The last several days of pleasurable spring weather have led to a revival of social interest. Much delightful entertaining has been interspersed throughout the past fortnight and there is evidence that the coming week will be lively with parties both large and informal.

This week has been a round of gay social functions from luncheons to dinners and several of the affairs have centered about interesting out-of-town visitors.

With the advent of the new month next Tuesday, crowded days are anticipated. Several important dates mark May as an outstanding month of late spring, among them: L. O. O. F. grand lodge, May 21, 22, 23 and 24, state convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs the 19th, 20th and 21st and the annual Strawberry Festival the 24th, 25th and 26th.

Three State Legion Auxiliary Officers to Visit Here Monday

Three distinguished visitors who will be in Roseburg Monday as guests of Umpqua unit of the American Legion Auxiliary are Mrs. Gerald Wilson, state president of the auxiliary of Astoria, Mrs. Wm. P. Kelley, state vice-president of Baker and Mrs. J. W. McIntruff, state secretary of Marshfield. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Kelley are driving here from Eastern Oregon and will meet Mrs. McIntruff in Roseburg.

Mrs. H. C. Church, president of Umpqua unit, Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly, secretary, and Mrs. Clair K. Allen, junior past president, with other officers and members of the unit will receive the visitors.

The three state officers are meeting with the local auxiliary to talk over state convention matters and other affairs pertaining to auxiliary work. Umpqua unit has been highly commended for its showing of membership, there being 234 paid up members in the auxiliary. The three officers will leave for other southern Oregon cities, stopping over in Grants Pass and thence going to Klamath, where they will install a new unit on Tuesday evening. May 1. They will visit with auxiliary members of the Medford unit and join plans for the state convention, which is to be held in that city on August 2, 3 and 4.

Returning northward the latter part of the week, the three officers will again stop in Roseburg, meeting Friday, May 4, with Umpqua unit. They will be entertained here by the members during the day, and in the evening.

At the regular meeting of Umpqua unit on Tuesday night plans will be made for the entertainment of the three officers on their return here later in the week.

Wimberlys Entertain With Luncheon for Visitors

Many of the delightful events of the week have been arranged to entertain Lieut. and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller of Honolulu, who are leaving tonight for Portland, and among them was the attractive luncheon Friday for which Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly entertained at their home.

The season's flowers in various arrangements, colored daisies, the yellow and at the table a low bowl of sweet peas and tulips formed a pretty centerpiece. Seated were Lieut. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Geo. Wharton, Patou Lou Wimberly, Carl E. Wimberly, Jr., Leland Wimberly and the hosts.

Wimberlys Entertain With Luncheon for Visitors

Mrs. T. P. Byram entertained April 18 with an attractive luncheon for seven guests, members of the New Idea Club and an additional guest, at her home at 733 East Douglas street.

Lilies formed the room decorations and following luncheon the group enjoyed the afternoon informally with chatting and sewing. Mrs. Ralph Buckingham, a visitor here from Vancouver, B. C., was a guest and the other ladies present were the Mesdames Evelyn Scott, G. E. Jones, V. B. Buckingham, Curtis Collins, R. H. Williams, F. A. Owens, P. A. Stewart, C. L. Mabley, C. E. Marks, D. E. Hendrickson and the hostess.

Large Reception for Honolulu Couple Is Lovely Affair of Season

Coming as quite the largest social affair of the spring season was the reception for Lieut. and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller of Honolulu from 10 to 11 o'clock Wednesday evening, the affair being given at the charming Chas. W. Wharton home by Mrs. Wharton, Mrs. S. L. Kidder and Mrs. J. E. Sawyer.

The rooms were a veritable garden of spring blooms. Tulips, lilies and other cut flowers were used throughout in decoration in lovely arrangements.

There were 150 guests invited to meet Lieut. and Mrs. Miller and they were admitted at the door by Mrs. J. F. Barker and Phyllis Ann Bolter.

