Business Women Entertain Teachers at Delightful Affair

Quite the most delightful evening affair among the larger social events scheduled for this week-end was the reception given the women teachers of the city schools by the Business and Professional Women's Club, which entertained on Friday evening at the attractive home of Mrs. C. S. Heinline in Laurewood. About sixty were present for the occasion.

Mrs. Heinline, Mrs. W. S. Jost, Mrs. Chas. Brand and Dr. Lucetta Smith received the guests. Early in the evening each guest was given a slip of paper on which to write her name as a means of identification and to get acquainted. A few amusing games entertained the guests and afterward, Miss Eliza Kohlhaugen gave a delightful pianologue and a reading. The group enjoyed vocal solos by Mary Myers, who sang the "Spring Song" and "Lindy Lou" and by Mrs. Brand, whose numbers were "Who is Sylvia" by Schubert and "Lazy Song" by Lawson.

Assisting in the rooms during the evening were Dr. Smith and Miss Bess Wharton.

The guests were served refreshments in the dining room. Pouring were Miss Ethel Webb, Miss Bess Wharton and Mrs. Chas. Brand. The serving table was attractive with a centerpiece of red roses. The refreshment committee consisted of the Misses Mae Baldwin, Josephine McKinney, Ida Laubach, Elvan Strader and the Mesdames May Pyron and Edith Gilmore.

Seniors Enjoy Frolic and Masque

Members of the younger set found much pleasure and delight in the Senior class masquerade and frolic on Friday evening in the Senior high school building. About sixty students and faculty members attended the affair.

The program was in charge of Miss Maxine Moore. Prizes for the best individual costumes were given and also awards for the best couple in costume were presented. A spooky one-act play entertained the group after which refreshments were served in the dining room of the school. The auditorium was transformed with profusions of autumn leaves and in the dining room a Halloween effect was made with orange and black crepe paper decorations and cats and witches in silhouette. The lighting during the supper hour was from tall candles. Toasts were given by J. V. Long and the speakers were Wm. Reed, Ray James, Clyde Bear and Stein Jonasson.

Luncheon Opens Winter Meetings

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. F. A. Stewart was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon, bidding to her home the matrons of the New Idea Club of Edenbow. The affair resumed the winter series of meetings for the club after the vacation period.

The afternoon was informally spent by the Mesdames F. D. Owen, P. A. Clemens, R. H. Williams, Almiria Smith, E. P. Ballou, V. Buckingham, T. P. Byram, G. F. Jones, Curtis Calkins, D. E. Hendrickson and an added guest, Mrs. Berka.

Dinner Party Honors H. S. French

Her husband's birthday anniversary was the occasion for an attractive dinner party given by Mrs. H. S. French at the French home on South Main street last evening. The affair was a surprise for the honor guest and the evening was spent informally.

Bidden were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pickens and family, Mr. and Mrs. V. S. French and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Watson and family.

Reception Honors Faculty Rose School

A reception for the teachers of the Rose school was held this week, which was well attended and proved to be a most enjoyable affair. A splendid program was given, consisting of the following numbers: piano solo, Elizabeth Williams; address of welcome, B. L. Eddy; response, E. S. Hall; vocal solos, Mrs. Archie Taylor, accompanied by Mrs. Osborn; piano solo, Ruth Hoover; readings, Mrs. Cully; talk, Dr. T. W. Laraway; talk, Mrs. Beckley, county president of the Parent-Teacher association.

Dr. Laraway's talk dealt with health matters, pertaining to the school, and Mrs. Beckley spoke of the P. T. A. work, its benefits and accomplishments, and about some of the matters taken up at the state convention. These talks proved most instructive, and were appreciated by the audience.

Following the program, a series of stunts and games, planned by the committee were put on, in which everyone present participated with much enjoyment. Refreshments were then served by the ladies having that work in charge.

Mrs. Kliest Entertains at Country Home

Mrs. R. D. Kliest asked the members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the North Methodist church to her country home near this city on Thursday afternoon.

