BOURBON DUTY TO BACK SMITH, SENATOR SAYS

to the Civil war, declaring that "the people of the south cannot forget that the leaders of the democratic party in the north and the east, and especially those of New York City, came openly to the front, unafraid, and were our most stalwart champions."

"Are we now to forget," he asked, "that Tammany senators and Tammany congressmen then stood upon the floor of the American congress and spoke for the south when representatives of the south were absent and their presence denied? Is it possible for the south today to forget the south today?"

"In the coming national campaign, the south has more at stake than any other section. It would be well for those who threaten to bolt or desert the democratic party to recall the close wedlock between it and the south for more than a century and a quarter."

Moses Encouraged

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Senator George M. Moses, vice chairman of the eastern advisory committee on the Hoover campaign, now believes an intensive drive should be made to secure electoral votes for Herbert Hoover in the solid south.

Senator Moses said his change of mind had been brought about by letters he had received from the south criticizing his recent statement that it would be useless for the republicans to make a drive for electoral votes there.

"My correspondents told me," he said, "that I am crazy if I think Hoover will not get the electoral votes of the south. I am in a highly chastened mood as a result of these letters."

The bulk of his letters urging republican action came from North Carolina, Florida and Georgia, he said. Senator Moses said he was not so sanguine about Georgia but that the reaction in the other two southern states was significant.

The Senator discounted the visit to democratic headquarters here of George N. Peck, farm leader of Moline, Ill.

"The farmers' demonstration at Kansas City was such a flop that even the leaders here had to admit they had exaggerated the situation," he said.

Farm Leader Seeks AI

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—George N. Peck, chairman of the "corn belt" committee of twenty-two, credited with twice pushing the McNary-Haugen bill through congress, today awaited an opportunity to confer with Governor Smith after placing his case before the democratic national committee.

Mr. Peck conferred for four hours with the committee and according to John J. Raskob, national chairman, have entirely new conception of the equalization fee principle.

The farm leader refused to commit himself as to support of the democratic nominee for president saying he first wished to see what Governor Smith had to say on the subject in his formal speech of acceptance. He reiterated, however, that he was entirely satisfied with the democratic farm plank and the governor's utterances on farm relief so far.

Mr. Raskob said that there seemed to be a widespread idea, particularly in the east, that the equalization fee was a scheme for price fixing in opposition to the free exercise of the law of supply and demand. "Mr. Peck has made it plain to us that that is not the aim of the farmer at all," he continued.

"The plan is designed merely for the handling and control of farm products to obtain orderly marketing."

Johnson O. K.'s Hoover

PASADENA, Cal., Aug. 1.—A plea for united republican support of Herbert Hoover for president and for maintenance of the republican tariff to protect California fruit interests was made by U. S. Senator Hiram Johnson last night in the campaign for re-election.

The senator also denounced the "power trust fight against Boulder dam." Frequently he was interrupted by bursts of applause and there were shouts of approval when he spoke for a united party to support the Hoover candidacy.

He pointed out that the chief target of the "power trust fight" has been the Boulder dam project for the development of the Colorado river and upon this the final con-one from Commissioner Mann asking for suggestions that might be of assistance to the council in the final draft of a proposed new franchise for the company.

Mr. Buchtel asserted that the company has violated orders of the public service commission with "impunity" and that the commission itself "chloroformed" one of its own orders pronouncing the company's Portland rates "unjust."

Mr. Buchtel was a member of the commission that fixed the present rates eight years ago.

Buchtel stated that when he and the other two members of the commission fixed the present rates they were confronted with war conditions; that they were emergency rates, and the emergency having passed the rates should have been lowered long ago.

PORTLAND THUG ROBS FIRE DEPT. VETERAN OF $200

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1.—Lurking in a pedestrians' subway at the west end of the Broadway bridge, a thug slugged and robbed Capt. Gus Stuegen, of the Portland fire department, of $200, just before noon today, and escaped.

