BAD WEATHER IS AGAIN CAUSE OF DELAYING 'DAWN'

Study of Reports Made by Steamers Forces Postponement.

NEW LANDING GEAR

Trying Scheme to Raise Gear Hurriedly Allowing Pontoons for Water Landing.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Oct. 18.—Adverse conditions today against forced postponement of the European flight of Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson and her two companions in their amphibian plane, The Dawn. A radio poll of steamships showed contrary winds clear across the Atlantic.

Undismayed by their false start yesterday when an excess load of gasoline made the machine nose-heavy and forced a return less than a quarter of an hour after the take-off and after a large quantity of fuel had been hastily jettisoned, the fliers had hoped to get away with first available tidal conditions this forenoon.

Mrs. Grayson herself announced the enforced delay today after she, together with Eric Goldsborough, the navigator, and Wilmer Stultz, pilot, had studied the weather report gathered for them by the Radio Corporation of America through its Chatham, Massachusetts, station.

Mrs. Grayson said that the delay would be utilized in an attempt to speed up the hydraulic mechanism for lowering the landing gear. On returning to the beach yesterday the Dawn was forced to circle about almost eight minutes before the landing wheels, drawn up as the ship went out over the water, could be lowered for the landing.

LACK OF FISH THIS YEAR IN M'CLOUD RIVER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
REDDING, Calif., Oct. 18.—Because of lack of fish the fall take of salmon in the McCloud River United States fishery at Baird has been abandoned this year for the first time in a quarter of a century. The stream was so muddy from glacial flow all winter and last summer that it was impossible for the fish to live.

MAN KILLED BY FALLING TREE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
EUREKA, Calif., Oct. 18.—Benjamin Peterson, 45, died last night from injuries received when he was struck by a falling tree in the wood of the Little River Redwood Lumber company twenty miles north of here. He is survived by a brother in Oregon.

GIRL-MOTHER IS GUILTY THROWING BABE OUT WINDOW

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SAND POINT, Idaho, Oct. 18.—Margaret Brooks, 20 year old Bayville, Montana, girl-mother, was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary on a charge of manslaughter here yesterday when she admitted throwing her baby boy out of a train window.

HERE'S A BIT OF BRAVERY FOR YOU, FOLKS!

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
BATAVIA, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Androcles showed great courage in removing the thorn from the lion, but Batavia citizens were asking today how about Harry Russell and Lockwood Ager.

"There's a skunk running around here with a can on," said an unidentified voice telephoning to police headquarters.

"Well, what do you want us to do, make an arrest on a public intoxication charge?" the desk sergeant answered.

It developed, however, that a full grown skunk was running blindly around in Franklin street with a salmon can wedged over its head, unable to find the open fields back of the street.

Russell and Ager, employees of a factory, picked up the skunk before the police arrived and with a pair of shears removed the can from its head and allowed the animal to scurry away uninjured.

The appreciative skunk spared its benefactors.

TIEUP IN COAL FIELDS THREAT RED AGITATORS

Denver's I. W. W. Disturbances Reach Serious Proportions.

HOLDING MEETINGS

Four Thousand Miners in Boulder Field Meet and Decide to Walkout—Officials Worried.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 18.—Denver's I. W. W. agitation which had its roots in sympathy for Sacco and Vanzetti, grew to fulfillment today as the state faced a possible tieup of its coal fields and the results of calling a general coal strike by I. W. W. leaders last night, to become effective today.

With the I. W. W. agitation sweeping from the Southern Colorado coal district to the Boulder coal fields, law enforcing bodies in the district are expected to marshal their forces early today to combat any disturbances or attempts on the part of I. W. W. strikers to prevent those that refused to strike from reporting for work at the mines.

Thomas Annear, chairman of the Colorado State Industrial Commission with George Taylor, commission member, were "standing by" at Walsenburg today until the exact extent of the strike is determined. What line of action the commission would follow in case the strike took on a serious aspect had not been announced today.

Meetings were held last night at Walsenburg, Aguilar, Lafayette and Boulder, with I. W. W. leaders spurring miners on to make the strike a "100 per cent. proposition."

First word of the spread of the agitation to the Boulder field was received here last night when it was learned that more than 4,000 miners, representing that entire section, had met and voted unanimously to walk out. The meeting was held in a baseball park and presided over by A. S. Embree, I. W. W. member from the southern field. The meeting had been scheduled for a down town hall, but the crowd was so immense that it had to adjourn to the hall park, where automobile spotlights were used for illumination.

At Walsenburg the miners numbering 400 met in the I. W. W. headquarters building which last Saturday night was raided by Mayor John J. Prichard and a committee of business men and all records burned. Permission for the meeting last night was granted by Mayor Prichard who accepted the responsibility for Saturday night's raid.

Intense excitement was evident at Aguilar last night when members of the town council met with I. W. W. leaders and discussed the

FALL-SINCLAIR JURY COMPLETE; TRIAL STARTED

Forty Talesmen Examined in Selecting Body to Hear the Case.

