MAYOR BILL CAN BURN BOOKS BUT HASN'T DONE IT

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Mayor Thompson has replied to a suit for an injunction restraining him or his subordinates from destroying British books of the Chicago Public Library with the remark: "I can burn the books, but I won't."

Chief among the contentions set forth in the mayor's reply, which will be filed in the form of a demurrer before Circuit Judge Fisher today, were the following:

Citizens do not have the right to unrestricted use of books in the public library.

The right to decide what publications shall be received into the public library or removed therefrom is invested with the directors of the library board, and may not be interfered with by injunction.

The mayor has the right to investigate or cause to be investigated any public institution.

No injunction can be issued against the defendants to restrain them from destroying books of the library, because such is their legal privilege.

The suit for injunction to prevent destruction of library volumes was filed by Attorney J. Kentner Elliott, following a threat by Library Trustee U. J. (Sport) Herrmann to seize alleged pro-British texts and have them burned on the lake front by the public hangman.

OHIO STATE TO BATTLE PRINCETON

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Ohio state's football team is being counted on to determine Saturday whether Coach Ben Roper has a snarling, ferocious tiger in the Princeton jungle or a domesticated house cat.

Princeton's decisive defeat of Cornell two weeks ago established Ropers team high in the eastern classic.

The big game of the Pennsylvania district, involving the east's only other undefeated and untied teams of major importance, Washington and Jefferson and Pittsburgh, appears on the surface to be a toss-up.

Twenty years ago Harvard and Penn last met on the gridiron. Penn will be playing football built up on lines similar to those of the 1902 team. The Quakers will have to snap into form against this Harvard team, however, for many believe that Coach Arnold Horween has his team at its best.

After two days of rest the Yale Varsity has taken up light scrimmage for the game with the University of Maryland. Dartmouth is not expecting stern opposition from Brown Saturday.

Army is nursing along three casualties but doesnt figure to be hard pressed by Franklin and Marshall. West Virginia goes to Columbia, Mo., to play the University of Missouri. Syracuse expects to have its full strength available for Ohio Wesleyan. Georgetown hopes to hand Lafayette a beating.

CHAMPION COWBOY AND COWGIRL GET TWO TROPHY CUPS

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The titles of world's champion cowboy and of world's champion cow girl and the attendant trophies, rested today with Lonnie Rooney and Miss Florence Hughes of Aramore, Oklahoma.

To Rooney, youngest and lightest of the contestants in the world series rodeo in Madison Square Garden, Jimmy Hines, film star, presented the Ken maynard tropny at the conclusion of the rodeo last night. Jack Dempsey handed Miss Hughes the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer trophy.

Smoky Snider of Kimberly, B. C., won the bareback broncho riding contest. Chester Byers of Oklahoma City retained his title of trick and fancy roping champion.

Marie Gibson of Havre, Montana, won the cowgirl's bronco riding contest and Bob Crosby of Kenna, N. M., holder of the Roosevelt trophy, was winner of the calf roping event.

UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE GRIDDERS READY FOR NOV. 11

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 3.—(Special)—The annual state football classic, the clash between the University of Oregon eleven and the Oregon Agricultural college machine is in the offing and will be put before the public November 11, Armistice day, with the setting on Hayward field.

Two weeks from today, the championship of the state will be decided but in that short length of time much can happen. Both teams are out of the running for conference championship honors so will be "pointing" for each other.

Neither eleven has a game scheduled for Saturday so the athletes will be given a much needed rest before the big test. Captain McEwan, Oregon coach, probably will work toward the attack to be sprung against the Aggies as he also has a vacant week-end following the fray in which to prepare for the Washington game in Seattle Thanksgiving day.

On the other hands, P. J. Schissler, Aggie mentor, must prepare both for the Webfoots and the Idaho contest to be placed in Portland, November 19. This is the tougher assignment and may prove of help to Oregon.

Indications at present point toward this game being the biggest drawing card in the state this fall. Tickets, which were placed on public sale early this week, have been grabbed and taken up and although the entire number of locates have not yet been sold, it is believed that they will be early next week.

To cope with the seating situation Jack W. Benefiel, graduate manager, will place "open air" seats on the south end of the present grandstand and tickets for this section will be open to the public next week.

SLATTERY WILL SUCCEED BANCROFT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

BOSTON, Nov. 3.—John T. Slattery, former big league star, scout and more recently coach of Boston College, is to be Dave Bancroft's successor as manager of the Boston National league baseball team.

Slattery broke into big time baseball here 25 years ago as catcher for the Red Sox. From Boston he went to the White Sox and then to the St. Louis Cardinals and afterwards the Washington Senators where he caught for Walter Johnson when the latter was in his heyday.
