LEGISLATORS OF OKLAHOMA MEET IN HOTEL

Bills of Impeachment Result From Two Secret Sessions.

CAPITOL IS GUARDED

Guardsmen Sleep in Statehouse to Prevent Entrance of Members of Legislature.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Dec. 13.—Bills of impeachment naming Governor Henry S. Johnston and two other state officials, which were voted early today by the lower house of the self-convened Oklahoma legislature, have been given to a board of managers for presentation to the senate, leaders in the investigation announced.

The charges were approved at the second secret session called shortly after 2 o'clock this morning in defiance of national guardsmen mobilized by Governor Johnston to prevent legislative meetings anywhere in the state.

Unable to obtain fifty-four members, the number necessary for a quorum, the house adjourned the first meeting shortly after midnight.

A call for more members brought representatives from their beds, clad in night clothes, to the improvised hotel assembly room. Meanwhile national guardsmen were sleeping in the state capitol.

Six charges were quickly approved against Governor Johnston. The allegations, including a charge of incompetency, were consolidated for presentation to the senate which has declared itself a qualified court of impeachment.

Representatives Charles Moon of Muskogee county, in announcing the charges against the governor, revealed that Chief Justice Fred Brunson of the state supreme court had been charged with "corruption in office." Representative Robert Graham then announced allegation of irregularities in handling funds had been preferred against Harry B. Cordell, president of the state board of agriculture.

Representative H. Tom Kight, chairman of the house investigating committee, was named by Speaker E. P. Hill to head the board of managers charged with placing the indictments before the senate.

While senate leaders declined to reveal when they planned to convene, they intimated a session was contemplated today.

Adjournment of the house at 7 o'clock to await action by the senate, found a tired and dishevelled group seeking their first rest in nearly 24 hours.

Speaker Hill announced at adjournment that a quorum of the senate was in the city.

Yesterday the national guardsmen, standing armed at the doors of the capitol assembly rooms, prevented the legislators from meeting.

Representative Moon announced the charges against the governor and the vote by which they carried as follows:

1.—Replacing civil authority with military authority, 49 to 6.

2.—Incompetency, 49 to 5.

3.—Awarding a commission as peace officer to Jose Alvarado, alleged bank robber, 44 to 9.

4.—Alleged illegal employment of Kirby Fitzpatrick, attorney of Ardmore, as counsel for the state banking department, 40 to 15.

5.—Alleged illegal payment of $7900 through a deficiency certificate on the banking department to employes charged by the house investigating committee to have been illegally placed on the payroll, 42 to 13.

6.—Alleged conspiracy between the governor, his confidential secretary, Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, and an unnamed person in connection with collection of a highway claim by a contractor, 46 to 8.

BRIEF SPORT NEWS

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, was the undisputed light heavyweight champion of the world today by virtue of a 15-round victory over Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, heretofore titleholder in the domain of the National Boxing association.

"This victory means everything to me," said Loughran as he left the Madison Square Garden ring last night, "for it clears up the light heavyweight situation.

"I was glad to be recognized as champion by the New York commission after I defeated Mike McTigue but it was not altogether pleasing to have another wearing the crown at the same time.

"I intend to give any one a bout who wants to try for the title and will defend it 12 times a year if there are that many opponents. Of course, my next battle will be with Leo Lomski on January 6 but I hope to oppose Mickey Walker and Jack Delaney soon afterwards."

Loughran entered the ring last night with an eight pound advantage over Slattery who scaled 165½. Ringside experts gave Loughran eight of the 15 rounds while two were even.

Loughran had been pursuing the title heights since 1919. He observed his 25th birthday last November 29.

PREACHER HELD FOR SPEEDING

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 13.—"I have a higher duty to perform," A. F. Huckenbecker, 837 Strong street, Portland, told a state traffic officer when he asked why Huckenbecker was not obeying the law in regard to speed on the highways.

"I am on my way to deliver a sermon to a congregation in Salem and I must be there," Reverend Huckenbecker said. "Well, from here on you proceed at 35 miles per hour or less," Sergeant "Pete" Rinehart told the minister, "and also on Monday appear in Salem justice court and explain to the satisfaction of Justice Frazier C. Small how it came about that I logged you doing better than 50 miles per hour on such a day as this with the road in the condition it is."

Reverend Huckenbecker did not appear in justice court Monday, but Reverend A. L. Heine, pastor of the Christ Lutheran church here, reported as his proxy and was fined $15.

