TWO ARRESTED IN LIQUOR RAID BY CITY POLICE

C. F. McMullen Fined $150 and Given 10 Days in Jail for Possession of Booze.

In a raid conducted late last night by Chief of Police Vaughn and Officer George Diefsch, with the cooperation of Sheriff Percy Webb, C. F. McMullen was arrested on a charge of possession of liquor and E. R. Paxton was taken into custody accused of drunkenness.

The raid was staged after Paxton, in an intoxicated condition had been trailed to the McMullen home, the officers stated. He was followed because it was believed that he would seek more liquor and the officers desired to locate his source of supply.

A search of the premises revealed a 12-gallon creak nearly full of wine and 4 one-gallon jugs of wine. There were three cases of home brew containing 72 bottles.

McMullen entered a plea of guilty when arraigned this morning before City Recorder Harrie Sherry and was fined $150 and given 10 days in jail.

JACK DEMPSEY AND KEARNS MAY HOOK UP AGAIN

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The New York Daily News, in a copyrighted story today says Jack Dempsey and his former manager, Jack Kearns are about to sign a peace pact returning Kearns as plot of the former heavyweight champion.

The reconciliation is expected to take place within ten days after which Dempsey will return east to talk with Kearns in regard to a barnstorming trip which will include battles this winter in Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles and Los Angeles.

The Daily News says that under the terms of the peace pact, as outlined, Kearns has agreed to withdraw all the lawsuits he has pending against Dempsey, while Dempsey has agreed to sign a long term contract giving Kearns one-third of all his future earnings.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 13.—There is nothing to the reported peace pact between Jack Dempsey and his former manager, Jack Kearns, the former heavyweight champion told the Associated Press here today.

"I know nothing about it and wouldn't consider it for a minute," he said, when the Associated Press dispatched quoting a copyrighted article in the New York Daily News, was read to him over the telephone.

"The matter of the lawsuits is in the hands of my attorney and he is ready to go to trial the minute they are," Dempsey added.

"As for any peace proposals, I haven't heard of any coming from him made by me, and I wouldn't consider them."

THE ANIMATES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

The Tingles thought the eagle rash to give wee Clowdy such a splash. But Clowdy didn't seem to mind. The lake was far from cold. He swam with quite apparent ease and yelled, "It's only my knees. I'm really not a bit afraid, 'cause I'm brave and bold."

Then Scouty shouted, "Sakes alive, here is our chance to take a dive. The water sure looks tempting and I'm for it goodness knows." The other Tingles yelled "Hurray!" and from the shore they ran away to find a place where they could take off portions of their clothes.

Wee Clowdy, in the meantime kept on swimming, though he barely crept. He looked up to the shore and wondered where the bunch had gone. Thought he, "My legs are getting sore. I fear I'll never reach the shore. I wish that I were very big and had a lot of brown."

Just then the rest came running out, and with a mighty whoop and shout, they splashed forth in the water. What a treat the whole crowd had! "Come on, there Clowdy," some one cried. "Swim on until you reach our side." And Clowdy yelled, "Say if I can, I surely will be glad."

Then Carpy laughed to beat the band. "Why swim so hard when you can stand?" Poor Clowdy had forgotten that the water wasn't deep. So, up he stood and cried aloud, "I'll soon be with that happy crowd, and when again I'm safe and sound, right with them I will keep."

A splash nearby gave him a scare. Of course he wondered what was there. And when he looked around he was as scared as he could be. The other Tingles ran ashore. Poor Clowdy was alone once more, and toward him came an ugly thing—a serpent of the sea.

(The Water King comes to Clowdy's rescue in the next story.)

ROSEBURG WILL PLAY GRANTS PASS ARMISTICE DAY

Game This Month With Medford Cancelled Because of Infantile Paralysis.

Cancellation of the Medford football game scheduled for Oct. 22, was announced today by B. E. Larson, principal of the Roseburg Senior high school. The game was cancelled at the suggestion and upon the advice of Dr. T. W. Larawa county health officer, who fears that the contact might result in spread of infantile paralysis, now prevalent in the Medford vicinity.

In place of the Medford game Principal Larson has secured a game with the Lebanon high school. This game will be played in Roseburg at 2:30 p. m., Oct. 22.

"While this game is costing us considerably more money than the Medford contest," Mr. Larson said, "yet it is our desire to give the fans of Roseburg a full season of games, if it is possible. The public gave the high school wonderful cooperation and support in the recent effort made to raise money for the athletic program. Now we want to fulfill our part by giving the games as advertised."

The Lebanon team is picked from a high school larger than ours and the team has a good standing in the Willamette Valley, so will give us a tough game. The expense of bringing the team to Roseburg is considerably higher than would have been incurred in the Medford game, but we believe that the fans of the city will appreciate this effort to maintain a football schedule."

Mr. Larson also reported that a contract has been signed with the Grants Pass high school for a game on Armistice Day. This game will be played on Friday the 11th, and not on the 10th as previously planned. In the event the infantile paralysis situation has not cleared by that time, it is understood that cancellation will be possible, and an effort is being made to have an alternate game in residence.

SOCIETY'S RIGHTS ARE PARAMOUNT

While all of us have our "personal rights" within certain bounds, not one of us has the right to endanger the welfare of society. There is a point where personal rights must bow to the rights of society.

In a nutshell, this is the declaration of a Portland court which heard the arguments of school parents who objected to the public school requirement that all children must undergo examination for communicable diseases.

Society has a right to protect itself. In fact, self preservation is society's duty to itself. No person can hope that his personal rights can take precedence over the public good.

On this truth hangs society's entire statutory structure. Laws are made to protect society from the individual or the group of individuals who would prey on it.—Albany Democrat.
