

WELSH AND BOAZ GIVE PRAISE TO NORTH UMPQUA

Pasadena Paper Carries Pictures and Interview on River.

IS GREAT PUBLICITY

Advertising Worth Many Thousands of Dollars Obtained Through Sportsmen's Trip.

Publicity of a type that could not be purchased for thousands of dollars has been received by the Umpqua valley as a result of the recent visit of Joe Welsh and Jack Boaz, of Pasadena. Mr. Welsh is one of the country's greatest importers and manufacturers of sporting goods and Jack Boaz is fishing scout for the New York Hardware company of Pasadena and Los Angeles.

They came to Roseburg on a fishing trip and were taken up the North Umpqua and were there presented with a fishing license as a gift from Roseburg sportsmen and business men. They caught several large fish, some of which were shipped back to Los Angeles and Pasadena on ice and placed on display.

In the August 18th issue of the Pasadena Star-News, almost the entire front page of the automobile section is given over to a story of the North Umpqua trip, with beautiful pictures of the river and the trip, together with a map showing the way to Roseburg from Pasadena. The fishing story is, of course, tied in with a little publicity for the car in which the trip was made, but the wonderful picture display and the news article occupying the greater part of the front page form a piece of publicity for Roseburg and the Umpqua valley that is worth thousands of dollars. The article accompanying the pictures is as follows:

All dried-in-the-wood fishermen, who pine for the good old days when an angler didn't have to pack into the mountains to find a place that hadn't been fished out, harken to the reports of a new paradise for the followers of Isaac Walton brought back from Douglas county, Oregon, by Joe Welsh, famous Pasadena fisherman and sportsman, and Jack Boaz, fishing scout for the New York Hardware and Trading company.

Thirty-one hours from Pasadena in the North Umpqua river, a stream teeming with game trout, is the best fishing Messrs. Welsh and Boaz say they have ever seen. Discussing the discovery with William A. Wegge, local manager of the Pelton Motor company, Marmon dealers, Mr. Welsh said they have at last found a place, easily reached by automobile, but so little known to fishermen that in one day they saw only four other anglers.

This new fishing paradise is even better than the lakes of the Mono Basin and Owens valley were before the over-abundance of automobiles had made the fishermen look like a waiting line at a picture show on Saturday night, asserts Mr. Welsh.

"I have found the new Eureka," Mr. Welsh told Mr. Wegge for all "ye anglers" of southern California. On the North Umpqua, near Roseburg, Oregon, is an unspoiled country, 800 miles of streams, bear, deer and fish from forty pounds down, uncut forests.

The North Umpqua rises in the Cascade mountains and flows 300 miles to the Pacific ocean. It is said to be the only river in the

Last Shall Be First in Chicago

Judges choosing Chicago's "perfect girl" decided Estelle Kosloff (left) was she. Then a couple of days after the decision was announced, a nice new marriage license was discovered in City Hall. The names on it were Earl McBeth and Estelle Kosloff, so Estelle was disqualified. Myrtle Christine Valstead (right), chosen as an alternate, was named Miss Chicago, and she wins the trip to Atlantic City. Mrs. McBeth has been Mrs. McBeth since shortly after winning the contest.

United States that rises and falls in the same country—Douglas county. You can land trout, salmon and all other kinds from June to October. The limit is thirty pounds. Two fish may be your limit but think of the cut-throat and rainbow trout weighing six and seven pounds, and fly risers at that, besides salmon, steelhead, jack salmon, silver sides and small boys for the pan.

"On the 300 miles of this stream you could fish 1500 men and never see one of them in a day fishing. That's what the North Umpqua affords with its 13,000,000 acre plus ground. Spruce, hemlock, fir, pine, untouched by the hand of man are found in abundance. Consequently the North Umpqua has no debris in the way of logs. Just 300 miles of pure, clear, running water from Diamond lake in the snow-capped Cascades to the glorious Pacific ocean. Pools and riffles interspersed in abundance. We found the climate perfect. Four miles an hour is the average wind blow.

