ORDERS IGNORED AT VESTRIS SINKING. QUIZ TESTIMONY

(Associated Press Local Wire) FEDERAL BUILDING, New York, Nov. 21.—A retired United States naval officer took over the questioning at the federal inquiry into the sinking of the British steamer Vestris today and elicited from the senior surviving officer of the ship that his subordinates ignored his orders when the vessel was sinking, that crew members were absent from their stations at the life boats, and that women and children passengers were placed in the most dangerously situated boats.

The United States naval officer was Captain E. T. Jessup, American nautical adviser to United States Commissioner O'Neill, who is presiding at the hearing. The witness he questioned was Frank Johnson, chief officer of the Vestris.

Before Jessup took over the questioning, Johnson had testified in reply to U. S. Attorney Tuttle, who is conducting the inquiry, that the release mechanism of life boats was "not successful."

As Jessup interrogated Johnson, Captain Henry McConkey, British nautical adviser at the hearing, sat on the other side of Commissioner O'Neill, silently listening to the exchange of questions and answers and watching the witness closely.

The two advisers were appointed at the suggestion of the British government, the British consul general selecting Captain McConkey, who is marine superintendent of the Guard line, and Tuttle picking Captain Jessup.

celerated or retarded to synchronize with national and local needs.

"Creation of such a construction reserve," he continued, "is one of the best forms of insurance against the panics of our past. It may not be a cure-all but it certainly will alleviate our ills. In some measure it is possible to do for employment what the federal reserve system has done for finance and with equal advantage to the country as a whole."

Timely Conception "Picture the approach of an economic crisis with unemployment threatening in every hand. The release of three billions in construction contracts by public and quasi-public authorities would remedy or ameliorate the situation in the twinkling of an eye. Federal indexes are already becoming available that remove the problem from the domain of speculation or opinion and place the need upon a basis of simple facts.

"No centralization of authority is proposed, but merely the creation of a condition by concerted action that shall make possible a remedy that will appeal persuasively to all. Follow the flow of those three billions to the contractor, to the laborer, to the material man, to the factory, to the factory employe, to the merchant, to the farmer. It goes like the house that Jack built and unemployment is at an end."

tensive campaign, admitted the existence of drinking and gambling among both boys and girls. Some, however, termed the investigation an "outrage" and a reflection on the conduct of the city's 80,000 high school students.

HOME PRODUCTS ARE FEATURED BY CLUB AT LUNCHEON TUES.

The home products luncheon sponsored by the Roseburg Woman's Club at the club house on Tuesday noon was very well attended and quite interesting in the manner in which it was planned. All of the foods used at the luncheon were donated by local business houses as were the evening appointments used in the room. Several prizes were given by local distributors of products and firms.

Following the luncheon a program was held, Mrs. C. S. Heinicke furnishing the music. Mrs. Helaine introduced the new course of music study, the Melody Way, taught at her studio. Frank J. Norton of the Norton Canning company, spoke on canning work, presenting some quite interesting pointers.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS FOR BUSINESS

Umpqua Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary met in regular session last night at the armory, and the membership committee reported that 81 members have paid up for 1929. Roseburg's quota is 252 members and the committee is working very hard to secure this number before January 1st.

Mrs. H. C. Church has been appointed chairman of the unit cooperation committee and it will be her duty to see that the aims and purposes of the American Legion Auxiliary are brought before the other women's organizations of Roseburg and vicinity.

Mrs. C. K. Allen, child welfare chairman, reported that clothing and groceries were purchased and given to the family of a needy ex-service man, and it was decided to prepare and distribute Thanksgiving baskets to all the needy ex-service men's families. It was voted that $25.00 be sent to the department Christmas cheer fund to buy Christmas presents for ex-service men in the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Portland and for their families. At the next regular meeting to be held on December 4th, the members of the auxiliary are giving a pound and fruit shower for the family of an ex-service man who has recently been sent to the Veterans' hospital for treatment.

A very interesting affair has been planned for that date, when the auxiliary will hold a business meeting and be entertained at Oakland by the members residing in that city and vicinity. The community service chairman, Mrs. James Soules, reported that her committee is helping the county Red Cross in its annual drive for membership. A number of members were signed at last night's meeting. On last Saturday the auxiliary held a rummage sale and a satisfactory sum was reported raised with which to carry on the charity work of the unit this winter.

