MALTZAN PEARLS TAKEN FROM BOX; ALL FOUND COLORED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
MILITSCH, Silesia, Sept. 27.—The casket holding the famous Maltzan pearls, which legend says came to the family by supernatural means and are said to change color whenever a death in the family occurs, was opened today by the general desire of relatives in consequence of the death of Baron Ago von Maltzan.

It was found that all the pearls had turned a yellowish tinge instead of only one pearl becoming discolored as hitherto had been reported to have happened whenever a member of the family died.

The last occasion that this definitely was established, according to family records was in 1892 when the baron's grandfather died.

The family now has decided to keep the famous heirloom locked up permanently in Militsch castle for the good or woe of the future fate of the family and not to inspect them hereafter for any change of color in case of death.

The legend of the Maltzan pearls, which are in the possession of the Silesian branch of the family, says the pearls were presented by a goblin in 1588 to Baron Eva Rogan Maltzan in the ancestral castle at Militsch, because of a kindness shown by her to the goblin nine days before.

The grateful goblin said the pearls would bring luck to the von Maltzans as long as their color was unchanged and they remained in the possession of the family, the legend says. "Should the pearls change color, however," the goblin warned, "it means that the head of some branch of the family will die."

ALLEGED MOONSHINER IS FOUND MURDERED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 27.—Perched on top of a box, his face leering, the body of Paul Ebner, alleged moonshine operator, was found in a secret dug-out underneath his lonely shack in Klamath Falls late yesterday afternoon.

Police believe that the aged man was murdered and the body later placed on the box to give an appearance of suicide. A revolver was found on his lap and a rifle by his left side.

Neither gun had been discharged. The body had been in the dugout over two weeks and discovery was made accidentally by neighbors. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

DISAPPEARANCE OF RICH YOUNG MAN ALARMING

then began their hunt for the missing man.

On September 17 Reynolds' yellow Rolls-Royce limousine, which had awaited him at Mineola, was found submerged in Long Island sound near Port Washington. Reynolds apparently had not used it during the night of September 16, but it was found some distance from the place where it had been parked according to his instructions to the chauffeur. Mr. Orr said that Reynolds was not in the car when it was wrecked and that they had conferred several days after the accident.

Reynolds is the eldest son of the late H. J. Reynolds for whom he was named, and is one of five heirs to an estate estimated at $50,000,000 left by his father.

MAN IS SHOT DURING DISPUTE

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Sept. 27.—In an altercation over the ownership of a chair, George Duffield, 35, was shot through the mouth yesterday evening by C. W. Fowler at Grants Pass. Duffield is in a hospital here. Officers have started for the lower Rogue to arrest Fowler on a charge of assault with intent to kill. Duffield is in a serious condition, but if believed he will recover.

It was while Duffield was moving out of a cabin owned by Fowler that the latter laid claim to a chair which the tenant was removing. According to Duffield, Fowler threatened him and he started to withdraw fired his rifle from his hip, the bullet going through the cheek, knocking out several teeth.

GEORGE CULVER'S CAR HIT BY TRAIN ON LANE CROSSING

The switch engine was shoving a string of cars onto a siding as Mr. Culver started to cross the tracks. His mistake the switchman's signal and engineer for a clear crossing signal and started across the tracks. He saw his mistake too late but managed to swing his car in the same direction the train was travelling and thereby saved himself from serious injury. FOREST FIRES IN SHASTA NATIONAL NOW CONTROLLED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
YREKA, Calif., Sept. 27.—Forest fires in the Shasta National park in the county back of Cloud, were brought under control yesterday after the destruction of nearly 5,000 acres of timber. A large force of men is still on guard, however, fearing that the fire will again get out of control.

COEN LUMBER CO. TO HANDLE ALL KINDS MILL WORK

It was announced this morning by Mr. Coen, manager of the Coen Lumber Co., that the need in Roseburg for an institution able to turn out all sorts of mill work, including store fronts, sash and doors, frames and those essential in general building, had been the determining factor in causing his company to meet the demand. Work has already been started on a new building adjoining the present mill for use as a cabinet shop, and a dry kiln, with sufficient capacity for handling the end of the business, will be built at once. The cabinet shop will be equipped with all necessary machinery for turning out any class of work used by builders. Destruction of the Dyingier mill by fire some weeks ago, and the decision not to rebuild the plant immediately, caused the Coen Lumber Co. to branch out in this field of the building industry. Four of the men who were employed at the Dyingier mill have been employed by the Coen mill and will carry on their work in temporary quarters until the new shop is ready for occupancy. In fact, these four men, all of them experienced in mill work, have been employed by the Coen Lumber Co. most of the time since the fire. They are the mechanics longest with the Dyingier mill. All of the mill work for the new Christian church building, now in course of construction, which was to have been furnished by the Dyingier mill, will now be turned out by the Coen Lumber Co. The church people were particularly to let all their contracts, in so far as possible, to local concerns, so despite the disaster of fire and loss sustained by the fire, Roseburg labor will get the benefit of this work.

