legislation in its authority to amend or repeal acts passed by vote of the people.

Four bills sponsored by the sportsmen of the state prohibiting future appropriation of water rights for power or reclamation purposes from the Deschutes, McKenzie, Rogue and North Umpqua rivers.

Tax Bill Provisions
The proposed income tax measure would exempt single persons from payment of a tax on the first $1500 of their annual income. The exemption for married persons, heads of families or husband and wife together is $2,000. For each child or dependent there is allowed an exemption of $400.

On the first $1000 of taxable income the rate is 1 per cent, while on the second $1000 the rate is 2 per cent. The rate on the third and fourth $1000 is 3 per cent, while on the fifth and sixth $1000 the rate is 4 per cent. On the seventh and eighth $1000 the rate is 5 per cent, while on the ninth $1000 the rate is 6 per cent. All income above $9,000 is taxable at the rate of 6 per cent.

After deducting administration expenses, all funds received from the income tax would go into the general fund of the state. The Measure is Sponsored by the Oregon State Grange, State Federation of Labor, Farmers' Union and the Order of Railroad Conductors.

License Cut Drastic One
The Dunne motor vehicle license measure would reduce the general license fees on pleasure cars approximately 50 per cent, with solid tire trucks paying one-fourth additional. The measure would abolish all operating fees of motor carriers and, to quote the ballot title, "all other fees and taxes of every kind on motor vehicles and substitute a fee of $15 for common-carrier motor vehicles."

For administration of the motor transportation act the public service commission would be limited to $45,000 annually. Funds received in excess of this amount would be divided equally between the state highway fund and the counties.

The gasoline tax measure sponsored by Senator Dunne would increase the gasoline tax from 3 to 5 cents a gallon. It was estimated by state officials that the proposed additional gasoline tax of 2 cents a gallon would return to the state approximately $2,000,000 annually.

Heavily Insured
LONDON, July 6.—Newspapers today stated that several insurance policies had been placed in London recently to cover the event of Alfred Lowenstein's death.

The estimates of the total amount ran all the way from £10,000 to £500,000. It was stated that some of these policies specifically included suicide among the risks covered. There was no information as to who placed the policies, but in some quarters it was believed that persons holding stock in companies with which the Belgian financier was identified had placed them to cover possible losses in event of his death.

Those newspapers which regarded his death as suicide sought for a motive in vain. The Daily Express said that although Lowenstein in recent months he was still at the time of his death worth between five and six million pounds at the present price of his shares.

between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning and the welcome which was ready for them would have been one of the greatest enthusiasms.

Touros is 70 miles from Port Natal, an automobile and a few Brazilian authorities and members of the Italian colony were rushing from Port Natal today to welcome the aviators and to offer them the hospitality of Brazil.

All was well aboard the men's plane according to the latest word reaching Rio Janeiro.

New Record Made

Landing at Point Genipabu last night from Montecarlo airdrome, Rome, Capt. Ferrarin and Maj. Del Prete were credited with a flight of 4,317 miles. This was more than 500 miles further than the record of 3,900 miles set a little more than a year ago by Clarence Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine.

After a rest of an hour and twenty minutes, the airmen hopped off again for Alonso airdrome near Rio Janeiro where crowds had been gathering all day awaiting their coming. Lights on the landing fields along the coast, which are used by the Argentine-France air mail service, were turned on to guide them.

Hours passed and they were unreported by Port Natal. Permalogs or other points along the coast over which their route lay. Radio stations tried to get in touch with their huge Savoia wireless set. As anxiety grew a plane of the Latécoere Air Lines set out from Port Natal soon after dawn to look for the missing fliers.

Then word was received that they had come down at Touros on the coast.

BOSTON, July 6.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "The week in the wool trade has been exceedingly dull. Prices have shown little further change although the market still favors the buyer both here and in the western markets."

"There is a distinct disposition in all world markets to await the opening of the London sales Tuesday. The offering of 100,000 bales constitute the smallest quality ever put up for a July series in London. Predictions in Bradford are that cross breeds will rule firm and Merinos may slightly favor the buyer."

"The goods market still languishes but is not without encouraging features and the trade fully expects a good repeat business in heavy weight goods in the course of the current month."

"Mohair is slightly more active and very firm in price."
