TRIO OF GAMES BRINGS RECORD CROWD OF FANS

Chicago Football Program Creates Red Letter Day in Grid History.

NAVY VS. NOTRE DAME

Four Other Big Teams Will Clash Also—3 Major Battles in Coast Conference.

By PAUL MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Before 120,000 or more spectators, the largest football throng ever assembled in America, two Trojan eleven, Notre Dame and the Navy, were ready to match speed and brawn in the arena of massive Soldier Field today.

Other gridiron classics there have been, but from the standpoint of attendance, color and excitement, this duel between two fighting teams that already have been beaten promised to be the greatest spectacle of them all, rivaling in splendor even the field days of ancient Rome.

For Chicago, which also had the important Iowa-Chicago and Ohio State-Northwestern games on its program, it was by far the red letter day in football history. More than 200,000 were expected to watch the three games, and the city seethed with activity. Streets were jammed and thousands of police struggled to keep the tremendous traffic moving.

Notables Present

The glaucous of the spectacle at Soldier Field, which attracted scores of celebrities, all but dwarfed the outcome of the contest between Knute Rooker's Ramblers and "Navy Bill" Ingram's Midshipmen. Among the box holders were Vice President Charles G. Dawes, Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, other high officials and many movie stars, including Gloria Swanson, Lew Cody, Norma Shearer and Molly O'Neill, a dyed-in-the-wool Notre Dame rooster. On the side lines none was made for baseball's two behemoths of swat, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the New York Yankees "home run twins."

The bambino was a Notre Dame rooster, while "Lumpy" Lou, who cut for the Navy, six hands, among them those from the Naval academy at Annapolis and from Notre Dame, were ready to flare forth. The Navy's goat, too, was on the scene.

With a fleet backfield and a comparatively weak line, Knute Rooker's men depended on speed, while the Navy, with its heavy line, depended on brawn. Both line-ups indicated plenty of kicking and enough forward passing to keep the great throng on edge.

Yale vs. Georgia

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Yale-Georgia game at New Haven seems to hold forth the greatest possibilities of football fireworks in today's eastern game. Except for three positions, Georgia enters the battle with the same line-up that defeated the Elis in a sensational game last year, 11-10. Yale has been hampered in practice by injuries.

ASHLAND NORMAL QUARTERBACK DIES AFTER COLLAPSE

(Associated Press Special Wire)
MEDFORD, Ore., Oct. 12.—Max Newsome, of Klamath Falls, quarterback of the Southern Oregon normal school football team, died last night following his collapse during the Oregon State College-Rooker-Normal game at Ashland yesterday afternoon.

Newsome was carried from the field during a time-out period, and team mates then attributed his collapse to "high blood pressure." He was pronounced dead at the hospital, where he was taken to the hospital, where his condition changed for the worse.

His parents were spectators at the game, and visited Newsome at the hospital, later leaving for their home in Klamath Falls, where the father is a physician.

The Oregon State college Rooker won the game, 6 to 0.

Roseburg Folks Will Welcome Two Prize Winning Legion Drum Corps When Special Train Arrives Tuesday

The special train, carrying the two Oregon prize-winning drum corps of the San Antonio American Legion convention, will arrive in Roseburg Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock and local Legionnaires are preparing today to give the returning "heroes" a real reception. The American Legion drum corps, a hallyhoo band and other noise-making devices will be on hand to give the boys a "hot time." The Salem drum corps, second prize winner in the national competition and the Portland corps, first prize winner in the "Forty and eight" parade, will perform at the depot during the stop here and it will be an opportunity for Roseburg folks to hear two of the best drum and bugle organizations in America.

John Philip Sousa, one of the judges at the American Legion convention, selected the Salem corps as the best musical organization competing. As many of the Portland and Salem boys are known to members of Umququa post, it is expected the scene at the depot grounds Tuesday evening will assume the proportions of a reunion of World War vets.

The officers of Umququa post desire to have all of Roseburg turn out at his "whoopie" to show their appreciation for the efforts of the Oregon delegation in advertising this state during the trip and at the Legion gathering in Texas.

The exact time of the arrival of the train will be announced on page one of Monday's paper.

