National Guard Notes

Training period for national guard members on Monday night was devoted largely to elementary machine gun practice. The purpose of this training is to educate every man in the company in mounting, dismounting, loading and unloading a machine gun. Accuracy is worked for first, then speed with accuracy is the next element in successful operation. Sergeants Edw. Dolan, Harry Fletcher and Kenneth House older were in charge of the squad units for the work, which was supervised by Captain Lyle E. Marsters.

Volley ball and basketball prac-tices followed the regular drill period Monday. A basketball game is scheduled for the evening at the armory, where the Company D team will clash with the team from the Looking Glass high school in a fast contest. The game is open to the public and a nomi-nal charge is being made to help defray expenses.

Sergeant Edw. A. Dolan has re-enlisted for his fifth year in the national guard. After five years' service a special medal is award-ed by the state to a national guardsman, Sergeant Dolan is now in line for this honor.

SPORTSMEN AT REEDSPORT

Sergeant Edw. A. Dolan has recollected for his fifth year in the national guard. After five years service a special medal is awarded by the state to a national guardsman. Sergeant Dolan is now in line for this honor.

The certificate of proficiency awarded by the state of Oregon for demonstrated efficiency in mobilizing for field service under the unit mobilization test call on November 8, 1927, has just been received by the local company. Company D was mobilized in excellent time, ready with full equipment and attendance for loading.

A large group of local sportsmen, all members of the Donal of Sportsmen's association, left this morning for Reedsport to spend the day meeting with cannerymen and fishermen of that locality reading for fish and game protection. Among the members of the party were Fred Lockwood, J. A. Harding, B. W. Bates, D. B. Bubar, Edwalker, C. A. Lockwood, Dr. Walker, C. A. Lockwood, Dr. Walke A large group of local Lindsay to speak before the University student body, an invitation in which the dean is said to have joined.

Rev. Mr. Clark was speaking on "companionate marirage vs. Christian marriage."

"If you have a daughter at the University and she goes to the dean for advice you can see what type of information she will receive," said Clark.

He asserted that "marriage is not for beastlings," and that "the time has come for a puritan revival."

Salem alumni of the University appear to think the attack on the dean was unjustified. This opinion was expressed, among others, by C. A. Howard, state superintendent of schools. George Hug, superintendent of Salem schools, and J. C. Nelson, principal of the high school, expressed surprise at the Clark speech.

Clark is said to have resigned his Eugene pulpit so that he may carry on a fight against literature he believes dangerous to the public morals.