At the time of building the mill plant here some three years ago, the Coen Lumber Co. did not enter the field occupied by the Roseburg Mill and Manufacturing Co. simply because they did not desire to infringe on the business of the latter concern, but since the city is now without such an institution, it was determined to fill in the gap.

AUSTRALIAN FLOODS DO GREAT DAMAGE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 27.—Normal activities in the whole of the Austrian tyrol and Vorarlberg province are reported to have been paralyzed by the floods.

Everywhere the roads are impassable, railway embankments have collapsed and the rails, jutting from the mud, are suspended in the air. While the flood waters are receding only titanic labor can restore conditions to normal.

Train services between Germany and Italy by way of Austria over the Brenner Pass is suspended, as is that between northern and southern Tyrol.

Just across the Italian border, in the former Austria Tyrol, a workmen's relief train, bearing thirty laborers, broke through an underwashed embankment yesterday and fell into the Eisack river. All except the fireman of the train were drowned.

Similar casualties, in some of which children have been the victims, are reported from many points.

SON IS BORN TO MUSSOLINI

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
ROME, Sept. 27.—Donna Rachele Mussolini, wife of the Italian premier, gave birth to a son today home, the Villa Carpena, near Forli.

The boy will be baptized Romano tomorrow at a ceremony in the Church of Carpena. Mother and child are both doing well.

Premier Mussolini arrived at Carpena yesterday in anticipation of the event.

Although the premier had expressed a desire that no special manifestation should occur on the birth of his child, rejoicing was shown at the event throughout Italy and many dispatches from friends and admirers have been sent to the premier and his wife containing good wishes for little Romano.

The news that Donna Rachele Mussolini was to become a mother for the fourth time was generally known until a few weeks ago.

Villa Carpena near the Duce's birthplace, was chosen as a lightly out-of-the-way place that anyone trying to run the gauntlet would be taking his life in his hands.

"Remember, that journalistically my wife and family do not exist," Mussolini told an Italian journalist.

Mussolini's children, Edda, 17, Vittorio, 11, and Bruno, 8, have been educated in large part by their mother. Realizing that Il Duce could not devote as much time to his family as other fathers, she cheerfully accepted the task of teaching them. She was a school mistress before her marriage.

MAN AND WIFE. "NECKERS" GET COURT JUDGMENT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Judgment for $3,635 was awarded today by a common pleas court jury to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mack who had brought suit for $15,000 against Police Sergeant Frank L. Rolfe, alleging he arrested them and had them jailed when he found them kissing in their parked automobile.

One night in July last year, Mr. and Mrs. Mack, a young couple, were returning from a picnic with several other persons. Sergeant Rolfe and a police squad were out looking for a gang of rowdies. Lights suddenly were thrown upon the Mack's automobile and disclosed Mrs. Mack upon her husband's lap in the act of kissing him.

Sergeant Rolfe dragged them from the car and took them to jail where they were held six hours, the Macks testified.

Sergeant Rolfe testified that some one in the car was singing and making a noise and this was the reason he stopped the machine. He said he thought the Macks were fibbing about being married because he had never heard of a man and wife being so loving.

R. H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM FACING HARD SEASON

Nov. 13—At Ashland.

This gives the school some tough games and will make the boys work hard if they obtain a fair average of victories.

A special plan is being tried out this year to give the team the full support of the student body. Heretofore many students have not been able to buy their admission tickets and consequently the students have not been fully represented in the attendance at the contests.

This year an effort will be made to raise enough funds through a program, to be given Friday night to enable all students to attend during the entire season without extra cost. The students each buy a student body ticket at the beginning of the year and this is supposed to entitle them to admission to athletics contests but because of the lack of finances for football activities it has been necessary in the past to collect an extra fee from them.

Friday night there will be presented at the high school a "Football Ball Jinks", sponsored by the student body with the cooperation of service clubs and other organizations. There will be
