SUTHERLIN PRO- DUCES 5,000 LBS. OF FINE MINT OIL

Regardless of the fact that cultivation of poppermint was somewhat neglected here the past season, due to prevailing low prices for oil last spring, a fairly good crop has been harvested, and while the production of oil will not be as large as in 1926, the quality is of good grade and should bring the best market price, says the Sutherlin Sun. The three stills in Sutherlin, which have handled practically all of the mint grown in the county this season, expect to complete operations this week, when accurate figures on the total amount of oil produced will be obtainable.

It is estimated that approximately five thousand pounds of oil will be produced by the mint growers of this county this season. Of this amount the A. C. Brown still has produced 1873 pounds; the Hartley, Duer & Gilchrist still 1400 pounds; the J. M. Watkins still 1200 pounds. The Brown still produced 2200 pounds of oil last season.

Buyers state that the oil produced in Douglas county is a higher grade oil and contains more essential oil than produced in any other district on the coast. It is slightly above in esters. The best results obtained in this district the present season was by H. F. Wells of Yoncalia, who obtained 239 pounds of oil from four acres. Mr. Wells will increase his acreage next season.

Five tons of peppermint oil was shipped from Portland to New York by steamer one day recently. A large per cent of the oil was produced in the Salem and Puget Sound, Wash., districts. Buyers state that more than $100,000 worth of mint oil produced on the Pacific coast will be shipped east this season, the export exceeding that of last season by a large amount.

LET CONTRACT FOR SUTHERLIN SAWMILL

W. D. Valentine who arrived home Tuesday from an extended business trip to southern California, not only returned with praise for Oregon climate, but also with new vigor and enthusiasm for further improvement and development at Douglas Park Rabbiteries, says the Sutherlin Sun.

As soon as he could remove his hat and unpack his traveling bag, Mr. Valentine entered into a contract for the erection of a sawmill on the 2000-acre Douglas Park ranch, owned by Mr. Valentine and his business partner, Frank G. Hogan. Not content with this, a contract was also entered into for the erection of four additional rabbitries, each building to set on concrete foundations and occupy a ground space 32x16 feet.

The sawmill will be erected and equipped under the supervision of Walter Baker, one of the best mill men in this section of Oregon, who will have charge of the operation of the mill, which will be built in the small canyon south of Mr. Valentine's residence. The output from the mill will be used in new buildings contemplated for the ranch during the coming year.

The contract for the rabbitries was let to Fred Pankoun, well known local contractor, who will be assisted by Walter Kinzel, of Wilbur, an expert in cement work as well as construction. The new rabbitries will have a capacity of 1200 rabbits each, or a total of about 5000 "bunnies" in the four buildings. Work has already started on the concrete foundations for these buildings, and a large portion of the lumber for their construction is on the ground.

In addition, grading on the new driveway which is to extend from the rabbitries to the Pacific highway south of Sutherlin creek, has been completed as far as South State street, leaving only a short distance on which the work is being continued. John F. O'Mara, former highway patrolman for this district, and recognized as an expert in road building, is doing the work on the new road. A small park, shaded with trees, and a very attractive gateway at the Pacific highway entrance, will be features of the new driveway.

NOTICE

The annual Teachers' Institute for Douglas county will be held at the Junior High School Building in Roseburg on Thursday and Friday, October 27-28 beginning each morning at 9 o'clock. Refer to Section 65, Oregon School Laws for 1927.

MOTHER LOVE IS TRIUMPHANT OVER LURE OF THE STAGE

(Associated Press Local Wire)
BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 21.—The mother love of an ex-Follies girl has triumphed over the lure of Broadway and the stage.

Mildred Richardson Hill, ex-Follies girl who has had a taste of ranch life in the west and is now seeking separation from her husband, Walter Hill, son of the late James J. Hill, will not return to the stage if she is successful in her proceedings she let it be known today.

"The lure of Broadway has no influence on my action," she is quoted as saying by Miss Eve Finan, her New York companion here.

"Mrs. Hill's intention if she is successful in her case, is to devote the rest of her life to Earl Baker, her nine year old son by a former marriage," Miss Finan declared.

Mrs. Hill's complaint seeks separate maintenance alimony, $2,500 a month temporary alimony, $2,500 for costs of action and $25,000 for attorneys fees. It was learned today.

In the complaint Mrs. Hill alleges that her husband frequently became intoxicated, used abusive language to her and beat her and the complaint further charges that in a Spokane hotel Hill dragged her about the hotel during an "out-break."

VISCOUNT CECIL ON SPEAKING TOUR

(Associated Press Local Wire)
LONDON, Oct. 21.—Viscount Cecil, who recently resigned from the British cabinet in disagreement with its disarmament policy, today launched a personal speaking campaign in the cause of disarmament, making the first of a half dozen addresses which he will deliver before Christmas.

Speaking at a special meeting of the British League of Nations union at Gaxton Hall, Viscount Cecil declared that the object of his resignation from the cabinet, an act which shook the British political world, was to have greater freedom to press upon his fellow countrymen the urgency of disarmament without which, he said, there could be no hope of an enduring peace in Europe.

"Do not let us forget that out of every pound of taxation we pay 14 shillings are due to past wars or preparation for future wars," he said. "This is a terrible burden, far greater than any other country in the world is bearing at present."

Viscount Cecil said that Great Britain must reduce the cost of her fighting services, but added that she could not do so to any great extent unless other countries did the same. He asserted that Britain, with the possible exception of Russia, whose accurate information is not available, is the only European country whose expenditure for armaments is larger than before the war.
