BRIEF SPORT NEWS

Critics Go Wrong

When a pennant winning ball club loses four straight games in a world series, as has happened only twice in almost 25 years, a lot of unkind things are always said about the vanquished.

The Boston Braves, admittedly an inferior team to the Philadelphia Athletics, but the Mackmen four straight in 1914. Critics insisted the Athletics curled up, quite cold.

That was not only unfair to the Athletics but to the Braves as well, for it tended to discredit the victory of the National League.

The Braves of that year were an inspired team; the Athletics, a nonchalant, self-satisfied aggregation, that had grown careless as the result of too much success.

No one will argue that Boston was four straight games better than the Athletics in 1914, yet that was the margin in the world series.

Pirates Were Fighters
Now comes the story that the Pirates quit under pressure and failed to play anywhere near top form.

Never was a greater injustice done a ball club. Possibly the Pirates were out on their feet when they entered the world series, but it wasn't lack of courage that caused them to take a quick count.

It took a game half day to win a pennant in so hectic a struggle as was waged in the National League during the past season.

I repeat Pittsburgh's feat in taking four straight from the Chicago Cubs, after having lost three out of four to New York, thereby cutting their lead to a game and one-half, one of the most courageous performances in the annals of baseball.

The Pirates, a tired team, met the Yankees, stepping at their best, and were outclassed. No one will argue that ordinarily the New York team is four straight better than Pittsburgh, but they were in the recent series.

Two Veterans Gone

The life of a ball player is a most precarious one, literally a hero today, a has-been tomorrow.

The other day the Philadelphia Athletics announced the release of the two veteran outfielders, Zach Wheat and "Baby Doll" Jacobson.

It was just three years ago that Jacobson had one of his best years, was rated one of the most valuable outfielders in the American League and, in the spring following, proved a most persistent holdout.

When it came to signing with the St. Louis Browns, he asked something like $3000 more than Owner Phil Ball believed he was worth. The head of the St. Louis club refused to budge from his position despite the fact that the Browns needed Jacobson badly.

President Johnson, a close friend of Ball, finally stepped into the breach, signing Jacobson. It is said he paid the difference from his own bank roll.

Just a few seasons have passed and we find every major league club waving on the same Jacobson. Usually when a player starts to slip he goes back quickly.

OREGON CITY FOUNDRY BURNED

OREGON CITY, Ore., Oct. 19.—Fire last night destroyed the Oregon City foundry, with a loss estimated at $2,000. The foundry, established in 1869, specialized in sawmill machinery, and of late years manufactured much of the machinery for the Hawley Pulp and Paper company.

ROSEBURG COUPLE WED AT PRETTY HOME CEREMONY

At a pretty wedding service on the evening of October 16, Mrs. Susan A. Pearce became the bride of Robert J. Cox of this city, the ceremony taking place at the Pearce home in North Roseburg. Rev. R. H. Dollahide, a minister of the Free Methodist church, officiated at the 6 o'clock service and afterward a wedding dinner was served at the home, among whom were Mrs. Danna, a sister of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cox, Jr. Mr. Cox is proprietor of the lunch room on North Jackson street. He and his bride will continue to make their home in Roseburg.

FLASHES OF LIFE

NEW YORK—The divorced wife of W. K. Vanderbilt prefers to be known as Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt. The society circles have a characteristic her. Her first name is Virginia. She is the daughter of James Graham Fair.

NEW YORK—Some 1500 photographs of Thomas A. Edison, made in the course of 20 years, all show the right side of the face. Caradant, the photographer, explains that the inventor, the Commander Ford, has a plastic left side to his face compared with great character in the right side.

NEW YORK—Paul Poiret, arbiter of fashion, is here from Paris with a gipsy-savvy of his child, the short skirt. In 1912, he says, he tried to introduce a short skirt—much longer than the present mode—to the United States and was prevented from showing a film of his mannequins because it was improper. "And now look at your women! Why the Paris police would not permit such dresses as they wear over here. Why should a woman attempt to reveal all her beauty? The skirt should end five inches above the ankle instead of five inches above the knee." But Paul fears the mode he dislikes is here to stay.

