

M. E. Conference Names Delegates to Kansas City Gathering

(Associated Press Local Wire)
 SALEM, Ore., Sept. 24.—Dr. B. L. Steeves, Salem; E. L. Wells, Rose City Park Church, Portland; Ernest W. Peterson, Centenary Wilbur Church, Portland, and Dr. E. L. Gregg, Ashland, were named as delegates to the general conference of the Methodist Church in Kansas City next May by 53 voting laymen in their session here yesterday in connection with the 75th Oregon annual conference.

Dr. Steeves polled 81 votes and will lead the delegation. He is a member of the world service commission and was a prominent member of the finance committee at the last conference in Springfield, Mass. Seventy votes were cast for Wells, 67 for Peterson and 51 for Gregg.

A motion presented by eastern Oregon delegates that the selection be made by districts instead of at large was defeated by a small margin. They declared that the Portland district held a monopoly on a conference legislation.

The lay passed a resolution that city appointments be filled with Oregon men and not by transfers from eastern cities, striking particularly at the filling of First Church, Portland, with an outside man.

Solidified support to Willamette University and its drive to reach the $1,000,000 mark in endowment was pledged.

O. V. Badley, Portland Sunnyside Church, was elected president for the coming year. His cabinet will be Walter Winslow, Salem, Clyde Humphrey, Cottage Grove; J. O. Gibson, Bend; and I. Waring, Portland; vice-presidents from each district; Ernest Peterson, Portland, secretary, and C. W. Degramm, Portland, treasurer.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 24.—Continuing a series of lambastings opened against present ministerial policies by Bishop William O. Shepherd, Dr. John R. Edwards, corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, launched an attack on the ministry of the church for its apparent retrogression in supporting the world service program in favor of a more selfish satisfaction in building new church edifices and local projects.

"Evangelists has advanced in the foreign fields while back sliding prevailed at home," said the secretary. "Despite hardships and serious outbreaks which resulted in the loss of many hundred thousands of dollars in missions, I protest, not a single worker has deserted his post or asked for relief except in the case of health failures. Never before has such a spirit prevailed in the field while facing so many drastic changes."

Dr. Edwards' plea for a change in the home field came as an attack on the accusations made by Bishop Shepherd Friday morning that the members of the Oregon conference were neglecting evangelistic duties in preaching mere "sermonettes" and failing to be of real community service.

Because F. Aubrey Brown, 43-year-old pastor at Brownsville, was eight years over the age limit for admittance to the conference, his application was turned down on a vote by the conference, 27 to 51. Had one other man voted he would have been admitted, a two-thirds majority being necessary to amend the rules. Brown had served 10 years in the Oregon conference as a supply and 14 other years in the service of the church.

Seven young men were admitted on trial to their first year studies. They were Oliver J. Gill, Wayne Weight, Robert Melvina, Marcus Berhano, Edward Terry, Everett Gradner and Thomas Tolwin, Jr., students at Kimball school of theology and Willamette university.

C. J. Pike was admitted to the conference from the Methodist Church south. Miss Nellie Curtis, superintendent of the Portland deaconess home introduced members of her delegation including Mrs. William O. Shepherd.

Sunnyside and Rose City Park Churches in Portland have the largest Sunday school enrollment in the conference with 1110 and 1112 members each. Salem First church, Eugene and Corvallis follow with 1,075; 830 and 762 respectively. Salem First has the largest Epworth league with 180 enrolled followed by the Rose City Park church with 150 members.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 24.—Final business had made every minute valuable but members and delegates to the Oregon annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will leave their sessions late this afternoon to pay homage at the grave of Jason Lee, pioneer Methodist preacher and early Oregon statesman in territorial days.

Dr. John Parsons of Portland, who will deliver his 50th anniversary sermon Sunday afternoon, is scheduled to deliver the memorial address. Dr. Parsons came to Oregon in 1856 and is especially well fitted historically to speak of the influence of Jason Lee in fostering Oregon in its period of swaddling clothes.

The grave of this honored minister is one of the revered spots in Salem's historic cemetery. Each year it is tended by adherents of the principles for which he stood.

BOY SCOUT WORK TO BE EXPLAINED

E. A. Britton, boy scout executive for Douglas and Coos counties, is planning a training program for men interested in the scout work during the month of October. The scout activities demand the support and interest of men who enjoy doing this kind of work and are willing to give a little of their time to help with scouting. In order that there may be a better understanding of what is planned, Mr. Britton is arranging a series of meetings to which will be invited all scoutmasters, members of the councils and executive committees and all other interested persons. At these meetings detailed explanations will be given and projects outlined and explained. Meetings are to be held in Roseburg October 10, 17, 24 and 31 at Myrtle Creek, October 11; Medford, October 14; Yoncalla, October 15; and Sutherlin, October 17. Marshfield, Coquille, North Bend, Powers, Myrtle Point and Handon will also be visited.

COAST LEAGUE RESULTS

(By the Associated Press)
 A belated three run rally in the ninth of tying the score and the Missions won over the Solons, 6-5. Shellenbach, Hollywood moist ball a'lat, won his own game from San Francisco by singling in the tenth frame, scoring Kerr, to break a 1-1 deadlock.
 A homer, a single and another homer in the thirteenth inning enabled Oakland to score three times and defeat Seattle 11-8. Los Angeles took a double decision over Portland, copping the first game 4-3 and the second in 11 innings 3-2.

MAJOR LEAGUE RESULTS

(Associated Press Local Wire)
 Pittsburgh's hold on the top of the National league's baseball ladder was a bit less secure today, since it had lost two and won only one of its crucial four-game series with the Giants. The Pirates now must win some games other than with New York in order to play in the world series.
 The Giants won a 6-5 victory yesterday at Pittsburgh.
 The St. Louis Cardinals lost to Boston, 3-2, on Fournier's ninth inning homer, the Giants scamping back into second place in the standing. Pittsburgh today held first place by two and one half games. The world's champions are a half game behind New York.
 Cincinnati and Brooklyn broke even in a double header. Jake May hurled the Reds to victory in the opener, 6-3, while Moss, a recruit, pitched the Robins to a 4-3 comeback.
 The Chicago Cubs hammered Ferguson and Willoughby for a 10-0 win over Philadelphia.
 The Chicago White Sox finally won a game, defeating Boston 2-1.