Salem is preparing a royal welcome for the returning corps and all state officials will participate. Roseburg should be the first city in the state to show the boys they are mighty proud of their accomplishments at San Antonio.

Get out your horns for the Jubilee at the depot grounds Tuesday evening.

PAUL V. MCNUTT

Paul V. McNutt, shown at the right, is the newly-elected commander of the American Legion. He is 37 years of age and dean of the law school at the University of Indiana. During the world war he rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel of field artillery. His election as commander at the recent national convention of the Legion occurred on the third ballot after two of his chief opponents had withdrawn in his favor.

NO NOVEMBER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT THIS YEAR

There will be no jury term of circuit court during November, according to present plans. Due to the delay in the construction of the new court house building, it is found impossible to use the circuit court chambers and if court should be held it would be necessary to convene the sessions in some other quarters, which would put the county to additional expense. As there are no pressing cases it is planned to continue all of the civil actions until the February term. There are only two criminal actions pending, and the defendant in one of those, the manslaughter case against Gordon Burnett, of Round Prairie, which grew out of an automobile wreck in which Edna Parks Gardner was killed, is out on bail and there is no need for an immediate trial. The other is the case against the alleged firebug, accused of destroying two buildings at Yoncalla. His case will probably be brought before the grand jury. If he is indicted it may be necessary to call a special jury in his case unless he enters a plea of guilty. Unless some other pressing matters should arise it is not planned to hold the usual November term.

FORMER OREGON U. STUDENT IS SHOT

(Associated Press Special Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—Miss Kay Bald, 25, student, who was in Berkeley, Cal., hospital last night suffering from gunshot wounds which police believe were self-inflicted, formerly lived in Portland where she was engaged in advertising work for several large mercantile establishments here. She left Portland to accept a similar position in Berkeley.

Miss Bald was a student at the University of Oregon from 1926 to 1927, specializing in journalism and advertising. Her mother and a brother live here.

HICKMAN'S CRIME RECORD INCREASED BY NEW STATEMENT

(Associated Press Special Wire)
FORT WORTH, Oct. 12.—A letter from William Edward Hickman under death sentence at Los Angeles, which stated that Hickman committed a robbery in Fort Worth, was received by Police Chief Henry Lee today.

Hickman stated he robbed a restaurant in Fort Worth in December, 1926. He explained he wished to confess all his crimes before he died. Hickman said he was sorry he could not return the money he obtained in the holdup. No details of the holdup were given in the letter.

MAYOR BAKER DUE FOR GRILLING IN PORTLAND PULPIT

(Associated Press Special Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—The story of two bunco men who claim they operate in Portland under police protection by paying money to police officers will be told from the pulpit of the First Congregational church Sunday night, according to a letter sent to Mayor George L. Baker and Portland papers today by the Rev. Clement G. Clarke.

The Rev. Clarke, whose vice crusade of two years ago created a stir, averred in his letter that the statement taken from the so-called bunco men includes the names of five policemen in the actual reception of graft money, "three of whom received it directly from the hands of my informants and two others who received 10 per cent of the take-off in every such thieving transaction."

"The names in every case are in my possession," said the Rev. Clarke's letter.

The letter, in outlining activities of the two men said to have given the statement in the presence of witnesses, states that the men operate an elaborate bunco gambling game in Portland.

The members of the county court, accompanied by the state market road engineer, made a trip to Insow today for an inspection of the Miller-Trail cut-off road upon which considerable work has been done this year.

MOTHER HURLS 3 CHILDREN TO DEATH IN RIVER

Fails in Effort to Drown Two Others of Family and Herself.

DEMENTIA INDICATED

Detroit Harbor Men Reach Scene While Woman Is Holding Youngest Under Water.

(Associated Press Special Wire)
DETROIT, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Beatrice Cantera, 32, drowned three of her five children in the Detroit river shortly after midnight and attempted to drown the other two and herself.

Those drowned were: Nita, 3 years old; Mary, 2 years old; Gloria, 8 months.

The other two children, Nellie, 5, and Lorenzo, Jr., 7, although thrown into the river by their mother, were able to rescue themselves and call for help.

When attaches of the local harbor master's office arrived the woman was holding one of the three victims under the water. She was dragged from the water but the child, Gloria, was dead.

