The renewed interest in the social routine, already evidenced, is one of the indications that near-coming autumn will bring with it a busy and eventful round of social activities. Soon clubs will be resuming their meetings and the coming month will see the younger set returning to school and college. The Roseburg Woman's Club will be one of the earliest clubs to take up its work again, the first meeting of the year to be held the first Tuesday in October, with Mrs. Wm. Bell as president this year. The club women have long been working toward a club house and with this in view their activities will be fashioned accordingly. Although the summer has been comparatively quiet in a social way, there have been many of those delightful, informal occasions to enliven the vacation period. Society will find interest in one of the first concerts of the season, that at which Arthur Johnson, noted tenor, will appear on November 4. The air circus to be held in conjunction with the great Pacific Northwest and Ninth Army Corps Area polo championship tournament will attract many prominent society folk from the northern part of the state to Vancouver Barracks, the coming month.

The wedding of Miss Adele Bemis and Loren J. Britt at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bemis, on Wednesday was the outstanding social event of the week. Among the out of town folk who came for the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Britt, former residents, who are now making their home in Corvallis and who were warmly welcomed by their friends here.

Roseburg friends are interested in the news that the marriage of Miss Lydia Catherine Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Christensen of Oakland, Cal., and Wm. J. Cooney, both formerly of Roseburg, took place at a large wedding on Thursday evening at the Swedish Baptist church in Oakland. The bride and her sister, Miss Sarah Christensen, made their home here while members of the Benson and high school faculties. Mr. Cooney is a brother of B. W. Cooney and the son of Mrs. Cooney who have been making their home in Roseburg.

Adele Bemis and Loren Britt Wed at Beautiful Home Ceremony

A lovely bride of the week was Miss Adele Bemis, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Bemis, whose marriage to Loren J. Britt, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Britt of Corvallis, took place Wednesday evening at a beautiful home ceremony. The service was read by Dr. Frank B. Matthews before about fifty guests, including a number of out of town folk, in a charming setting in the living room of the Bemis home. The fireplace was massed with greenery, asparagus fern lending a dignified background for the burning candelabra at the improvised altar. On each side of the pink tapestries were low bowls of pink and lavender gladioli and at the base of the setting were two large bowls of lavender Hydrangeas.

The archways leading to the room where the ceremony was read at 8 o'clock were decorated with vining maple, the leaves varying from green tones to the first red blush of autumn. The same motif was carried out in the decoration of the stairway, with golden marigolds intertwined in the greenery. Pink and white rosebuds in bowls and hanging baskets were used throughout the rooms.

Before the hour for the service Mrs. Hugh Whipple sang "At Dawning," with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Harry Kenny. As Mrs. Kenny played the first strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bridal party descended the stairway to the living room. Mrs. Andrew J. George of San Francisco, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and Miss Ann Sinnott, bridesmaid, preceded the bride. Mrs. George wore a powder blue Armand model in georgette, elaborated with lace. Her bouquet was of asters in two shades of pink, combined with ferns. Miss Sinnott was gowned in a peach colored georgette frock distinguished with an uneven hemline. She carried a bouquet of orchid and yellow asters and ferns. Both attendants wore tulle bands in their hair to match their gowns and their slippers were alike in beige kid.

Ernest Britt of Corvallis, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man and Fred Porter and George Singleton were the ushers. The bride's loveliness was enhanced with a bridal robe of white georgette looped with satin knots. The simplicity of the sleeveless gown was relieved with a quaintly flounced skirt, and broad bands of georgette, caught at each shoulder, were tied in a bow at the waistline. In back a band of orange blossoms caught the embroidered silk tulle veil to the back of the head. A part of the bride's trousseau was the piece of lace, over one hundred and fifty

Two Matrons Join in Entertaining at Luncheon

One of the most delightful luncheons of the week was given on Wednesday by Mrs. Washington Hughes and Mrs. D. H. Morgan at the attractive Hughes' garden. The bride and her sister, who home is situated, invited guests were the officers of the Eastern Star lodge.