WASHINGTON—Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge are becoming movie fans, they've been to a film theatre twice in a month now, or twice more than ever before during the present administration.

I. W. W. STRIKE IN COAL MINES SAID SERIOUS

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 19.—Colorado, entering its second day of the I. W. W. coal miners strike today was prepared to enforce an edict issued last night by law-enforcing officials to prevent picketing in the Southern Colorado and Boulder Coal Fields.

With 15 already in jail for picketing law officers today announced that picketers wherever found would be immediately arrested and despite this threat the strikers in the Walsenburg district held a meeting last night and announced that men had been selected and that picketing would go on as planned.

This new phase of possible trouble between the miners and peace officers combined with rumors current in the southern field that the I. W. W. organization had received a freight carload of machine guns, rifles, ammunition and explosives, as well as four carloads of food and supplies, caused an atmosphere of unrest.

A check of all mines in the Walsenburg district where the strike is considered the most serious, shows 1,180 miners out of a normal force of 2,594 answering the walkout call. Mines in Las Animas county are said to be operating at near full strength and check late yesterday showed that 1,024 employed in the six mines 789 were at work Tuesday and of the 248 of them not at work, 203 of them were employed at the Frederick mine which does not operate on Tuesday leaving 42 strikers in the district.

WESTERN GROUP OF INSURGENTS BACKING NORRIS

Also Stand Ready to Listen to Cause of Frank O. Lowden.

WANT FARM RELIEF

Senator Nye Makes Talk to Washington Chamber of Commerce Outlining Policies.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The newly formed group of non-organization Republican senators from the west is standing by Senator Norris of Nebraska as its presidential nominee and while ready to listen to the cause of Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, wants more information from him as to his views on western problems.

Senator Nye of North Dakota, one of the five senators now belonging to the Norris cluster made this clear in a speech here last night before the Washington Chamber of Commerce in which he asked Mr. Lowden to clarify his position regarding the interests of the west.

The North Dakota senator said he did not wish to embarrass the candidacy of Mr. Lowden or eliminate him from consideration but he thought it possible that Lowden "might soon see fit to clarify his position." While the former governor of Illinois has advocated the McNary-Haugen bill, Senator Nye declared that mere enactment of this measure is not going to save agriculture.

"With these thoughts in mind," he added, "I would assume that that you could understand why there are many of us who would insist upon the candidacy for the presidency of one like Senator Norris and why we feel that the west ought to encourage, in whatever way it can, such a movement."

Meanwhile, this insurgent group which includes Senator Borah of Idaho, Brookhart of Iowa andrazier of North Dakota, are busy working out a new farm relief bill which they hope will be acceptable to Senator Borah, an opponent of the vetoed McNary-Haugen measure. The new bill will eliminate the controversial equalization loan provision which met the disapproval of President Coolidge and of Senator Borah as well.

However, the range of the newly organized block are not increasing. Senator McMaster of South Dakota has been here, but although not opposed to their views, has not been in conference with the group yet. Others from the west are looking on warily. Such administration stalwarts as Senator Smoot of Utah are giving the faction no consideration.

Some members of the group declare privately their hope that if Senator Norris will not make the race or sees no chance of success, that Senator Borah will go forward in their cause as a presidential candidate. This, however, is predicated upon formation of a farm relief bill which agrees with the views of the Idahoan.

ANCIENT ATHENS TO BE UNEARTHED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The anonymous donation of $2,500,000 to the most costly archaeological enterprise ever undertaken has been announced with publication of plans to excavate 25 acres on which stood the Agora of Athens, famous market place of antiquity. The American philanthropist making this gift to research did so through Colonel Arthur Wood, former police commissioner of New York on the stipulation that the donor's name be kept secret. With these funds the American School of Archaeological Studies at Athens, which has already obtained consent of the Greek government for the excavation, will raise $1,000,000 worth of property on which several thousand people live in an effort to bring to light the culture of early Athens. The ancient market place is believed to contain buried temples, libraries, stadia and other public edifices. These may hold the artistic treasures described by Cicero, Pausanias and other classical writers that have been buried since the reign of pericles. The site is termed the most promising of the world and its excavation has been agitated for several years.
