Infantile Paralysis Under Probe

Mysterious Disease to Be Attacked From Three Angles By Research Workers of Federal Health Service, Coordinating in Special Fields; Lenses Now in Use Cannot Discover Deadly Germ.

By COLEMAN B. JONES
(Associated Press Science Editor)
(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Determined to find the solution to the baffling problem of infantile paralysis, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming has assigned three especially qualified research workers of the public health service to concentrate on this task.

The service has been working on the problem for some years, but the outbreak last fall was the most widespread and virulent since 1916. Some progress has been made in developing methods of treatment, but the germ has defied isolation and the disease remains almost as great a mystery as it ever was.

Personnel of Investigators

The new campaign to analyze and overcome this dread malady, which has doomed thousands to a lifetime of deformity and discomfort, will be led by Dr J. P. Leake. He had extensive experience with the disease in 1916, has studied and treated many cases since then and is regarded as exceptionally well qualified to deal with it in both the clinic and the laboratory.

Dr. Lawrence Kolb will attack the problem as a disease of the nervous system. He has had special training in the study of nervous and mental disorders, having been detailed to this field of investigation for several years.

Identification of the germ itself with a view to developing a serum will be the special task of Dr. W. T. Harrison. He has had long experience in bacteriological research in the hygenic laboratory and has been identified for some time with the control of anti-toxins and serums by the service.

By directing the attack from three different scientific angles and coordinating the work of the specialists Dr. Cumming hopes to hasten the production of positive knowledge with which to combat the disease. In the meantime he must be content to emphasize the importance of "aftercure" treatment: the rehabilitation and retraining of muscles blighted by the disease. This should be started, he believes, as soon as the affected parts can be moved without pain.

Germ Defies Lenses

Various theories have been advanced as to the cause of the malady. But until the ultra-microscopic germ, which is too small to see through any lenses now in use and passes through all filters tried thus far, is identified, none of them can be accepted. The most convincing evidence as to the cause of its spread points to the "adult carrier" theory. It is adduced, on the basis of this evidence, that adults coming in contact with the germs carry and spread them through the secretions of the nose and throat without being conscious of their own infection.

Several methods of treatment have been suggested. These include the use of serum, but it has failed, in the opinion of public health service authorities, to give the results desired. The most generally accepted practice is isolation of the patient as soon as attacked and treatment of each symptom as it develops until the acute stage of the disease has passed, after which the long task of restoring the shriveled legs, or, occasionally, arms and other muscles, to usefulness can be begun.

CAP AND SHELLS IN BOY'S POCKET EXPLODE; 4 HURT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Mar. 1.—Four pupils of the Kelly school, near here, were hurt, one seriously, when several shotgun shells and a dynamite cap exploded in a pocket of one of the boys as they were playing marbles on the school grounds yesterday.

Arthur Kinney, 16, had one hand so badly torn it had to be amputated and it is feared he will lose one leg. The other boys, Harold, John and Robert Cody, 15, 10, and 8, were less seriously hurt.

It is supposed young Kinney accidentally exploded the dynamite cap as he stooped with his hand in his pockets, to shoot at a marble.

ANTI-FASCISTI BLAMED FOR KNIFE BLOW AT VENTURI

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

ROME, Mar. 1.—Belief was expressed today that the assailant who stabbed Father Tacchi-Venturi was no crank, but the agent of anti-Mussolini plotters.

Several ecclesiastics who are close to the priest who was the confidant of both Premier Mussolini and the vatican, said that his name was second on "the black list" of those to be put out of the way by some mysterious anti-government agency. The intimation was that Mussolini's name headed the list.

Three suspects have been arrested, but Father Tacchi-Venturi has not been able to identify any of them.

HOUSE COMMITTEE CUTS NAVY REQUEST

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—For the second time in recent weeks the house naval committee today refused to follow a navy department recommendation and voted to authorize an appropriation of only $14,500,000 for the modernization of two battleships instead of the $24,670,000 requested for the renovation of five capital ships.

MRS. COOLIDGE VISITS MOTHER, ILL IN HOSPITAL

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Mar. 1.—Mrs. Calvin Coolidge arrived here today to visit her mother, Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, who is ill in the Dickinson hospital.

At the hospital it was said that Mrs. Goodhue had passed a very comfortable night.

Mrs. Coolidge was accompanied by her friend and Northampton neighbor, Mrs. R. B. Hills, Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, White House physician and a secret service man. She was driven to the Coolidge home on Massasoit street in a taxicab escorted by two state troopers.

It was learned today that hospital officials had known for several days of Mrs. Coolidge's plan to come here and had informed her mother. This, they said, prevented the excitement over her coming which tended to make Mrs. Goodhue's condition less favorable at the time of Mrs. Coolidge's previous visit in January.

LOS ANGELES.—Charges of cruelty by Mrs. Marion Roberts and counter-charges of persistent nagging, in divorce court here, were climaxed at a hearing for temporary alimony when Mrs. Roberts alleged her husband had given her but five dollars in 18 months. Pending final hearing the judge allowed Mrs. Roberts' request for $40 temporary alimony and $100 attorney's fees.

COMEDY STOPS PANIC

AMARILLO, Texas—A black face comedian put on the most appreciated act of his career in a local theatre when he wisel-cracked an audience out of stampeding the exits, while a fire was raging in the structure. Although there was no immediate danger the crowd surged towards the exits until the actor captured their attention, thus preventing a panic.

ROBINSON CRUSOE MADE BY MISTAKE

By NEA Service

LONDON.—Robinson Crusoe and his man, Friday, should have remained on their island. A recent survey of Juan Fernandez Island, on which Alexander Selkirk, the original Robinson Crusoe, spent four years, proves it to be a veritable paradise.

The report says it is one of the most fruitful spots in South America, with every imaginable sort of plant growing there. A Frenchman, shipwrecked on the island some 40 years ago, has refused to leave because of the ease with which he has been able to live.

CANADA LEADS WORLD IN NEWSPRINT OUTPUT

MONTREAL, March 1.—(A. P.) Newsprint production not only has become the leading industrial manufacturing activity, but has made Canada the greatest producer in the world, a survey by the Canadian Pacific railway reveals.

The output of Canadian mills has increased 144 per cent in 10 years reaching a total of 2,088,945 tons in 1927, a gain of 11 per cent over 1926.

More than half the newsprint produced on the North American continent comes from Canada. The United States, which produced 1,485,105 tons last year, or 12 per cent less than in 1926, supplies about one quarter. Newfoundland and Mexico supply the rest.

Total value of pulp and paper exports from Canada last year was $176,602,266, an increase of more than $3,000,000.

Carea, a species of wild pineapple found in Brazil, may soon be used to provide pulp for making first-class paper.
