Associated Press)
SHANGHAI—Said Chang Tao Lin, head of the Peking government, to Senator Bingham of Connecticut: "If you westerners are so foolish about your women I will not execute her, but that's what she deserves." This was Chang's answer to the senator's plea that Mrs. Michael Borodin, wife of the Soviet advisor to the Hankow government, be spared. The senator argued that the execution would make the west regard Chang as a beast and a barbarian. NEW YORK—Civic virtue needs purification occasionally. The statue in city hall park showing a husky male with a grin at his feet has been scrubbed with 25 pounds of soap. NEW YORK—Mrs. Margaret Winstingham, M. P. is here to study prohibition. There is $300,000,000 a year spent on liquor in England, she says. "I believe that money could be put to much better purpose."

LONDON—Chambers of Commerce have computed that American visitors to England this year will spend $750,000,000 or $200,000,000 more than last year.

NEW YORK—Mme. Luba Philpina, who hopes to do a Lindbergh and fly the Atlantic alone, considers aviation a great field for women. She is anxious to disprove a statement she read credited to a noted aviator's wife that women have not the brains or stability to become fliers.

LE BOURGET—Miss Mabel Boll desires to buy the trans-Atlantic plane from Mr. Levine. She has gone up in it as a passenger with M. Drouhin piloting.

NEW YORK—The Kinkajou is approved authoritatively as a successor to the Charleston and the black bottom. It won the votes at a dancing masters convention in preference to the Dixie stomp.

LIVINGSTON, Mont.—Mr. Coolidge asked Governor Erickson what the population of the city was. The governor said 5,000. A woman in the crowd shouted 7,000. "He is slandering you," said the president. "Let's make it 8,000."

NEW YORK—Helen McCormick, formerly assistant county district attorney in Brooklyn, presumably will try some of the advice she has given other women. Often in an official capacity she urged wives to avoid arguments.
