GENE TUNNEY may have put off the gloves for good. But he's too wise a man to give up the priceless habits of physical training that stood him in such good stead in his profession. Just before his last fight, Tunney said: "I started taking Nujol internally seven years ago. The first month Nujol brought remarkable changes in my physical condition. My circulation became active and normal. My appetite increased and a desire for intensive training was created. Since that time I have taken Nujol about five nights a week. I have regulated myself to the amount necessary to keep my circulation normal. I have found during my seven years' experience with Nujol that it is not habit-forming, or in any way unpleasant or harmful. Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. It is simply a pure substance—perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 26 Broadway, New York. It not only prevents an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them) but aids in their removal. In sealed packages only. Buy a bottle of Nujol today.

HEALTH BULLETIN

That Tired Feeling (State Board of Health) Fatigue which is the result of work, play or exercise in regular and moderate amounts is not harmful. It is really beneficial for it develops wholesome rest and sleep which prepares the body for further, and sometimes greater activities. This is the kind of fatigue that goes with a healthy body. There is, however, a complete physical and mental exhaustion that is not natural or normal, but is a danger-signal that, if unheeded, may lead to material injury or a complete breakdown. It is well to know that this condition is commonly an early symptom of conomic disease. A tired feeling that does not react to rest and sleep and which can not be explained by an activity of the brain or muscle may be due to some form of infection. Influenza, typhoid, and many other communicable diseases usually begin with periods of malaise or a tired uneasy feeling. Low grade chronic infections which come on insiduously are frequently accompanied by period of feeling tired. An abscessed tooth, a chronic appendix, diseased tonsils, can each throw enough poison into the human system to cause that tired feeling. Self-medication often makes this condition worse. The only safe way is to find and remove the cause. If your work which for years seldom annoyed you begins to look bigger and bigger every day; if you begin to dread the long hours of labor; if you begin to lose weight, then if it is time that you take steps to find the cause of these symptoms. A very thorough examination may show the beginning of a disease. Should you be told that you have an ailment do not worry too much, but congratulate yourself that the condition was discovered at a time when it was curable. Do not wait until you are down and out before caring for yourself. Whatever it is, fatigue requires speedy and continuous expert supervision in order to avoid disease. Poisonous products manufactured inside the body give simple warning, by the occurrence of fatigue, that dangerous results may develop. They should be headed off early and your future health guarded by removing underlying causes.

MENINGITIS CONTINUES GAIN IN UNITED STATES

(Associated Press Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An unusual prevalence of cerebro spinal meningitis in the country during the past year, particularly on the Pacific coast, was shown in a report issued by the public health service. Cases totaled 176, more than double the maximum reached at any time during the past four years. No reason was advanced for the increase. The typhoid maximum was lower than at any time during the past two years, totalling about 1,000 cases as compared with 1,600, the

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place. I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat. My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat. If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE. If you so desire. DR. R. GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE OPENS IN NEW ORLEANS

(Associated Press Leased Wire) NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20.—Sounding the keynote of the governors' conference, Governor Huntley N. Spaulding of New Hampshire said today that the conference comes together under the happy stars of a "president-elect of great accomplishment and of great vision." The most important problems to come before the conference, he said, probably are those of business and government, education, taxation, the state's duty to its unfortunates and the coordination of state governmental activities. "Business and government must stand or fall together," the governor added with emphasis. "There is an interrelation which, recognized and accepted, makes for prosperous industries, broadening commerce and happy homes. Business must be properly regulated by government but government must not unduly interfere. "Government must be responsive to changing conditions in industry and to the several principal elements in the broader structure of industry, among which agriculture is not the least nor manufacture the most important."

DEEP SEA FISHING GIVES PASTIME TO HERBERT HOOVER

President-Elect Has Also Decided on One Half of Itinerary: Has Good Time on Ship.

BY JAMES I. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer, U. S. S. MARYLAND, en route to Annapolis, Nov. 21.—With the first half of his Latin American good will tour itinerary completed, Herbert Hoover today turned his thoughts to his favorite sport. The Maryland was halted between Cape San Lucas and Cape Corrientes, well off the Mexican coast, for deep sea fishing.