Mrs. Cantera and the two rescued children were taken to a local hospital where the mother was detained for observation. She was hysterical and wept continuously for the baby Gloria.

Woman Illness Victim

From a year old Nellie, police learned that "mama hadn't been feeling well lately." Last night, the child said, the mother took the children to Belle Isle Park. On arrival there the party walked to the river bank where Mrs. Cantera first threw in the two older children, then Nita and Mary. Holding Gloria in her arms, the woman leaped into the water herself.

Cantera, a factory worker, was at home when the drowning occurred. Her police file records recently had exhibited signs of mental collapse.

ELEVEN KILLED, FORTY HURT WHEN 3 TRAINS CRASH

(Associated Press Special Wire)
GLAUCOUSTER, Pa., Oct. 12.—At least eleven persons were killed with the possibility that the complete toll will be twenty, in a triple train collision this morning on the Birmingham-Bristol line. The bodies of the victims were so mutilated that none had been identified this afternoon.

The number of injured was estimated at forty.

The collision resulted from a delay in getting a freight train out of the main line to a siding. First there was a collision between an express train and a freight and then a third train running on a parallel track crashed into the wreckage.

Fire followed from gasoline and oil carried on one of the freight trains.

The impact was so terrible that wreckage flew through the air and struck a highway bridge carrying away part of it.

Today's wreck was the third railroad collision in Britain within the last three days resulting in death.

"PROGRESSIVE" IS TABOO ON OREGON ELECTION BALLOT

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 12.—The supreme court today, in a unanimous oral opinion, held that the word "progressive" shall not appear in the ballot after the names of the democratic presidential ticket. The opinion affirms Judge George R. Bagley of the lower court who held that the progressives are not a qualified political party in Oregon and had no right as a party to endorse the democratic candidates.

It was explained that the lower court handed down an oral opinion for the convenience of the secretary of state in correcting his certification to the county clerks, and that a written opinion will be handed down next Tuesday. Chief Justice Rand and Justice Rossman, who are candidates, did not sit.

CO. CONVENTION OF W. C. T. U. HAS SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

Best Attended in Number of Years; Fine Talks Heard—Officers Elected.

The auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was filled to capacity with women from all parts of the county for the afternoon session of the thirty-third annual Douglas County W. C. T. U. convention, many more attending than in the morning. The meeting was one of the most successful in many years and high interest was manifested in the work of the organization.

Just preceding the opening of the afternoon session the union held annual election of officers. Mrs. A. C. Marsters, who has successfully headed the organization as president, was re-elected, as were Mrs. Helen Ferguson, vice-president; Mrs. Lillian B. Davis, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. V. J. Micell, treasurer. Mrs. Harry Winston was elected new recording secretary.

Sessions Opened With Service

The program for the afternoon opened with the state recording secretary, Mrs. Lincoln Schmidt of Portland. Mrs. Schmidt is a very witty and interesting speaker and held the attention of her audience on the subject, "How Are You Selling Prohibition?" She stressed the importance of educating the youth of the country and urged the organization in the unions of the county.

Mrs. Schmidt stated that there were 177,000 saloons put out of business when prohibition came into effect.

Rev. Chas. Edwards, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, gave a very educational talk on "The Truth About Canada." Rev. Edwards gave a splendid description of liquor conditions in Canada and stated that liquor is sold openly there under government control.

Mrs. N. O. Orcutt entertained the audience with a pleasing vocal solo and Rev. W. R. Bald, pastor of the Christian church, gave a reading, "When Melinda Sings."

Mrs. Lillian B. Davis, county corresponding secretary, made a brief talk, asking that an effort be made to have all the schools of the county observe Frances Willard day in some manner on October 26.

Hon. Geo. Neuner Speaker

Hon. Geo. Neuner, U. S. district attorney of Portland, was a distinguished visitor on the afternoon and gave one of the most important addresses on the program. Mr. Neuner made a forceful plea for prohibition, pointing out that through the efforts of Al Smith, democratic candidate for U. S. presidency, the Mullen Gage act was repealed. He also commended Mrs. Isabel Walker Wilcox, U. S. district attorney of Washington, D. C., for her untiring efforts in the cause of prohibition. Mr. Neuner spoke on the government control of liquor and finished his address with the statement, "If booze can't be sold, don't make Uncle Sam the bartender."

