COW CREEK WILL BE NEW SITE FOR THE AZALEA P. O.

Cow Creek Station has assumed the dignity of a village, by establishments that place a post office. This was brought about by the removal of the Azalea office to Cow Creek, the change having taken place the first of the year, says the Glendale Log. Lowell Curtis, of Mains-Curtis Inc., is now installed as post master, being assisted by Mrs. S. (Damewood) Pickett, the retiring postmistress, who is ably initiating the new P. O. in the intricacies of the duties of the office. Azalea post office was established some fifteen years ago, Mr. J. R. Pickett serving as the first postmaster, he being succeeded by Mrs. S. Damewood. The office serves some sixty patrons, and handles the mail for the Anchor post office.

In a recent interview with a representative of the Glendale Log, Mr. Mains, the president of Mains-Curtis Inc., stated that the establishment of a post office at the old stand of Cow Creek Station, would result in a change of the name to Azalea, and that as soon as the sign painter could be put on the work the present signs of Cow Creek Station and Canyon Pass hotel, would be replaced with the new name to correspond with the post office.

CIVIC CLUBS GIVE A FINE PROGRAM AT GREEN SCHOOL

Representatives of the Roseburg civic clubs enjoyed a delightful evening with the Green P. T. A. at the Green school house last night. The school organization entertained the visitors with a delicious banquet at 6:30 o'clock, after which the civic clubs put on a program, each organization contributing to the entertainment. Mrs. Earl Agre, president of the Green P. T. A., presided over the program, which was opened by a concert furnished by the Kiwanis orchestra. A cornet duet, Claude Crocker and Roy Catching, was also presented by the Kiwanians. President J. E. McClintock of the Rotary club made a short talk, calling upon Dexter Rice and Foster Butler, other members of the club, for brief remarks. Mrs. Jos. Shockley and W. E. Ott, representing the Rotary club, put on a program of violin and cornet duets and cornet solos and duets, their final number, a set of old-time dance tunes, being featured by an impromptu "dancing" act by Dexter Rice and Agnes Pitchford. Miss Myrtle Hercher assisted at the piano.
Dr. Frank Mattaews, Kiwanian, made a short talk, following which the Active Club trio, Harold Bonnie, Harold Rosman, and Laverne Sutherland, gave two harmony numbers. A harmonica solo by R. L. Whipple, president of the Kiwanis orchestra, and a cornet quartet, led by Charles McElhinny of the Rotary club, were other numbers included in the entertainment.
The parent-teacher association recently purchased a fine piano for the school and the proceeds from last night's entertainment were used to apply on the instrument.

STATE PRESS COMMENT

Point of View
On this page yesterday we printed a rather lengthy editorial from the Corvallis Gazette-Times, about the twentieth anniversary of Dr. William J. Kerr, as president of Oregon State (formerly Oregon Agricultural) college, extolling Dr. Kerr, should we say extravagantly? No, not extravagantly, because in the old home town of O. S. C. such praise is quite well spent, even though Mr. Claude Ingalls, the Corvallis editor, is not as a rule much given to a great many earnest citizens and taxpayers of Oregon who are sick and tired of competitive ballyhoo for the reckless expansion of two rival institutions.

As we remarked several weeks ago, in Oregon we have succeeded in creating a bob-tailed university and a lop-sided school of agriculture. It's a real problem. People are getting restless, for behold, while the bassoon blows loudly at Corvallis for the anniversary feast, Mr. Putnam, like the well known Ancient Mariner, wailing the guests to speak his piece. Rotten form! Raw-ther! But interesting.—Eugene Guard.
