Observance of the anniversary of Independence Day made a break in the week's schedule and the holiday coming on Wednesday provided inspiration for delightful little informal picnics and gatherings for those who did not go out of the city for various celebrations in the state.

The first of the month has brought a number of interesting visitors to be the center of entertaining, which is taking informality as its keynote during the warm days.

Holiday Is Occasion for Merry Gathering of Friends

The brief holiday midweek provided inspiration for a number of gay gatherings of friends and among these was the affair given at the Ferguson Brothers ranch at Days Creek on that day, when Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson invited a number of their friends for an all day picnic.

Baseball, other games, and swimming served as entertainment during the day. A picnic dinner and supper were served at a table set in the "Maples" picnic grounds, and the evening hours were spent around a bright bonfire.

Those enjoying the event were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Burt and family, Mrs. H. R. Ferguson, Mrs. C. S. Nicholson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ferguson and family, the Misses Edna Hodges and Alice Fisher, Messrs. Warren Robertson, Edwin Robertson, John Lander, Alex Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson and family.

Afternoon Party Is Attractive Affair for Club

An attractive afternoon affair of the week was the party planned by Mrs. Ralph Bell to entertain the members of the M. O. club on Wednesday. Sweet peas were used in the rooms and at the prettily appointed table, where luncheon was served later after an enjoyable social hour of sewing and games.

Mrs. Harlan Moore and Mrs. John Marks assisted the hostess at luncheon. The invited list included Mrs. J. P. McKay, Mrs. John Marks, Mrs. Harlan Moore, Mrs. E. G. Cloake, Mrs. John Ewell, Mrs. P. W. Cook, Mrs. Geo. Biekle, Mrs. A. W. Holmholdt, Mrs. C. W. Cook, Mrs. John Travis, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Mildred Marks, Mrs. Jean Cloake, Miss Elbow, May Cloake, Miss Nancy May Bell.

Royal Welcome Given American Singers in Sweden This Week

Hall Seely, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Seely of this city, is one of the members of the Yale University Glee Club making a tour of Europe this summer. He was visited by his father before leaving for abroad while Dr. Seely was in the East in June.

When the singers arrived in Sweden, their first stop, June 2, a royal welcome awaited them. The honorary president of the reception committee was Leland Harrison, United States Minister in Stockholm, and the concert was granted the patronage of Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus, who holds an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Yale conferred two years ago.

Nearly every hour of the club members' stay was accounted for with one concert in Gothenburg and two in Stockholm, serenades by Swedish student singers, luncheons, banquets and sightseeing tours.

The open air museum of Skansen, famous for its beauty of location and rich treasures of Swedish peasant art and handicraft, in Stockholm, was the scene of the second concert given by the club. On the evening of July 6 the club left for Copenhagen, the second stop on their journey in the old countries.

Fashion Plaque

A large green chiffon handkerchief, bordered with lace and pink chiffon on two sides, is very smart worn tied on the wrist for evening.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Kitchen Shower This Week

Miss Ruth Jennings, whose engagement was announced last week, was the surprised recipient of a kitchen shower Tuesday evening when she attended the regular meeting of the Baptist World Wide Guild girls held at the home of Miss Lois Byrd on East Second street.

During the social hour two of the girls suddenly appeared with a large basket heaped with packages and surrounded with a decoration of two cleverly dressed kewpie dolls representing a bride and groom, which they presented to Miss Jennings. The basket contained a large assortment of serviceable gifts.

Games and games were enjoyed in the rooms, which were prettily decorated with sweet peas and roses. Refreshments of fruit salad, cookies and punch were served. Besides the honoree those present were the Misses Elizabeth Morris, Mildred Morris, Margaret Page, Althea Gardner, Hazel Thomsen, Ruth Thompson, Margaret Jennings, Luella Peterson, Elizabeth Williams, Lola Byrd, Myrtle Dirks, Jennie Dirks, and Mrs. Frank B. Matthews.

Delegates Selected for Baptist Convention

The Oregon State Baptist convention will convene in Eugene July 15 to 18th. Delegates going from the Roseburg Baptist church are as follows: Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller, Mrs. H. W. Taylor, Mrs. Wickham, Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mr. S. J. Jones, Mrs. Penney and Miss Bertha Penney.