Games entertained the guests, among them a contest in apple box making. Mrs. L. A. Dillard won the prize, a box of grapes, for the best box made in the shortest time. Refreshments were served to the Mesdames Wm. Cox, J. R. Penhall, V. T. French, Wm. Gammon, J. W. Stephens, Cole Owens, Roy Young, L. A. Dillard, Verne Shrum, R. Reed, Geo. Frankshaw, Harold Woodruff, Frank Strite and Miss Aileen Kliest.

Parish Meeting and Supper Enjoyed

A very interesting meeting was held last evening in St. George's Parish House. After a fine supper served by the Guild, under the efficient management of its president, Mrs. J. C. Hume, the business of the evening was opened. Splendid talks were given by various members of the church. Warden M. E. Ritter and Warden J. C. Hume presented the budget for the coming year. Robert L. Campbell, C. G. Russell, M. F. Middleburg, R. E. Parzetter, P. T. Randall, and Dr. H. C. Church brought before the meeting different side-lights of the church work. Mr. Kurdy told a little about the church in Damascus. Then followed a musical program. A solo on the organ by C. Strawn, a song by Miss Hazel Goodwin, two alto horns solos by Fred Strang, Miss Lucille Sappington accompanied on the piano. La. Williams and the hostess.

MOVIES

"What Price Glory" Is Best Picture in 10 Years

Every decade there appears on the theatrical horizon a stage or screen presentation so powerful in its appeal, whether it be comedy or tragedy, that it at once radiates its fame to the remotest corners of the nation. It immediately grasps attention and becomes a byword and the topic of everyday conversation. Everyone will admit that there is no more positive proof of this than "What Price Glory." As a stage play it was a sensation. Now comes along that most powerful and searching of all agencies that reflect and re-create, the motion picture, and the sensation takes on all the widespread and interest arousing energy of a furor. This is exactly what has happened to William Fox's screen presentation of this celebrated play, which comes to the Liberty Theatre for a 3 days' engagement.

The nation's foremost screen critics have been unanimous in their commendation of this motion picture masterpiece, declaring that it surpasses the celebrated play by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson in every particular despite the greatness of the stage attraction.

ANTLERS

Fine Comedy Picture With Notable Stars

If you want to see a notable assemblage of stars in a vehicle worthy of their talents, go to the Antlers Theatre. "For the Love of Mike," the first National production which opens Sunday comes up to that high standard.

Ben Lyon has the leading role with George Sidney, Ford Sterling, Claudette Colbert, Hugh Cameron, Richard Skeets Gallagher, Rudolph Cameron and Mabel Swor.

This is a perfect cast, as is evident.

sky has the soul of an artist. Each song becomes a thing of life when Gungsky sings. Into the mountains, over the ocean—to the tenements of the city—the voice of Gungsky has come, and with it new and deeper love of life music. Now Maurice is here to charm you, to sway you, to sing to you. Manager Marston considers himself fortunate in having persuaded Maurice Gungsky to show at the Antlers theatre, as he is on a very limited tour of the northwest, prior to his having to be in New York City before the Christmas holidays to fulfill existing contracts.

Out Door Picnic Is Pleasant Event

With Indian summer days providing inspiration for a few more delightful out door affairs, picnics have been the vogue among the younger set the past fortnight. On the evening of October 14 the Misses Mary and Edna Hodges were joint hostesses for a winter picnic at the Hodges ranch at Looking Glass, asking a group of thirteen girl friends. The evening was spent about the large bonfire following the picnic.

Club Bidden to Home Mrs. Ritchie, Jr.

The Garden Valley Woman's Club was invited to the home of Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Jr., on Thursday for an informal afternoon. Bright colors were used in the rooms with flower decorations. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Cliff Ford McKay assisted the hostess.

Present for the meeting were the Mesdames R. E. Owens, D. S. Ferguson, R. S. Hutton, E. E. LaBrie, W. D. Love, G. McDaniel, Clifford McKay, A. Niday, J. Erwin Page, Fred Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Sr., P. Sinclair, R. H. C. Wood, J. A. Williams and the hostess.

