ROSEBURG, OREGON, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1928.

DISAPPOINTED AGAIN

Prospects for completion of the North Umpqua highway this year seem to have gone glimmering with the failure of Congressman Hawley, in spite of his "commanding" and "influential" position as head of the ways and means committee, to secure the passage of his special appropriation bill of $300,000 for closing the 22-mile gap between Steamboat creek and Big Camas. The bill went through the senate, as Mr. Hawley promptly informed us by wire, but it was sidetracked in the chaotic finale of the house session in spite of a forceful argument in its behalf by Representative Sinnott. We are not advised by Mr. Hawley why he failed to put the bill over, but a press dispatch gives as the reason that it was not referred to the proper committee at the right time. As to who is to blame for this, the reader may use his own judgment. It was freely predicted that once Mr. Hawley was nominated at the primary for re-election, his efforts on behalf of the bill would be less diligent and that its passage should not be expected. While this paper refrained from joining in that prediction, it exercised sufficient caution at the time the senate passed the bill to advise the withholding of felicitations until the bill should meet with like favor in the house and ultimately go into effect. The soundness of that advice has been shown by the disappointing result. Whether or not that result also verifies the prediction on part of some as to Mr. Hawley's alleged post-primary indifference, we leave to other minds. In justice to Mr. Hawley, he should be given a chance to explain, but whatever the explanation it cannot banish the chagrin that is felt locally at the realization that still another year will probably go by without completion of the great scenic highway to Diamond lake that would mean many thousands of dollars annually to this city. Faint rays of hope for aid this year emanate from two other bills providing for federal aid for road building and which became laws at the session of congress which closed this week. One was the Oddie-Colton measure passed over the president's veto and which carries an appropriation of $3,500,000 annually for the next three years "to build highway through public lands, without the usual requirement of contribution of half the cost by the state." The other measure, signed by the president, authorizes a continuance of federal aid for highways, under which Oregon will receive $2,500,000 a year during the next two years. The latter bill specifically provides for roads, trails and other improvements in the national forests for recreational and development purposes. It is probable that one or both bills may permit of some aid to the North Umpqua highway project during the present year, but as Representative Sinnott pointed out in his speech to congress, money allotted to and spent by the forest service would permit only of piecemeal construction at irregular intervals, whereas the lump sum specified in the Hawley bill would have allowed the road's completion this year. Well, we didn't get the money. What sum, if any, will we get from the two road bills that did go through, and just how strong will be Mr. Hawley's assurance that he will secure a big enough appropriation at the full session of congress to finish the job? While we ponder these questions we can as usual take due notice of the regular press items that Diamond lake, Douglas county, is now again open to seasonal travel from the "gateways" of Medford and Klamath Falls.

Three Roseburg Students Members of Graduating Class at Oregon State Agricultural College

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, May 31—Roseburg is represented by three students—Helen Churchill, Dorothy G. Lewis, and Dale Smith—in the graduating class of 1928 which totals more than 500. They will receive their degrees at the annual commencement exercises June 4. The graduating class is composed of those who have "survived" four years of rigorous work during which their scholarship had to be kept high to meet the requirements here. The college does not grant a degree to one whose average is less than C even though he may have accumulated sufficient credits.

Miss Churchill and Miss Lewis have earned their degrees of bachelor of science in home economics. This is one of the largest schools in the college and has 65 graduates in this year's class. Work in this school is divided into two groups of studies, one to fit the student for professional work after graduation and the other for the profession of home making and related fields. They have had work in the department of clothing, textiles and related arts; foods

Although the Army No. 3 came down in flames, it settled slowly and Lieut. Ent, the aide, said his basket came to rest neatly on the ground.

Ent was able to carry his pilot's body clear of the burning wreckage. He said that Lieut. Evert was killed by the lightning bolt while they still were high in the clouds.

BRITISH STEAMER HITS ROCKS, SINKS

(Associated Press London Wire)

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, May 31.—The British steamship Granston, from Vancouver to Antwerp with wheat, struck a submerged rock west of St. Thomas last night and later sank in seven fathoms after an unsuccessful effort by the station ship U. S. S. Grebe to tow her into port.

The captain and the crew of the Granston were rescued by the Grebe and were brought here.

The Granston, 4,411 tons net, left Vancouver on May 6.

LARGE CROWDS AT REVIVAL HELD BY "LITTLE MINISTER"

Large crowds are gathering at the Bible Standard Temple, to hear "The Little Minister." Last night his subject was "Looking on the Son." It was a masterpiece, deep, earnest, and vital with eternal life.

People were amused to hear a boy say: "That boy sure knows his onions!" His boyish remark expressed the sentiment of the crowd, who were delighted with the beautiful simplicity of Richard's sermon.

He made three definite points in his sermon: "Looking, Learning, Living." It was full of interesting stories and quotations.

Richard is delighted with Roseburg because one can swim in the river and go out in the country on ranches to play. The two Hendrick boys saw cows milked for the first time and had the privilege of drinking warm milk.

Tonight Richard's subject will be "Choose Ye This Day Whom Ye Will Serve."

Miss Hazel Hendrick, Richard's mother, will speak at an afternoon meeting at 2:30. Her subject will be "Keep the Home Fires Burning." At 3:30 she will speak to girls. Friday afternoon at 3:30 she will tell the story of Richard's life. All are invited.—Correspondent.

BALL SCORES IN MAJOR LEAGUES

(By the Associated Press)

Twelve major league teams were on edge today for get-away skirmishes to clear the decks for the season's second stage of inter-continental warfare, scheduled to begin at some points along the baseball coast as early as tomorrow. The Reds and the Cubs already were on their way east, while the Giants and the Robins lay idle, awaiting a brief resumption of their intra-city strife at the Polo grounds tomorrow.

