

Pipe smokers:

Where there's so much smoke, there must be SOME TOBACCO!

THEY like Granger Rough Cut just as much in Texas as in Maine, and just as much in the mill as in the office. Men switch to it from seven dollar a pound stuff, and from fifteen cent tins—and not to save money, either! Yes, sir—some tobacco is right! Kentucky's best Burley, made for pipes, cut for pipes, and then packed in inexpensive sensible foil. Just match it against them all...

DICKER FOR ARMY GAME

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 24.—While negotiations are being made for Nebraska to replace navy on army's football schedule next fall, the army does not relish traveling west. It was learned today. Dickering are going on with other colleges as well as with Nebraska but a final decision will not be forthcoming until Major Philip Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, returns from a present leave.

A tilt with Nebraska at New York would be more attractive to the army than a trip to the west. It was said, for the present schedule gives the West Pointers two big games away from their Ball-cow. These are with Yale at New Haven and Harvard at Boston.

Some people say that students participating in athletics don't do as well as those who do not. Here are some averages based on the final averages for the first semester's work this year:

Student body average, 88.44; all high school boys, 86.58; all high school girls, 90.21; boy's basketball team, 89.39; girl's basketball team, 90.97.

Upon investigation it is found that most class officers and student body officers are carried by the athletes as well as many other activities.

Friday, Jan. 27th the G. H. S. Pirates meet their old time rival Riddle, on the Glendale home floor. The winning of this game will mean a great deal toward winning the district championship. Come and root for G. H. S. Games start 7:30.

Tuesday, January 31st, G. H. S. will meet Rogue River debate team here at high school auditorium. Free, 8:00 p. m. Come.

Coach Tucker awarded football letters to those who played in half the games or more. The following received letters: Ivy Bartle, Cecil Hill, Russell Hill, Howard Salvage, Henry Smith, Archie Strong, and Lester Windes. The following night this group were initiated into the "Crimson G" athletic society of G. H. S.

CALIFORNIA SOLON CALLS SEN. COOPER OF WISCONSIN "LIAR"

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—During a short debate in the house today over shipping board funds, Representative Free, republican, California, called Representative Cooper, republican, Wisconsin, a "liar."

The Wisconsin member had requested permission to speak a longer time than was provided for debate on a shipping amendment but permission was blocked by an objection from Free.

"Well, since debate has been limited by a motion of Representative Wood of Indiana and the gentleman from California—who believes in the 12-hour day—objects, then I," continued Cooper, when his remarks were interrupted by Free.

Jumping up, Free denied that he believed in the 12-hour day. The remark was repeated by Cooper.

"You are a liar," said the Californian, leaving his seat.

The white-haired Wisconsin veteran stood perfectly still while cries rose from the floor demanding that Free "withdraw the remark."

After silence settled over the house, Free rose and asked that his remarks be expunged from the record.

BURIED 150 FEET FROM SPOT WHERE HE WAS BORN 78 YEARS AGO

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SALEM, Ore., Jan. 24—Funeral services were held at the St. Louis, Oregon, Catholic church yesterday for Pascal Paquette who died recently at a spot only 150 feet from the place where he was born 78 years ago. Paquette was the son of a French Canadian Hudson Bay company trapper, who came to the Oregon country in 1821. It is a commonly accepted story in the French prairie district that the elder Paquette was offered a homestead on the exact spot where Meier and Frank's store now stands in Portland, but that he preferred instead to come up the river 40 miles to the prairie district where there was less clearing to be done to prepare the land for cultivation.

All of his life, excepting six years when he lived at Mt. Angel, Pascal Paquette lived on the old Paquette homestead near St. Louis. His son, Steve, is now living there and his daughter, who survives him, Mrs. Mabel Stewart, also lives in the St. Louis district.

ANOTHER SAN QUENTIN BREAK IS FRUSTRATED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Jan. 24—Plans for a wholesale prison break at San Quentin similar to the uprising at Folsom Prison on Thanksgiving day have been frustrated, Warden James H. Holohan announced today.