Sunday School Class Entertains at Interesting Program

One of the most interesting programs of the season was given at the First Baptist church on the evening of June 30 by the "Watch Us Grow" Sunday school class.

The entertainment consisted of instrumental solos by Miss Gladys Strong and Elizabeth Williams; vocal duet, Grace Wickham Deets and Gertrude Wickham Whipple; readings, Francis Gortly, Elizabeth Williams and Eliza Kohlhagen; vocal solo, Mattie Lee Taylor; violin and piano duet, Barbara and Ellsworth Ott.

After this part of the program was completed, a very interesting play was put on by the class and the concluding number was a pantomime, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," by five of the class girls, with Mattie Lee Taylor as soloist.

A free-will offering was taken, the proceeds going to the class to apply on their pledge toward the new Sunday school building. These girls, who are of high school age, are to be commended on the excellent work they are doing under the efficient leadership of their teacher, Mrs. Wm. Bousbrake.

Swimming Party Is Surprise Affair for Miss Reva Neal Recently

A group of young people gathered at the Moothart home in West Roseburg Monday evening to surprise Miss Reva Neal.

Swimming and games were the evening's entertainment and later refreshments were served. Those present were the honoree, Helen Mathis, Hazel Richardson, Edythe Moothart, Gladys Moothart, Kenneth Olson, Delos Richardson, Theron Thornton and John Moothart.

Evening Affair Given to Honor Visiting Club

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lange of Medford gave an attractive evening party Wednesday in honor of their niece, Thelma Pfeiffer, who recently arrived from California, where she had been attending high school the past year.

About fifty guests were bidden for the affair. Music and dancing were enjoyed and a hearty refreshment were served later. Miss Pfeiffer left Thursday for Klamath, Washington, to spend the remainder of her vacation with her mother and sister.

Wear a Beach Suit for "Dry" Bathing

Taffetas Replaced by Dull Silks and Prints.

By JEAN PATOU For NEA Service

PARIS, July 7.—It is firmly established by now that the modern courtier must present a collection of swimming and beach suits with his summer collection. Although he may have appeared at first to have assumed a branch of fashions that was foreign to him, his object was a useful one. I do not intend here to describe certain fantasies which saw the light of day under this heading, such as those fur bathing suits which caused a sensation at some of the fashionable seaside resorts last summer. The women who wore them certainly provided copy for reporters, but they evidenced exceedingly bad taste. Hence the entry of the courtier in this sphere.

Novelty is in Color

In the fashion world, it is all a question of adapting new ideas to old themes; everyone knows that. Sports dresses have become standardized. The theme is the skirt and sweater and in their coloring and disposition only can changes be worked.

This also applies to swimming and beach suits. Although this year's creations are very similar to last, there are many new and attractive details. A good point is that eccentricity is the deadliest remedy when seeking novelty.

The sweater, which is the important part of the swimming suit, is very like an ordinary sleeveless pullover. Many pullovers, in fact, could be worn for swimming. They both are decorated in the same

Prints combine with plain colors to fashion Jean Patou's most successful beach ensembles. This one of black silk jersey has its accessories of modernistic printed silk in gay red, black and green, with a touch of gold. The overdress has all the lines and swank of an afternoon frock. Tight high-line, square neck, slightly blousing bodice portion and an original monogram in color and a pocket of printed fabric. The long beach coat is of the print, as is the novel parasol which is cut on the square, for originality.

In Swimming Togs, Patou Dislikes "Fantasies."

fashion. They both feature an embroidered monogram and a d. d. stripes. For a swimming suit, however, I generally prefer rather more sober color schemes than for an ordinary sweater.

My latest swimming suits are in pale colors with graduated stripes of the same color. Sobriety is the main touch to follow in clothing set aside for some specific sport.

In beach suits, or "sun suits" as we call them over here, a greater fantasy is allowed. This appreciation by the way is entirely a conventional one. If it were taken literally, these suits would have to be exaggeratedly brief, more so even than a swimming suit. They are, as a matter of fact, generally dressy in both senses of the word. Destined as they are to be worn for lounging on the beach, they necessarily must give more freedom of movement than the usual beach frock. They therefore must be lighter and more fantastic than an ordinary dress.