Miss Gladys Enger of Brownsville is the house guest of Miss Mildred Cochran at the H. U. Cochran home on South Main street over the week-end.

Matron Honored by Group of Friends

Mrs. Belle Schindler was honored on her birthday anniversary on Friday evening, several of her friends calling at her home at 603 West Lane street to surprise her. Games and music were diversions and refreshments were served later in the evening.

Enjoying the affairs were the Mesdames Belle Schindler, Mary Parker, Clara Cawfield, E. Cawfield, J. G. Stephenson, Elizabeth Rose, Charles Walker, Dick Busch, Nora Troxel and Miss Mable Schindler. Aileen Walker, Dorothy Busch and Gordon Walker.

MAURICE GUNSKY TO SING MONDAY

Maurice Gungsky, known all over the United States and beloved by hundreds of thousands of radio listeners, also as a Victor recording star of national repute, will appear at the Antlers theatre on this city on Monday next.

Wherever the voice of radio carries—there Maurice Gungsky is known—and loved. Gifted with a voice that is truly beautiful, Gungsky has the soul of an artist.

Each song becomes a thing of life when Gungsky sings. Into the mountains, over the ocean—to the tenements of the city—the voice of Gungsky has come, and with it new and deeper love of life music. Now Maurice is here to charm you, to sway you, to sing to you.

Mr. and Mrs. Singleton Observing Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Singleton are observing their fortieth wedding anniversary on Sunday with a dinner and informal afternoon at their home on Lane street. Their marriage took place in Roseburg in 1887.

Invited are relatives of the hosts, including Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booth, son Edwin Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Harrie Booth of this city, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Odgen of Eugene and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Singleton of Drain.

Mrs. H. R. Nerbas is serving as president of the Parent-Teacher association, having been elected at the last regular business meeting. She is assisted in the work by Mrs. C. R. Freeman, as secretary, the latter holding this office for the past two school years. Mrs. Nerbas will make a capable executive, and the association is fortunate in having her at its head this year.

It is a sure "peach" and would make several meals for the ordinary individual.

TWO WOMEN FOUND HELP

Their Sickness Banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Nina Matteson, Box 206, Oxford, N. Y., writes: "If it had not been for your medicine, I could not have done my work as it is now. Mother told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I had read in different papers what it had done for different women."

She wanted me to try it, so my husband got me one bottle at first; then I took two others. Now I am feeling quite strong again."

Mrs. Ernest Tangney of Adams, Mass., says she was ill for four years and could not sleep nights or go out on the street. She read about the Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking eight bottles she was able to do all her work and go anywhere and is quite herself again.

This dependable Vegetable Compound is a household word in thousands of homes. The fourth generation is now learning the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If this medicine has helped other women, why shouldn't it help you? At your druggist's.

TIMEWORN FORDS IN RATTLIN' RACE

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five knights of the rattling rod faced the barrier in decrepit wisecrack emblazoned motor cars, to race glory but not gold in the first cross-country, "aged flogger" derby ever to be held.

The entrants were Drake university students; their vehicles five-year old cars, some of which resembled automobiles. Starting from the Drake stadium, each will attempt to battle and sputter his way over forty-odd miles or road to the finish line at the Grinnell college stadium.

Elapsed time will determine the winner, who for his daring will receive prizes offered by Des Moines and Grinnell merchants.

The owner whose "wreck" bears the clearest "wisecrack" will also be singled out for honors. Even the worst "also ran"—the first to experience a break down outside of Des Moines, will receive a prize.

The driver whose conveyance least resembles an automobile will likewise come in for reward. Henry Ford has asked an option on the winning "flogger." He wants it for his museum of "mechanical wonders" or something.

MRS. GRAYSON'S AIR TOGS

On her New York-to-Copenhagen flight, Mrs. Frances Grayson will be togged in an exemplary flying costume fashioned by Bruck-Weiss. The jacket is of squares of tan brown calfskin and the knicker-jumped suit of brown kasha, with patch pockets and high collar; it has, too, an auxiliary skirt to be worn at the end of the flight in localities where knickers are correct feminine apparel have not yet been publicly approved. Her helmet is of matching leather.
