You Like Puzzles. Then Here's a Good One More Fun Than a Cross Word Puzzle

THE PROBLEM

How many miles! How many hours! How far does the automobile travel in how many hours! Add the figures to get the miles and count the circle spots to get the hours. No trick or chance involved. Only patience and accuracy required in the solution of this problem. If you can do simple addition, you can figure out the amount of miles travelled by this automobile, and in how many hours, correctly. Circle spots consist of a period with a circle around it. Combined they are counted as one each; that is, count each period with its encompassing circle as one hour. Simply add them up to get the solution.

There are no marks, lines or characters in the automobile except figures and circle spots. The figures range from 2 to 9 each standing alone. There are no groups of figures such as "23" or "42." The heads of the 6s are distinctly carred while the tails of the 9's are straight or practically so. No trick or chance involved.

DECIDING TIES—IF ANY

In case of tie those tied for any prize will be presented with a second puzzle which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum.

Yes, sir! $1,800.00 may be won in this unique competition and prizes will be awarded promptly after May 10, 1928. You can win as much as a Falcon Knight Coach, value $1,200.00.

Free charts mailed on request. Send your answer on a sheet of paper with your name and address and we will at once mail you a splendid illustrated prize list describing the prizes and giving you full information and rules. HOOVER FACING TEST AGAINST FAVORITE SON

Senator James Watson Will Be Endorsement Rival in Indiana Race.

DELEGATES TOTAL 33

Six Candidates for U. S. Senator and Eighteen for Governor in Hot Contests.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

INDIANAPOLIS, April 13.—With the death of United States Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio the Indiana presidential preference primary on May 8 will offer the first clear-cut test of strength between Herbert Hoover and an opponent in the embroiled race for the republican presidential nomination.

Had Willis not died the test would have come in Ohio, for the secretary of commerce had entered the Buckeye primary too in an attempt to wrest delegates from a favorite son.

United States Senator James E. Watson, Hoosier David Harum of politics, with an admitted grip on the home folks, is Hoover's opponent for Indiana's 33 delegates, and he has carried on a campaign in vigorous fashion.

National issues in Indiana have trooped across the stage against a backdrop of spectacular scenery set up by one of the hottest primary campaigns in Hoosier history.

The primary offers the first popular expression since the recent turbulence in Indiana politics, marked by indictments of public officials and charges of widespread corruption.

Klan Issue Figures

The Ku Klux Klan has been a factor, especially since the latest statements of D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana Klan head. From his life cell Stephenson has bared, he says, the true story of Klan efforts to control public officials.

"Stephensonism" is a term that has been coined by democrats to characterize the republican regime.

The democratic national picture, to all appearances, is quiet and peaceful. There is no opposition to Evans Woollen, Indianapolis banker and candidate for the presidential nomination. Thomas Taggart, Woollen's sponsor and a shrewd political sage, has declared that Woollen will be no second choice at the national convention.

Six for U. S. Senator

United States Senator Arthur R. Robinson, seeking renomination on the republican ticket, faces two opponents—Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom and Solon J. Carter. Gilliom has crusaded against the Anti-Saloon League and the Klan, and Carter is a younger republican, a world war veteran.

Democrats, confidently asserting that this is their "year of years" in Indiana, have placed three candidates in the field for the senatorial nomination—Albert Stump, Walter Myers and L. William Curry, all Indianapolis attorneys.

Ten republicans and eight democrats seek the gubernatorial nomination, and the crowding for places goes on down through the state ticket.

MEMORY RETURNS TO CIVIL WAR VET AFTER 62 YEARS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

OWATONNA, Minn., April 19.—For 63 years Leopold Newsart, 86, lived in the shadows of forgetfulness.

He left the battle of Seven Pines in the Civil war with no knowledge of who he was.

Now he has been recognized officially as living, after the long span of years, and has received his first pension payment from the government.

Newsart's odessy through the valley of amnesia was an Enoch Arden tale of wandering.

Wounded in the battle of Seven Pines, he remembered nothing of his home in Dayton, Ohio. He took the name of "A. Louis," federal pension records show.

Two years ago he regained his memory, recalled his name and found relatives here. In the intervening time he had married and lived for 60 years in New Orleans, Texas and Oklahoma.

In 1926 a traveling salesman with whom he was talking mentioned Dayton, and the utterance of the word was the jolt that brought him back from his nameless existence.

He learned that his parents had died believing him dead. His wife, "Mrs. A. Louis," had died four years before. Investigators of the federal pension department found he had been honorably discharged from Civil war duty in 1862.

For the rest of his life Newsart will receive $72 a month pension, and a bill will be presented to congress to allow him back pension. It makes his home here now with a niece.

PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN MONDAY AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

W. R. Baird, pastor of the local Christian church, and Prof. I. N. Farris, pianist with the Scoville Evangelistic party, are to give a public entertainment at the auditorium of the new Christian church building next Monday evening. Rev. Baird is an exceptionally fine reader and has appeared as an entertainer before a number of the lodges and civic organizations of the city. His readings have been greatly appreciated wherever he has appeared and many who have heard him in these informal entertainments will be glad of an opportunity to hear him put on an evening of readings.

Prof. Farris is a musician of far more than ordinary ability. He has had many years of experience as a pipe organist and also as a pianist and served for many years as an instructor of music before becoming a member of the Scoville Evangelistic party. These two entertainers should put on a program that will prove unusually enjoyable.

They are to charge no admission but will take up an offering which will be used by Rev. Baird in furnishing and equipping his study in the new church building.