County Delegate Elected

The county delegate elected to represent this union at the state convention to be held in Eugene next week was Mrs. L. L. Bodie. Several members from all parts of Douglas county intend to be present for at least part of the sessions.

Douglas county will also be represented at the grand old medal contest to be held Thursday evening of the convention, there being four who will compete for the honor.

SMITH ASSAILS OPPOSITION IN SOUTHERN TALK

Claims Hoover Evasive in Speech Delivered to Tennesseans.

CHEERING FREQUENT

Nominee Repeats Assertion Dry Law Impossible of Enforcement; Urges State Option.

(Associated Press Special Wire)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 12.—Governor Smith and his party arrived in Louisville where the democratic presidential candidate will make an address tonight.

The governor was given an ovation as he went from the train to an automobile to lead a procession to his hotel. The Young Men's Democratic League turned out in full, wearing brown berbies.

Speaking last night before a crowd that jammed into the 5,000 seats of Ryman auditorium in Nashville, Governor Smith ripped into his republican opponents, their farm relief and Muscle Shoals stands, attacked Herbert Hoover's Tennessee remarks on prohibition, water power, and immigration, and outlined his previously declared attitudes on some of these questions.

Says Hoover Evasive

Reaching the subject of water-power about the halfway mark of his speech, the nominee declared, amid laughter and applause, that he had carefully scrutinized Mr. Hoover's Tennessee speech but found not even an indirect reference to Muscle Shoals.

"He treated it as though it was not anywhere near here," the governor added, and then quoted Mr. Hoover as saying: "There are local instances where the government must enter the business field as a by-product of some great major purpose, such as improvement in navigation, flood control, scientific research, or national defense, but they do not vitiate the general policy to which he should adhere."

"Anybody who can make anything out of that is entitled to have it," the governor asserted, and more laughter followed.

Al's Interpretation

He said he had asked the guess that his republican opponent had government ownership and government control in his mind when he said: "Violations of public interest by individuals or corporations should be followed by the condemnation and punishment they deserve."

LIONS ORGANIZE A LOCAL CLUB; OFFICERS NAMED

A local branch of the Lion's club, a service organization of national scope, was organized last night at a meeting held at the Umququa hotel. The nucleus of the new club is made up from the membership of the Active Club, which has surrendered its charter and is affiliating with the same membership, in the larger organization. Under the rules of the Active club membership is limited to young men under 35 years of age. Because of the limited field here it was found that this restriction prevented the successful operation of an Active club, and so application was made for a charter in the Lions.

A group from the club at Grants Pass assisted in the organization work, and put on a program of music and short talks. This was followed by the election of officers. Lavern Hawn being chosen president; Harold Ferris, first vice-president; James Pileons, second vice-president; Don Howell, secretary; Art Smith, treasurer; Ralph Smith, bill twister; and Ed Fisher, ban tamer.

Through its affiliation with the national Lion's organization, the local club will be able to do a much larger work than was formerly possible. They will be able to take in live-tre business men of the city not affiliated with other service clubs, and plan to take an active part in civic work, along the lines usually followed by the organization and as outlined in the national program. Evening meetings will be held once each week.

On Dirigible's Hop To America

Dr. Robert Reiner, top, wealthy New York importer, has safely crossed the Atlantic 103 times, but he is said to have taken out $1,000,000 life insurance before starting his present voyage. He's one of the passengers on the giant Graf Zeppelin, and a close friend of Dr. Hugo Eckener, its designer and commander on the trans-Atlantic flight. One of the engineers of the crew is Dr. Eckener's son, pictured below.

AMERICAN MINER SLAIN IN MEXICO BY BANDIT GANG

(Associated Press Special Wire)
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12.—A Guadalupe dispatch to El Universal today said that an American miner named Charles Smith had been slain by insurgents at Ara Juez. His address in the United States was not given.

The dispatch said that Smith refused to deliver money demanded by the insurgents who were commanded by Jorge Ibarra and gave no further details.

Civil and military authorities were stated to be actively pursuing the insurgents.

A dispatch to the newspaper Excelsior said that Mr. Smith was killed after he had wounded the insurgent leader. The dispatch related that Ibarra, leading 22 men, stopped at the Smith house at Aranjuez mine early Thursday morning. He demanded weapons and horses.

