CHICAGO VOTE POLLED MIDST MUCH TURMOIL

hotly contested elections. Besides 5,000 police on active duty at the polls more than 350 detectives armed with rifles waited at the county building to speed to any part of the city where they were needed.

Scribes Are Lured

CHICAGO, April 10.—The war correspondents came to town today to report the primary election.

Reporters from a score of out of town newspapers were here to give their impressions of a Chicago election, and some of them were prepared for the worst.

One newspaper man who registered at a hotel housing headquarters of one of the warring factions promptly moved to another hostelry as soon as he learned the fact.

Another who had orders to visit some of the precincts and tell what he saw at the polls inquired as to the location of a few that "were not too rough just as a beginning."

Bombings and gunplay were what the visiting newspaper men were expecting and some of them frankly admitted they would be disappointed if they missed it. One careful reporter assigned to a political meeting last night left his watch and most of his money in his hotel, then took a taxi both ways to keep out of the possible line of fire.

Police Kept Busy

A telephone report from an excited woman reported trouble in a precinct on the south side and a squad of police was hurried there while from a precinct of the twenty-fourth came a report that the judges were busy marking ballots and placing them in the boxes themselves.

John Verdon, Thompson-Crowe candidate for state representative, was arrested on complaint of a Deneen watcher who said he was beaten by Verdon who had questioned his credentials.

One of the reported kidnapings fizzled out. Haffa, for whom his headquarters hunted all night in the belief he had been kidnaped, was found by a detective squad, asleep in a republican club in his ward.

Aristotle M. Collias, 47, a Lowden delegates candidate to the republican national convention from the eighth congressional district, was reported kidnaped as he stepped from his home today by seven men who faced him with pistols, forced him into an automobile and sped away.

AL GAMER INVITES HOTELMEN TO MEET

Al Gamer of Tacoma, official scoutmaster, who has been appointed by the Washington State Hotel association to make a trip to San Diego and return and visit with all the hotel men along the line, urging them to greet the Redwood Caravan that is going from San Francisco through to Vancouver, Washington, and at the same time is personally inviting all hotel men to attend the twentieth annual convention of the Washington State Hotel association, May 8 and 9, at Tacoma, was in Roseburg today meeting local hotel men. While here he enjoyed a visit with J. A. Harding, managing-owner of the Umpqua hotel, whom he knew when the latter lived in Washington. The Oregon State Hotel association will participate in the Washington meeting and it is likely that steps will be taken to develope a tri-state association of hotel men at the convention this year. The two-day program is to be filled with many constructive things and there are to be several prominent men as speakers, among them Henry Schupp, president of the Washington State Hotel association, Phil Metschan, president Oregon State Hotel association, and Mr. Luke S. May, criminologist of Seattle. Mr. Gamer is also a state director of the A. A. A. and a member of the executive committee representing Washington in the American Hotel association. He is traveling by auto southward visiting the various hotel owners and managers and leaving with them information on the convention.

BEWARE OF FAKE BOND SALESMEN, OREGON WARNED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., April 10.—The recent mulcting of Oregon citizens, particularly in Willamette Valley counties, by bond salesmen, who have skipped the country with good securities, dishonestly obtained, in their possession, caused Mark D. McCallister, state corporation commissioner, to send out a warning today to Oregon people to be on the alert against these agents.

A warrant for the arrest of at least one of the agents has been name is withheld from publication issued. Pending developments his tion.

Operations of the fake salesmen in Marion, Polk and Linn counties are cited in particular. From a Polk county citizen one of the salesmen obtained $6300 worth of stock of a reputable automobile concern and has skipped with the securities. He obtained them by making the holder believe he could sell them for him at a profit.

In a similar manner a Gervais man was relieved of several hundred dollars' worth of securities, while two operations in Linn county netted the salesmen $3500 and $1500 in good bonds, in both instances the salesman representing that he would sell them at a profit.

Another method is to exchange worthless stock for good bonds, which has been done in a number of instances, McCallister said today.

GREAT WARS OVER, HENRY FORD TELLS BRITISH PEOPLE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

LONDON, April 10. — Henry Ford has discovered a London garbage dump which has been burning for a thousand years or so and has set himself the task of working out some scheme by which these fires may be utilized. Incinerators may be installed and the heat used to create steam.

The dump about fifty acres in area, is near a Ford factory site at Dagenham, Essex, fifteen miles from London.

"This dump goes back to prehistoric times, I gather from a visit there," Mr. Ford said. "Those fires have been burning away, wasted absolutely there all these centuries. I would like to see them working for man."

Mr. Ford is greatly interested in England industrially speaking of world trade particularly with reference to automobiles he said for years he had regarded Great Britain as a natural base for supplying Europe and India with motor cars. The motor manufacturer said that the world was fed up with war and that there would be no more great wars. People have been educated in wars by the last war and they have concluded that wars do not pay.

FALL'S RELATIVE TESTIFIES ABOUT SINCLAIR BONDS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, April 10.—M. T. Everhart of Pueblo, Colorado, who transported $33,000 in Liberty bonds from Harry F. Sinclair to Albert B. Fall after the lease of Teapot Dome, was asked to tell his story today at Sinclair's trial for conspiracy.

Everhart, a son-in-law of Fall, testified that he and Fall decided in 1922 to sell a third interest in the ranch for $233,000 and Sinclair's name was mentioned as a possible buyer.

Everhart said that he borrowed the stock certificates from the Thatcher company, where they were deposited as collateral, and brought them to Washington to Fall in May, 1922.

After he arrived at Fall's office, Sinclair and J. W. Zevely, his counsel, came there and Everhart accompanied them to Sinclair's private car, where he received a package of bonds.

"I gave Secretary Fall these bonds," said Everhart slowly.

