ROSEBURG HAS INCREASED NEED FOR LANDING FIELD

Roseburg will be included on the Pacific Air Transport route, providing a suitable landing field for all year flying is arranged, according to statements made by Noel H. Evans, line superintendent, who has just returned to Vancouver, Wash., after spending two weeks, assisting H. W. Lucas, airway superintendent of the aeronautic division of the department of commerce, in selecting municipal and emergency landing fields.

Grants Pass, it is announced, will purchase a small private landing field, enlarge it and establish an up-to-date municipal landing field, the city being quite enthusiastic over the improvement, which will place that city in the forefront with the other progressive Oregon cities that are getting in step with the aviation program.

An emergency field is to be established at Graves Creek, north of Seaton mountain, where several pilots have been forced down in the past. Glendale is to have an enlarged municipal field and an emergency field will be located between Canyonville and Riddle.

Roseburg is expected to make some provision to provide a field in keeping with the size of the municipality, and if this is done the city will be included on the transport company's route. You-calls is also expected to have a municipal field, and an emergency field will be secured between Drain and Cottage Grove.

Cottage Grove is to have a municipal field, Eugene already has one and fields will be established by Harrisburgh, Albany and Salem. It is desired to have fields every 20 miles in open country and every 15 miles in the mountain sections. It is proposed to outline all the landing fields with white, green and red lights and place 7,500,000 candle power beacons at short intervals along the route.

Look Inside the Shoe

See Exactly What You Get Before You Buy

That's the new way—and the only right way—to buy shoes. At this store you can examine an Edmonds Foot-Fitter Split Shoe, and see exactly how these high grade shoes are built. You will find a thick solid leather insole instead of the usual light insole packed with cork filler. Cork filler causes shoes to "run over" and results in many foot troubles. These things you can avoid by looking inside and judging on the basis of true value. Come in, examine the split shoe and smart, new Edmonds Foot-Fitter models.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER

(Associated Press Special Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Oct. 27.—The case for and against Mrs. Ruth W. Lockwood, accused of manslaughter, arising here at an excessive speed while under the influence of liquor, and so causing the death of Maynard Sawyer, a druggist, on July 19 last, will be presented to the jury for their verdict some time late today.

This was indicated this morning when the defense concluded its case and the state made its opening argument to the jury. The trial has consumed four days. The state has had a large number of witnesses and their testimony does not appear to have been changed in any important respect by cross-examinations of defense counsel. Mrs. Lockwood herself took the stand Wednesday afternoon and said that about the point where the accident occurred she was stooping down to adjust the switch on her car, which she alleges was in poor running order. She also denied knowing anything about two pint bottles of moonshine found in the pocket of her car and said that she had had but two drinks that evening just before driving toward home, during which drive the accident occurred.

Thursday morning one of her attorneys took the stand and said upon examination by John A. Galter, chief defense counsel, that he had examined the light at the scene of the accident and found many shadows from light poles.

SUPPORTERS OF PRINCE CAROL UNDER ARREST

ed to have decided to start the Carolist movement to overthrow Bratiano who is now his deadly enemy.

Averescu's people's party, however, has few representatives in parliament. Carol apparently was aware of this and unwilling to commit himself beyond his previous statement that his return must be accomplished by constitutional means.

Rumanian circles here assert that Premier Bratiano committed an error in arresting Manollescu as the arrest is likely to cause sympathy for Carol's cause among the people.

BELGRADE, Jugia Slavia, Oct. 27.—Reports reaching here thru various underground channels, since the frontier is tightly closed because of the censorship said today that the situation in Bucharest is extremely critical.

Public buildings, in a interior and railroad stations are heavily guarded by troops and gendarmes.

It was stated, all gatherings of more than four persons in the city streets are immediately dispersed. It was said, troops were reported to have been called in from the provinces and practically surround the capital and occupy strategic points throughout the city.

Bucharest was said to be seething when the report circulated that the Bratiano government intended to arrest Julia Mania, leader of the national peasant party.

BELGRADE, Jugia Slavia, Oct. 27.—The internal situation in Rumania has never before been so critical, it was indicated today in advices from Grada, Almar, Bucharest and Temesvar.

Troops were stated to be concentrated near Bucharest in anticipation of a possible revolution. Telegraphic and telephonic communication with Rumania has been suspended and conversations over the frontier are cut off, if of a political nature.

The advices state that M. Manu, leader of the peasant party, which was supposed to hold an important meeting today, was arrested by Gendarmes yesterday, but escaped.

The advices also declared that Premier Bratiano was assuming a virtual dictatorship, neither discussing nor consulting with any members of the renency, the measures being taken.

SENATOR FESS CONTINUES TO MAKE PREDICTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Undiminished by the disclosure of the White House, Senator Fess of Ohio continues to tell lawmakers that in his opinion President Coolidge will be re-nominated unless something more than the celebrated "I do not choose" statement is put before the voters.

In a letter to William John Eynon of Washington, the Ohio senator has shed additional light on his recent conference with the president from which he emerged to announce that Mr. Coolidge had expressed displeasure at the senator's repeated re-nomination predictions.

The letter says that some of the stronger expressions which crept into newspaper accounts of the interview were not justified and that it would be wrong to suppose that the president had been "out of humor" with him.

"On the contrary," write Senator Fess, "I never found him more cordial."

Mr. Eynon, a business man here whose voting residence is in Pennsylvania, had written Senator Fess mentioning the White House incident and expressing hope that Mr. Coolidge still might be kept in office.

SCHOOL HOLDS FINE HALLOWEEN PROGRAM

A box social and Halloween program was held by the Winston school, district Number 48, of which Miss Florence Fuller is teacher, on Wednesday evening. A large crowd was in attendance and the receipts, which amounted to $20 will be used for the new start-up program.

A program of musical numbers, recitations and play by the students was very much enjoyed. Mrs. Edith S. Ackert, county school superintendent, who attended from here stated that she was well pleased with the efforts of the school and noted the several improvements made in the building. The lighting has been corrected, new painting has been done and new play ground equipment has been installed for the students.