TWO ARE WOMEN

Celebrated Case to Determine Whether Two Men Conspired in Disposing of Oil Lease.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The jury for the trial of Albert B. Fall and Harry F. Sinclair was completed today at 12:18 p. m. after the examination of forty talesmen.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—After two days of painstaking examination, a jury was placed in the box today to decide whether Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and Harry F. Sinclair, oil promoter, conspired criminally in disposing of the lease of the navy's great Teapot Dome oil reserve.

The jury was completed after a veritable procession of talesmen in and out of the box. Although when court opened only one juror's seat remained vacant, challenge after challenge from both government and defense removed those to whom the lawyers objected.

The jury which will hear the celebrated case consists of two women, one married and one single and ten men, eight married and two single. The jurors all live in the District of Columbia and are as follows:

Mrs. Annela L. Bailey, clerk, age not elicited.
Miss Bernice Heaton, a telephone instructor, age not elicited.
Gardner P. Crenfell, 26, single, cable splicer.
William H. Goucher, 39, married, a tire vulcanizer.
Conrad J. Herzog, 56, married, sales manager.
Robert C. Flora, 39, married, sales agent.
John P. Kern, 32, married, salesman.

Norman L. Glascock, 47, married, clerk.
Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., 31, single, leather worker.

MAN WITH TEN WIVES CAUGHT; WORRY IS OVER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Women have caused Alfred Herbert, 32, more or less concern, if the police account of his being married to ten of them at the same time is accurate.

Thus it was something of a coincidence that his arrests on a bigamy charge late yesterday was made by a woman police officer. The policewoman, with drawn revolver, arrested Herbert in front of a loop office building where he was employed as private watchman.

His father, Frank Herbert, said he knew of "at least six wives" of his son. Two "Mrs. Herberts" met at the police station and by comparing notes and information brought the total to ten. Some of the women to whom Herbert may have been married are believed by police to live in San Francisco and inquiries are being made there.

Where the Flying Flapper Was Rescued

The cross marks the locality where the tank steamer Barendrecht rescued Ruth Elder, the flying Florida flapper, and her pilot and navigator. The map also pictures where the plane deviated from the New York-to-Paris line, and was headed for Lisbon when a broken oil line forced it down. More than two-thirds of the journey had been completed.

HUMAN SERUM IS FOUND TO TREAT PARALYSIS CASES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—A human serum has been discovered for the treatment of infantile paralysis and has recently been administered to fifty patients in a Massachusetts hospital. Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, professor of preventative medicine at Harvard University, said last night at the joint meeting here of the post-graduate medical association and the Kansas City Southwest Clinical Society. Dr. Rosenau warned his auditors against assuming that a cure for the now epidemic disease had been found, and pointed out that use of the serum was only in the early stages of development.

FOUND LIVING WITH WIFE'S DAUGHTER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Oct. 18.—Sam Heinken, 46, pleaded guilty in circuit court today to a charge of polygamy, under a statute passed in 1864, and was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary. The law which the district attorney's office said fitted the case, provides that where a man is legally married and thereafter lives with another woman as his wife he is guilty of polygamy, though he has not been married to the second woman.

Heinken was married at Roseburg in 1926, and was charged with having lived with his wife's daughter, Maybelle Taylor, 17, for several months this year at North Bend, Oregon, and other Coos Bay points while his wife remained at Roseburg. Recently Heinken and the girl came to Hood River picking apples in orchards here. His wife became suspicious and started an investigation which resulted in Heinken's arrest Saturday.

RUTH EMBARKS ON STEAMSHIP; ENROUTE PARIS

Waves Farewell to Islanders and Is Still Wearing Captain's Cap.

EXHIBITED NERVE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

HORTA, Island of Fayal, Azores, still wearing Captain Gooch's cap as a reminder of her thrilling rescue by the steamship Barendrecht, Ruth Elder sailed early this morning for Lisbon aboard the Portuguese mail boat Lima with the cheers of a great crowd of spectators whose hearts she had completely won, ringing in her ears.

With her sailor George W. Haldeman, her co-pilot on their trans-Atlantic venture in the monoplane American Girl, and the two-wheeled vigorous farewells as the mail boat crept away from the city bathed in a brilliant moonlight.

The last view of the American aviatrix, who had captivated her hosts by her spontaneity and democracy, was the picture of a tiny figure aboard the Lima, waving hands, blowing kisses and made more jaunty than ever by Captain Gooch's hat poised on her wind-tossed curls.

"Has my luggage gone below?" was the first question she asked as she boarded the ship and the crowd laughed at the quip, knowing that the clothes she had on—plus furs and red sweater included—were all that she had been able to rescue from her plane.

Horta, during the three-day visit of the American aviatrix, witnessed one incident that gave proof of Miss Elder's nerve when she charlestoned with a handsome Englishman on the wall of the verandah of the Mackay house, despite the fact that the wall rises above the harbor below.

Lilly Dilenz, Viennese actress and passenger aboard the Junkers plane D-1230 which is now waiting for favorable weather to resume its flight across the Atlantic to the United States, has deep praise for the little American flier.

"I have never been so charmed by another woman," said Madame Dilenz, whose path by a strange quirk of fate had crossed that of Miss Elder at this island town far from their respective starting points.

The crew of the D-1230 last night decided to postpone a their take-off until tonight. A heavy swell in the harbor last night made a take-off unwise. It was raining today with but a slight wind.
