SOCIETY

BY GRACE CARROLL

All Contributions to this Page—Society, Women's Clubs, and Personal—Should Be Telephoned to the Society Editor by Friday of Each Week.

It would seem that society is again taking up the threads of entertaining after a brief stay in midwinter sayetees, for scarcely a day of the week past has been without some pleasurable social function, both large and small. Members of the Roseburg Garden Club are manifesting much interest in the lecture to be given by Mr. C. G. Bacher of the Swiss Floral Company of Portland on February 6. A special meeting of the group is planned for that night. Mr. Bacher will lecture on "practical landscaping and spring planting and will illustrate his talk with colored slides.

Mrs. Crampton Is Much Feted Visitor This Week

The latter part of the week has brought an interesting visitor to the city, Mrs. Lydia G. Crampton, grand guardian of Job's Daughters who arrived Wednesday from Portland to visit Bethel Number 8 of Roseburg's Job's Daughters. To honor Mrs. Crampton, a dinner was given on Thursday evening at the Umpqua hotel, with the members of the council of the Bethel as hostesses. On Friday afternoon a bridge was presented by Mrs. George A. Bradburn at the attractive Bradburn home, Merline Place, for the visitor. This evening Mrs. Crampton will hold inspection of the Bethel and a banquet for the grand guardian and members of the Bethel will close the evening's festivities.

Two Matrons Arrange Pleasant Affair for Club

A very enjoyable and interesting meeting of the Past Noble Grand club took place this week, when Mrs. H. C. Stearns and Mrs. S. M. Kelley joined in entertaining at the home of the former Thursday evening. After a business session a committee arranged several games for diversion. The prizes were won by Mrs. Louis Kohlhaugen, Mrs. V. T. Jackson, Mrs. George Conkey and Miss Maxine Stearns. The prize given by the club at each meeting was this week presented to Mrs. Mayde Pyley. An instrumental solo by Miss Maxine Stearns and a folk dance by little Madelyn Stearns were enjoyed by the guests.

Luncheon was served to the Mesdames F. A. Goff, T. H. Busenbark, D. H. Loux, Maude Pyley, G. G. Ferrier, O. H. Pickens, Jas. Hutchings, W. E. Clingenspeil, Clarence Wimer, Wm. Austin, W. W. Ashcraft, Grant Daley, V. T. Jackson, George Conkey, J. E. Pickens, J. G. Stephenson, O. I. Johnson, E. V. Hoover, Harry Hatfield, D. H. Morgan, Charles Trosh, Helen Vining, Miss May Fisher, Miss Da Laubach and Mrs. Louis Kohlhaugen, Miss Maxine Stearns and Miss Madelyn Stearns. For the next meeting Mrs. S. F. Cawfield and Mrs. W. W. Ashcraft will be hostesses at 117 South Flint street.

Roseburg Couple Married Recently

Friends here of Miss Lois Thompson and Charles R. Ribling were interested to learn of their marriage, a recent event in Vancouver, Washington. The wedding took place last Saturday. Mrs. Ribling is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Thompson of Roseburg and the bridegroom is also a resident of this city. He is employed at the Coon Lumber company.

Friends and well-wishers Miss Katherine Devoe, who has arrived from McMinnville to be the house guest of her sister, Mrs. Howard C. Waldell, on Lane and Kane streets, Miss Devoe will be here for an indefinite visit.

Barbaric Motif

New jewelry sounds a primitive note in its colorful, massive fashioning. Jade, inlaid with enamel in an architectural design, forms this pendant, the focal point on a dinner gown.

Maids of Sewing Club Entertained Thursday

The members of the Elders Sewing Club met for an evening of needlework on Thursday at guests at the home of Miss Marjorie Snyder. Later, luncheon covers were laid for Mrs. Clarence Goffell, Mrs. Vernon Granger, Mrs. Edward Walton, Mrs. Boyd Bruton, Miss Elizabeth Harding, Miss Wanda Harding, Miss Estner Miller, Miss Grace Robinson, Miss Laura Krokke, Mrs. Elsie Hudson and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Will Entertain With Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton are entertaining at their home in West Roseburg with a 5 o'clock dinner party on Sunday afternoon, complimenting F. H. Churchill on his birthday anniversary. Seven intimate friends have been invited for the occasion.