As to the rain—in two weeks we only had two hours of rainfall. Delightful cool days and sultry evenings with no mosquitoes and flies. "To further the friendly feeling between the sportsmen of Oregon and those of southern California, of whom Messrs. Welsh and Boaz are representatives, the Sportsmen's club of Roseburg, presented the local sportsmen with a fine log lodge for use of southern California fishermen.

"Mr. Welsh said they found the roads very good. There were a few detours in northern California and Oregon but good time may be made over the roads.

"August and September are the real months for game and fish," said Mr. Welsh, "but in July we found the streams choked with trout, rainbows up to six and seven pounds and—think of it—they rise to the fly! Spoons are O. K. Two or three hundred feet of line is a necessity. I saw fourteen large hooked and all but two landed. A good, double handed rod, ten or twelve feet long, and a surf casting reel is the dope." They are gray huckle, yellow body, royal

NATIONAL W. C. T. U. PRESIDENT GIVES POLICIES FOR YEAR

Dry Candidates Will Be Given Support Without Regard to Party Affiliation.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National W. C. T. U., in her address before the opening session of the fifty-third white ribbon convention in Minneapolis last night, outlined a program of activity which commits her organization to the support of dry candidates for every office, regardless of party even to the extent of nominating and supporting independent candidates when the regular party nominees are wet.

"This is a last resort," said Mrs. Boole, "but it is justifiable when political leaders, notwithstanding the protests of dry members of their parties, persist in nominating wet candidates." Mrs. Boole then gave the procedure for the support of independent candidates, pointing out that organized effort would be necessary for success and that some organization would have to take the initiative.

"Prohibition is the best method of dealing with the liquor traffic," declared Mrs. Boole. "Wholesale charges of law violation are not true. A noisy minority does not justify belief in such charges which should be investigated before they are accepted. Prohibition is showing good results. The commission sent by the British government to study the reasons for our prosperity concluded their report with this sentence, 'and then there is prohibition.'"

"The drys of America will not accept government sale as a substitute for prohibition," Mrs. Boole insisted. "They will not consent to a modification of the Volstead Act to permit the sale of beer and wine. They will not consent to the election of a president who advocates the modification of a law he has sworn to execute. His source, it has abolished the act. We must not forget what the act was and that it was the center from which radiated most of the evils of the community."

Mrs. Boole defined the particular task of the W. C. T. U. in the 12,000 communities in the United States where there are local unions as that of making clear through educational campaigns the real reasons why prohibition was adopted. "If people only understood," said Mrs. Boole, "most of them would willingly obey the law."

"Many methods of dealing with the liquor traffic have been tried but no method has ever pleased those who wanted to sell or use intoxicating liquor," declared Mrs. Boole. Even in the crusade days when the weapon used by women was prayer, women were arrested and put in jail. "Laws against Sunday selling, against the sale of liquor to minors and habitual drunkards as well as limiting the hours of sale, were all persistently violated. Government sale does not prevent the manufacture of Loetleg liquor. Canadian law is violated as ours is and the saloon has been restored there under the name of wine parlor."

Pointing out that economic benefits have resulted from prohibition in direct proportion to its enforcement, especially regarding public safety, Mrs. Boole said, "We approach the next election with confidence that right will win. We know that the government is stronger than the violator of law. With our votes, our influence, with all the equipment we have and with our prayers, we will stand back of every effort of the government to enforce its laws."

Clearly defining the stand of the W. C. T. U. on the subject of peace, Mrs. Boole asserted, "In times of peace we have educated for peace. We have promoted international friendship. We are deeply interested in removing the causes of war. In times of war, the W. C. T. U. has given money, time and influence to the winning of these wars and to welfare work for the men in the army and navy in hospitals, on the battlefields, and in camps and forts. The sons and husbands of our women have fought, been wounded and some of them have died for this land of ours. We hope the time may come when armies and navies may be reduced to the numbers necessary for police protection and will work to that end."

Referring to 1886, the year of the last National W. C. T. U. convention in Minneapolis, Mrs. Boole paid tribute to Frances E. Willard, then president, quoting from her address, where she said, "There is just one issue upon which the people, not politicians, are united. It is the prohibition of the liquor traffic, that earthquake among issues. . . . We must have this nation policed by an army that will see our prohibition laws enforced. We are tired of officers solemnly sworn to do this who unblushingly violate their oath, and by their traitorous alliance with the poison-sellers, devote to martyrdom our ministers of God."

