Mrs. Taft have so humanized the supreme court circle by mingling quite generally in society that it is on a par with any of the other events of state.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover will introduce a new custom in her Wednesday afternoon at home next week when she will have the wives of California senators and representatives in congress to assist her.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnes Observed Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Carnes, Sr. of Carnes Station and one of the county's best known couples, observed the sixty-first anniversary of their marriage on New Year's Day. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carnes entertained for them with an attractive dinner party at their home, inviting a few out-of-town guests for the occasion.

Holiday colors were used in the appointments and a pretty centerpiece for the table was effected in the use of a basket of fruits. Covers were laid for the honor guests and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard of Happy Valley, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ueland and Miss Alice Ueland of Roseburg and the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnes were married in Lee county, Virginia. Both were born and schooled in that state. Mr. Carnes was a Confederate soldier. They came to Oregon from California in 1910 and have since that time made their home at Carnes Station, which was named for the family. Prior to living in California they were in Colorado for a brief stay. Ten children, five of whom are living, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Carnes. The living children are Mrs. Helen Furcher of Blackfoot, Idaho; Mrs. Rose Kietley of Sunnyvale, California; J. E. Carnes of Monpa, Nevada; T. P. Carnes, Jr., of Salmon, Idaho; and J. H. Carnes of Carnes Station. They have several grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Mrs. Ackert Attended Two State Meetings

Mrs. Edith S. Ackert, county school superintendent, has returned to Roseburg after a stay in the northern part of the state during the past ten days. Mrs. Ackert attended the state convention of the O. S. T. A. in Portland on December 23, 29 and 30 and states that although the attendance was not as great as had been planned, due to the storm conditions in that part of the state, interest in the meeting was high. Through the efforts of Mrs. Ackert, who first suggested the idea before the meeting, the delegates decided to adopt a plan for the yearly program in which the presidents of the county department of the O. S. T. A. have a given part. One hour of the program will be taken over by these presidents.

During the remainder of the time away, Mrs. Ackert was in Salem, where she attended the state convention of all county school superintendents. One of the social features, which is annually anticipated with pleasure by those attending, was the tea given by Miss Cynthia Marvin at her country home near that of Governor and Mrs. Patterson out of Salem. Each year Miss Marvin is hostess for the delegates to this meeting and this time was assisted by Mrs. Patterson.

Who are these Investors?

TEN years ago fifteen of the largest corporations in the United States had a total of approximately 500,000 stockholders. Today the American Telephone and Telegraph Company alone has more than 420,000 stockholders.

This is an instance of the amazing growth of saving and investment that has taken place in this country. Who are these new investors?

Telephone stockholders come from every rank and file in every state, nearly every town and city, in the land. Mechanics and merchants, teachers and bankers, laborers and lawyers—every station of life is represented in this investment democracy.

The Bell Telephone System, composed of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its Associated Companies, is owned by the people it serves.

Interesting Program Presented Before Club

For the meeting of the Roseburg Woman's Club on Tuesday an extensive and decidedly interesting program was prepared. Rev. J. B. Penhall, pastor of the South Methodist church gave a comprehensive and engaging talk on "The Goal of the New Year," or "Resolutions." He paid a high tribute to Colonel Charles Lindbergh, American air hero, and in his theme stressed the thought of burying the hammer to be boosters and not knockers. A delightful piano solo by Miss Gladys Strong entertained the club and at 4 o'clock refreshments were served. Mrs. Louis Kohlman headed the committee and was assisted by Mrs. A. B. Green, Mrs. T. M. Ollivant and Mrs. A. H. Perrin.

Audition Winner Was Pupil Lazar Samoiloff

Of interest to local musicians, is the announcement that Miss Agnes Davis of Denver, Colorado, the winner of the first prize in the recent Atwater-Kent final tryout in New York City, was a pupil of Lazar Samoiloff, the noted New York vocal pedagogue. Mr. Samoiloff's lecture and demonstration of "Voice Culture" was a prominent feature of the State Teacher's Convention held in Roseburg in May, 1926, and later during that summer Elsie Carleton Strang, well known local voice teacher, received Master Class work from Mr. Samoiloff as a member of his class in Portland.

ANTLERS Stellar Cast Gives Strong Support to Star—Story Read by Millions

Milton Sills, who has given some of the finest characterizations in the history of the motion picture, has one of his greatest roles in "The Valley of the Giants," which comes to the Antlers Theatre Sunday. Sills' portrayal of Bryce Cardigan, son of the pioneer lumber magnate in the picturization of Peter B. Kyne's great romance of California, with the colorful lumber industry as a background. In this environment Sills is perfectly at home, and his interpretation of Kyne's hero leaves nothing to be desired.

Playing opposite Sills in this picture is Doris Kenyon, who returns to the screen after a year's absence. Miss Kenyon is ideally cast as the sweetheart of young Cardigan, and does her usual faultless performance.

Liberty Clothes Do Make a Difference in Career of Star

From a sedate little cashier in an obscure meat market to a jeweled and perfumed dancer sought by princes in the whirl of European gaiety is a far cry.

This, however, is the transition Virginia Valli makes in "Paid to Love." Fox Films version of an original story by Harry Carr, in which she is co-featured with George O'Brien. The picture opens a two-day run at the Liberty theatre tomorrow.

In a previous picture, under direction of J. G. Blystone, Miss Valli appeared as the daughter of a humble street-car inspector. This was "The Family Upstairs," in which Miss Valli worked opposite Allan Simpson.

Howard Hawks, in casting the charming little brunette for "Gaby" dancer of the Montmartre district, gave Miss Valli a far more pretentious role. Here she is all vivacity. In the Blystone picture repression was the keynote, insofar as the action concerned the quiet little cashier.

"Gaby" is just the opposite. She wears gay gowns. She meets striking people; she makes it her business to keep up appearances at any hazard. There comes ample opportunity for display. In the course of her experiences she meets kings, queens and princes.

SALVATION ARMY WILL MAKE APPEAL FOR MORE FUNDS

An appeal to local people for additional funds to carry on the work of the Salvation Army is to be made next week. The Salvation Army was one of the organizations included in the Community Chest budget, but as the full budget was not raised, the Salvation Army's proportion is only $25 per month, which is entirely inadequate to carry on the work. The city is to be canvassed by Salvation Army workers and those who desire to give directly to this cause, in addition to what they have contributed to the chest, will be given an opportunity to do so. The campaign is to be conducted by Captain Bert Bailey of Portland.

CLYDE HATFIELD AND COUSIN FORM MERCANTILE FIRM

Clyde E. Hatfield, for the past four years assistant manager and bookkeeper at the Pacific Fruit and Produce company's establishment in Roseburg, has resigned that position to enter the general mercantile business at Cloverdale, Tillamook county, Oregon. He will be in partnership with his cousin, John E. Hatfield, former postmaster and storekeeper at Dixonville. The two men have bought Scott Brothers' store at Cloverdale and will take possession on the fifteenth of this month. John Hatfield is already in their new business territory and the other member of the firm will follow early next week. The position vacated here by Clyde Hatfield has been taken by Lyman Butner.