Public Installation Held by Circle

Initiation of new candidates by Lila Circle Number 49, Neighbors of Woodcraft, recently was followed by a public installation of officers for the year and a large number of visitors were in attendance. Following the installation the circle entertained with a dinner. The large dining room was transformed with the colors of the order, red, white and green, and presented a charming setting for the affair. The same colors were used in appointments.

The Snick school P. T. A. met last Friday night for a program presented by the pupils of the school. The entertainment consisted of readings, songs and a most interesting debate. Mrs. Mary Gervais, teacher of the school, gave a report of the O. S. T. A. convention held in Portland a few weeks ago at which she was one of the delegates from the county department of the organization.

Committee for Drive Met to Form Plans

A meeting of the committee in charge of the membership drive for the auxiliary of Umpqua Post of American Legion took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. R. Bixall, the chairman. The members of the committee are: Mrs. Phil Harth, Mrs. Clark Walker, Mrs. Lyle Davis and Mrs. M. C. Ellison. To stimulate interest in the campaign a contest is to be held between two chosen sides, Mrs. Bixall and Mrs. Harth are the captains. New members will receive so many points by securing new memberships and old members of the auxiliary will be awarded a certain number of points in the campaign. The time extent for the drive has not yet been decided upon.

Order Held Installation of Officers This Week

Canton Robertson Number 17 held installation of its officers at a ceremony on Thursday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. The following were installed by H. A. Canaday: Lyle Davis, captain; J. E. Pickens, lieutenant; R. L. Russell, master; D. H. Johnson, clerk. Following the induction to office the officers and members enjoyed refreshments.

Badoura Club Met for Business Session

For a meeting of the members of Badoura Club, Daughters of the Nile, Mrs. Max Huff was hostess at her home at 145 South Stearns street on "Friday" evening. Matters of business were discussed and afterward a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served the club later.

Orchestra and Families Entertained Spencer Home

Members of the Kiwanis orchestra and their families were asked to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loman Spencer in North Roseburg on Monday evening. Following the regular practice of the orchestra the group was entertained with bridge and five hundred and a chili snapper was served by the hosts. Enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer were Mrs. Fyrene Lindtrot, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Catching, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Berg and Dr. H. C. Church.

Mr. Hamilton Honored at Dinner Sunday

Walter S. Hamilton was the honor guest at a dinner party on Sunday afternoon, planned by Mrs. Hamilton on his birthday anniversary. Covers were laid for M. M. Miller, Fyrene Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton. Roses formed the center arrangement for the table.

If Ye Have Tiers Prepare To Be In Style!

They're Fashion's Latest To Break the Silhouette

BY HENRI BENDEL

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Costumes are getting themselves into a spring mood. Everywhere there is a tendency towards swaying or animated lines. The stiff, straight silhouette is broken into ripples, curves, tiers and drapes and completely changed by scarfs, jabots, cape themes and so on.

Whether the frock be for early morning street wear or for evening, it should have its lines broken in more ways than one, if possible.

A Graceful Elaboration
Tiers prove the most graceful means of elaborating upon the straight line, retaining all the slenderizing advantages of it and still bringing it up to date.

