ROSEBURG, OREGON, FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1928.

A BOOSTER'S LAMENT

For the privilege of providing Roseburg and its hundreds of guests with entertainment in the form of the annual strawberry carnival, the public-spirited organization of Umpqua Chiefs now finds its financial balance in the same coil as the strawberry—red. Originally about $575, the amount was reduced $250 by the generous contribution of their efficient co-workers, the Umpqua Squaws, who gave up all the profits netted from their operation of refreshment booths. The unpleasant fact remains that the balance of the deficit will have to come from the personal funds of the Chiefs, as their organization does not function for money-making purposes, as some individuals fatuously believe—and publicly declare. It is far from a fair deal for the Chiefs to be compelled to shoulder all of the indebtedness. Theirs is not a profit-seeking body; their sole aim is to promote the industrial and social welfare of their home city, without pecuniary remuneration, and in carrying out such work they are at least entitled to immunity from the hazard of personal financial loss. That they committed an error in judgment in planning the $800 fireworks exhibition, well worth the $1.00 admission requested but which yielded a gate of only $300, is not to their discredit. They wanted to provide the city with a first class attraction which they felt would be sufficiently patronized to pay for itself and the failure in the latter respect reflects only on those who felt that a dollar was too much to contribute to aiding a cause for their home city, but whose appreciation of the pyrotechnic display was attested nevertheless by viewing it from nearby elevations. As a rule people see so many good things at a carnival free of cost that they come to regard as wholly undeserving an admission price for any meritorious exhibition, especially if it is staged by a home organization. Many of them have come to look upon it as their natural right to be liberally entertained at somebody else's expense. Probably they will banish that idea when May, 1929, rolls around with no carnival in sight. The prospect of meeting deficits from personal funds to entertain the general public is not one that appeals to the members of any organization, and unless there is some revision in methods of financing we may find it difficult to promote a carnival next year.

NEW ENGLAND'S COMPENSATION

A century ago New England was the great manufacturing section of the United States. In recent years other sections have risen as competitors, aided by natural advantages New England lacks. A number of New Englanders have felt rather pessimistic about the future. But there is a silver lining to the cloud. The American Automobile association estimates that more than 2,000,000 motorists will visit New England this summer, spending in that section fully $150,000,000. This is a lot of money—enough to make up for a sizable industrial slump. What the automobile association might well have added is that the visitors will get their money's worth. There is no other part of the country any richer in scenic and historic values than New England. It deserves to be a vacation spot of the first magnitude.

Other Presidential Elections—1880

The republican party feared that it was losing its hold on the electorate, when it met in national convention in 1880 at Chicago, June 2-8, and it deliberated carefully in selection of a nominee. As a compromise between James G. Blaine, John Sherman and other seekers of the nomination, none of whom could muster a majority of votes, the convention selected James A. Garfield of Ohio for president. Chester A. Arthur of New York was named for vice president. The democratic convention met at Cincinnati, June 22-24, and nominated for president Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock of Pennsylvania, who had served with distinction in the Union Army. William H. English of Indiana was nominated for vice president. The platform condemned the method of deciding the previous election. In the republican convention General Grant had a formidable array of delegates, but popular as he was, opposition to a third term was too strong to permit his nomination. Blaine was cast the nomination by a feud with Senators Roscoe Conkling and Platt, which was to contribute to his defeat when he won the nomination four years later. Garfield and Arthur were elected, the latter to become president upon Garfield's assassination at Washington, July 2, 1881.

EMANUEL TAKES COUNT OF 9 THEN DEFEATS M'TIGUE

(Associated Press Local Wire) NEW YORK, June 8.—There's still plenty of life in the body of Mike McTigue, the ancient mariner of the tight racket, plenty of life in his right hand, and plenty of life in his mind. He showed it today by matter under his thinning thatch. For the benefit of Armand Emanuel, latest light heavyweight sensation from San Francisco, Mike proved all that last night in Madison Square Garden. Although he lost the decision in 10 rounds to the clever, strong youngster who fought him a draw several weeks ago, Mike thrilled 8,000 customers with a stirring display of ringmanship and punching power for a count of nine in the first round. Before the bout was well under way Mike coaxed Armand into heading with his chin. The old one promptly hung a right on it that deposited Armand for a count of nine. Thereafter Emanuel was careful, watchful of that right, and Mike took full advantage. But the legs that have carried Mike into ring battles for almost 20 years tired as the pace grew hot. Emanuel, with a two pound advantage over McTigue at 177, rallied after the first round to win the next five. Mike battered his way to an edge in the next three, but lost all chance of victory when Emanuel rocked him about the ring in the final session.