Small stars were the place cards used at the table, which had as a centerpiece the colors of the order. Covers were placed for Mrs. F. L. Bond, Mrs. C. S. McElhinny, Mrs. Hugh Whipple, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. Carl E. Wimbler, Mrs. C. E. Perrier, Mrs. F. A. Cook, Mrs. L. A. Dillard, Mrs. Frances Lintott, Miss Ethel Webb and the hostesses.

An open air fireplace in one of the cozy nooks of the Hughes' garden, and here the ladies spent the afternoon in sewing.

Denn-Gieler Nuptials at Pretty Church Wedding

At a pretty wedding ceremony Thursday morning at the hour of 10:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic church, Miss Estlin Marie Gieler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gieler, and Bernard L. Denn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Denn of Camas Valley, exchanged nuptial vows.

Father B. Clery read the marriage service before the members of the families. Miss Ada Denn, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant and Lawrence Denn was best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was given for members of the wedding party and a few guests. Mr. and Mrs. Denn left on a trip to Portland and northern points.

Miss Phyllis Powell of Portland will arrive today to be the house guest of Miss Waver Reed during a fortnight.

Eldora Matron Is Visitor Here

Mrs. C. E. Greif of Eldora, Iowa, is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. L. Scott, in Roseburg. Mrs. Greif is a prominent club woman of Eldora and is much in demand as a public speaker there. She will be the inspiration of a number of social courtesies during her visit in Roseburg.

Luncheon Wednesday Is for Britt-Bemis Wedding Party

In compliment to Miss Adele Bemis and Loren J. Britt, and members of their wedding party, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bemis entertained with a luncheon Wednesday at the Palace of Sweets. Seated about the table were Miss Adele Bemis, Miss Ann Sinnott, Mrs. Irvin Brunn, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. George of San Francisco, Ernest Britt of Corvallis, and the hosts.

Spending Week at Agate Beach Inn

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. George, who came from San Francisco last week for the wedding of the latter's sister, Miss Adele Bemis, and Loren J. Britt, with Mrs. George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bemis, went Thursday to Agate Beach, where they will be guests of Mrs. Katherine George, mother of Mr. George, at the Agate Beach Inn. They will return to Roseburg Tuesday and after spending a few days here, Mr. and Mrs. George will return to the bay city.

Mrs. Mary Strawn and son, W. B. Strawn, and the latter's daughter, Jean Frances, are home after a visit in southeast Kansas, cities in Utah and Colorado since July 5. Mr. Strawn stopped in Olympia, Wash., enroute home to bring back with him his other daughter, Mary Virginia, and son, J. C. Strawn, who have been spending the summer in the Washington city.

Roseburg Maid Spends Week in North

Miss Daphne Hughes, who was one of the group of five girls from Oregon attending the International Older Girls' conference this year at Geneva, Glenn, Colorado, has been spending the week in the northern part of the state, the five girls being guests at the International Sunday School convention held Sunday at Canby.

They spoke of the conference activities on the afternoon program before the convention delegates. Miss Hughes was also in Portland conferring with James H. Price, the new secretary of the Oregon Older Girls' organization and Mrs. Jean M. Johnson, the retiring secretary, in regard to the Southern Oregon conference to be held here in the fall. The dates have definitely been fixed for October 20, 21 and 22. During her stay in Portland, Miss Hughes, with the other four girls who represented the state at the international meeting, were guests at several social affairs.

The arrival in the city Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Britt and their son, Ernest Britt, from Corvallis to be present for the wedding of their son and brother, Loren J. Britt, and Miss Adele Bemis, taking place the following evening, was the signal for informal and delightful visits with old friends in Roseburg, where the Britt family is well known, having made their home here for several years before moving to the college town. Mr. and Mrs. Britt and their son, who acted as best man for his brother, returned home Wednesday night following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John Throne returned home Thursday after a visit in Spokane, Wash., where Mr. Throne attended the district convention of the Kiwanis club.

Visitors to Arrive First of Week

The arrival in the city the coming week of several interesting visitors will be the signal for a number of social affairs. Mrs. Ralph Naylor and daughter, Miss Katherine Naylor, will be here from Pasadena, Cal., arriving on Sunday to be the guests of Miss Alice Ueland, an old school friend of Mrs. Naylor. They will spend a few days in the city before continuing their journey to North Dakota, where they will be guests of relatives.

