NEW GARAGE AND SERVICE STATION TO BE OPENED

A modern equipped garage and service station is to be opened by Kenneth Martin, Roseburg man, on South Stephens street the first of August. Mr. Martin has leased the Will Curry building formerly occupied by the Harry Haged blacksmith shop and located at the end of Stephens street, and the entire structure is to undergo a remodeling.

Martin, an experienced battery man and mechanic, has been employed as shop foreman at the C. A. Lockwood Motor company for the past several years. He plans to have the garage equipped for battery work, service of cars, tire repairing and other car work. In connection with the garage he will operate the service station, the front part of the present building being cut away to allow room for the pumps.

Here's Mary With New Haircut

This picture, one of the few taken of Mary Pickford since she cut off her curls, was taken as she stepped off the train in Pasadena en route to her home in Beverly Hills. Miss Pickford's new head dress is hardly a bob, but is rather a close-fitting coiffure in which the surplus hair is worn in a small roll at the nape of the neck.

RANCHER, 53, OUT $1550 ON ROMANCE WITH LASS OF 18

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

PORT ANGELES, Wash., July 14.—The flowers he planted to gladden the homecoming of 18-year-old Virginia Ross of Woodland, Cal., as his bride, bloom valiantly at the portal to the farm home of W. A. Glendenning, 53-year-old Sequim farmer, but the mild order romance which Glendenning says left him just $1550 shy has withered and gone to seed.

"I'm sorry the story is out," Glendenning said, "but I'm glad the postal inspectors have Virginia's mother in jail in San Francisco."

He told a story of countless letters and telegrams of love, of an unkept rendezvous at Seattle depots and how he sent Virginia $1550 at different times because of a Spauldard villain, illness and a story of $50,000 worth of rice being tied up in a warehouse.

"Virginia got in touch with me through a Seattle correspondence school and wrote me a fine letter last November, saying she was just out of a convent and because she did not dance, joyride, drink or smoke, the boys would not keep company with her," he said.

"She said she wanted a good, honest, sincere man to care for her."

Glendenning sent Virginia varying amounts by telegraph and cashier's checks, never suspecting anything until a telegram came back saying that his expected bride had left Woodland. Then Glendenning bundled up his love letters, telegrams and postal receipts to the postal inspector at San Francisco and the girl and her mother were arrested.

Television Draws Nearer Private Homes as Result of Demonstration Outside of Laboratory Boundaries

(Associated Press Licensed Wire)

NEW YORK, July 14.—New demonstration of television was regarded today as a step forward toward the time when it will be possible for one to sit at home and witness great sporting events or other spectacles.

Television has come out of the laboratory and into the sunlight. On the roof of the Bell Telephone company building in West street a man served a tennis ball, boxed with a companion, drove a golf ball, and went through other motions, while three floors below a little group sat in a dazed room and saw the action in every detail on a screen about two inches by three.

It marked the first time that more than the head and shoulders of a subject were transmitted. One of the engineers said his apparatus could be taken to the Yale bowl, Niagara Falls or the Yankee stadium and the scene picked up for broadcasting.

Not Ready for Homes "This does not mean that television will be ready for use in every home equipped with a radio set tomorrow," he said, "it is merely a step forward."

The equipment is too elaborate for home use. It requires experts to operate the instruments although part of the receiving station is an ordinary radio receiving set. We hope to make the pictures larger. We hope to have television so that it can be used in a living room without having it derailed. Perhaps some day we will flash the images on a screen like the movies but when that will be we cannot say.

An improved photo-electric cell, far more sensitive than those used heretofore in television work, makes possible the use of sunlight in previous public tests a powerful beam of artificial light, so strong that it was uncomfortable for the subjects. It had to be used to make the image register.

Equipment Details Bell engineers believe that eventually the improved apparatus can operate with Klieg lights, such as are used in movie studios and at