Again digging into the history of the organization Mrs. Boole quoted a resolution passed at the convention held at St. Paul, in 1888 which holds a particular significance in the light of 1927 politics: "We reaffirm our oft-repeated conviction that the prohibition of the liquor traffic is the only solution of the temperance problem, and insist that the patriot demands a united, determined effort which shall not cease until prohibition is embodied in the constitution of every state in the United States and the Federal Constitution at Washington."

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—With inauguration on September 1 of a country-wide air express service, civilization moves another step away from the washbuckling days of Jesse James.

The air express is to go unarmored. R. E. M. Cowie, president of the American Railway Express company, revealed this today when asked about the potential value of an airplane express load. The value of any one package sent by air express is limited to $5,000 but he readily acknowledged that 20 or more such packages might very possibly be shipped on one plane.

The aggregate of such a load would be one which the masked gangster on a wilder day would have considered it well worth their time to hold up a train for.

"But there aren't any aerial hold-

An Annual Event of Bargain Offerings

Carr's 9c Sale

Saturday, Aug. 27 to Saturday, Sept. 3

HUNDREDS OF BIG VALUES AT A SMALL 9c PRICE

We include in this 9c sale items that sell regularly 15c, 20c and even 25c. And every one is a useful item. Come and enjoy these specials. See our big broadside circulars. Also watch for our one day extra specials! Items 25c to 50c for 9c each.

They Admit It

Norma Shearer, beautiful Hollywood screen star, appeared at the studio the other day wearing a large marquis diamond. Rumors started the rounds and finally she and Irving Thalberg admitted they are engaged.

U. has given money, time and influence to the winning of these wars and to welfare work for the men in the army and navy in hospitals, on the battlefields, and in camps and forts. The sons and husbands of our women have fought, been wounded and some of them have died for this land of ours. We hope the time may come when armies and navies may be reduced to the numbers necessary for police protection and will work to that end."

Referring to 1886, the year of the last National W. C. T. U. convention in Minneapolis, Mrs. Boole paid tribute to Frances E. Willard, then president, quoting from her address, where she said, "There is just one issue upon which the people, not politicians, are united. It is the prohibition of the liquor traffic, that earthquake among issues. . . . We must have this nation policed by an army that will see our prohibition laws enforced. We are tired of officers solemnly sworn to do this who unblushingly violate their oath, and by their traitorous alliance with the poison-sellers, devote to martyrdom our ministers of God."

Again digging into the history of the organization Mrs. Boole quoted a resolution passed at the convention held at St. Paul, in 1888 which holds a particular significance in the light of 1927 politics: "We reaffirm our oft-repeated conviction that the prohibition of the liquor traffic is the only solution of the temperance problem, and insist that the patriot demands a united, determined effort which shall not cease until prohibition is embodied in the constitution of every state in the United States and the Federal Constitution at Washington."

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—With inauguration on September 1 of a country-wide air express service, civilization moves another step away from the washbuckling days of Jesse James.

The air express is to go unarmored. R. E. M. Cowie, president of the American Railway Express company, revealed this today when asked about the potential value of an airplane express load. The value of any one package sent by air express is limited to $5,000 but he readily acknowledged that 20 or more such packages might very possibly be shipped on one plane.

The aggregate of such a load would be one which the masked gangster on a wilder day would have considered it well worth their time to hold up a train for.

"But there aren't any aerial hold-

J. F. LOGAN HAS FAINTING SPELL

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—John F. Logan, Portland attorney who was seized with a fainting spell at Salem yesterday following his appearance in the sand and gravel royalty hearing before the state land officials of Oregon and Washington, was resting comfortably today, according to members of the family. The attack was of temporary nature and Mr. Logan was taken to his home in Portland. It was reported from his home that it was believed he would be fully recovered after a day or two of rest.

