GRANTS PASS HAS EXPERIENCE WITH RUG "SMUGGLERS"

Grants Pass also had a little experience with the fur and rug peddlers who found Roseburg too "hardboiled" to suit them yesterday. These peddlers tried to "work" this city, but found that the anti-peddler campaign recently inaugurated had been too effective and that they were unable to do any business here and so moved on to the next stop, leaving the city treasury enhanced in the sum of $20, representing the license proceeds. The Grants Pass Courier comments on the visit of the peddlers to that city as follows:

"Every few months a man with foreign accent and foreign aspect comes to town with a load of oriental rugs, fur coats and other articles which, according to assertions of the would-be seller, have been smuggled into this country, have escaped duty payments and can therefore be sold at a much lower price. Undoubtedly many believe the stories and purchase the goods, to find later that they might have saved money by investigating a little.

"For instance, a man came to town this week with a fur coat which he asserted had been brought to this country without the usual duty payment required by the government. In other words it was a smuggled garment. An officer was notified and he investigated. The man showed a bill of sale for the garment, a genuine American made product. The smuggling story was a fabrication to hand out to the gullible purchasers.

"The man was here one day and gone the next. His goods might have been worth the money asked. Again, they might have been worth half as much. If the goods were found unsatisfactory, the buyer had to pocket his loss and forget it. The seller had no reputation to maintain, because, by his own confession, he was a smuggler and that was proven a falsehood. "If a man has smuggled valuable rugs and furs into this country he isn't going to sidle up to some total stranger, who might be an officer, and whisper that he has some smuggled articles for sale. It isn't done. He may be giving full value for the money but it's a hundred chances to one that his goods were made in the United States and that he will be able to prove it if taken to task."

WARM WEATHER DETRIMENT TO BROCCOLI MEN

Premature Crop Maturity Hits Harvest Period In California

LOW PRICES FEARED

Shippers Tightening Their Market Connections—Pickling System Will Be Tried

The warm weather which Roseburg and Douglas County have enjoyed since the first of the year is not welcomed as much by the growers of broccoli as by the rest of the population. The unusually warm January days are causing the crop to develop with great rapidity and from the present outlook some of the early strains will produce carload shipments by the first of February unless cold weather is experienced to retard the maturity. Already some of the early strains are producing from 20 to 50 crates daily and these small lot shipments are being sent into Portland, where they are finding a ready market, prices ranging from $1 to $1.20 per crate.

In view of the market prospects this year an early crop is not to be desired, and the weather is causing the growers some anxiety. California is harvesting a bumper crop of cauliflower and is now moving on an average of 90 cars daily, with the peak still to be reached. If the Pomona Valley crop comes on ahead of time it will be in competition with the heavy shipments from California, which will result in a lower price than might be secured for a later crop.

With every indication pointing to a hard season for marketing the crop, every possible plan for disposal at a profit is being given consideration. The shippers are tightening their trade connections and are establishing close contact with their brokers. The local canners are arranging to pack all second grade broccoli and also plans on pickling a large quantity for shipment in barrel lots.

The New Plan.
Pickled broccoli is a great delicacy, as many housewives know, but heretofore no attempt has ever been made to pickle any large part of the crop on a commercial scale. Frank Norton, local cannerman, is planning this year to arrange to pack all second grade broccoli to various parts of the country, and is now making a long trip in the east to establish connections for marketing this product of the local canner. If successful, it will form an outlet for a large part of the crop that might otherwise prove a total loss.

The matter of crates is also one that has been given much consideration in view of market conditions.

The Umpqua Broccoli Exchange has been sponsoring a smaller crate than used heretofore. This crate will carry the same number of heads as the old crate, but requires a more closely trimmed head. Mr. Butner, the manager, claims that this crate will greatly reduce shipping costs by cutting down the weight of each crate from 12 to 14 pounds, besides permitting the packing of more crates per car and will insure better ventilation. He claims that this will enable him to put broccoli on the New York market at a price 25 cents lower per crate than is possible with the standard crate, thus giving an advantage in a season of low prices.

