

The Bleating of Sheep and Lowing of Oxen

A long time ago, a man disobeyed a command of God, and accumulated some sheep and oxen. (1 Samuel 15.) Just when he was hypocritically asserting that he had obeyed the commandment, the sheep began to bleat and the oxen began to low!

HYPOCRISY WAS EXPOSED

Are the sheep and oxen and other things that you are getting testifying against you?

You may be willing to offer something with the hope of making peace, but

To Obey is Better than Sacrifice

UNION REVIVAL WILL COMMENCE SUNDAY NIGHT

Five Protestant Churches Uniting in Evangelistic Effort for Two Weeks.

Preparations for the union revival meetings to be held under the auspices of five Roseburg churches, are becoming more intensive day by day. The meetings will open on Sunday evening, February 5th in the Baptist and Presbyterian churches, and will continue every night for at least two weeks. The five pastors whose churches have joined in the movement will preach the sermons. These pastors are Rev. Matthews of the Baptist church, Rev. Baird of the Christian church, Rev. Knotts of the M. E. church, Rev. Penhall of the M. E. church, South, and Rev. Acker of the Presbyterian church. These ministers will be assigned in turn from time to time to lead the meetings, but no prior announcement of any assignment will be made. People will not know until the service begins who is to preach at any given meeting.

Details for the campaign are under the direction of an executive committee of 15, consisting of the minister and two of the laity from each church. A splendid spirit of cooperation has been developed, and great results are anticipated from this fine team work. Cottage prayer meetings are now being held in various parts of the city from day to day, and special prayer services are held also in the evenings in the churches. Arrangements are being made for house-to-house canvasses, for the purpose of extending invitations to attend the meetings.

Special attention is being given to the musical features of the meetings. The best Roseburg talent will be enlisted, and no better can be found anywhere. There will be choirs, orchestras and soloists. Congregational singing will be stressed. The evening services will begin at 7:30 o'clock, but there will be musical production beginning at 7:15. Ushers will be appointed and organized for proper attention to the seating of the crowds who are expected to attend.

The coming revival promises to be a noteworthy event in Roseburg. The advertising columns of the News-Review have been carrying formal announcements, and these are to be continued.

OREGON BUREAU CORPORATIONS IS UNDER CLOUD

quoted as having said: "I asked Arnold how he would be in a position to help us." Yates was the governor. "He stated: 'You know my connections with Mark McCallister and how that I was his manager in assisting him in getting the appointment to the office, and also my connection with Fred Meindl and Bob Mount.'"

Yates answered that he knew those details, and that Arnold then said: "I am in a position where I can get you a permit in five minutes. Now how much is it worth for me to render you that service?"

Yates says he replied that the association had a good legal staff and he could see no reason for spending more money for attorney fees, that the association had complied with all laws, was solvent and that Meindl knew it.

$400 Alleged Agreed on

"Yes, but you have too much opposition from the undertakers with the department, and the department is going to rule against you," Arnold is quoted as saying. "I then asked Arnold how he would proceed to get the department to change its attitude in the face of such opposition from the undertakers."

"The statement was: 'You know how those things are handled. Now how much is it worth to you to get the thing settled up quietly? Cut out all of this newspaper publicity and I can get Bob Mount to stop his activities against the Union Service association if you will lay off of Bob Mount.'"

Yates says Arnold wanted to know if $500 would be too much. "I answered that I thought it was a dirty holdup, but that I would see what I would be able to do," says Yates.

He says that Arnold insisted that the arrangement be kept strictly between the two of them, and that the officials and attorney of the association were not to know. Arnold finally agreed that the total fee would be $400, Yates claims.

EASTERNER TELLS OF CHECK KITING

PORTLAND, Feb. 1.—Additional testimony relative to the operations of J. E. Wheeler, former president of the McCormick Lumber company, in alleged check kiting between the Northwestern National bank and eastern banks was related today by R. B. Gaskill, of Meadville, Pa., secretary of the Crawford City Trust company.

Gaskill was one of the last witnesses to be called by the government against Wheeler and Emory Olmstead, former president of the Northwestern National bank, charged jointly with conspiring to violate the national banking act. The government was expected to close its case today.

J. H. Kelly, cashier of the Forest County National bank, Tionesta, Pa., and C. T. Bouscarter, secretary of the Brookville Title and Trust company, of Brookville, Pa., were witnesses late yesterday, bringing out that Wheeler kept accounts in both of those banks. It was explained that those banks bought trade acceptances from the McCormick Lumber company, and when credits were due they were placed to Wheeler's credit. Many checks which he drew on the banks were paid while others were returned to the Northwestern National bank marked "N. S. F."

PEKING, Feb. 1.—The Czechoslovakian steamer Praga, carrying 40,000 rifles for the Mikelen troops of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the northern dictator, has arrived at Chwangtao. The arms immediately were placed in transport in the direction of Mukden, Manchuria.

Reports published by the Chinese newspapers several days ago that the Praga had arrived at Taingtao after an exchange of fire with a nationalist gunboat have proved erroneous.