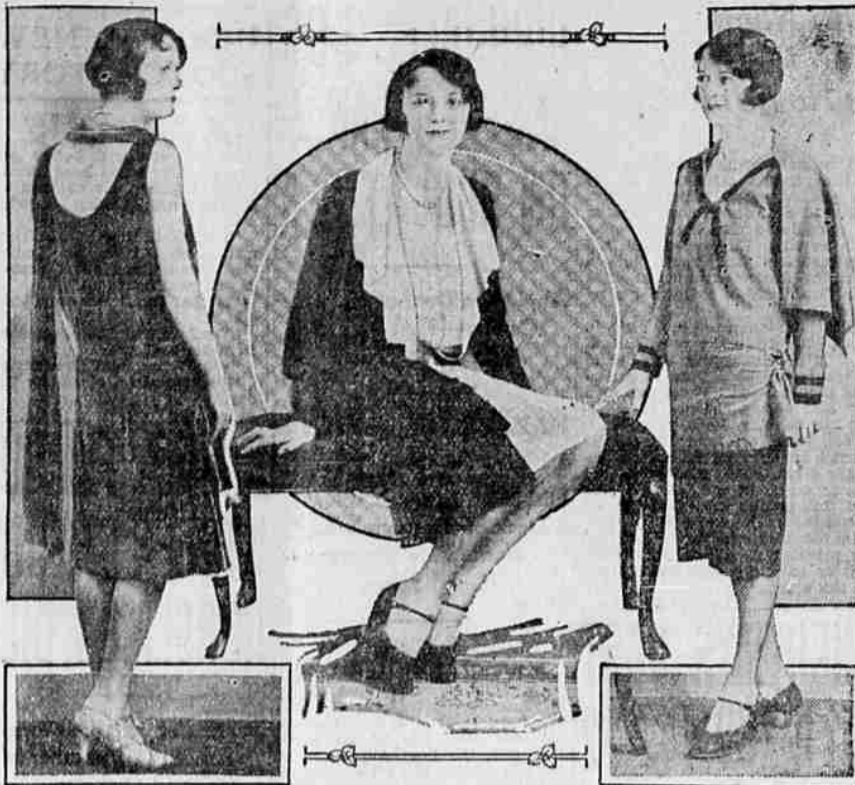

The tiered skirt may have circular lines for its component parts or, as is more apt to be the case, flat lines across the back, with a swerve for effectiveness, grace and fullness in its circular front tiers.

I show today three models which portray three different conceptions of what ties can do to enhance a frock's loveliness. Each model, moreover, features a different type of adjunct to the tier, in the way of neck treatment.

I have selected an orange velvet frock for the close of day—an extremely effective evening gown. It is tiered from well above the waistline, clear to the hem. In fact, the top tier gives much the same effect that a short bolero would.

Straight Back, Circular Front
These tiers, finished with a tiny hand banding, are straight cut in back and circular in front. Moreover, all but the two upper ones wave up in front to give much interest and indelible but charming grace.

From the right shoulder of this

The tiers Milady wears: (left) orange velvet evening gown, straight tiered in back and circularly tiered in front; (center) side tiers has this black and white informal frock with accordion pleated slip and two jabots; (right) of imported homespun is this tiered and caped dress with jumper and new wide neckline.

Enjoyable Function at K. of P. Hall Thursday

The Umpqua Chiefs and Squaws, following the installation of officers of the former booster club, joined in a social evening of fun on Thursday at the Knights of Pythias hall, invited for the occasion were members of Umpqua Post of American Legion drum corps and the Roseburg Municipal band and their wives, the number attending the event totaling about eighty.

Each of the officers was presented with a token with a clever presentation talk by Dr. Lee A. Wells, who, with Phil Harth, installed.

Pictures of the aeroplane, Queen of Yukon, sister ship to the Spirit of St. Louis, were shown, and views of Roseburg taken from the air were given. Another feature of the moving pictures was some scenes of the Medford Jubilee of Yesteryear. Afterward, the guests enjoyed dancing and a supper.

Senior High P. T. A. Met for Interesting Session and Program

The senior high school Parent-Teacher association met Tuesday evening and during the business session discussed ways and means of raising funds toward beautifying the high school grounds. C. D. Regua, the agricultural teacher, prepared a plan which met with the approval of the school board, and the board, with the assistance of some of the students, will put in a sprinkler system early in the spring, then the P. T. A. will arrange to secure suitable shrubbery.

A pleasing piano solo was rendered by Miss Elizabeth Williams. An extremely interesting talk was given by Dr. Geo. P. Honck on "Vocational Effectiveness," and Miss Ruth Hoover played a beautiful piano selection.

The debate presented by the senior and sophomore classes was particularly interesting; every point given was excellent, showed splendid preparation and was very well delivered. The question was, "Resolved, That The Principles of the McNary-Haugen Bill Should Be Adopted by Congress." The senior and affirmative speakers were J. V. Long and Lillian Sporer; the sophomore and negative speakers, Mildred Morris and Carlbot Olsen. S. Jonsson acted as chairman, Leroy Matt as time-keeper and the judges were Mrs. Louis Kohlhaugen, S. E. Hall and J. E. McClintock. Decision was in favor of the affirmative.