BROOKLYN AND PITTSBURGH BALL PLAYERS TRADED

(Associated Press Local Wire) PITTSBURGH, June 8.—The Pittsburgh Nationals today announced a trade with Brooklyn, by which Johnny Gooch, catcher, and the veteran first baseman, Joe Harris, will go to the Robins in exchange for Charley Hargreaves, catcher.

BALL SCORES IN MAJOR LEAGUES

(Associated Press Local Wire) ROUTED BY Brooklyn riders, the Cincinnati Reds today found most of the National League pick yelping uncomfortably close upon their heels. Old Bill Doak, who gave up baseball to dabble in real estate and then decided it was a mistake, pitched the Dodgers to a sensational 11-inning, 1 to 0 victory over the Reds at Brooklyn yesterday. Meanwhile the New York Giants nosed out the St. Louis Cards, 4 to 3, at the Polo grounds and moved up to within a game and a half of the league leaders. Pete Scott's home run a single by Sperry Adams and Lloyd Waner's double gave the Pittsburgh Pirates two runs in the twelfth inning and an 8 to 6 triumph over the Boston Braves. Five home runs were made: Scott setting two, the others going to Hornaby, Barnhart and Taylor. The Philadelphia Nationals broke their nine game losing streak at the expense of the Chicago Cubs. Iva Bengtson turned in a 4 to 2, sixth victory. Hank Wilson hit his tenth homer of the season and went into a tie with Dol Bissonette of Brooklyn for league leadership. The New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to 10 full games by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 2. Babe Ruth hit his 20th homer of the season and Lon Gehrig hit his 12th. Alvin Crowder allowed but four hits as the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at St. Louis, 4 to 1. Ty Cobb fanned thrice. The Boston Red Sox found Green Carroll in Boston and Detroit took a 5 to 2 win at Navin Field. Chicago fell into last place in

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY MACK

"Oh, my, oh, my, I'd rather drift," said Clowey. "This is much too swift. I fear our boat will hit a rock. Just see how fast we go. The water's rushing all around. I only wish we'd run around. Let's try and drag our paddle so's to make it travel slow." And though they tried it, 'twas in vain. More speed the houseboat seemed to gain. It whirled around, laid tossing waves and sometimes seemed to jump. "Wouldn't it be left and then to right, which gave the Tinties quite a fright. And then they'd all get jolted when 'twould smack a wave kerbump!" Soon scouty, too, grew rather scared, and with a puzzled look he stared. "I fear that this will 'bat for quite a time. I know I'm right, 'cause no calm water is in sight. It makes things look real dangerous as rocks go sailing past." Just then, however, came a thrill. The boat shook twice, and then stopped still. "We're struck," exclaimed wee Copsy. "In some rocks our house is caught. Come on, let's get it out of here, or it will break apart, I fear. And, anyway, if we stop now, our trip will come to naught."

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

They pushed and pushed, but did no good. Then Copsy said, "I guess I should get right down in the water. That may help. We soon shall see." The other Tinties saw the standing when the Sox bowed to Washington and E. Macky Harris returned to the lineup.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE GAMES

(Associated Press Local Wire) Carroll Yerkes added eight Angels to his tallont list and another game yesterday to his win column as he pitched Portland out of the collar with an 8-4 victory over Los Angeles. The Beavers sewed up the game in the seventh when they counted four times off Gable. Batteries: Weatherly, Gable, and Hannah, Sandberg, Yerkes and Almsmith. Sacramento slapped Speed Martin off the mound in the second inning, scoring five runs, but could not get the semblance of a score off his successors, Nelson and Davenport. Meanwhile the Missions kept pecking away at Earl Kunz and Fudge Gould until they tied the count in the ninth and finally won in the 12th, 6-5. Batteries: Kunz, Gould and Severid; Martin, Nelson, Davenport and Baldwin. Led by Caveney with five hits in five times at the plate, and Governor, with four in five, Oakland smashed his way to a 7-4 win over Hollywood, the first of the series. Hasty kept 10 Hollywood hits effectively scatte r e d. Batteries: Hasty and Read; Fullerton, Maloney, Donnelly and Baseler. Walter Malis, aided and abetted by eight other Seals, shoved Seattle back into the cellar once more before one of the biggest week day crowds in the Indians' history. The eccentric left hander not only held the tribe to two runs, but started what proved to be the winning rally with a double. The final count was 3-2. Batteries: Malis and Sprinz; Graham, Bryan and Schmidt.