Six teams won twice yesterday. The Reds nicked the Cubs twice only by showing the greatest competitive spirit. There was a 6 to 0 victory over Charlie Root in the morning behind the fine pitching of the veteran Eppa Rhee.

In the afternoon Ford's single in the tenth provided the winning margin in a 3-1 victory, set the Reds east with a lead of three full games.

The crippled Pirates sagged low-and nutrition, and household administration, institution economics education. They have also spent six weeks in the home management "practice" house where with a few other girls, they had full charge of the house including care of a small baby.

Miss Lewis was a member of the college orchestra, the women's athletic association, and the Y. W. C. A. and was assistant manager of the Y. W. C. A. bazaar this year.

Miss Churchill is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, social sorority; and was a member of the pan-hellenic council her third and fourth year.

Mr. Smith earned his degree of bachelor of science in commerce. This is the largest school in the college and is organized to afford work in the various branches such as accounting and management, advertising and selling, banking and finance, markets and marketing, agricultural economics, political science, real estate and secretarial training. He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi, social fraternity, and during his junior year was a member of the Co-operative managers association.

er into the second division after the Cards scored victories, 10 to 1 and 4 to 3.

The Boston Braves walloped the Phillies 5 to 3 and 11 to 5. The Giants rolled the Robins over 9 to 1 in the morning. The score was tied at 2 to 2 in the afternoon when it rained.

Washington defeated the Yanks 6 to 0. Garland Braxton, a Yankee catcher, held the Huguenots to three hits, while the Senators made merry with Young Al Shealy.

In the afternoon the Yanks started to make amends by pounding Horace Lizenbee for seven runs in less than two innings, but rain ended the contest.

By defeating the Red Sox, 8 to 2 and 9 to 2, the Athletics gained one and one-half games on the Yankees, but remained seven games to the rear. Ty Cobb was again out of the lineup with nervous indigestion.

Detroit cleaned up two games on the faltering Indians, the afternoon engagement in twelve innings. The scores were 4 to 3 and 6 to 5.

The Braves won both ends of an afternoon double header from the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 1 and 5 to 2. The veteran Red Faber pitched a good game in the opener, but lost to Ogden.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE GAMES

(By the Associated Press)

The Stars got an even break on Memorial Day with Portland, winning the second contest, 8-2, chiefly because Smoed Jolley whacked out a pair of homers and a single, and because Dutch Reuther was unhittable in the pinches. The morning fray was all Carroll Verkes, the former Philadelphia southpaw, turning the Seals back, 5-1, although Hollis Thurston cracked him for four singles. Batteries: Mitchell and Sprinz; Verkes and Alsmith. Second game: Reuther and Sprinz; French, Ponder and Alsmith, Saunders.

Sacramento took one on the chin and dropped to within half a game of the second place Seals as Hollywood, out of her slump at last, punched her way to a pair of victories, 12-7, and 5-1. The Stars wrecking crew descended on Dave Keefe in the eighth inning of the first game with the count knotted a taweev all and when the Soion hurler finally retired the side, five runs had been scored.

The second fray went one inning over the scheduled seven before the Stars, pushed over by the winning current. Batteries: Vuel, Singleton, Keefe and Koehler; Shoenbeck, Patterson and Bassler; Agnew. Second game: Flynn, Rachac and Severeid; Koehler; Huvey, Mucaby and Agnew, Bassler.

Los Angeles and Seattle divided a pair of close battles, each winning one by the same score, 4-3. Knight weakened in the seventh frame of the curtain raiser and the Angels sewed up the contest with a three run rally. Hal Colhard had the better of Wayne Wright, the eminent dental surgeon, in the final. Batteries: Bartlett and Hannah; Knight and Parker.

A sterling mound performance by Howard Craighead and Gordon Slade's error on Caveny's grounder cost the Missions a double defeat in the Memorial Day program with the Oaks, by scores of 5-0 and 3-2. Craighead's blinding speed in the morning fray kept the Mission's hits down to five. In the afternoon encounter, Slade kicked Caveny's blow with the count tied in the tenth, and Jimmy subequently scooped home, with the winning run. Batteries: Craighead and Read; Davenport, Holling and Whitney. Second game: Dumovich, Daglia and Read, Lombardi; Pillette and Baldwin.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAI COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNUCK

The stone path led 'way up a hill. Two tinymites soon got tired of walking, and wee Clowdy said, "Say, now far must we go? I am as tired as I can be. I'm getting woomy at the knee. It really would be easier, if we would travel slow."

"My, my," exclaimed the Happy Man. "I walk as slowly as I can. Brace up, and keep on plugging. We will very soon be there. I think you all should realize that walking is an exercise. Why, if I had to walk ten miles a day I wouldn't care."

However, he slowed down a bit, and soon the bunch were feeling fit. "Ah, look ahead," cried Clowdy, "that's your little home, I'll bet." "You're right, it is," the man replied, "and we will shortly be inside. And there we'll find a lot of things that you are going to get."

The house was quite a funny sight. It didn't seem to stand up right. It looks like it is going to fall," said Carry with a grin. "Oh, it's as safe as it can be," the man replied. "You'll shortly see." And, as he opened up the door, the Tinies walked right in.

Right on a table, piled up neat, the bunch saw lots of things to eat. A lot of cans of real nice fruit, and heaps of crackers, too. The Happy Man said, "Here's a bag that one of you will have to drag. I'm going to put these things inside, and give them all to you."

"Oh, thank you! Thank you!" Copy said. And then the fat man went ahead and filled the burlap sack up full. "How great!" we Copy roared. Then Clowdy grabbed the bulging sack and swung it upon his back. They heaped