Receiving with the three hostesses were Lieut. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. L. G. Broadway, Mrs. W. F. Chapman and Mrs. Nathan Fullerton assisted in the dining room and at the table from which punch and wafers were served during the calling hours.

Honolulu Visitors Entertained Monday Eve

A charming affair arranged for visitors this week was the dinner party in compliment to Lieut. and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller of Honolulu for which Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton were hosts at their home on Chadwick street Monday evening.

A low bowl of tulips in a variety of colors graced the center of the table, about which were seated Lieut. and Mrs. Miller, Mrs. W. R. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Kidder, Mr. M. E. Miller and the hosts.

Out of Town Folk Wed at Quiet Service at Home Mr. and Mrs. Orcutt

At a very quiet nuptial service at the hour of 3 o'clock last Saturday Miss Crystal Robinson of Cottage Grove and Mr. George Compton of Honolulu, California, were married, the ceremony being at the A. N. Orcutt home on Chadwick street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles White Fox of Corvallis were the only attendants and Rev. Joseph Knotts, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, officiated.

Dewey Day Dance Will Be Event of Interest on May 1

An anticipated event for May 1 is the Dewey Day Dance to be given under the auspices of George Starmer Camp No. 19, United Spanish War Veterans.

The armory is being reserved for the affair, which is to open at 8 o'clock. Special invitations are issued to lecturers. The affair is in honor of the memory of Rear Admiral Geo. Dewey.

Catholic Sewing Society Has Afternoon

With Mrs. T. H. Nees as hostess the Catholic Sewing Society met this week at the Parish hall of St. Joseph's Church and the members planned for the fall bazaar, an annual activity of the society, and for a rummage sale being held to day.

The afternoon was devoted to sewing and at the tea hour luncheon was served, there being twenty covers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hume Dinner Hosts for Visitors

A low bowl of marigolds in yellow tones formed a pretty color note at the exquisitely appointed table for the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hume Tuesday evening for the pleasure of Lieutenant and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller, visitors from Honolulu.

Seated about the table were Lieut. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harrie W. Booth, Miss Vera C. Rothers, Joanne Hume, Mr. M. M. Miller and the hosts.

An informal evening followed the dinner hour.

Mrs. R. Hutchings Entertains for Matron Leaving Soon for Kansas

Mrs. Roy Hutchings entertained a number of ladies at her home on Halsey street Wednesday afternoon. The occasion was a farewell party in honor of Mrs. Eva Davison who will soon leave for her home in Kansas.

The afternoon was spent in conversation and games were played. Mrs. Hutchings' home was a bower of lovely spring flowers and a dainty luncheon was served to seventeen ladies.

Mrs. Davison was presented with a beautiful myrtle wood vanity case as a souvenir of Oregon from her Oregon friends who wish her a pleasant journey.

Visitors Entertained at Country Club Sunday

Lieutenant and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller of Honolulu and Mr. M. E. Miller were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton Sunday afternoon and in the evening were entertained at a no-host dinner party at the Roseburg Country Club.

Flowers of the season brightened the dining room and one song table was placed for the guests, there being about 32 at the table.

Judge and Mrs. Geo. K. Quine had as their house guests last week-end Mrs. Quine's brother, Geo. R. Riddle, Mrs. Riddle, their daughter, Miss Florence Riddle, and Dr. Conn Durland of Grants Pass.

Visitors Entertained at Breakfast by Osborns

Among the attractive affairs arranged for the entertainment of Lieutenant and Mrs. Slaton M. Miller of Honolulu this week was a breakfast Wednesday for which Mr. and Mrs. Grant Osborn were hosts at the Banks apartments.

The table centerpiece was a low bowl of columbines and ferns.

Club and Added Guests Invited for Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. H. D. Harris received at her home this week for a luncheon to which the matrons of the Monday Bridge Club and two additional guests were bidden.

