AUTUMN is always a friendly, cozy season apart from all other times of the year—the brilliant coloring that Nature puts her hills and valleys setting the period in a class by itself. The first faint blush of the earlier turning leaves, the new green coats of the hillside and the wild rose bushes dotted with spots of red berries are heralds of majestic winter. This is the time, the hush before the rush of the social season, in which hostesses always find pleasure in their friends together in small informal affairs.

Hallowe'en at the end of the month will be the incentive for many delightful parties at which a number of old fashioned games and sports are revived annually among club groups and the young set. In between there are various affairs of social interest promised.

With the Roseburg Woman's Club open house on Tuesday, launching a busy week, the past few days have followed with a variety of interesting events. The opening of the new club house was quite the largest event of the entire week, with one hundred and fifty and two hundred women calling to see the new quarters of the club and have tea during the afternoon.

A large affair of mid-week about which much interest was centered was the card party, one of a series to be given during the winter, which was sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America, Court Rose 536 on Wednesday. Thursday evening was marked by the Homecoming party given by the Roseburg Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, for the past matrons and past patrons of the chapter.

A lovely event also occurring on that evening was the party for which Miss Vera McMullin was hostess in compliment to her house guest, Miss Evelyn Jewett, of Eureka, who has just returned from a trip abroad. Mrs. Edward G. Kohlhaugen (Miss Henningsen) was the honor guest at an attractive luncheon and bridge party Friday at which Mrs. George Kohlhaugen and Miss Frances Howell entertained a number of the young matrons and maids.

Monday there will be an exodus of a number of parties to Eugene, where there will be afternoon and evening concerts given by Commander John Phillip Sousa and his band at the armory. Those who heard the world famous conductor and his band last year will find much pleasure in these concerts.

One of the large events scheduled on the next week's social calendar is the reception to be given by the Senior high school, P. T. A. on Tuesday evening.

A distinctive affair of fall is to be the tea on Wednesday, October 11 at which the ladies of the Roseburg Country Club will entertain at the club house. Committees in charge of the rooms will decorate for the affair on Thursday, the motif to be in autumn design.

During the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock guests will call and bridge and sewing are being arranged for those who wish to spend the afternoon in this manner. Each member of the club may bring invited guests for the affair. As a special feature the ladies in charge of the affair are preparing to receive the new members of the club who wish to attend after business hours.

In charge of the tea are Mrs. George A. Bradburn, Mrs. J. C. Hume, Mrs. R. L. Whipple, Mrs. Chas. S. McElhinny, Mrs. E. F. Madden, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. Birney R. West, Mrs. R. D. Ranges, Mrs. Mark N. Tidgate, Mrs. A. G. Sutherland, Miss Dolle Curry and Mrs. H. R. Shoemaker.

Quantities of Lady Hillington roses and LaFrance roses from the McMullin gardens were used about the room and in the autumn room were professions of michaelmas daisies. Honors were held by Miss Helen Casey and guest prize went to Miss Jewett. At the end of play luncheon covers were placed at the card tables, Mrs. A. G. McMullin and Mrs. Geo. M. A meeting of the board of directors was held during the week to select a new secretary to take the place of Miss Vernita Kohlhaugen, who is leaving the winter in Corvallis, and Edith Gilmore was named for the office. A report from the housing committee was given by Miss Ethel Webb. No definite action was taken on new quarters for the club. Another matter of business to come up at the meeting was the formation of plans for reception for the teachers of the city to be given by the club women. Edith Falbe gave a very interesting report on the state dinner held last month in McMullinville. A state officers' dinner is to be given in Roseburg in December which may be attended by members of the local club.

Desire to Beautify Gardens for Coming Convention

Plans are already underway for the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. which is to convene in Roseburg next May and the committee in charge of preparation are V. T. Jackson, chairman, Mrs. S. M. Kelley, Mrs. H. Hatfield, Mrs. O. H. Pickett and O. L. Johnson. With a splendid meeting and the fine hospitality of Roseburg people as the memory for the 1916 convention held here, those of the grand lodge have always desired to return to this city for another convention and in the spring of 1928 Roseburg will again have the opportunity to act as host to one of the largest delegations of the year.

With Roseburg people cooperating, it is the desire of the local order to beautify the city, planting early gardens so that the yards in Roseburg will be a riot of color this spring. A tentative plan is underway to have members of the lodge talk before the civic clubs of the city and solicit their assistance in making the city beautiful with shrubbery and early flowers, which may be planted this fall.

The grand lodge in the state of Oregon takes in five branches, the Subordinate, Grand Encampment, Grand Patriarch, Rebekahs, Ladies Auxiliary to the Grand. The dates for the convention will be set by the grand lodge officers and will probably be for the third week in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seiber (Ruth Powell) of Glendale stopped over here last evening to visit with relatives on their way to Eugene where they will attend the Oregon-Iddaho football game. They are returning here Sunday.

ANTLERS
"Greater Glory" Playing Here
The "Greater Glory" colossal screen epic now showing at the Antlers Theatre, presents more than a year of intense production on the part of June Mathis, famous screen writer, and a vast company of stars.

The picture is an adaptation of the celebrated novel, "Viennese Medley," by Edith O'Shaughnessy, wife of the American ambassador at Vienna. First National release.

ANTLERS
"The Rough Riders" a Reality
Human and rickety in places, grimly affecting in others, blending finely all the essence of love, struggle, bravery, humor, pathos and death "The Rough Riders" is coming to the Antlers Theatre, Sunday.

"The Rough Riders" can truly be said to set a standard. It is one of the few films which deserve the adjective, great, and which, add immeasurably to the progress of the motion picture.

To attempt to follow the drama in a brief review is useless. It is too swift, too breathtaking, too replete with moments of subtlety and too flooding in its emotional character.

One can say that Paramount has made a story that breathes the Hegemony of Theodore Roosevelt, one of the greatest of Americans; that the story recounts his nature and his exploits in the Cuban routine of hate, war and fever, with an amazing spirit of leadership, that a love theme with Mary Astor, Charles Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack, winds like a glowing thread throughout the drama; and that the different sequences of the blowing up of The Maine, the gathering of the Rough Riders, their fierce course in the hall of Spanish life, and the dominant figure of T. R. alive every moment, contribute to art and expose history.

LIBERTY
"Frontierman" is McCoy's Best Film
The most daring, dashing and romantic picture in the career of Tim McCoy, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer historical western star, "The Frontierman," will be seen at the Lib.

Barrymore and Costello Coming in Liberty Theatre.
This production, based on a story of the times of Andrew Jackson and the Creek Indian war, has been elaborately filmed, depicting the scenes of the war, the stirring incidents in the life of "the fighter's fighter" who ever became President of the United States.

McCoy plays the role of a young officer in the Tennessee militia and Russell Simpson, famous actor and screen character delineator, has the role of Jackson. The lovely Claire Windsor is seen in the featured feminine role.