Favors Dull Silks

In my beach suits this year I have cast taffetas aside to a certain extent, in spite of the fact that I used it extensively last year. Not that I think it unattractive to this end, but I have obtained more satisfactory results with marocain, crepe de chine and all dull silks in general that I naturally have featured them in my last collection.

So far as decoration goes, I do not like futuristic effects and have used modern printed effects. Some of the decorative elements in the form of dots or cubes of varying sizes; others are composed of all-over designs of modern flowers.

Six Visitors Are Honored at Evening Affair This Week

Quite a lovely evening affair planned for the week was at the attractive Tom Wharton home in West Roseburg where Mrs. Wharton entertained on Thursday, commencing six interesting visitors here this summer. The honor guests were the Misses Marie and Irma Martens, here from the east, Miss Emma Ueland, who is home from New York, Miss Florence Wharton, a visitor from Honolulu, Miss Margaret Kilgore of Portland and Mrs. Ben McNamee of San Francisco.

Lupine in shades of blue and pink transformed the rooms into a colorful setting for bridge, which was the diversion of the evening. Honors were held by Miss Marie Martens and second prize went to Miss Evelyn Young.

For the luncheon one large table was used, centered with a bowl of the pink lupine about which were placed pink candelabra. Baskets in pink marked each corner. The invited list included besides the six honor guests, Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Mrs. Geo. Wharton, Mrs. J. R. Wharton, Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton, the Misses Alice Ueland, Evelyn Young, Ethel Webb, Mae Baldwin, Isabella Herbert of Seattle, Bess Wharton, Jane Wharton.

Their Roseburg friends regretted to learn of the departure last week of Major and Mrs. John P. Hubb of Eugene to Cheyenne, Wyoming, where Major Hubb is to be stationed after four years' residence in Oregon. Both Major Hubb and Mrs. Hubb have a number of friends here, having visited in the city on numerous occasions. Major Hubb being instructor of military tactics for the Umpqua Chapter of Reserve Officers' Association. The organization entertained with a military ball honoring the two early in the spring.

Mrs. Butler and Daughter Leave on Extended Trip Today

Mrs. Foster Butler and her daughter, Miss Frances Butler, leave this afternoon on an extended trip which will take them to the southern states for visits with relatives and friends during the next two months.

They are going south to Sacramento, then to Denver for a stay. They will travel to Kentucky, Mrs. Butler's former home, and will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Nugent, at Fulton, At Lexington they will be guests of other relatives and later will go to Washington, D. C., to visit with Mr. Butler's brother. Side trips to Philadelphia and New York are planned while they are in the east.

Enroute home to the sparsely New Orleans, San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, where they have friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shields are home following an extended motor trip. In Oakland, California, they were joined by Mrs. O. R. Garner and the three motored through Yosemite Park and the Sierras to Klamath Falls, to Bond and home over the McKenzie highway. They were away three weeks.

Dinner Thursday Eve Honors Butler Family

For the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Butler and Miss Frances Butler, their daughter, Mrs. Louis Kohlhaas entertained at dinner on Thursday evening.

Business Women Invited to Skinner Home

For the evening of July 13, the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club have been invited to the spacious country home of Mrs. L. B. Skinner at Winston for the regular meeting of the organization, at which time installation of the new club officers will be held.

The meeting will be at 6 o'clock and a picnic supper will be held out of doors. The business meeting will follow and during the evening an interesting program will be given as entertainment.

MOVIES

Sunday, Monday, Dolores Costello in "Old San Francisco"

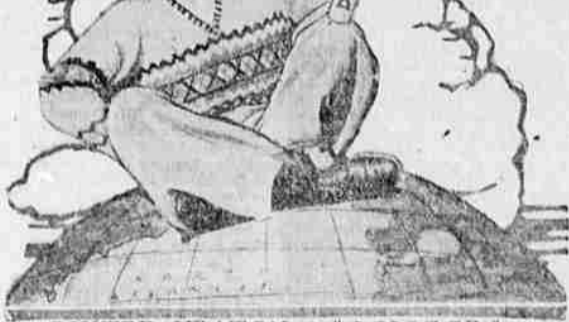

"Old San Francisco," the Warner Bros. extended run production which portrays the lurid days of Chinatown and the Barbary Coast, before and during the "Great Fire," is acclaimed by New York reviewers as one of the finest melodramas of the generation.