Government charges that Harry F. Sinclair had paid Albert B. Fall a total of $293,000 as bribes for oil leases and the assertion that the defense would show this money was paid in legitimate business deals, today were laid before the jury trying Sinclair by opposing counsel in the case.

The trial got under way with Owen J. Roberts, for the government, painting a black picture of conspiracy between Sinclair and Fall, and with a prolonged defense of the oil operator and the former secretary of the interior by Daniel Thew Wright, of the Sinclair legal staff.

Roberts said the $293,000 in four payments to Fall were made under "circumstances of secrecy and suspicion" which the jury would be unable to ignore.

GERMAN SWIMMER SEEMS LIKELY TO BREAK RECORD

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

HAMBURG, Germany, April 10.—Otto Kemmerich, German professional swimmer, who hopes to set a world racing swimming record of fifty hours, was swimming lustily at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at 43½ hours in the water.

He had long since broken the record of 32 hours set recently by Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemmel of New York at Miami Beach, Florida.

Kemmerich had been training Leo, a sea lion, to accompany him on his swim, but Leo went on strike and stubbornly refused to have anything to do with his master's swim.

1 lb. equals a GALLON of MILK

EVERY pound of Lilly's Calf Meal has as much feeding value as a gallon of whole milk for calf feeding purposes.

it's cooked 3 hrs.

A convenient rule followed by most feeders of Lilly's Calf Meal, is to make the gruel in that proportion. Simply add the necessary quantity of warm water (blood heat) and it's ready to feed. It doesn't have to be scalded or cooked before using—the factory takes care of that, and thoroughly, too, because it's dry cooked 3 hours, which makes it absolutely safe to use.

E. corner of Sec. 33, T. 25 S., R. 5 W.; and thence south to the place of beginning;

Which is infested with ground squirrels, or as soon as the presence of same shall come to his their or its knowledge, shall at once proceed and continue in good faith to exterminate and destroy such rodents by poisoning, trapping or other appropriate and effective means.

The following poison for the extermination and destruction of such ground squirrels is hereby recommended, to-wit: Strychnine (Alkaloid) used on either barley or wheat, (barley preferred), mixed according to the following formula and manner, to-wit:

Barley, clean grain 16 quarts; Strychnine (Alkaloid) 1 ounce; Bicarbonate of soda (baking soda) 1 ounce; thin starch paste ½ pint; heavy corn syrup ½ pint; glycerine 1 tablespoonful; Saccharine 1-10 ounce.

Mix thoroughly the ounce of powdered strychnine (Alkaloid) and 1 ounce common baking soda. Sift this into ½ pint of thin hot paste and stir to a smooth creamy mass. (The starch paste is made by dissolving 1 heaping tablespoonful of dry gloss starch in a little cold water, which is then added to ½ pint of boiling water. Boil and stir constantly until a clear thin paste is formed.) Add ½ pint heavy corn syrup and 1 tablespoonful of glycerine and stir thoroughly. Add 1-10 ounce of saccharine and stir thoroughly. Pour this mixture over sixteen quarts of clean barley and mix well so that each grain is coated.

From March 1st until May 31st is the most effective time to poison and destroy the digger squirrels as they have recently emerged from their hibernation and will take the bait readily.

The County Agent, cooperating with the County Court has a quantity of the poison bait prepared and same is now on sale to the farmers or persons interested at actual cost, and this bait may be had by applying at his office in the Federal Building, Roseburg, Oregon, or at other central points in each community.

If any person shall, within thirty (30) days from the first publication of this notice, fail to begin in good faith to exterminate, eradicate and destroy, according to the method aforesaid, or by any other effective means said ground squirrels herein designated, the County Court of Douglas County, Oregon, will appoint a person or persons to proceed with the extermination and eradication of such ground squirrels, and the cost thereof incurred will be assessed to such land, building, wharf or dock, and unless paid will become a lien against the same, for the extermination of said ground squirrels.

This notice is published pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided that publication shall be had for three consecutive issues, and all persons described therein are require to take notice thereof.

Dated and first published this 7th day of April, 1928.

BOY OF 10 DISAPPEARS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., April 10.—Juan Peterson, 10, son of Mrs. Sylvia Donaldson, formerly of Eugene, was being sought today by county officers who supposed that he had been sent to the children's home at Corvallis. The mother came here recently from Eugene seeking work and because of her circumstances Multnomah county juvenile court sent the boy to the Fraser home here. It then was discovered that the mother was a legal resident of Eugene, and the boy was ordered sent to the children's home at Corvallis. Mrs. Donaldson told the court today that her boy had not arrived there and that she could find no trace of him. Linn county officers were asked to investigate.

Cummings, of Portland. He lived at the home of the Edwards girl's mother. The sisters said that when Shelton retired he apparently was in good health.

Markets

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., April 10.—Butter prices are heading rapidly toward storage levels on coast markets with a decidedly weaker tone evident here following a further decline yesterday both for the churned product and for butterfat. Extras dropped half a cent to 39½c per pound and standards went a full cent lower to 39 cents. The drop in butterfat was more pronounced, with quotations two cents lower both in Portland and at shipping points with 43 cents offered here.

Weather conditions have brought pasturage conditions in this region close to normal and cream tonnage is increasing with corresponding increases in the daily make.

Storage of butter will likely start within the next two weeks, it is predicted. Eggs were higher today. Standard firsts jumped only half a cent to 21½c but medium extras rose 1½c and were quoted higher than standard firsts at 22½c per dozen. Other grades were unchanged.

On the poultry markets conditions were little changed today with demand running to heavy hens and broiler classes, of which supplies continued light, and rather large accumulation of Leghorn hens reported. Turkeys and capons were also scarce and in fair demand.

Country dressed meats were firm today with demand for lambs especially noticeable.