INCENDIARY FIRES CONTROLLED; MAN MAKES CONFESSION

(Associated Press Leased Wire) YREKA, Cal., Aug. 27.—Nine incendiary fires in the Barkhouse district near here, believed to have been set Tuesday, have been brought under control. Officials said each had been started with a lighted candle, and so it would burn down and ignite the grass. One surprise is that the fires were set by persons hoping to get work fighting them.

Roy English, 29, of Happy Camp, was bound over to the federal grand jury yesterday on a charge of incendiarism. Forest rangers said English had confessed he had set fires.

DOG IS MADE DRUG ADDICT BY OWNER

(Associated Press Leased Wire) SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 27.—Discovery of a dog addicted to narcotics is announced here by federal inspectors.

When O. F. Holmes, 39, who gave his occupation as a San Francisco "skin specialist," was arrested at Olympia, Wash., the inspectors said, he was in the act of injecting a narcotic into his dog, a large wire haired terrier. An examination disclosed scores of needle marks covered its skin. The animal, when separated for several hours from his master and the narcotics, showed signs of abject misery. Search of Holmes' automobile brought to light a suitcase containing narcotics valued at $15,000.

WINE AND BEER IS NOT AIM OF WETS, VOLSTEAD STATES

(Associated Press Leased Wire) MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 27.—"Opponents of prohibition who assert they want to modify the law so as to obtain beer and wine do not want beer and wine at all; what they want is strong liquor," Andrew J. Volstead, author of the prohibition law, told the National Women's Christian Temperance Union here today.

Mr. Volstead, a former congressman from Minnesota, now is legal adviser of the northwest district. "The association against the prohibition amendment," he said, "is not satisfied with beer and wine. It is working for the complete repeal of the 18th amendment, which will bring back the saloon, its whiskey, its brandy and all the liquor and evil which the American people outlawed."

"It has been deceiving the people, for you cannot have prohibition with beer and wine. This has been tried in many states, in Canada, in Norway and every instance beer and wine has broken down prohibition."

"The United States government is making truly encouraging progress in the enforcement of prohibition laws. The flow of liquors over the borders has been curtailed greatly and the redistillation of denatured alcohol almost entirely, Mr. Volstead said.

WILLAMETTE PRUNE SHIPMENTS HAVE REACHED 55 CARS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—Shipment of fresh prunes from the Willamette Valley up to Tuesday night reached 55 cars, and from the Milton-Freewater district near Walla Walla 414 cars, according to report received today by R. H. Kipp, manager of the marketing department of the chamber of commerce.

Willamette Valley prunes are bringing 55 cents for each 16 pound box (L. S. B. and Milton-Freewater prunes 60 to 65 cents). At this rate growers are getting around $50 a ton.

Reports are that in spite of the freeze in the Milton-Freewater district last spring, which was thought to have damaged the crop, growers are harvesting the largest crop of prunes in the history of that district with the exception of 1921 and 1925. They are marketing their prunes through the cooperative which was perfected recently.

SOMETHING WRONG

"Don't you think she is older than she makes out?" "Well, anyhow, she is not as young as she makes up."—Gaiety.

MOTHER BELIEVES SHE IS TO BLAME FOR BABE'S DEATH

(Associated Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Winnie Howard, mother of Baby Norma Howard, found strangled to death in a hotel room here four days ago, told police detectives today that she found her baby dead when she awoke in the hotel and believed she must have killed it during the night.

The mother, arrested last night and booked on a charge of murder, was reunited in the county jail today with her twin sister, Mrs. Minnie Fabbro, whose information furnished police clues which led to Mrs. Howard's arrest.

Meanwhile a search was being conducted for two men, one believed to be the husband and father, and the other a man whom ranch folks at Nordo, where Mrs. Howard lived, know as "Mr. Howard," but is believed by investigators not to be the husband.

"My mind is broken," the mother cried from a cot in a hospital ward. "I want to die."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WRECK AT EUGENE

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 27.—Three freight cars of the Southern Pacific railway company were thrown from the tracks on the main line here this morning when a brake beam broke. The mishap occurred at 5:50 o'clock and railroad traffic was held up for nearly four hours.