Beautiful Dolores Costello plays the part of a Spanish heiress who is kidnapped by a half-caste boss of San Francisco's underworld, and goes through weird experiences and horrors which all terminate with the furious onslaught of nature and the "Great Fire" which relegates "the mile of hell" to oblivion.

Buster Keaton in "College," Tuesday and Wednesday

Warner Oland, the celebrated character actor, is featured in support of Miss Costello. The photography is startling in its revelation of what may be done with the sensitive lens and the direction of Alan Crossland adds new honors to his already famous name.

The cast includes Josef Swickard, John Miljan, William Demarest, Amieva Randolph, Charles E. Mack, Sojin, Anselo Rossito, Anna May Wong, Rose Dione, Lawson Putt, Otto Matheson, Walter McGrail, Martha Mattox and Tom Santschi.

BUSTER KEATON in "COLLEGE"

Karl Dane and Geo. K. Arthur in "Baby Mine," Thursday and Friday.

KARL DANE and CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD in "BABY MINE"

Mr. and Mrs. Harth to Leave on Tour at End of Month

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harth leave here July 22 on an extended tour of the United States and will be away about four months, making the trip by motor. Mr. Harth, who is now visiting in San Francisco, will return to Roseburg next Friday.

They will travel to Chicago via the Old Oregon trail and the Lincoln highway. After visiting in that city Mr. and Mrs. Harth plan to motor to Niagara Falls, then to New York City and to Washington, D. C. Miami is the next point they will visit and later they will go to New Orleans. San Antonio will be one of the principal places Mr. and Mrs. Harth will visit, it being their plan to be there at the time of the national American Legion convention in the fall. On their way home they will visit in San Diego. The Roseburg folk plan scenic trips by plane over the cities of Chicago, New York and Washington, D. C., while in the East.

Interest Manifested in Ladies' Day at Club

A large number of golfers turned out for ladies' day Thursday at the Roseburg Country Club, there being 14 on the links during the morning hours. Mrs. J. A. Harding is captain.

At noon there was luncheon at the club house and the afternoon hours were filled with the diversion of bridge, 7 tables being in play. Interest increases in both bridge and golf for the women members of the club this summer and it is hoped by those in charge that before vacation time is over a large number will attend each week. Mrs. B. Casey is in charge of the bridge tournaments. This week Mrs. Clair K. Allen received honors, Mrs. J. F. Dillard, second, and Mrs. Leon McCutlock, third. In the fall at the close of the tourney three prizes will be awarded the players.

Mrs. Edna Dunlap, Salem matron, is in the city as the guest of her mother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Reed. Mrs. Dunlap made her home in Roseburg a number of years ago and is being warmly greeted by old friends during her stay here.

Cactus!

A new importation for midday's dressing table is a green velvet cactus pin cushion set in a deep blue pot.

STRANGE TONGUES

There's many a slang word handed about. Like "Boy" and "Shake out the lead." And "zeeko" and "raz" and "glass booted sheik." And "heto" and "old knock 'em dead." A "wink" and a "wop" and a "hard boiled guy." "Ha, fix him a quart of stone." "The kitten's push var-mafia," and "Sheba" and "queen." "Cute baby" and "Black soup, alone." "Applesauce," "onion juice," "sweet sugar-lad," "Spooney" and "Jockey" and "honey."

"Banana pulp," "high hat," "brat-storm" and "hork." "Cake-water," "lounge-lizard" and "phony." "Rushed to tears," "beezor," "ped-din' the bunk." "Shing" a line" and "in Dutch." "Give 'em the razz" and "So's your old man." "Show him the gate" and "bat much." The "mamms" and "daddies" speak in a "strange tongue." They "sit up on the gas," "nothing flat." If this raze goes on the "cock-eyed old world." Will probably land in a "cooked hat." —ORPHA COLLINS
