Slain and Slayer

George Yaro, Barnabero, N. J. bus driver (center, above) has been charged with murdering Rose Sarlo (below) pretty 18-year-old Sunday school teacher of Woodbury. It is alleged that Yaro confessed he shot and strangled the girl and hid her body under a bridge on a lonely highway. Sheriff John S. Stratton (left) and State Trooper Smith, with Yaro, contend that Miss Sarlo was mistreated before she was slain.

Dairy By-Products Fed Stock Represent Huge Annual Waste

Government Arranging Unique Display to Impress Producers With Heavy Losses Now Incurred Through Waste of By-Products From Dairy

(Associated Press Limited Wire) WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—It has taken the imagination of an artist to portray the enormity of dairy by-products wasted annually in the United States. Skim milk, buttermilk and whey produced every year and lost largely through poor utilization amount to 3,500,000,000 gallons, equivalent to a river flowing at the rate of 7,000 gallons every minute. To get true conception of the immense quantity before the national consciousness, government technologists have prepared such a river in miniature. It will be shown at the Dairy Industries Exposition in Cleveland, October 24 to 29. The display represents the milk pouring over a huge dam, significant of tremendous monetary loss. At the bottom of the imaginary falls, artists have painted a great lake of milk on which there are ships of a size that corresponds to the amount of dairy by-products actually marketed commercially. The effect of the proportions is a striking realization that the by-products utilized are so small they easily might be floated to market in ships sailed on a river of the vast gallons wasted. Annual production of dairy by-products, both utilized and wasted, amounts to 28,400,534,000 pounds, included in which are 832,234,000 pounds of proteins, 1,460,062,000 pounds of milk sugar, 217,209,000 pounds of ash, and 28,400,000 pounds of butterfat, bringing the total of milk solids to 2,597,944,000 pounds. The greater part of by-products now is used as feed for live stock

BEARS FAVORED TO WIN SATURDAY'S GAME WITH U. OF C.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 13.—(Special)—The old order changeth, four years ago, or three or even two with an Oregon-California game in the offing the cry went up: "No chance for poor old Oregon, they're too big down there, too fast, too clever." Now it's different and on the eve of another California-Oregon game it is apparent that Captain John J. McEwan of Oregon is prepared to match brawn with brawn, speed with speed, and deception with deception. Interest runs high in Portland on Saturday's game in Multnomah stadium. The scores that throng of wise ones—the picking California and the odds through the week have ranged from two to one or 13 points to 10 to seven or six points. The ace apparently reason that if St. Mary's beat Stanford and California beat St. Mary's, the bears must be in there again. Last minute reports from the football camps indicate that every preparation has been made by the opposing coaches to insure victory Saturday.

At Berkeley, Cal., this afternoon, 35 members of the University of California football squad were en-training for the north, together with coaches and trainers, while at Eugene the green clad warriors of the north were taking a brisk workout.

The style of play of the two teams appears to be much the same. Each has a strong line with a shifty set of backs. Both depend on deception in addition to power, and each uses the forward pass. California hasn't been using Andy Smith's famous iod "spinner," but to make up for that, Captain McEwan has adopted the spinner with some interesting variations. California's outstanding ball carrier appears to be young Benny Lom, a speedy, hard hitting sophomore. Oregon's ace on the showing thus far is Bob Robinson, ex-Portland inter-scholastic star, who is expected to match everything that Lom has to offer. Lom and Robinson do the punting for their teams and though Lom kicks further he is not rated as dangerous as Robinson. Another battle will be between Regel, California's dashing young center and Stadelman, the Oregon pivot man. Regel fought his way to glory last Saturday when he out-battled the mighty Bettencourt while Stadelman was about half of the Oregon line at times in the fray against Idaho, with the season a full month old. This ball game is expected to practically determine the status of both Oregon and California in the conference races. An outstanding victory for either club will put the winner well out in the race for conference honors.

The annual meeting of the State Deo Koopers association will be held at Hermiston, November 17-19. A jack-rabbit drive will be a feature of the meeting.

HE HAD 146 CHILDREN AND TEN WIVES

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Twenty years ago a king stood on a balcony of a hotel in Marseilles and flung handfuls of gold and silver coins to the crowd below. "Vive la France!" he shouted as he scattered a fortune to the winds. "Long live the king," screamed the appreciative crowd as it fought for the coins.

He lived to be 87 years old, and died the other day down in Cambodia, Indo-China, the little French protectorate where he ruled. King Sisowath had ten official wives, a harem of 500 beauties, 1000 acres dancing girls, and 116 children.

He lived in lavish luxury, ruled in title only, and only once left his little jungle capital. That was in 1906, when he toured France dressed in his costume of state—an old derby hat surmounted by a 1000,000 diamond, knickerbockers of gaudy silk, an ancient full dress coat and old tan shoes.

DISCOVER STRANGE TRIBE OF AMAZONS

By NEA Service TELIS.—In the wilds of the Asiatic Caucasian mountains explorers have discovered a semi-civilized tribe of people who are ruled by women.

They are called "maiden people" by neighboring tribes because women do all the work, all the fighting and enjoy every privilege they desire. They have carried feminism beyond the wildest dreams of modern women. All that men have to do is eat the food that is set before them, sleep most of the time, fish if they choose and smoke stone-bowled pipes that their women fill and light for them. The women who provides the most luxuries for her husband and sons is most respected by her people.

CORNS

Instant Relief. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads stop all pain quicker than any other known method. Takes but a minute to quiet the worst corn. Healing starts at once. When the corn is gone it never comes back. If new shoes make the spot "touchy" again, a Zino-pad stops it instantly. That's because Zino-pads remove the cause—pressing and rubbing of shoes. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are medicated, antiseptic, protective. At all druggists and shoe dealers—35c. Put one on—the pain is gone!

BABOON BOY FOUND WITH WILD TRIBE

JOHANNESBURG.—(NEA)—The story of Tarzan has come true in the case of a native boy, who spent most of his boyhood roaming the wilds with a troop of baboons. It was nearly 25 years ago that a squad of police were riding through the Southeast Cape Province and came upon a band of baboons. They fired at them and the monkeys scampered away, except one who seemed to be wounded. The officers found it to be a native boy hopping along on all fours.

The lad was finally reconciled to human companionship, but only with the greatest difficulty was he taught to walk upright. He was given into the care of G. H. Smith, a farmer, and has been his servant ever since. He can speak English fairly well now, but his laugh sounds like the shrill chatter of the baboon. He retains many memories of his former wild life.

Allen pointed out that forests and lumber are an important source of tax revenue that can be kept continuous under favorable conditions. "Maine, our first typically lumbering state, still has 78 per cent of its area in forest use," he said. "Forty per cent of its industrial capital is invested in wood using industries. Forest products constitute 44 per cent of its transportation tonnage."
