The program will be comprised of solos, trios, quartette numbers and ensembles. The solo parts will be sustained by Mattie Lee Taylor, soprano, Gertrude Wickham, mezzo soprano, Grace Wickham, contralto, C. D. Fies, tenor and C. S. McElhinney, basso.

The public is cordially invited to attend during the evening.

Legion Auxiliary Members Frolic at Children's Party

The Umpqua Chapter of the American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed perhaps one of the most delightful among its informal social affairs this fall when on Tuesday evening the members attended a children's party at the chapter rooms in the armory.

Each member was attired in a child's costume and the young games were arranged for the evening with refreshments at the close.

The business session was taken up principally with the nomination of officers for the year. In the December meeting will be held and these names will be voted upon for the officers for the season. The following were nominated: President, Mrs. H. C. Church; first vice-president, Mrs. Harry Fargeter and Mrs. James Soules; secretary, Mrs. Carl Wimbly; Mrs. Geo. Caskey; treasurer, Miss Pearl Jones; first sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Phil Harth and Mrs. Dick Busch; second sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Erickson; historian, Mrs. F. A. Stewart. There were six nominations for the executive committee, the following being made: Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. E. B. Stewart, Mrs. Clinton Gorthy, Mrs. J. A. Fletcher and Mrs. L. A. Dillard.

Surprise Affair Honors Matron

A pleasant affair of early week was given in compliment of Mrs. Tessa Jones on her birthday anniversary. A group of friends assembled at the home of the honoree in Riverside to surprise her on Monday evening and for entertainment enjoyed games. At the close of the evening a luncheon was served.

Spending the evening with Mrs. Jones were the Mesdames Mattie Barker, Nancy Blevins, P. A. Burnett, Tom Millikin, Leon Andrus, Emma Murray, Myrtle Denton, Clara Stelwig, U. F. McLaughlin, Lula Armstrong and the Misses Mary Millikin, Goldie Millikin, Lillie Armstrong, Mildred Andrus and Master Gordon Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brunn will leave Sunday morning by auto for Eugene and will spend the day as guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Peterson.

Young Maid Honored at Recent Affair

A charming party in observance of the birthday anniversary of Miss Aileen Walker was given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Walker, on the afternoon of November 11.

Following games and music the guests were seated at a prettily appointed luncheon table, red, white and blue being the colors used in the streamers which extended from the lights to each cover at the table. Favours in pastel shades were used and the centerpiece was a large birthday cake about which was a spray of chrysanthemums. Covers were laid for the honoree and Eva Hall, Maxine Laird, Kathryn Gall, Gail Winkler, Evelyn Neighbors, Leah Neighbors, Maude Williams, Hildegard Johnson, Marian Nelson, Avis Negley, Lois Morlan, Mildred Morlan, Dorothy Bunch and Gordon Walker.

Assisting were Mrs. C. E. Walker and Mrs. Richard Busch. During the afternoon added guests, including Mrs. C. S. Heinline and Miss Mary Parke, called to extend birthday wishes to the honoree.

Reception to Honor Eugene Couple and Local Man

A notable event for the week following Thanksgiving will be the informal reception and dinner which will compliment Major John P. Hobb and Mrs. Hobb of Eugene, who recently returned from a tour of the east and Captain W. L. H. Osborn of Roseburg, who is leaving soon for a six months stay in eastern cities.

The members of the Umpqua Chapter of Oregon Reserve Officers' association will be hosts for the event and included in the guest list will be the wives of the officers.

Thimble Club Invited to Cawfield Home

Mrs. S. J. Cawfield asked the members of the Woodcraft Thimble club to her home on Friday afternoon and following the business meeting a social afternoon of games was enjoyed, refreshments being served later by the hostess. Enjoying the affair were Mrs. Ora Welker, Mrs. J. W. Dowell, Mrs. Jack Crenshaw, Mrs. H. S. French, Mrs. W. A. Jenkins, Mrs. Chas. C. Wamsley, Mrs. Cole Owen, Mrs. Earl Rhoades and the hostess.