Friends of Miss Laura Ross, who made her home here several years ago while instructing in the English department of the high school, are looking forward to her arrival the first part of the week. For the past three years Miss Ross has been in Chicago, there having her own studio for advertising art. She has been spending the summer at her home in Salem and following a few days' stay in Roseburg will go to Chicago again for the winter.

Miss Alice Ueland will entertain Monday evening with an informal supper at her summer camp, Elders' Jog, for Mrs. Naylor and Miss Ross.

Dancing Party Given for Mr. and Mrs. Bailey

A delightful occasion of last Saturday evening was the informal dancing party given by the members of the South Deer Creek grange at the grange hall in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey, whose marriage was a recent event.

Following the regular grange meeting a musical program was enjoyed. The numbers included violin selections by Miss Whitsett, Ocean Beach, California, maid, who is a visitor here, and Wm. B. Melton, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Ada Melton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were presented with a number of gifts. At the close of the dance a supper was served by the ladies of the grange.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kent have returned home following a trip to Portland and the Washington beaches during the summer and are spending the remainder of the season at their summer camp on the North Umpqua before opening their town house.

Niece Local Matron to Spend Year Study in East

Friends in Roseburg of Mary Jane Gustin of Bend, niece of Mrs. E. W. Houser, who has just returned here as the guest of her aunt, will be interested to learn that she will attend Columbia University this winter. Miss Gustin will be remembered by a number on her visit here last summer. She has been librarian at the Bend library under the direction of Miss Marvin, state librarian, and has received an appointment to part time work in the Public Library in New York City during her year of study. Miss Gustin is a graduate of the University of Oregon.

Store Staff Holds Picnic Supper

Members of the store staff of the J. C. Penney company in Roseburg assembled on Thursday evening for a picnic supper at Winston bridge, afterward enjoying an informal hour before holding a store meeting.

Included in the group were Mrs. Anna Dabney, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Caraway, Miss Mahle Schindler, Miss Ruth Jennings, Miss Lotus Knight, R. H. Smith, manager of the store, and Vellemonte Morris.

T. M. Lightfoot of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Fred Rouser, at the Rouser country home near Roseburg, for a few days. Mr. Lightfoot has been visiting in Canada and Alaska and following his stay here will continue on the Pacific coast journey, returning home via Los Angeles and the southern route.

Daughter Local Matron Winner Washington Golf Championship

Interesting to many in Roseburg is the news of the victory of Mrs. Kenneth S. Reed, Waverly Country Club, Portland, and daughter of Mrs. Della Whiting of this city, who won the Washington state women's golf championship at Bellingham Friday when she defeated Mrs. C. C. Cary, defending champion, of Seattle, 6 and 5 in the 36-hole final of the state fixture.

Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Carey met in 1926 in the final of the Oregon state tournament, the former winning 2 and 2. In the final of the Oregon state this year they were again opponents and the Seattle player won on the same margin that she was defeated the year previous.

Mrs. Reed has been a visitor in this city on several occasions as the guest of her mother and has made a number of friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lang, former residents of this city, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter last Sunday in Eugene, where they now make their home.

Members of Club and Families Picnic

The members of the Past Noble Grand Club and their families met for a pleasurable no-host supper at Kiwanis Maple Grove on Thursday evening, the last outdoor meeting of the club for the summer season. An informal hour followed the supper and election of officers to serve this year was held. The new officers are Mrs. V. T. Jackson, president; Mrs. Earl Pickens, vice-president; Mrs. James Hutchings, secretary; Mrs. Harry Hatfield, treasurer.

Included in the group enjoying the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Goff, Mr. and Mrs. Tense Busenbark, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Perrier, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clingenpeck, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stearns and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Austin and daughter, Mrs. Effie Schwarz, Mrs. Clarence Wimer and two sons, Miss May Fisher and Miss Ida Laubauch.

