ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1928.

WELCOME, THRICE WELCOME, G. A. R.!

Sixty-three years after the close of the internal strife in which they so gallantly participated to preserve the union, veterans of the Civil War, department of Oregon, together with affiliated bodies, have assembled in Roseburg for their forty-seventh annual reunion. The significant prediction of one veteran that this will probabaly be the last rally of the boys of '61-'65 reminds us unpleasantly that time has taken heavy toll from their ranks and that within a few years hence very few, if any, will be living. A better idea of how rapidly the veterans of the Civil War are answering the final roll call is gleaned from the official announcement that in March last the number of pensioners from that war in various parts of the world totalled 79,300, as against the highest mark of 745,822, in the year 1898. Every surviving pensioner is now over 80 years of age. That nearly 80,000 of them are still with us attests the sturdiness of the men who offered their lives at Gettysburg, Shiloh, Antietam, The Wilderness and on scores of other bloody fields and on the ocean. The few that are still left to us, in the winter of life, are richly entitled to all the financial aid extended to them by a grateful government and to the maximum of personal comfort accorded either by loving kin or in well-directed institutions. If this is to be the last of their state reunions—a prediction which we hope proves erroneous—it is fitting that it be held in the city where the state maintains a home for their care in their declining days. And Roseburg should take special pains to see that nothing is lacking to make the visiting veterans thoroughly comfortable during their stay. Little is left to them save the memories bitter and sweet of a lifetime of useful service and varied experiences. It would be to Roseburg's everlasting credit to make the stay of the old soldiers here of such a nature that it would make another entry in their mental record of pleasant recollections. It must not be otherwise and we are sure it won't be. Let there be "flowers to the living" in the forms of both word and deed and given without stint to these snowy haired veterans who have so greatly honored us with their presence.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

BY BERT G. BATES

It's gittin' so
A feller can't
Buy a corn plaster
Without bein'
Suspected of Ownin' a still.

✣ ✣ ✣

A coupla G. A. R. fellers were under suspicion this a. m., until the bulge on their hips turned out to be cans of snoos.

✣ ✣ ✣

The mail carriers have changed unies this week as they don't want any of the old vets to mistake 'em fer Confederate soldiers and take a pot shot at 'em.

✣ ✣ ✣

The pleecz car was noticed goin' up the back St. yestiddy and the tires were dern near good as new.

✣ ✣ ✣

We understand the city council will buy a coupla bicycles fer their local sleuths.

✣ ✣ ✣

Each bicycle will be equipped with holsters fer pick and shovels and a sniff extender. The sniff extender is a long hose which fits onto the nose and can be run down the sewers to dectect the odor of hominy.

✣ ✣ ✣

Hats off to the G. A. R. and their wonderful wives! We're mighty proud to be host to such a distinguished gatherin' this week.

✣ ✣ ✣

The whoopin' of the democrats down Houston way can be heard above the squawks and squeals of the radio.

✣ ✣ ✣

The Boy Scouts were out on the main drag all togged out in their unies today and they looked mighty fine. These lads deserve a great deal of credit for the fine service they render to their home town. At every convention or public gathering they offer their services and "do a good turn daily." It would be well for all of us to live up to the Scout Oath.

✣ ✣ ✣

The Eugene American Legion fellers will bring their drum corps down Thursday to advertise their July 4th celebration. With the G. A. R. drum corps rarin' to go and both the Eugene and Roseburg corps slamin' the hoss hides we predict a good business fer the ear specialists on Friday.

✣ ✣ ✣

Well folks, don't forget to tell the ol' boys that you're glad they're here.

BALL SCORES IN MAJOR LEAGUES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

A second division berth looms for the Cincinnati Reds unless Jack Hendricks can pull his faltering crew together within the next few days. The Reds lost ground they all could afford yesterday when the Cardinals steamroller crunched its way to a 5 to 2 triumph in 11 innings.

Incidentally it was the Cards' 21st victory in the last 27 games.

While the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates were idle, the New York Giants moved into undisputed possession of second place with a double win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and 8 to 2.

The Dodgers hit Ben Cantwell hard and chalked up their fourth straight victory at the expense of the Boston Braves, 9 to 3.

The Washington Senators knocked off the Philadelphia Athletics twice at the Capital, 3 to 2 and 7 to 2.

The Tigers again moved into the cellar while Chicago was moving out when the Sox battered out an 8 to 6 victory at Detroit.

Morgan's home run, one of five hits during the game, gave the Cleveland Indians a 7 to 4 win over the Browns at St. Louis.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

Brave Scouty watched the monkeys eat. They thought the apples quite a treat. The other Tinies looked surprised, and stayed behind a tree. "Be careful now," one Tiny cried. "A monkey's right up by your side. If he should grab you, you'd get hurt. He's big as he can be."

"Oh, don't you worry," Scouty said, "they're always good, while being fed. "I'm sure the monkeys like me now, since I have been so kind. Why don't you all come over this way? Don't be afraid. You needn't stay behind that tree. Just run right out. The monkeys will not mind."

Then Clowny cried, "Come on! We're game." And, out the band of Tinies came. The monkeys squealed a little bit, but didn't start a fuss. As one took hold of Coppy's hand, wee Coppy said, "They understand that we're not going to hurt them. They are making friends with us."

And he was right. They all jumped 'round and very soon the Tinies found that all the monkeys knew fine tricks, that made the Tinies grin. Said Carpy, "See how fast they run. To race with them would be no fun, 'cause though we all can travel fast, the monkeys sure would win."

Two monkeys then climbed up two trees, and hung down by their tails with ease. "We won't try that," laughed Scouty, "It would be to no avail. For monkeys it's a dandy trick and they know how to do it slick, but we are somewhat different 'cause we haven't any tail."

And then the two monks switched around and dropped their tails down toward the ground. They hooked their tails together, and wee Clowny shouted, "Oh! that makes a very handy thing. Just watch me now. I'll have a swing." And then he jumped right in and soon was swinging to and fro.

What Is Style?

A suit that has dignity, but is not style with it. A suit that is abreast of the time, but not ahead of it. A suit that is concious of the tailoring and not self-conscious of its color. A suit of long wearing worsted fabric in a suit of style. That is our clothing.