Managers of other shipping concerns, however, have expressed their determination to stand by the old crate. They believe that when the market is as uncertain as it is at present, it is no time to experiment with new crate styles but that the standard crate, with which the trade is familiar, should be used.

DOUGLAS-COOS SCOUT COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Officers Are Elected Serve During Year—Budget Is Lower Than Last Year—Program Outlined

The annual meeting of the Douglas-Coos Council, Boy Scouts of America was held at the Rose hotel last night. This was for the purpose of enjoying a get-together banquet, hearing reports of last year's work, passing on plans for the ensuing year's work, electing officers and deciding on a working budget.

Those present were: Henry Kern, Rev. C. L. Fessler and Alfred B. Carter of North Bend; E. L. Vinton, N. C. Kelley, J. L. Stevens, C. T. Skvela and H. C. Cox of Coquille; Chas. Harlocker, E. S. Cooley, Ernest Schneider, and Elmer Russell of Myrtle Point; A. T. Lagerstrom of Marshfield; R. E. Crawford, LaVerne Hawn, D. N. Matthews, Rudolph Ritzman, W. F. Harris, S. L. Kidder, Sr., Rev. R. W. Achor, Jos. Knotts, Dr. G. C. Finlay, Stanley Kidder, Jr., Geo. K. Quine, Sr., R. L. Whipple, T. H. Ness, V. T. Jackson, O. L. Johnson, John Ryan and Jas. Sons of Roseburg; M. C. Hickenbottom and Chas. Black of Sutherlin.

As soon as the banquet was finished the minutes of the last council were read and accepted. Following that the various districts reported their vice-presidents elected for the ensuing year. Henry Kern, North Bend; R. H. Corey, Marshfield; N. C. Kelley, Coquille; E. J. Schneider, Myrtle Point; V. T. Jackson, Roseburg, were reported. Powers and Bandon did not report their officers.

O. L. Johnson, Roseburg, was re-elected president; W. F. Harris of Roseburg as treasurer, and A. T. Lagerstrom of Marshfield, commissioner.

The executive was instructed to prepare and make application for charter from National headquarters for the following year.

T. H. Ness spoke briefly on the efficiency of the officials, stating that he spent considerable time in the various communities and had heard many good reports on scouting. As soon as the Council business had been completed the Council adjourned and the Executive Board immediately convened. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and ordered filed. The present executive was retained for another year. The budget was proposed and accepted. This totals $4,365.00 for the year and is a cut of $485.00 under that of last year. This did not allow for any money to be spent for office help, but it was decided that, providing any of the smallest towns that do not contribute to the support of the Council now later decide to contribute, that the money should be used for office help.

President O. L. Johnson appointed a sub-committee of the Executive Board to serve in emergency. Those appointed were the president, A. T. Lagerstrom, N. C. Kelley and W. F. Harris. The Executive Board meeting was adjourned and the Council reconvened for the purpose of listening to Mr. John H. Piper, Registrar Executive for this section. His wonderful talk on scouting, which was well heard and all went away from the meeting determined to do more than ever for Scouting. Mr. Piper stated this morning that the group of men representing the different communities of this council was, in his mind, an exceptionally well qualified group.

The report submitted by the executive shows that there was a gain of over a hundred scouts during the year. There were 71 tenderfoot scouts promoted to second class; 42 second to first class scouts, and two hundred and eighty merit badges awarded. The budget for last year was cut three hundred dollars, but by careful expenditure a balance of $42.21 was shown on the ledger.

VETS INSTALL OFFICERS AND ENJOY BANQUET

Spanish-American War veterans of this locality and their families and friends enjoyed a reunion and banquet at 6:30 this evening at the armory, which was followed by installation of the new corps of officers of George Starmer Camp No. 19, U. S. W. V., and also installation of officers of George Starmer Camp Auxiliary Camp No. 18. The installations were in charge of Lee A. Hurst, of Albany, Department Commander U. S. W. V., who came down to attend the banquet and officiate at the business session.