For the official opening program of the fall season, Mrs. Dave Lenox, Mrs. Effie Schwarz, and Miss May Fisher will entertain jointly at the Lenox home on North Jackson street the coming month.

Miss Venus Houser and Miss Ida Kinney will hostess a Sunday luncheon for a swimming party and 7 o'clock dinner at the Bees, the summer camp of D. B. and P. T. Huber. Several of the younger group were asked for the affair.

Entertains With Dinner for Visiting Matron

Mrs. J. A. Phakerton of South Deer Creek entertained with a dinner party Monday evening in honor of Mrs. C. E. Greif of Eldora, Iowa, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. L. Scott.

Mrs. Greif and Mrs. Scott spent the first part of this week at the Pinkerton cottage on South Deer Creek, where the Scotts lived while Mrs. Scott was teaching in the district. They are now living in their new home on Crescent Heights, North Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sullivan of Wausau, Wisconsin, who have been interesting visitors of the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wells at 410 East Lane street, left mid-week for Los Angeles to visit relatives before returning to the east.

Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Staley of Los Angeles were guests over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Fred Reed. They were driving home after going to Seattle to spend a few days with their husbands, both being members of the Los Angeles ball club.

Arthur Johnson, Tenor, to Be Presented in Concert Here in Fall

That Roseburg is to have a number of fine musical concerts the coming season is evidenced by the interest already shown in bringing some foremost musicians to the city.

Music lovers will be delighted to learn that Mr. Arthur Johnson, tenor of note, will be presented in a concert on November 4. He is being brought here through the efforts of Elsie Carleton Strang and Frances Lintott. Mr. Johnson's east coast management is under Antonia Sawyer, Inc., New York City, and his western headquarters are managed by Josephine Abrahamson in Portland. He is listed as a genuine sensation and both Mrs. Strang and Mrs. Lintott, as well as others who have heard the tenor, are enthusiastic in their praise of his golden voice.

Mr. Johnson is well known on the west coast and studied under Professor Harding at the University of Oregon several years ago. For the past five years he has been engaged solely in concert work. In his program he will be assisted by May VanDyke, accomplished Portland pianist. She has been with Mr. Johnson for the past three years and is an exceptionally fine accompanist and a woman of pleasing personality.

Three Matrons Invite Group for Five Hundred

Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. Chas. H. Thurston and Mrs. R. D. Williams invited the members of the L. A. of D. R. P. to the Harris home on West Mosher street on Friday for a pleasant evening of five hundred.

Garden flowers made an attractive color note in the rooms. Honors for the evening were held by Mrs. A. J. Ford. At the end of the game the card tables were cleared for luncheon.

Mrs. Walter Leake and her sister, Mrs. Robert Duncan, who is here from Cincinnati, drove to Portland Friday to spend a few days.

Miss Margaret Baum was hostess for a bridge party Friday afternoon for a group of the younger girls.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitsett and their daughter, Miss Whitsett, of Ocean Beach, California, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Melton at South Deer Creek. Miss Whitsett, who is an accomplished violinist, is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Melton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kent entertained at their summer camp on the North Umpqua Sunday several Roseburg folk, including Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimbler and son, Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Wimbler and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wimbler and family and Joe Murphy.

Mrs. Bickle Hostess at Sewing Party

Mrs. Geo. Bickle entertained the ladies of the M. O. A. Club at her home Wednesday, arranging sewing for the entertainment of her guests during the afternoon.

At the close refreshments were served to Mrs. Jake Jones, Mrs. J. P. McKay, Mrs. A. W. Holmholdt, Mrs. C. W. Cook, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Geo. Powers, Mrs. John Marks, Mrs. K. Clonke, Mrs. E. G. Clonke, Mrs. G. E. Tipton, Mrs. John Travis, Miss Olga Schuyler, Nebraska, Miss Pearl Jones and Miss Mabel Blood.

MOVIES

ANTLERS THEATRE

Claire Windsor, Norman Kerry and Arthur Edmund Carew in East of South Africa—an Drama.

"The Claw," the Universal-Jewel starring Claire Windsor and Norman Kerry, which comes to the Antlers Theatre Sunday, comes as near being a perfect picture as even the most critical could ask. A great story by a great author, an all-star cast of players and a famous director.