HERE'S THE WAY TO MAKE 'EM FIGHT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 13.—Something novel in the way of providing inducements for highly paid boxers to put forth their best efforts during bouts here, has been worked out by C. M. Hall, a member of the boxing commission.

The plan consisted of stimulating action by fining the fighter so much per round for each session in which Hall believes they have stalled and in announcing his levy to the cash customers via the megaphone. At a recent bout between Benny Bass, featherweight championship claimant, and Johnny Farr here, the act ran thusly:

The boys started off at a fast clip but slowed down to a walk in the sixth round, at the conclusion of which Hall boomed forth:

"Bass is fined $250 for dogging it!"

Phil Glassman, manager of Bass, objected strenuously.

"Two hundred and fifty dollars fine for Glassman."

No more objections from Glassman.

The fighters banged away at each other with zest for three rounds and then Farr started hanging on.

"Two hundred and fifty dollars fine for Farr for hanging on!" Hall announced.

There was no more stalling.

BIG COUGAR KILLED BY CAMAS VALLEY MAN NEAR RIDDLE

A cougar measuring 9 feet 8 inches in length was killed near the foot of Little Dutchman peak west of Riddle late yesterday by Floyd Stobie of Camas Valley. The cougar has been ranging in the Camas Valley district where it has been killing calves and Mr. Stobie and his dogs picked up the trail yesterday morning. They followed the animal for more than six hours as it ran south into the Little Dutchman country before it finally was treed and killed. It was one of the biggest cougars ever killed in the county, and apparently was an old animal and was badly scarred as a result of numerous battles.

SCOUT WINS PRIZE BY LETTER ON RULES

A few days ago a letter was written to the Boy Scouts of Douglas County through this paper announcing a contest bearing on the twelve Scout laws. It was brought out that during the quarantine that certain laws could be stressed more than others. In fact some of the laws were left out.

A prize was offered to the boy who could give the best reasons as to how the four omitted laws could be observed. This contest has been won by Scout Dale Stephenson of 930 East Third St. He received one of the new edition Scout Handbook for boys. His letter is as follows:

"I read your letter in the paper and am trying to get that handbook. The four remaining laws are: Friendly, Kind, Thrifty and Reverent. This is my answer for them: Friendly. A Scout can be friendly to his brothers and sisters (if he has any) and help amuse them. He can help them in their school work and help at do the disehs; Kind. He can be kind to the neighbor children and he can be kind to the birds and build houses for them and feed houses for food is scarce during the frosty and snowy weather; Thrifty. He can save his weekly allowance as the shows are closed and he cannot get to the stores unless by his big brother; Reverent. He can study the Sunday school lessons if he knows what they are and at least he can read the Bible. Scout Dale Stephenson."

Other good letters were received but this was considered to be the best.

If one were to look about town he would notice a good many improvements, especially around the homes of scouts. Bird houses have been put up, walks repaired, weed patches cleaned out, wood sheds repaired and numerous other things which are very noticeable. (Possibly some wood sheds have been torn down.)

The scout executive has received a few of the new scout handbooks and is making delivery to the scouts at their homes. He will be in Coos county for the balance of the week but in case other scouts wish a book delivered they may call the executive's home and leave their order, in which case the book will be delivered Saturday. If the quarantine is lifted the books may be secured at the scout headquarters. These books will keep a scout busy during any amount of quarantine.

Have you seen our assortment of Xmas announcements? It not, drop in and look them over. We have a splendid line—both printed and engraved. News-Review job printing department.

TUNNEY WILL GET LONG COUNT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—Gene Tunney will get another "long count" tonight, not in a squared ring with 160,000 persons stretching back to the smoke-fogged horizon, but in a great ball room at a charity banquet.

To give atmosphere to the program Robert M. Sweitzer, toast master, will have at his elbow a ringside gong which will be sounded to indicate the termination of three minute "rounds" allowed each orator. The toastmaster will give Tunney a "long count" on his address. The city has made almost as much fuss over Tunney's return as it did when he arrived last September to defend his heavyweight title against Jack Dempsey.

Tunney is speaking at much less per head than he fought. Banquet tickets have sold for $10 a plate, whereas ringside seats for the Tunney-Dempsey fight brought $40 each. About $30,000 will be realized for charity.

While Tunney's appearance is primarily to help swell the Christmas fund, it is probable he will talk over plans for another heavyweight championship match in Chicago, promoted by Jim Mullen, who already has launched a heavyweight elimination program calculated to build Jack Delaney as Tunney's probable opponent.