Tulips added a bit of color to the luncheon appointments and in the room. Bridge was the diversion for the afternoon hours and honors were held by Mrs. H. C. Waddell.

Mrs. Joseph A. Denn and Mrs. A. G. McAtena were guests and club members were Mrs. D. B. Bubar, Mrs. Ben C. Zigler, Mrs. H. C. Waddell, Mrs. Geo. A. Bradburn, Mrs. John Thorne, Mrs. A. D. Abbott and the hostess.

Mrs. Edw. G. Kohlhaugen Arranged Lovely Party

A setting effected with the use of spring flowers, tulips predominating, was used by Mrs. Edw. G. Kohlhaugen in her apartments for a lovely evening party Wednesday, which she invited a group of the younger matrons and maids.

Bridge formed the pleasure of the evening. Honors were held by Miss Fern Reymers and second prize was won by Mrs. Charles W. Fox of Corvallis. Guest prize was received by Mrs. H. L. McHenry of Portland.

Mrs. Maurice S. Newland assisted at the hostess at the luncheon tables at the close of the evening. Invited for the affair were the Mesdames Harrie W. Booth, Donald Hellwell, Keith Wright, Frederick Hartung, Maurice S. Newland, Dewitt Barnes, Charles W. Fox of Corvallis, Fred Lockwood, H. L. McHenry of Portland, Robert Keeffe, E. R. Kenny and Geo. M. Bradburn.

A no-host supper party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Bradburn on Sunday evening. There were covers for 11.

Marriage of Former Roseburg Maid and Oakland Man Made Known

An interesting bit of news to circles in Roseburg is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Jessie Pauline Clark, former Roseburg girl and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Clark of Oakland, Calif., to Mr. Clinton B. Perrett on Sunday, April 15.

The wedding was in Oakland, California. The bride was a popular member of the younger set while residing in Roseburg and attended school here. She later attended school in Portland and finished her education in Berkeley.

During the past year or so she has been employed as head in one of the departments of the Southern Pacific company in Oakland. Mrs. Perrett is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. Ingersoll of West Roseburg.

After spending a few days in the city visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. H. H. Stapleton, on Chadwick street, Miss Lenta Baumgartner returned mid-week to her home in Salem. Miss Baumgartner made her home here for several months a few years ago.

Central Circle of Aid Met at Luncheon

The members of the Central Circle of the First Methodist Episcopal church ladies aid were entertained Thursday at a pretty luncheon, which came as one of the week's enjoyable social affairs, the group being invited to Martin Place, the country home of Mrs. Geo. A. Bradburn. The committee assisting Mrs. Bradburn included Mrs. J. E. McClintock, Mrs. J. F. Dillard, Mrs. Paul Bubar and Mrs. Mary F. Harding.

Covers were placed at two large tables for twenty-six guests. Low bowls of deep red tulips centered the tables.

A meeting of the circle followed luncheon and the remainder of the time was spent with needlework.

Mrs. Maude Wright, a former Roseburg matron, now of Portland, holds the position of district deputy grand chief of the Pythian Sisters and under her direction an elaborate program was planned for the district convention of the lodge being held today in Portland. Mrs. Wright is the wife of Fred Wright. They left here to reside in Portland a number of years ago.

Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Sutherland Are Hostesses Honoring Visitor

For two of the spring season's charming social events which have made the past week particularly notable, Mrs. J. A. Harding and Mrs. A. G. Sutherland were hostesses, entertaining at luncheon on Tuesday and Wednesday at the Umpqua hotel, both affairs complimenting Mrs. Mary F. Harding, mother-in-law of Mrs. J. A. Harding, who is a visitor here from the east. The guest list for both afternoons included 61 women.

Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Sutherland and the honor guest received the guests in the cozy corner at the foot of the stairs in the hotel lobby which was made a pretty background with the use of palms.

In the dining room a spring motif in red and white was used in the appointments at the long table, which held a decoration of tulips and daisies with tall candelabra gracing each side of the arrangement. Tiny candles and tulip favors greeted each guest at her place.

