

Campfire Girls Enter Last Week of Their Annual Summer Outing at Wolf Creek Boy Scout Camp

The Camp Fire Girls, who are enjoying their annual outing at Wolf Creek scout camp, are having a fine time, according to all reports. They are now on the last week of their camp and next week the Outdoor Boys will go out for a few days' recreation.

Most of the girls welcomed rest hour and settled for sleep after the strenuous work of getting located; in fact, Burro's whistle needed reinforcements to get them up afterwards.

In spite of the fact that the water was very cold all the girls enjoyed the swimming hour and Mildred Marks and Kathryn Henrich graduated from the Polywog pool.

Several interesting stunts were given around the evening camp fire and Joyce Busenbark agreeably responded to a clamor for a humorous reading.

We awakened to the musical, if somewhat wheezy, notes of Pat's bugle. The usual shrieks accompanied the dawning of wet bathing suits and were continued as we let the cold water into the bath tub.

After breakfast, Mildred Jackson, Joyce, and Dot Arundel gave an exhibition of their agility by climbing the hill across the creek and starting logs on a roll down toward the creek, said logs to be used for the fire in the elephant.

At camp fire, the girls divided into three groups and put on impromptu theatricals. Much originality and humor were displayed.

Nothing special happened Thursday morning, the schedule going as planned.

After rest hour today we took our open fire cooking devices made by the fagot flinders and divided into groups of three and proceeded to build our fires to cook the things assigned to each group.

Nothing special happened Thursday morning, the schedule going as planned.

Back she came... A millionaire's wife - and BROKEN-HEARTED. As far back as Chery could remember, poverty and squalor were the only life she had ever known. Many a lonely, aching night, through hot tears of self-pity, she had gazed with wistful, longing eyes into a dream-world of love, tenderness, compassion, beauty—a world that seemed forever beyond her reach.

"Contact," High-Flying Cat

Women may fly across the Atlantic and men may fly to Australia—but "Contact," the high-flying feline, doesn't lose a bit of popularity. The cat sprang into prominence through its propensity for stowing away in airplanes that were warming up at Mills Field, San Francisco's municipal airport. It is the field's mascot. And when San Francisco planes swoop in to visit new airports being opened, there's always a request that "Contact" make the trip.