Splendid Program Marks Meeting of P. T. A. This Week

A particularly interesting program marked the regular meeting of the Junior high school P. T. A. held on Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. Louis Kohlhaugen, presiding.

The program opened with selections by the Girls' quartette of the Senior high school which sang three numbers. The quartette, composed of Vera McClintock, Colette and Eulalia Langenberg and Lillian Sporer, was accompanied by Fonda Giles. Their selections were very much enjoyed and showed splendid training on the part of Miss Hazel Goodwin, music supervisor of the schools.

Work in charity enterprises for the year was discussed and a committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year was appointed. The group talked over plans for civic improvements this season and decided to give prizes for the most beautiful lawn in the city and for the most beautiful block in Roseburg. The remainder of the evening was devoted to playing bridge and five hundred and a supper was served at the close, covers being placed for twenty matrons.

P. T. A. Meets for Sewing

The ladies of the Dixonville P. T. A. were invited by Mrs. W. H. Brown to her home on Thursday for an afternoon of sewing. The group, among other business matters, discussed methods of raising money for the building of a playground.

Luncheon was served at the close to the Mesdames G. A. Bonebrake, C. F. Krogel, J. B. Kurtz, J. R. Her, J. B. Brumbach, E. Hatfield, B. Ingram, M. Weber, F. B. Lane and Hopper.

Matron Hostess for Pleasant Club Party

Mrs. S. Durland was hostess for a pleasant afternoon party at her home on Harrison street, asking on Thursday as guests the matrons of the Northside Sunshine Club.

After discussing the bazaar and food sale to be held in the near future and talking over other matters of business, the ladies were served luncheon at a table prettily appointed in Thanksgiving tokens, with a centerpiece of chrysanthemums and favors of little paper turkeys for each cover completing the arrangement.

John Schwartz Is Honored on Anniversary

The birthday anniversary of John Schwartz, who was eighty years old on Friday, occasioned an attractive dinner party given in his honor that evening by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwartz, at their home on East Douglas street.

Seated about the exquisitely appointed dinner table were John Schwartz, Mrs. S. Taylor, Mrs. S. Felschaker, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brunn, Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Lehrbach, Miss Virginia Golden of Sutherlin, B. W. Bates, Roland Schwartz and the hosts.

Following the dinner-hour tables were arranged for bridge and honors were held by Mrs. Brunn.

Girls of World Wide Guild Guests at Dinner

The members of the World Wide Guild of the Baptist church were guests at a supper party at the home of Mrs. E. E. Crawford on Winchester street Wednesday, covers being placed for Mrs. Tom Simmonds, Mrs. Frank B. Matthews, the Misses Doris Pickens, Bessie Redburn, Lois Byrd, Mildred Morlan, Lillian Sporer, Margaret Parr, Viola Bohn, Myrtle Denton, Jennings, Ruth Jennings, Ruth Thompson, Jessie Smith and Celia Mae Beaver.

The evening was enjoyed with making candy, which was sold at the pre-Thanksgiving food sale and bazaar this week by the ladies of the Baptist church, and games comprised the rest of the entertainment.

John McKean Is Honor Guest at Affair

An enjoyable surprise affair was arranged to compliment John McKean on Tuesday evening, a group of his friends assembling at the parsonage of the Hibb's Standard Mission for the occasion.

Porty participated in the evening's festivities and enjoyed musical numbers by the church band and informal games. Mr. McKean was presented with several gifts in appreciation of his work in the church. A luncheon was served at the close of the evening.

Dillard Man Honored at Surprise Affair

Robt Green of Dillard was complimented at a surprise party on Tuesday evening when a group of his friends assembled at his home. A buffet dinner preceded the evening's diversions of games and impromptu sports.

Present for the occasion were the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lawrence and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lawrence and family, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Hobb and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. Coon and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Burke and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hercher, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hercher, Mr. and Mrs. H. Davidson, Rev. and Mrs. P. F. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennell, the Misses Eva S. Rice, Clara Hercher and Virginia Buell and Roy Rice, Stanford Buell and Bert Lawrence.