Following the luncheon on both days the guests went to the attractive Harding home on Watson street. Here, profusions of lilies, callas, spiraea and iris and colorful California poppies were used in an effective setting.

Tuesday bridge and sewing were the diversions, with six tables in play. The guest prize was received by Mrs. Harding and honors were held by Mrs. Leon McClintock. Mrs. Bertha Parrott received the sewing prize.

Mrs. T. H. Ness and Mrs. Leon McClintock assisted in the rooms that afternoon.

For Wednesday seven tables of bridge were arranged and honors were held by Mrs. Joseph A. Denn. The honoree received the guest prize.

Assisting the two hostesses, the second day were Mrs. Clair K. Allen and Mrs. A. D. Abbott.

Mrs. Hartung and Mrs. Whipple Give Shower for Matron

Profusions of spring blooms, lilies, tulips and baby roses predominating, made a colorful setting at the Frederick R. Hartung home in Laurelwood for a pretty affair of the spring arranged by Mrs. Hartung and Mrs. Hugh Whipple last Saturday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Clyde Carstens.

Eighteen guests were asked for the affair which took the form of a shower for the honoree and sewing occupied the afternoon hours. Afterward the presentation of gifts was made.

Seated at the luncheon tables which were appointed in keeping with the room decorations were Mrs. Clyde Carstens, Mrs. Frank Hill, Mrs. Harrie W. Booth, Mrs. G. S. Heilme, Mrs. Leo A. Wells, Mrs. W. A. Carsterg, Mrs. Joseph A. Denn, Mrs. Frank Monroe, Mrs. C. D. Fies, Mrs. Helen Ferguson, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, Mrs. A. D. Abbott, Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. T. H. Ness, Mrs. D. H. Morgan, Mrs. A. J. Lilburn, Mrs. Frank Bettes, Miss Gladys Carstens and the hostess.

Mrs. Ingles Is Club Hostess

The ladies of the Roseburg Art and Embroidery club and four additional guests were entertained by Mrs. L. W. Ingles at 720 Winchester street April 18, the guests spending the afternoon with needlework. A business meeting was followed by luncheon. Mrs. Ingles and her guests were used in the room decorations.

Mrs. Verne Monomith of Portland, Mrs. Homer Kronke, Mrs. Carl Murphy and Miss Laura Kronke, were club guests and members enjoying Mrs. Ingles' hospitality were the Mesdames E. Rhoades, Henry Snyder, Wm. Carstens, Earl Parker, W. Stubbinsfield, A. Neal, Homer Palm, Carl Palm, J. B. Stephenson, H. Worthington, Chas. H. Hoffmeister, Earl Decker and the hostess.

Mrs. Wm. Carstens will entertain for the group at her home at 417 Second avenue south May 2.

Girls' Club Sponsoring May Day Celebration This Afternoon

The celebration of May Day is being made with a frolic planned by the Girls' Club of senior high school for the girls of the school and their mothers this afternoon at the school. The event, the first of its kind to be attempted by the club, will have several unique features and will be entirely an out-of-door affair.

Miss Shirley Knight, selected the May Queen, will preside during the afternoon's festivities and has several attendants. Following the queen's procession from the school building to the athletic field, where the throne has been placed, will be the crowning of her majesty, Mrs. B. E. Larson, Girls' club adviser, presiding over the ceremony.

A Maypole dance will follow in which several girls in costume will take part. After the program and stunts a social hour and picnic lunch will be enjoyed.

Surprise Affair Given for Mrs. Armstrong

A pleasurable spring party given recently was the surprise affair in compliment to Mrs. Lulu Armstrong at her home Saturday, the affair being arranged by a group of her friends.

