UMPQUA VALLEY PROVIDES WINTER QUARTER FOR BIRDS

Dr. B. R. Shoemaker of this city put in a good hour for the Umpqua valley in a letter to the Oregonian, answering a query of a correspondent regarding the winter habitat of robins. Dr. Shoemaker's letter was published in the Portland paper as follows: ROSEBURG, Ore., Jan. 20.—(To the Editor.)—The Oregonian has published a letter from Bird-Lover, in which she mentions the fact that robins migrate from the north to the south in winter.

WHICH IS ONLY ONE OF THE DAYTON'S ATTRACTIONS.

"The little brown cottage on one floor" best describes the homeliness and coziness of "The Dayton." Its brown stained boards are restful and the trimmings of cream attractive. Its compactness makes it the ideal home for the couple who both work, or the couple with perhaps one or two children, when the mother wants something in her life besides housework. For "The Dayton" is so well arranged that the housekeeping problem is lightened materially.

EUGENE BEATEN IN CLOSE GAME AT JUNIOR HIGH

In a fast basketball game played here Saturday night, Roseburg Junior high school defeated Theodore Roosevelt Junior high school of Eugene by a score of 9 to 7. The game was played at an exceptional speed, and was completed without a substitution on either side. The contest was featured by close checking by both teams, Roseburg's defense being particularly strong. The first half ended with a score of 7 to 0 in Roseburg's favor. Eugene having failed completely to get through the Roseburg team's defense. In the second half Eugene attacked their own defense, but still failed to get down to the Roseburg goal, so in the last quarter opened up with a series of long shots, and managed to drop the ball through the hoop in three sensational attempts.

LOOKING GLASS IS VICTOR IN CLOSE BASEBALL GAME

The Looking Glass high school basketball team defeated Hilde at Looking Glass Friday night in a closely contested game by a score of 12 to 8. The Hilde team made the first basket following a cleverly executed tip-off, and retained the lead throughout the game, but was pressed closely at all times by the fast Hilde team. Montgomery, Looking Glass center, and Millard, forward, were star players for that team, while D. Marcum, forward, and Willis, guard, played an excellent game for the Hilde team. Both teams showed strong defensive formations, but the short-pass attack of the Looking Glass team, combined with their ability to break quickly from the offense to defense, turned the contest in their favor. By virtue of this victory, Looking Glass climbs out of the cellar position in the county conference and as the majority of remaining games are on their home floor the indications for the rest of the season are very favorable. The lineup for Friday's game was as follows: L. Glass (12) Pos. Riddle (8) Montgomery (2) c Roberts (2) Jordan g Willis Hutchins (2) g Burgoyne Millard (2) f D. Marcum (6) Rogers (2) f M. Marcum Paulson (4) sub. Referee, Nickens; Umpire, Wilson; Timers, Paulson, Berry; Scorers, Jordan, Olson.

TYEE DISTRICT HIT BY TORNADO, RESIDENT REPORTS

A tornado that tore in from the Pacific Ocean and struck with considerable violence near Tyee is described by Mr. Lloyd V. Powell, a resident of Tyee, who saw the work of the storm as it tore up trees and created considerable havoc in that immediate vicinity. "We saw some rather black looking clouds coming in from the northwest about 3:30 p. m. Saturday, January 14," Mr. Powell said, "and as they approached they became much thicker and began to whirl around. In a few minutes a funnel shaped cloud came over the hill tearing up five foot Douglas fir trees from four to five feet through. It came down the hill taking everything in its path, including a big oak tree, and missing the H. S. Powell home by only about three hundred yards. It crossed the river three times, once about a quarter of a mile above the Tyee school house. The tornado probably originated out on the Pacific Ocean gathering force as it came in on the land. It was about a quarter of a mile wide and traveled at the rate of about twenty-five miles per hour, and was in sight for about ten minutes. It was heard in several other places, but the main force was not seen any place that we know of except at Tyee. "It did no particular damage except to block the road very badly in two places. It also tore down some fence, and pulled up about fifty of Mr. Powell's prairie trees. If it had hit a city it would have done a great deal of damage."

SPEAKERS DECLARE ROMANCE NOT DEAD

(Associated Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Romance is not dead, speakers including Mrs. Douglas Robinson, sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt, contended at a discussion on "Are we losing our faith in romance?" Mrs. Robinson pointed to her brother's ascendancy to the presidency as "largely the result of the interest he aroused through his romantic rough riders." Fanny Hurst, asserting "we haven't any more Santa Claus, but we have a Thomas Edison," said that old time romance born of lack of knowledge was being superseded by a new romance based on truth. "The Rev. Randolph Ray of the 'Little Church Around the Corner' contended that his church was the greatest proof of the flourishing of romance today. He said couples come on long journeys just to be married at the church and touch the hem of an attendant's garment. Eat barbecue sandwiches and live forever. Brand's Road Stand here last night.