The plans were directed by Roy Cook, 23, and Fred Cook, 22, brothers of San Francisco, sent to San Quentin on November 18, 1924 for second degree robbery. The plans were frustrated by long term convicts, Sidney Kephord and Calvin Rowell, who acted as detectives for the warden.

As a result Warden Holohan, said he would ask Governor C. C. Young to give special consideration to the two loyal convicts with a view to materially shortening their periods of service. Kephord formerly was prison photographer, up for 50 years for a statutory offense. He violated a prison regulation some time ago and was put in the juke mill. Rowell is doing two consecutive life terms for murder.

RITZMAN FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Caroline Ritzman was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the Roseburg Undertaking company. The auditorium was crowded by the many sorrowing friends and relatives, while the floral offerings were many and beautiful. The services were conducted by M. E. Ritter, funeral director for the Roseburg Undertaking company. Dr. Frank E. Mathews, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated, and music was furnished by an American legion quartette. Interment took place in the Masonic cemetery.

OLMSTEAD AND WHEELER JURY BEING SELECTED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24—Selection of a jury to try Emory Olmstead, former president of the Northwestern National Bank and J. E. Wheeler, lumberman and former newspaper publisher, on charges of conspiracy to violate the federal bank laws, was completed this morning. Eleven jurors had been picked yesterday afternoon, and finding the twelfth juror was accomplished by 10:29 a. m.

United States Attorney George Neuner immediately started the opening statement of the government, outlining details that preceded the closing and liquidation of the Northwestern National bank last March.

Indictments against Olmstead and Wheeler charged that they had been involved in check kiting operations aggregating $11,000,000 that resulted in a loss to the bank of $796,514.45.

The jurors chosen were: George W. Mills, William Burnham, Welby

Stevens, Victor E. Onslow, John A. Smith, Waldo Anderson, George Palmer, S. L. Stevens, C. E. Lynch, Frank E. Vincent, Albert E. Holcomb and David J. Lewis.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24—Declaration that the Northwestern National Bank, which was liquidated last March after a run on the bank never lost a cent in overdrafts to the McCormack Lumber company, of which J. E. Wheeler was head, was made today by Chester A. Sheppard, attorney for Wheeler and Emory Olmstead, former president of the bank. Olmstead and Wheeler are on trial in federal court charged with conspiracy to violate the national bank laws through alleged check kiting operations.

Wheeler was pictured in the role of a rescuer of the bank at a time certain interests were trying to sell it to the First National bank of Portland. Wheeler, who had enjoyed full lines of credit in Portland and other coast cities borrowed $700,000 with which to acquire a block of stock in the Northwestern National bank.

"This greatly weakened his banking facilities with other banks," said Sheppard, "and when Wheeler was in need of assistance the directors and officers of the Northwestern felt obligated to help. Wheeler at all times showed statements of worth far in excess of credit required. Olmstead had these statements checked up and found that Wheeler underestimated rather than overestimated his net worth. The McCormack Lumber company had banked with the Northwestern for a period of ten years, and while needing money many times repaid every loan. When the last overdraft was extended and growing Wheeler had timber deals in process of closing, any one of which would have repaid all overdrafts, and it was this within the knowledge of the directors of the bank that caused them to allow the overdraft."

CHAMPION RETIRES

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24—John A. Clinton, of Pittsburgh National Amateur 15.2 balk line billiards champion, has announced his retirement from active competition.

Markets

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24—Local wholesale produce markets were rather quiet this morning with prices firm for the most part and trading light.

Butter and egg prices were unchanged at the meeting of the dairy exchange yesterday afternoon and were steady except for a 2 cent drop in the association selling price on peewees, quoted at 31 cents. Offerings were moderate and just about sufficient to satisfy the usual demand.

In the country dressed meat division prices were likewise steady although a shade easier tone prevades in beef prices. Hogs are weak and draggy while veal and lamb were steady but demand light.

Feather movements were small with receipts light and demand slow. Prices were quoted steady.

Onions and potatoes were draggy with quotations unchanged.

WEIGH WHAT YOU DESIRE