When Smith refused the intruders tried to drag him out of the house. The American, however, shot and wounded Ibarra in the hand. Members of the band then poured bullets into Smith.

BIGAMY VICTIM NO LONGER TRUSTING

(Associated Press Special Wire)
PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12.—Charged overnight from a happy bride of three months to an indignant woman anxious to see her "husband," an ex-Methodist minister, published Irene Francis Henois, 30, of Milwaukee, Wis., said today that she would live many years before trusting another man.

Arthur C. Haer, 40, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Livingston, Mont., and employed here as a liquor salesman, was arrested yesterday by federal authorities and charged with Mann act violation after Miss Henois had told her story of their trip together from Milwaukee to Portland.

All of the young "wife's" savings were expended in the trip west approximately $200 she said. She was left with 17 cents at the time of Haer's arrest. The government is holding her under $500 bail as material witness. Haer's bond is set at $2500. Hearing will be on October 15.

OFFICE CAT SAYS—

By Hissell

"Just as I predicted, an 'don't think I'm gonna go on with this 4200 ya' so apple-sauce. Ya can be here if or not, I'm not waiting for a street car when it comes to 'dixie' out to-morrow's climate. The weather prophet and myself as collaborators in an effort to save the grants—but its been 'sim' to look as if they'll hafta bite the dust. However, ever 'an 90 gets 't night and then if this thing keeps on I'll get a shotgun and go out 'gain' fer Jack Frost and I don't mean it or perhaps. 'Strike up the old fire-box 'nigh, put on yer cozzers and a couple extra cozzers and you'll never notice the weather. 'But how about these days, mites? 'Great stuff, eh? Regular football weather but it doesn't seem to have much effect on the high school team or maybe it was the Myrtle Point fog that got 'em rattled."

ZEPPELIN PAST AZORES; KEEPS SOUTH AIR LANE

Maderia Next Objective in Steady Flight Toward United States.

LOST TIME MADE UP

Forecast of Good Weather Indicates Giant Ship Should Arrive by Noon Sunday.

(Associated Press Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—With her five 580-horsepower motors droning a steady song of power and speed, Graf Zeppelin, huge trans-Atlantic liner, raced over the Atlantic today at between 75 and 85 miles an hour headed for Lakehurst, N. J., via Bermuda.

Advisers of unfavorable weather to the north dictated that the airship will pursue a circuitous course to the south. Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander and builder, hopes to land at the United States naval air station at Lakehurst at noon tomorrow with his cargo of 29 passengers and mail from Friedrichshafen, Germany, demonstrating that crossing the ocean by airship is no longer mere adventure but now is a commercial undertaking.

Four years ago today Dr. Eckener saw the dawn as he approached the island of Sao Miguel, the Azores, on the ZR-3, now the Los Angeles. At dawn this morning the Azores were well behind him as he directed the Graf Zeppelin, half again as large as the Los Angeles.

Aims For Maderia

Good weather aided the airship in making up for time lost in buffeting headwinds over the Mediterranean after leaving Friedrichshafen, Germany, at 2 a. m. eastern standard time, on Thursday. In swinging south to Maderia the dirigible entered a region of light variable winds which made passage easier. The dirigible escaped a disturbance north of the Azores by following a course to the south along which favorable trade winds might aid the 12-cylinder motors in speeding the ship.

If Lakehurst is reached by noon Sunday the airship will have required 82 hours to complete the trans-Atlantic voyage. It is estimated that by taking a southerly route, the airship would have flown 5,400 miles, some 4,000 of which will be over the Atlantic, after the craft passed Punalu, Island of Maderia, at 8:30 a. m. yesterday. 2,800 miles over water lay ahead of the airship before Bermuda should be reached and then another 800 miles needed to be covered before the ship could be brought down at the Lakehurst air station.

"All Well," is Message

The last word from the airship yesterday was picked up by the Chatham, Mass., station of the radio marine corporation at 7 p. m. It read:

"Three hundred and thirty miles west of Maderia. Altitude 1,400. Seventy five miles per hour. Weather good. Heading for Bermuda. Expect arrive Sunday noon, if weather continues. All well. 'Graf Zeppelin.'"