Flowers made a bit of color in the rooms and games were followed by refreshments. The guest list included Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. H. McLaughlin, Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. F. Kent, Mrs. T. Blevens, Mrs. C. Heister, Mrs. C. Andrews, Mrs. E. Stewig, Mrs. T. Minkin, Mrs. Tessie Jones, the Mesdames Hildred McLaughlin, Verla McLaughlin, Leola Kent, June Kent, Lois Heister, Ethel Stone, Rota Stone, Goldie Minkin, Mrs. Minkin, Lily Armstrong and Dolis McLaughlin, Leslie Heister, Dallas Heister, Raymond Andrews, James Minkin and Gordon Armstrong.

Business Women Will Have May Frolic Next Week

Taking the place of the annual May Day Festival will be the May Frolic arranged by the Business and Professional Women's club of Roseburg for members May 4 in the evening at the home of Mrs. Jim Clark in Riverside.

The guests will be received at 7:30 o'clock at the Clark home and the affair will be under the direction of Miss Elvan Strader, general chairman.

Mrs. Evelyn Brun is in charge of transportation and cars will leave the Bond hotel at Cass street at 7:15 p. m. for the scene of the frolic.

Miss Gertrude Bass is chairman of the refreshment committee. Initiation of new members will be one of the events planned for the evening and a program of music and stunts will follow.

DEBS INTERPRET THE MODE

"Miss Eighteen," Says Patou, Finds Simplicity in Both Cut and Material Is Essential Quality of Her Spring Wardrobe

Nonchalantly simple—a blue and white checked taffeta frock with basiate vestee, by Jean Patou.

BY JEAN PATOU For NEA Service.

PARIS, April 28.—There is no one who chooses a dress more deliberately than the girl of 18. She is very hard to please but when she does see something she likes I feel amply rewarded for the time and energy I may have spent with her by her evident pleasure.

Every creator has experienced that difficulty of expressing a simplicity which does not assume a ready-made appearance and is at the same time becoming. Moreover, only a young girl can accentuate or render ridicule to a garment which is unbecoming in her. I mean by that that the slightest exaggeration in her dress is as apparent as her exaggerated enthusiasm.

Attractive Contrast

On the other hand, no more charming interpreter of the mode and its whims can be found than the girl between 18 and 26, when she is on the brink of womanhood and has lost her boyish appearance. She is distinguished, feminine and no longer attractive contrast can be found than a frock made of some old-fashioned material like taffetas or moire worn by a debutante.

Simplicity is an essential quality for the "jeune fille." The sports frocks of the moment are well suited to her, as far as her requirements for the early part of the day are concerned. Her afternoon frocks also should be extremely simple both in cut and material and always should include some sort of lingerie trimming.

The Eton type of collar with a lace tie or the round collar and deep cuffs to match, although rather or boyish of aspect, are made feminine by the materials used and are synonymous with youth. This type of accessory, needless to say, would be "deplace" on a young matron.

For Summer Wear

The most charming young girls' dresses always are those made of plain material, or else with a design at the same time naïf and carefully studied.

Ten years ago I was a great partisan of organdie for summer wear at country or seaside resorts. They undoubtedly looked most effective when worn by a young girl. Modern conditions, however, are such that an organdie dress seems quite out of place and incompatible with the vigorous sort of life which she leads nowadays.

For an evening dress I think nothing is more becoming to a girl in her teens than a dress of the "period" style in tulle. There are several in my present collection and my preference goes to either a plain color or a graded effect.

Simplicity in Hats

There is another point, the choice of a hat. Here again the utmost simplicity must be the first quality of any hat, for any occasion. A too-heavy or too-sophisticated hat is enough to spoil the most simple ensemble. This applies to all accessories which are called upon to complete the modern girl's wardrobe, and as regards jewelry in particular.

Generally speaking, I do not like to see a girl wearing jewels of any sort, because when she does they are generally too showy, too obtrusive. The most charming and well-dressed girls I know wear no jewels at all, or so few that I never have been conscious of them.

Smartly "under 20" is the Eton collar and cuff idea worked out in lace and organdie on a black flat crepe frock.
