"Forgotten Faces" at Antlers Tuesday and Wednesday

CLIVE BROOK and BACLANOVA in "FORGOTTEN FACES" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

AMAZING CONTRASTS MAKE GRIPPING SCREEN DRAMA

Amazing contrasts incorporated in a logical story that grips with outstanding performances by a great assemblage of players, makes Paramount's "Forgotten Faces" which comes to the Antlers Tuesday.

The production is billed as an all-star special and it is. Clive Brook, Mary Brian, Baclanova, William Powell, Fred Kohler and Jack Loden head the imposing list of talent in the cast. The story interest, unusual sets, vivid contrasts and dramatic value of the production entitle it to the rating of a special in the most complimentary sense of that term.

Imagine a picture that starts out with a night hold-up of a fashionable gambling house, perpetrated by two crooks in evening clothes, carries on to the grim interior of a penitentiary, shows an attempted prison break, gives intimate glimpses of social life in a home of wealth and culture and then depicts the terrified reactions of a woman being slowly driven mad by fear.

"Rose Marie" at Antlers Sunday

"ROSE-MARIE" STARRING JOAN CRAWFORD

A thrilling, yet tender, screen romance against a pictorial background comes to the Antlers Sunday. A screen version of the famous musical play, "Rose Marie," in which Joan Crawford has the title role and James Murray as the romantic, and mysterious young man who descends from the north woods into a fur trading post, starting trouble for everybody, including himself.

It was filmed against the beauty spots of the west—the Feather and Merced rivers, Yellowstone National Park, Canadian and American Rockies and Las Tunas lake, which lies high in the lap of the Santa Monica mountains in southern California.