Norman Kerry and Claire Windsor play the starring roles in the picture and are ably supported by a sterling cast headed by Arthur Edmund Carew, who, by the way, is fast becoming one of the best actors on the screen, while Kerry's portrayal in the picture is conceded to be an outstanding characterization of the year.

The story was written by Cynthia Stockley and appeared a few months ago in the Cosmopolitan Magazine. It deals with the trials of a hero-worshipping English girl, who follows a British army officer to the African veldt.

How she copes with the conventions of the narrow-minded social set, transplanted to the African veldt, from England, is one of the vivid highlights of the story.

Shirley O'Leary, to whom the task of directing was handed by Universal, has brought a true portrayal of the story to the screen. His masterful touches show time and again as the plot is unfolded.

The supporting cast includes such names as Helene Sullivan, Tom Guise, Nelson McDowell, Norman Johns, Dick Sutherland, Myra Bonillas, Pauline Neff, Larry Steers and others.

ANTLERS THEATRE

Raymaker Can't Leave Kids Out of His Films

Herman Raymaker, who directed "Simple Sis" the Warner Bros. production starring Louise Fazenda and Clyde Cook, which is showing for the last time today at the Antlers, has repeatedly decided to have neither children nor animals in his pictures on account of the difficulty of direction, but always ends by having both. Little Billy Kent Schaeffer and his puppets are the exceptions in this case.

This is how Ian Keith refers to Gloria Swanson, star of "The Love of Sunya," which comes to the Liberty Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Keith, who plays the role of one of Gloria's lovers, in the picture, attributes much of his own success on the screen to his famous actress.

Several years ago, Miss Swanson noticed Keith's fine acting on the stage and persuaded him to play a leading role opposite her. Since then he has been in several of her Swanson pictures but "The Love of Sunya" marks their first appearance together in more than a year.

"Gloria takes an interest in each member of her cast," Keith said, "and just as she has sought to improve her own talents, she seeks to do the same for others. Every time I come to play in one of her pictures, I notice the great improvement she has made in her art."

Miss Swanson naturally is an expert on make-up and often when she notices defects in make-up of new players in her pictures, she personally points out how they can be remedied.

Gloria has an apartment at the studio where she works and much here of the cast are often her guests at luncheon and dinner there as well as frequent visitors to her city home.

LIBERTY THEATRE

Comedy always plays an important part in the thrilling pictures which feature F. B. O. Western stars Tom Tyler, and "Lightning Lariat," which is showing for the last time today at the Liberty Theatre, is even more charged with humor than any of the previous Tyler productions. While Tom is performing various breath-taking feats aboard his faithful and daring "Flash," little Frankie Darro, his pal, is supplying some one hundred per cent laughs. This time Frankie has a playmate, a colored lad named Gus, and the pair are up to their eyes in mischief and pranks. "Sitting Bull," known as the dog with a sense of humor, furnishes a generous share of fun and the cast, new to the delight of all who have watched with interest this third member of the famous Tyler Trio. The cast is completed by the presence of Dorothy Dunbar, Ruby Blaine, Fred Haines, Erwin Renard, Carol Silver and Leroy Scott. Robert De Lacy, Tyler's director, since his first picture, again acts in the first capacity. The continuity was written by F. A. E. Pine from an original story by George Worthing Yates, Jr.

STYLE GOES TO THE HEAD

New Feminine Bob Brings in Enhancing Hairbands

For the modest debutante the small hair band of brilliant is the latest style. Right—Here a charming deb wears a two-inch filmy filagree bandeau set with rhinestones tracing out one of the modern geometric designs. This band is caught in the back with a jeweled fastening that may be worn in the front or at one side.

The little opera cap is fashioned for the lucky miss with perfect features. Below—Rhinestones sparkle like star-dust all over a net cap so fine as to be almost invisible, while a tiara of rhinestones and topaz crown her brow with a regal touch. Out goes of great value will be pressed into service for hair-bands like this, this winter. For the undecorated head at even-tide is not the smart head this season.