A box social is to be arranged for the next meeting, February 25, further notice of which will appear a little later.

Mrs. Pargeter Club Hostess This Week

Mrs. Harry O. Pargeter was hostess for the meeting of a congenial club group at her home on Claire street Wednesday evening, when she arranged bridge for the members of her club. Honors went to Mrs. Will Gerretson. At play were Mrs. H. C. Church, Mrs. Forest Six, Mrs. J. K. Fisher, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Joseph A. Demm, Mrs. Will H. Gerretson, Mrs. T. H. Ness and the hostess. At the end of the game the hostess served a luncheon.

Dinner on Wednesday Enjoyed by Large Group

A pleasant affair occurring mid-week was the dinner given on Wednesday by the employees of the Roseburg Steam Laundry in the dining room of the company building on North Jackson street. The business has been operated by O. C. Baker for the past twenty-five years. Some of its employees have been connected with the concern for more than twenty years. Members of the families of the employees were invited guests.

Covers were laid at the tables for the Mesdames W. B. Atterbury, Della S. Tester, R. L. Hudson, Hayes, E. E. Morgan and family, A. C. Barnett, Nellie Patterson, Janet Cowan, J. L. Paris, the Mesdames Genevieve Barnett, Mildred Patterson, Pearl Gilkeson, Ethel Lander, Faith Miles, Faye Reed, Vivian Gilkeson, Gladys Carstens and Roy Phillips, O. A. Gasaway, Charles Beercoff, Chris Beercoff, Clarence Baker and G. G. Coates.

Life's Niceties

HINTS ON ETIQUET

1. When entertaining at bridge, what kind of refreshments should one serve?
2. What is a typical good hot dish?
3. Anything else?

The Answers
1. A hot dish or some satisfying sandwiches.
2. Scrambled eggs and thin sausages are the vogue in New York now.
3. And rolls and coffee.

Mrs. Ira Good and little daughter, Eva, who have been visitors from Carstairs, Alberta, Canada, this week as house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Boucock, have gone to Los Angeles for a visit.

Everywhere Is a Tendency Toward Animated Lines

man who is not so slender as she wishes. This gives the slim lines a dignified conception of a dressy coat dress. Two rippling tiers extend from the sides while the back is flat-tiered. A graceful accoutrement pleated slip and jabots of off-white silk mousseline give that delicate touch that only white can give black.

For Spring Grace
This model shows admirably the union of tiers and jabots for spring grace. It also demonstrates that nothing can be smarter than the black-white combination, especially when the white is of exquisitely lovely fabric.

The third frock shown today is a swanky little homespun import in a new color combination—green upper and blue lower portions. Of course the green has much blue in it, giving it a cool tone.

I want to call attention to the triple jabots of newness and beauty of this frock. It has a cape collar; tiered skirt and jumper; new wide neckline.

Don't Overlook It
Taking them in order, I should say that she who overlooks the cape theme this spring misses one of the prevalent tendencies. It is such a change from the light, straight modes. It gives fullness, grace and novelty without added bulk to the figure.

In this frock the cape is a natural complement to the doubly tiered skirt and the triple tiered effect achieved by having the bottom of the jumper form the third tier.

The new necklines have a tendency to width at the shoulders—such as though new fashions accept the Vionnet idea, but slash and shape the front and back to suit themselves.

Two Matrons Entertain With Series of Social Events

Arranged as one of a series of most charming social affairs at which they have entertained groups of their friends, Mrs. Leon McClintock and Mrs. A. J. Hochradel were hostesses last Saturday evening at the McClintock home at 118 South Chadwick street for a luncheon followed by sewing and bridge. Included in the guest list were several out of town matrons.

A color motif of green and red enhanced the rooms, where carnations and shrubbery were used. The table appointments corresponded in detail with the color arrangement. Assisting were Mrs. Fred Schwartz, Mrs. Charles B. Wade, Mrs. Clair K. Allen and Miss Vera McClintock.

There were seven tables of bridge in play and honors went to Mrs. V. M. Petterson of Eugene. The door prizes were received by Mrs. C. A. Lockwood and Mrs. Charles W. Wharton, and the sewing prizes were given to Mrs. M. J. Shoemaker and Mrs. L. A. Dilhart.