Answers Accusations

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 1.—Answering accusations made by Charles Scott Yates of the Union Service association, reflecting against the state corporation commission, the Portland Better Business Bureau and the undertakers association, Robert Mount, manager of the Better Business Bureau, dispatched a letter to Governor I. L. Patterson today in which he bitterly denounced Yates and made emphatic denial of charges "as they concern my office."

"Charges and insinuations made in Yates' letter insofar as myself and the Better Business Bureau are concerned are absolutely untrue," Mount wrote. "I have never held conferences with the undertakers' association regarding the permit of the Union Service association. I have naturally been in contact with Mark McCallister, corporation commissioner, on this matter, since, from our investigation, we believe the Union Service association was founded on an unsound premise and is now being managed by Charles Scott Yates, who, we believe, is not of good business repute and who is not entitled to the privileges of handling funds obtained from the public. Mr. Yates has resorted to misrepresentations and discredits the corporation commission and Better Business Bureau."

Gives Yates' Record

"As to charges in the letter of attempts on the part of a Portland attorney to secure money from Mr. Yates as consideration for his using influence with the corporation department, I can make no statement except to say that the attorney in question has no influence with this office nor could he have done anything to change our position toward the Union Service association. If Mr. Yates charges that an attorney did attempt to reach him on such a proposition are true they need not be disclosed either upon Mr. McCallister or this office, since there is nothing but legal ethics to prevent any attorney from stepping in and attempting to make a piece of money out of an unfortunate situation."

GOOD NEWS FOR COOS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) MARSHFIELD, Feb. 1.—Refinancing of the Coos Bay Lumber company in San Francisco, announced in a special dispatch to the Coos Bay Times, were characterized today by H. W. Dunker as "the biggest thing that ever happened to the Coos Bay Lumber company," meaning that the operations of a mill here which employs 510 men is assured of permanency. Bondholders agreed to accept $8,677,000 as preferred stock. The company's assets are now listed at $3,000,000 and liabilities at $300,000.

Funeral Costs ARE BECOMING EXHORBITANT

319 widows who applied to the New York board of child welfare for relief it was found the Irish led with an average funeral expenditure of $462, which expended 44 per cent of their net assets; the Italians were next, with an average bill of $421 or 50 per cent of their net assets, and the Jews, whose funeral customs are very simple, were lowest with an average funeral cost of $247.

The survey was financed by the Metropolitan Life insurance company, and the figures obtained from a study of funeral bills gathered from various sections of the country.

TEMPORARY RECEIVER FOR DEFUNCT FIRM IS ASKED BY CREDITORS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 1.—Appointment of a temporary receiver for Overbeck and Cooke, Portland stock brokerage house which closed yesterday, was suggested by 35 creditors who met last night in the offices of Malarky, Seabrook and Dibble, attorneys for the firm. Malarky said a request for an order of bankruptcy would be filed late today unless some other action was decided upon.

It was disclosed that James P. Cooke, president of the company, made a trip to San Francisco in a final attempt to forestall the crash, but returned unsuccessful, and at an early hour yesterday morning called his attorney and said the firm would have to close. Since that time Cooke has not been located. It was said at his home that he was in Portland. Rumors that he was ill were denied at his home.

Creditors estimated that the shortage of the firm would amount to between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

OL' DOBBIN FADES OUT

(Associated Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Progress finally has claimed the last of the White House horse drawn cars. The coach which once conveyed distinguished visitors of the president and more and recently was used by Miss Riley and other White House housekeepers has been ordered to the army stables along with the faithful mare which hauled the cab around the city on bay expeditions. In their place is a late model automobile.

Tom, the old negro coachman, who ceremoniously guided the car as he took Miss Riley from market to store, has laid away his high silk hat to engage in other duties.

CALPET GAS COMING TO OREGON TERRITORY

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 1.—Request of the California Petroleum company (state of Washington) to erect a $750,000 plant in Portland was approved by the city council today.

The request had been denied last year by the same council. R. M. Price, vice-president and general manager of "Calpet" told the council "we will be here as soon as we can build."

BARGE HITS REEF.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 1.—The Bonanza, a barge belonging to the Diamond O Navigation company, struck a reef in the Willamette river, near Rock Island, above Portland today and partially submerged in shallow water near the middle of the stream. The barge was loaded with fuel oil for Oregon city. It struck the submerged reef as it was being maneuvered to pass a log raft.

Oppose Bond Sale in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Secretary Kellogg announced today that the American government did not view with favor the sale of Russian Soviet government bonds in the United States and that he was confident American bankers would cooperate with the government to that end. The secretary said the American banks concerned in the proposed bond issues have been so notified by the state department.

Approve Norris Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Norris resolution providing for government operation of Muscle Shoals was approved today by the senate agriculture committee by a vote of 11 to 2.

The vote was taken in executive session after more than an hour's discussion during which time it was announced that several amendments would be presented on the senate floor.

Walsh Resolution Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Walsh resolution for an investigation of public utility power corporations was approved today by the senate interstate commerce committee with an amendment confining the inquiry to companies engaged in interstate business.

The resolution was also modified to provide that the inquiry into holding companies should be made of only those holding corporations having the stock of two or more public utility corporations operating in different states.