Supper Followed by School of Missions

The First Baptist church of Roseburg a short time ago voted to hold a School of Missions for four weeks, the meetings to be held each Wednesday evening, beginning with a potluck supper at 6:30 o'clock, followed by mission study classes for the various groups.

Last Wednesday as the ladies of the church were busy with their annual bazaar, the men of the church announced that they would prepare and serve the supper. Accordingly, when the ladies arrived at the church at 6:30 o'clock they found everything in readiness, long tables set and decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums. The ladies were seated, with Mrs. Matthews at the head of the table, and the men proceeded to prove themselves ideal hosts.

There were ninety present and a most delightful atmosphere of good fellowship and hospitality pervaded the entire assembly.

The mission study following was most interesting and instructive, and the whole affair was one of the most delightful the church has had for many months.

The committee in charge was O. L. Johnson, O. H. Pickens, and R. E. Crawford.

Life's Niceties

HINTS ON ETIQUET

1. Should a hostess discourage discussion among her guests at a party?
2. When should a hostess step in and divert the subject?
3. Should a person who talks well ever wholly monopolize conversation at a social function?

The Answers

1. No.
2. When a heated argument threatens to break up pleasant companionship of a social evening.
3. No. Even if the audience enjoys it, no single person should have the entire say.

Scenes From 'Cheer Up' Antlers, Nov. 22 and 23

Fun of the wholesome joyful sort and music of the whistly irresistible variety will be shown in "Cheer Up," the great spirited American Legion show that will hold down the boards at the Antlers Tuesday and Wednesday evenings to large houses. If you want to laugh don't fail to come. The funny Rev. I. Will Smile is L. W. Orchard; Cynthia Small the spinster lady of miseries is Mrs. Squires; Ole Oleon right over from Sweden is Percy Webb and Abie Dusenheimer is none other than Old Reliable Wood Stephenson. Can you beat that for a quartette of fun makers? Reserve your tickets now.

A comedy group of principals that will sing and dance in the American Legion show next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Antlers theatre. They are Skeets Warren (Harold Bernis), Jack Carroll (Red Rodman), Count de Custard (L. Varne Hahn), Eleanor Foster (Mrs. A. D. Abbott) and Daisy Dimples (Marian Ness). They will put over some exceptionally peppy numbers and can be counted upon to hand over the laughs in great style. The seat sale for the play is on today at the theatre box office.

Eight beautiful girls can dance the light fantastic and will go far to making the American Legion show a tremendous success next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Antlers. "Cheer Up" has a large attractive company of stars and that they will be greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences is evidenced by the rush for reserved seats at the theatre box office.

The stage was a Bell line bus hired by M. G. Henkel, who arrived at Reedsport this morning for $150 for the trip to Redding after the permit of the Imperial commission, which sold the tickets, had been revoked by the state utilities commission. Officials of the Bell line asserted that the bus was to deliver the passengers at Redding where an Imperial stage would take them on south. Officials of the Imperial company said they understood that Henkel with the Bell bus was to return north with a load of passengers, thus releasing an Imperial stage for the Redding trip with Oregon passengers. The Bell officials thought differently and sent their stage empty to Oakland for overhauling.

FATHER LOCAL MAN TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

W. L. Taylor, father of Archie B. Taylor of Roseburg, and a former resident of this city, who suddenly passed away Friday morning at the home of his son, Roy A. Taylor, at Reedsport, will be buried Sunday. Mr. Taylor was born in New York state. He came to the west coast from Wisconsin many years ago and made his home at North Bend for a period of several years. He had been a resident of Roseburg for about a year and a half at intervals and was well known. About four months ago Mr. Taylor went to Reedsport, where he was suddenly stricken.

He leaves besides his two sons one stepson, George Pond, who arrived at Reedsport this morning from his home in California. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Marshfield with burial at the L. O. O. F. cemetery there. Mr. and Mrs. Archie B. Taylor will motor to the coast tomorrow for the services.