Guests of the veterans and auxiliary began to assemble shortly after six o'clock. Ladies of the auxiliary had made ample preparations for the banquet, and final touches being completed at 6:30 the doors of the dining hall in the basement were thrown open and the veterans and guests filed in. Among those present were a number of Civil War veterans, while Spanish-American veterans from other towns in the country were also in evidence.

Five long tables, seating approximately 90 persons, were required to accommodate those attending, while ladies of the Auxiliary, assisted by veterans from George Starmer Camp, served the guests. The tables were attractively decorated in holly. The banquets for the banquet was roast chicken—and what a feast it was. The scribe dares not attempt to mention all of the delicious foods that were served, because he would never get through the list successfully. But there was everything any one could want, and a lot more than those veterans and the guests could possibly eat, and everything from chicken to luscious cakes was simply perfection in itself. Well, it was simply impossible for it to be otherwise when Roseburg maritons and the Auxiliary had things in charge. Everybody's cup of good cheer and friendliness was full.

Going to the assembly rooms after the banquet, Department Commander Lee A. Hurst, of Albany, officiated at the season, and officers of the Auxiliary were installed. Work of installing officers of George Starmer Camp No. 19, U. S. W. V., followed, they being: commander, Robert Tjomsland; senior vice, Ed. Donnelly; junior vice, Lou Norwood; officer of the day, James H. Hyde; guard, Charles H. Stewart; Adj and quartermaster, T. J. Bordeaux; chaplain, T. S. Millikin.

ROSEBURG HIGH TO PLAY MYRTLE POINT SATURDAY

The Roseburg high school basketball team will play its first game of the season Saturday night against Myrtle Point. The game will be played in the senior high school gymnasium and will start at 8 o'clock. Coach Turner has been able to give his players considerable seasoning this week by means of the interclass contests. The team is very inexperienced and the hard work-outs during the week have been of much benefit. The players are now showing up quite well, and although still showing the raggedness which comes from inexperience are able at times to go with a speed and accuracy that augurs well for a later period in the season when a better knowledge of the game has been obtained. It is believed that this year's team is fully equal now to last year's team, with prospects of making even a better record than the squad representing the school last season. As practically all of the members of the first squad are sophomores and juniors the boys playing this year will have one more year together which gives a fine outlook for the 1929 season.

JEWELRY STORE IN PORTLAND IS ROBBED OF $400

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 12.—A lone robber held up a clerk in the jewelry store of Miller and company, 330 Alder street, this morning as hundreds of persons were passing outside, and escaped with about $400 cash and one watch.

The robber, a lanky, well-dressed man, who appeared nervous asked Bob Levoff, clerk, to show him a watch then drew a gun and forced him to the rear of the store. Vernon Lloyd, 17, messenger for Ross and company, manufacturing jewelers, entered the store while the holdup was in progress. Surprised, the bandit leaped to one side and covered the youth with the gun. Lloyd was forced behind the counter with Levoff and told to "stand by" while the safe was opened.

After snatching up the silver bag and bills the bandit forced the boys to the mezzanine floor, where they were told to stay. A moment later Levoff called police.

Miller and company was robbed in March, 1924, when the store was located at 355 Washington street, by a profession crackman known as "The Yokel," who now is said to be in Sing Sing prison.

LOST SCHOONER REPORTED SAFE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Maine, Jan. 12.—The four-masted schooner Alverta, reported in distress off Cape Hatteras a week ago and believed to have been lost at sea, arrived in port today. Captain Thomas N. Bram was surprised to learn that fears had been entertained for the safety of himself and crew, which includes two Eastport men, and said no distress signals had been displayed.

The schooner, which left Jacksonville, Florida, December 30, for Portland with a cargo of lumber, was reported at Norfolk, Va., as having been sighted a week ago yesterday in distress 125 miles southeast of Cape Henry by the fruit steamer Sixoala.

The coast guard cutter Mascoutin was sent to locate and tow the disabled craft to Norfolk, but the search was without result.

The schooner was making her second voyage to Portland since being brought from the Pacific coast where, with her sister craft, the Irene, she was raised from the mud of a west coast harbor and refitted, after which they had their famous handicap race of more than three months to Miami.