The president-elect had in mind the recent experience of bureau of fisheries men in these waters who hooked a gigantic marlin or swordfish, "playing" it for fourteen hours before landing it.

Mr. Hoover did not hope to snag a fish of such proportions as he does not want to interrupt the southward voyage more than a few hours. Three of the Maryland's small boats were ordered out for the fishing excursion, one containing Mr. Hoover and his friends, a second carrying the newspaper men and a third laden with cameramen who unlimbered their machines for the first time on the voyage.

The Maryland will proceed southward again tonight, making the first stop of the good will tour at Annapolis, Honduras, Sunday. On that same day the Hoover party will go to La Union, Salvador, for an afternoon reception, leaving Sunday night for Corinto, Nicaragua, where a third stop will be made Monday.

A call at Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, Tuesday will complete the present tour of Central America.

Driving directly southward for South America the Maryland will reach Guayaquil, Ecuador, about November 30, where President Isidro Ayora is expected to welcome the president-elect. After one day there the Maryland is to proceed to Caliao, Peru, the official party driving by automobile to Lima, where Mr. Hoover will spend a night and a day. The good will party is to be welcomed there by President Augusto B. Leguia and received at several formal functions.

Reaching Valparaiso, Chile, December 7, Mr. Hoover will depart immediately for Santiago and go across country by train to Buenos Aires, Argentina, where the party will spend a day and a night. Then it will proceed to Montevideo, Uruguay, and Rio De Janeiro on the return trip northward, the itinerary for which is not yet completed.

After a reception at Annapala by President Miguel Paz Barahona, of Honduras, the president-elect will proceed by small boat ten miles to La Union for a welcome by Dr. Romero Bosque, president of Salvador.

Mr. Hoover today sent his regrets to Panama and Guatemala for his inability to make stops in those republics on this trip. His messages told of his deep interest in them and spoke of hoping to visit them at some later time.

The president-elect has entered completely into the life aboard the Maryland. He posed for pictures with the Maryland's championship football team and was introduced to Miles B. Timmins, of Boston, the team's captain, who was described as one of the navy's great players and one that Stanford University would like to have for its big game next Saturday with the University of California. Mr. Hoover shook hands with Timmins and chatted while the cameramen got busy.

The president-elect gets a "kick" out of the reports sent to him daily by Captain Kimberly, particularly the final report at night that the prisoners in the brig are safe and that all galley fires have been drawn for the night.

The Maryland's officers and men are proud to have Hoover aboard and groups of sailors watch him constantly as he walks the quarter deck. Some of the sailors got their cameras into action when Mr. Hoover posed with the football team.

The big event so far as the ship's men are concerned is yet to come. This will be when the Maryland crosses the equator and Father Neptune takes charge of the ship for a day. Unless the president-elect can show his ticket for having previously crossed the equator, he will be ready to give him the initiatory "work."

More than 1,900 men of the ship's personnel are crossing the equator for the first time. Members of the president-elect's party who have not previously crossed the imaginary line are due to get the traditional shave as well as a ducking in the tank.

KLAMATH INDIANS CLAIM ILL USAGE BY POWER FIRMS

Sensational Testimony Is Introduced at Inquiry Being Conducted in Frisco.

(Associated Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Charges of persecution of the Klamath River Indians by the power companies, including murder and arson, climaxed other bitter testimony here during the first session of the senatorial investigation of Indian affairs in this state.

Backed by United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson, women's club and the California Indian Defense association, Mrs. Mary Gist Dornbach, called the "Joan of Arc" of the Klamath River Indians, made a fiery witness before the committee which is hearing the complaints of neglect and maladministration directed against the federal Indian bureau.

MURDER ALLEGED— "The power corporations have stopped at nothing to get power sites on the Klamath river," Mrs. Dornbach testified. "My own sister was murdered and our house burned by agents of the power companies in their attempts to drive my people from the district," she asserted.

Belief that a certain California power company had obtained a temporary permit to build a dam on the Klamath river was expressed by Mrs. Dornbach and also by Harry C. Roberts, district chairman of Indian welfare, Federation of Women's clubs, and Attorney Charles L. Gilmore of Sacramento.

If this dam were to be built, they said, the salmon fishing in the Klamath river, which industry supports the Indians in the reservation, would be destroyed.
