KIDWELL STANDS BY HIS STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Under grand jury examination, Edward J. Kidwell steadfastly reasserted today that Assistant District Attorney James G. Leary had made him swear to an affidavit containing untrue statements and designed for use in the Sinclair-Burns contempt case.

Kidwell, a juror in the case of Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, growing out of the Teapot Dome naval oil lease, has testified in and out of the contempt proceedings since that trial was abruptly ended and charges were made that the grand jury had shadowed the jury for Sinclair.

then throwing him over for another admirer. Mrs. Olive Lamson, a friend of the dead woman, told police that she and Mrs. Shadaker were driving to the latter's home near Stearns station when Piant, who had been following them, suddenly forced them to the sidewalk. Mrs. Shadaker jumped from the car and started to run. Mrs. Lamson said with Piant in pursuit. Overtaking her in 100 yards, the man fired four shots. One entered her head and the rest were embedded in her body. Then Piant fired the last shot into his mouth, the bullet emerging near his left ear.

SENATE TAKING XMAS HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The senate ended the first period of its session today by adjourning until January 4 for the holidays. Adjournment for today was decided on out of respect for Senator Jones of New Mexico, who died here last night. The house also stopped its machinery out of respect to the senate after a 35 minute session.

Markets

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 21.—Turkey prices are holding relatively firm on the wholesale market although receipts have been unusually heavy and the eastern market weak. A decided increase in local demand coupled with fairly heavy shipments to nearby points has kept the supply fairly well cleaned up so far and unless consignments increase it is expected that prices will remain around present levels until Christmas.

Most sales this morning were between 25 and 35 cents for best birds. Geese and ducks are moderately plentiful, the former moving at 25c to 30c while ducks are bringing 20 to 25c. Capon prices are weak, most sales bringing 32c. Other poultry is steady. Egg prices took a drop of a cent on the dairy exchange yesterday afternoon, the cut affecting only extras and firsts. Prices today are: Extras 36c; firsts 35c; fresh medium extras 32c; fresh medium firsts 30c; underized 27c. Association prices dropped today also, extras 2c a dozen to 28c and firsts a cent to 37c. Capon grades are steady. No changes were listed in prices of butter or buttermilk. Country dressed meats are likewise steady.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 21.—Cattle steady; receipts 99 billed through. Hogs steady; receipts 275, including 80 direct. Sheep steady; no receipts.

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 21.—Wholesale prices: Butter steady; Portland dairy exchange net wholesale prices: Cubes, extras 47¢; standards 47¢; prime firsts 45¢; first 45¢. Creamery prices: Firsts 3 cents over cube standards. Eggs: Extras, standard firsts 1 cent lower. Fresh standard extras 25¢; fresh standard firsts 25¢; fresh medium extras 23¢; fresh medium firsts 23¢; underized 27¢. Associated selling prices: Extras 29¢; firsts 27¢; mediums 24¢; underized 29¢.

Bids to the farmer: Buttermilk steady, 48 cents station; 45 cents track; 51¢@56 cents n. h. Portland. Poultry steady. Heavy hens 15¢; light 10¢@14¢; broilers 22¢@25¢; white ducks 20¢; colored nominal; turkeys, alive 25¢@27¢. Onions steady, local $1.20@1.25. Potatoes $1.75@1.25 mark. Nuts steady. SENATOR REED PREPARING TO RUN FOR PRES.

Announces He Will Not Seek Position Again in the Senate.

BUILDING HIS FENCES

"Not a Candidate" but Will Take the Job if Offered to Him by "My Many Friends."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Clearing the way to those who are seeking for him the democratic presidential nomination, Senator Reed of Missouri, has decided that he will not again run for the senate. The senator's position, set forth in a statement by Senator W. Fordyce, chairman of the Missouri democratic state committee, makes it clear that while he himself is not seeking the nomination, he is aware that his friends are doing so in his behalf.

Chairman Fordyce issued his statement after a conference with the senator, and declared he made it public because of persistent rumors, started presumably by certain metropolitan newspapers, that Senator Reed is not seeking the nomination for president. Observing that great pleasure had been exerted to persuade Senator Reed to file for re-nomination to the senate before expiration of the time limit in Missouri in June next year, Fordyce said he could say, however, that Reed "will not under any circumstances" again become a senate candidate.

Another statement concerning democratic presidential possibilities was before the public today, coming from Norman E. Mack, democratic national committee man from New York, in support of Governor Smith, and declaring "dead forever" the "so-called religious issue." "It is far more important," Mack said, "that the religious issue, which was excluded by the framers of the constitution, shall be permanently excluded than that a president shall be chosen from either of the parties. Church and state never have been related in American politics, religious affiliations or candidates, are not issues in state campaigns, and there can be no reason for raising such an issue in a national contest. Mack declared Governor Smith was the only man who could carry New York state for the democrats.

any ill feeling toward Mr. Parker. "But if he was guilty, oh, that couldn't be, but if he was, why naturally no mother would want to own him as a son. After she had reared him right, shown him the difference between right and wrong and sacrificed to give him an education. "If he's guilty I want him punished."

Then as she seemed to realize the meaning of her statement, she added: "No, of course, I would not disown him. No, of course, I couldn't do that, but you know how I feel. "When you have raised five children you learn not to expect too much of them. They have their interests; they think they are bawler than they are. Perhaps that is why he does not write."

Mother in Tears— A report that a blotter on which Marlan's name appeared was found in her son's apartment, the mother no longer could avoid tears. "It can't be," she sobbed. "It must have been some one else." Told he had been identified by finger prints, she seemed unable to understand. "What does that mean?" She asked, "Isn't it possible two persons could have prints alike?" Meanwhile squads of police and detectives watched all traffic, as well as the Hickman home and places the youth frequented in his school days.