Capt. Stuegen had just cashed his pay check, and was on his way home when attacked. He walked into the subway, built under the street for safety of pedestrians at a busy traffic intersection, and in the semi-darkened central part of the tunnel was tripped by his assailant, who struck him on the head with a dark object as he fell. Capt. Stuegen recovered as his pockets were being rifled, but he was unable to follow the man.

The robber was about 35 years old, weighed about 150 pounds, and was of medium height.

Capt. Stuegen has been a member of the fire department more than 30 years, and has been detailed as theatre inspector.

Mr. Dillard has been a student flier for several months and is becoming very proficient in handling a plane. He is leaving this afternoon to join Mr. Adams at Medford where their plane, which was recently repaired and overhauled following an accident at Grants Pass, is being entered in the air circus in connection with the American Legion convention. Plans have been made to form an incorporation to take care of the future expansion of the business.

Mr. Perkins, who is acquiring the cleaning and pressing business which Mr. Dillard has been operating, will have the help of Mr. Dillard for the next month or six weeks in the operation of the business, so that there will be no change in the service rendered patrons.

RIOTING TEXTILE STRIKERS RECEIVE JAIL SENTENCES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 1.—With practically all of the leaders of the radical labor groups lodged at the house of correction today while court officials strove to clarify their status, the textile situation was quiet.

Not only were the ring leaders detained but so were practically all of their 250 companions taken in a series of raids on picket lines Monday night when the use of the national guard became necessary to quell the resultant disturbance.

There were indications that the wholesale commitments to jail had temporarily, at least, subdued the spirits of some of the less hardy splintered. In contrast to the situation Monday night, there was but a single arrest last night. A woman who refused to move at the Whitman mill was taken into custody. Judge Frank A. Milliken in the third district court set a new record for disposal of cases by continuing the session into the night. Prisoners were arraigned in batches, reading of complaints was waived in most cases and the defendants convicted of rioting after entering pleas of not guilty.

Ten who were classified as leaders were given six months sentences in the house of correction while the others got two months. The leaders appealed and were held in $1,500 white bail for the $1,500 was set at $500. Of the 250 sentenced only 22 were bailed. They were members of the New Bedford Textile council, the regular labor body and the only group recognized by the manufacturers.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

A Chevrolet car, stolen last night from Homer Kruse of Yoncalla, was recovered last night near Wilbur, Deputy Sheriff C. H. Daugherty followed the machine quite closely and gave chase to the thieves, but failed to apprehend them, after finding the car out of gasoline and abandoned beside the highway. A large group of transients was rounded up and two men answering the descriptions of those seen taking the car were put under arrest. One of them had a Chevrolet key in his pocket and was unable to give a satisfactory explanation for it. The two men are being held for further investigation.

ABBOTT RESIGNS POSITION WITH THE STANDARD OIL CO.

A. D. Abbott, Standard Oil company manager, has tendered his resignation, effective immediately, and has accepted a position as salesman with the McLendon Realty company. Mr. Abbott has been with the Standard Oil company since 1920 and has been employed in Portland, Marshfield, Enterprise, Bend and Roseburg. As he desires to make his home here permanently, he resigned from the company's service in order that he might retain his location here, and is to engage in real estate work in connection with the McLendon company.

His successor here has not yet been announced by the Standard Oil company, but it is understood that it will probably be John McClinton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McClinton of this city, who is now located at St. Helens, business manager of the oil company's business there.

PUNISHMENT TO FOLLOW OUSTING OF JAP TOILERS

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 1.—Aroused by the attack on Japanese workmen at Copalis Crossing Sunday night, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John C. Graham said today that arrests would be made shortly and that authorities of Grays Harbor county would prosecute all those guilty in what he termed a "well founded conspiracy."

"These people at Copalis Crossing picked on innocent workmen," declared Graham. "We are not interested in the nationality of those evicted for they were merely pawns. If the people who planned and carried out the forcible eviction and who took the law in their own hands illegally had wanted to prevent the Japanese working there, they should have taken orderly steps."

While he refused to name any of the ring leaders in the affair, Graham inferred strongly that some of them were known. He declared the "beating" of E. Watanada was extremely brutal.
