DEMOCRATIC DRYS ARE ORGANIZED TO OPPOSE AL SMITH

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 19.—The "southern dry anti-Smith" democratic organization today was perfected at the second executive session of the conference of southern drys here.

Mrs. Jesse W. Nicholson, president of the National Women's Democratic Law Enforcement league, was the principal speaker at a general session of the conference last night.

She asserted that 75,000 women, members of her organization, were opposed to Governor Smith, denouncing the nominee for his Tammany connections and his stand on prohibition.

"I have heard women in every state in the union say," Mrs. Nicholson declared, "that if Herbert Hoover was good enough for Woodrow Wilson, he was good enough for them and they would refuse to vote for Al Smith."

Mrs. Nicholson presented a statement from Mrs. Clem Shaver, whose husband recently retired as chairman of the democratic national committee, in which she declared that "regardless of what the democratic leaders propose, dry democratic women do not intend to support the wet ticket and jake platform named at the convention by the Tammany delegates."

Bishop Edwin D. Mounoz of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, one of a number of five-minute speakers, announced that he intended to vote for Hoover and Curtis.

"I will not vote for Smith," he said, "I intend to vote against him as a democrat because I am a democrat."
