

HOOVER NOMINATION

When being given formal notice of my nomination by the Republican party to the presidency of the United States, I accept. There was a roar of applause. Herbert Hoover's words rang out through Stanford Stadium, and by radio was sent throughout the world. Then the 60,000 people in the stadium burst forth in tumultuous cheering and a applause that roared for several minutes. This picture was snapped as the cheering subsided, in an attitude of earnestness, waiting for the cheering to subside.

How Hoover Ceremony Looked to Birds

Here's the way Herbert Hoover notification ceremony looked from the air. This exclusive airplane view of Stanford Stadium, taken by NEA Service, gives some idea of the crowd that gathered to hear the formal notification to Hoover, and his acceptance in a keynote speech.

Everybody Saw the Candidate

Everybody attending the Hoover ceremonies at Stanford Stadium had opportunity to get a fairly close view of the nominee. Photo was snapped as the auto containing Mr. and Mrs. Hoover circled the interior of the stadium, prior to the notification speeches.

BROOKLYN BASEBALL FANS WOULD OUST ROBINSON

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Over Brooklyn-way, they're gunning for Wilbert Robinson, portly manager of the Brooklyn Robins for the last 14 years.
A well-developed move to oust Robinson from the pilot-seat at the end of the 1929 season when his contract expires, is under way and behind the move, according to reliable authority, is Stephen W. McKeever, vice president and treasurer of the club.

McKeever says his effort to remove Robinson is being made as a result of a deluge of letters from Brooklyn fans protesting against Uncle Wilbert's handling of the Robins this year. After starting out the season in winning fashion, the Robins began dropping down the ladder until they now stand sixth in the national league standing and with little hope of ending the campaign in any higher position.

Robinson holds a $15,000 contract to manage the Robins in 1929. As club president-manager, this year, he receives a salary of $25,000.

BIDS FOR WOOD WANTED

Bids for wood will be received up to 5 o'clock p. m., August 27, 1928, at the city recorder's office. All those interested in placing bids will call at said office and receive description of wood desired by the city.

City recorder of the City of Roseburg, Oregon.

SLATE MINERS KILLED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 14.—Trapped under a heavy fall of slate while at work in the Lehigh mine of the Hillman Coal and Coke company late last night, Andy Butsch, 29, and Paul Linn, employed as loaders, were killed. Mike Megalese, 50, a cutter, suffered a fractured skull and crushed breast bone and is not expected to recover.

On His Way to Acceptance

BALL SCORES IN MAJOR LEAGUES

(By the Associated Press)
Only one game was played in the National circuit yesterday. Remy Kremer, the big Frenchman, pitching the Pirates to an easy 6 to 1 decision over the slipping Brooklyn Dodgers. Kremer, now showing the form that was expected of him, gave the Robins only six hits and never was in trouble.

In the American league the idle Yankees saw the Philadelphia Athletics shave another half game off their lead when Lefty Grove, beat the Tigers, 7 to 1. The A's victory put them four and a half games back of the Yankees.

In the only other major league contest of the day Ed Morris registered his 15th triumph of the

COMPOSER'S BODY SAVED FROM POTTER'S FIELD

(Associated Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The body of Arthur J. Lamb, composer of "Asleep in the Deep" and other favorite songs, will be saved from burial in Potter's field.

I. M. Sackin, his attorney, said the body of the composer would be brought to New York from Providence, R. I., where he died, and given burial by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. At the time of his death only $3.99 in cash was found in his pockets. Sackin said Lamb's only known relative is an aunt in Bath, England.

Pear and apple picking bags and buckets are sold at Wharton Bros.