Completing the series of parties, Mrs. Hochradel and Mrs. McClintock entertained a large contingent of their friends last evening with bridge, there being twelve tables reserved at the large social function sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Knights of Pythias hall.

Two Matrons Given Surprise at Meeting

A delightful surprise was given two of the members of the committee in charge of decorations for the Rebekah convention here in the spring at a meeting of the committee on Thursday evening. Mrs. H. A. Canaday entertained the group of nine women at her home.

After an evening of work devoted to cutting and forming decorations, the hostess served a luncheon. Yellow was the color note carried out in the appointments. A lovely centerpiece of roses was used and quaint yellow favors completed the arrangement. A birthday cake was placed for the two ladies honored. Mrs. V. T. Jackson, whose anniversary occurred on the date of the meeting, and Mrs. H. A. Goff, whose anniversary was also Saturday preceding. Each was presented with a gift from the committee.

Club Arranged Surprise for Member

A pleasurable event for a social club group occurring this week was the surprise planned by the Northside Sunshine Club for its past president, Mrs. James Bartley, at her home on West First street Thursday.

Music, readings and games provided amusement for the ladies, with a pot-luck luncheon late in the afternoon closing the enjoyable affair. Spending the afternoon with Mrs. Bartley were the Mesdames E. P. Ballou, S. Durand, L. W. Ingles, Wm. Stark, Robert Chilson, Fred Bowen, Ed Marsters, T. F. Chilson, Walter Kurtz, Lela Marsters, Fred Parker, Virgil Bush, George Marsters, R. E. Harness and A. McComas.

Petalled Slip

A dawn pink Paris evening slip has a hip yoke of rich cream lace and the skirt portion a dozen separate delicate pink petals that allow great freedom for dancing.

Students Met for Rehearsal and Informal Eve

Following regular rehearsals of the students of Elsie Carleton Strang at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Parslow on Wednesday evening, her pupils presented Mrs. Strang with a pair of gloves as a remembrance on her birthday anniversary. An informal hour for students and their families followed rehearsals and refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Deets, Mr. and Mrs. Hark Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McElhinny, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Strang, Mr. and Mrs. Parslow and Mrs. Frances Lindtrot.

On Thursday evening following regular rehearsal hour of the Presbyterian church choir, of which Mrs. Strang is leader, Wm. Ford, one of the choir members, presented her with a lovely silk umbrella in behalf of the choir as a token of appreciation of her work with the organization and for her anniversary.

Enjoyed at Games

Mrs. C. S. McElhinny invited the young married Sunday school group of the Baptist church to her home at 637 South Main street on Thursday evening for an informal entertainment. Games which carried out the St. Valentine's idea were enjoyed by the twenty guests and at the close of the evening the hostess, assisted by several of the women of the class, served a luncheon.

Circle and Added Guests Entertained by Matrons

Mrs. J. B. Bailey and Mrs. E. A. Pettor joined as hostesses on Thursday in asking the members of the North Circle of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the Bailey home for a brief business session followed by sewing.

Mrs. A. J. Geddes presided and plans were made by the circle for future activities. Refreshments were served to the members and the following additional guests, Mrs. B. P. Shields, Mrs. Harold Adams, Mrs. I. Richards and Mrs. A. G. Gullo.

Club to Entertain Past President of State Federation

There will be no meeting of the Roseburg Woman's Club this week, but on Tuesday, February 7, the club will have as its guest Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, past president of the State Federation and secretary of the Oregon State Tuberculosis association.

On the evening of February 3rd, the club will hold a card party at the club house on South Jackson street. Mrs. A. D. Abbott and Mrs. J. A. Harding are in charge of the tables and those making reservations are asked to call them as early as possible. It is planned to have about 20 tables of both bridge and five hundred will be played. Prizes for play scores will be given as well as door prizes. Mrs. L. B. Stinner and Mrs. Dean Butlar head the refreshments. (Continued on page 3.)

Movable Ornament

Gummed silhouettes that shine through transparent hose now attract if all else fails. They are usually butterflies, bugs or animals.