Leaving the rails, two heavily loaded tank cars, filled with crude oil, crashed over the ties and broke their couplings. The one nearest the locomotive was badly wrecked. No one was injured in the wreck.

THE BIG 10 OF AMATEUR GOLF

The Big Ten of amateur golf, with one exception, will strive for the highest honor in amateur golf within a few days at Minkahda, near Minneapolis, Minn. That one exception is Jesse W. Sweetser, former British amateur champion, whose health will not permit his participation in the meet. But all the rest of the first ten are entered in the national amateur meet, eight seeking the title and one wishing to retain the crown. George Von Elm, of Los Angeles, is the title-holder. Bobby Jones, British open champion, is the favorite to dethrone Von Elm. If he does it will be the third time he has won the title. Other members of the charmed Big Ten circle are sure to be troublesome to Von Elm and Jones.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS ON INCREASE

Eighty-two cases of epidemic poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis were reported to the California State Board of Health during the first two weeks of July. A few cases have been reported in Oregon. Infantile paralysis is an acute generalized infection due to a filterable virus, occurring both in epidemics and sporadically. The infective nature of the disease has been conclusively shown. The virus attacks the nervous system and persists in the nasal secretion for a long time. The paralysis may be preceded three or four days by nausea, vomiting, and fever. However, a child may go to bed apparently well, and wake up in the morning with paralysis and slight fever. The great majority of cases now found in children under five. Cases among persons over twenty are comparatively rare.

For the benefit of the public, the following regulations for the control of infantile paralysis are published: The patient should be isolated as completely as possible in a clean, well-ventilated room, well screened to keep out insects. Visiting is not permitted, and only the necessary attendants should come in contact with the case. And discharges, including sputum, nasal secretions, urine and feces, should be thoroughly disinfected. Eating utensils should be boiled. Everything that comes in contact with the patient should be sterilized. Towels, bed linen, and other fabrics should be boiled or dipped in a strong germicidal solution. The method at which isolation should be maintained cannot be guessed at. Children are not permitted to return to school for at least three weeks.

In the presence of an epidemic street and house dust should be kept down by sprinkling, oiling, or other means employed for this purpose. Dust should be allowed whether there is an epidemic or not. During epidemics children should be kept away from public gatherings. The possibility of infantile paralysis being a milk-borne infection emphasizes the importance of the prophylactic value of pasteurized milk.

The summer prevalence and the rural distribution of this disease are disturbing factors with regard to summer vacations. The only safe rule is to avoid places where localized outbreaks are in progress. The fact, however, that infantile paralysis does not usually strike the same place in epidemics from two succeeding seasons makes such places reasonably safe the year following the epidemic.

OREGON RAIN AIDS FIRE FIGHTERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—Rain over parts of the areas where forest fires have been burning lately today in efforts to stamp out the flames. An inch of rain practically extinguished the Green River fire, in the Columbia forest; and the Storm King fire, in the Olympic forest, was controlled on all sides except one, where a vigorous fight was being made today.

The forest service expects to see the end of the fire season in a week or so.

Plants at Idleyld Park.

Now is the time to buy your

Lawn Mowers

SPECIAL PRICE SATURDAY

ZIGLER-CRAVEN HARDWARE CO.

PHONE 22 ROSEBURG, ORE.

USED CARS

ROY CATCHING MOTOR CO.

125 N. Rose Phone 438 Roseburg, Ore.

A good Used Car at the right price is the best automobile value in the world. Our cars are fairly priced and honestly sold. HERE ARE A FEW

Ford Coupe, 1927 model	$450
Ford Touring, 1925 model	$225
Ford Touring, 1924 model	$150
Ford Touring, 1923 model	$100
Ford touring, 1922 model	$ 75
Hudson Speedster	$550
Hudson Speedster	$350
Chevrolet Sedan	$295
Gardner Touring	$275
Essex Coach	$550

19 Years of Grocery Service

Those nineteen years in Roseburg are filled with serving quality groceries, extending credit to those who deserve it.

During these warm months order your groceries by telephone.

Economy Grocery

O. L. JOHNSON
"The Store That Serves You Best."
344 N. Jackson St. Phone 63