At the close of the evening's business a social time was enjoyed by members of the unit and refreshments were served.

UMPOQA POST TO HOLD MEETING AT OAKLAND DEC. 4

Umpqua post of the American Legion held a snappy and well attended meeting at the club rooms in the armory last night. The reports of the Armistice Day celebration were read, the financial statement showing that the income was sufficient to meet the costs of staging the celebration. An interesting talk was given on hospitalization by Dr. C. B. Wade.

The next meeting of the post is to be held at Oakland, Dec. 4. This is to be made a social meeting and the Cottage Grove post and Auxiliary will be invited to meet with Umpqua post and the local Auxiliary at Oakland. Both drum corps will be present and there will be a big social time in connection with the meeting.

BORAH SAYS FARM RELIEF REQUIRES SPECIAL SESSION

(Associated Press Local Wire) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Senator Borah today urged that the national grange support the proposal of a special session of congress to consider farm relief. Speaking at the grange convention here, he said he felt the problem could not be solved at the coming regular session.

"This recent campaign has placed all men holding public office in a position where they must take hold of the farm problem and do their best to solve it," he said. "There is no escape from the obligation undertaken. Both parties declared in their platforms for some relief measure."

Turning to the Kellogg peace treaty Senator Borah declared that international peace was of national concern and of particular concern to farmers. He expressed the hope that the senate would ratify the pact at the coming session.

Louis J. Faber, national grange master, in thanking the senator for addressing the grange, pledged that body's support to the treaty for international peace and also to any workable relief measures for agriculture.

The grange joined the association of the American land grant colleges for its afternoon session.

CATHOLIC STATES 'WE ARE THROUGH WITH COOPERATING'

(Associated Press Local Wire) CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—An educational campaign to acquaint the general public with the character, history, teachings, civil and religious activities of Catholics and the Catholic men and affiliated organizations.

Resolutions for such a campaign were adopted by the council last night at the final session of its annual convention here. Another resolution urged the study of labor and other social problems in the light of Catholic principles, by members and affiliated societies.

During a discussion of the after-effects of the recent presidential election, the Rev. Peter Guilday, a professor of church history at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., denounced "foes of the Catholic church who spread lies and calumny about the church and its members."

Following the assertion of a delegate that Catholic laymen should "abandon antagonism to the church," by cooperating with their Protestant associates, Dr. Guilday replied: "Cooperate with them? For 15 years we have given them cooperation and have done everything in our power to assist and enlighten them to the true religion and practices of the church and then in the stress of the last election they allowed their bishops and ministers to attack and vilify us because we are Catholics. We are through with cooperating."

GERMANY CONTINUES TO PAY ON U. S. WAR DEBT

(Associated Press Local Wire) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Germany reduced the claims of the United States for reimbursement of the cost of maintenance of the army of occupation on the Rhine river by $2,558,371 during the fiscal year ending June 30, leaving due $216,582,775.

Major General Roderick L. Carmichael, chief of finance, reported today to Secretary of War Dugles that Germany made two payments, the first of $5,914,849 and the second of $12,627,866.

haired, showed his joy at his acquittal yesterday by giving each of the three women jurors, a hearty hug. He has twice been brought to trial after facing a senate committee and has twice gone free, being acquitted in May on a contempt charge.

The oil magnate's defense was chiefly the contention that there was not a quorum of the senate present when he testified, and the official record of the public lands committee was also attacked.

The ruling of Justice Jennings Bailey, who presided on the absence or presence of a quorum of Nebraska, after the verdict.

"Such decisions," the senator said, "have made our jurisprudence the laughing-stock of the civilized world."

Walsh After Dr. Work Senator Walsh, who has flouted quite prominently in the oil investigations to date, in making the announcement that he thought still more probing was needed said:

"I want to know why Dr. Work stood by this removal. I am led to believe that he knew of the invalidity of the leave before he gave up his office as secretary."

Dr. Work resigned as secretary of the interior to become chairman of the republican national committee.

The five interpretations asked of the supreme court in the Sinclair contempt case may go far toward determining the authority of a congressional committee when questioning witnesses.

One of them asked if a witness before a congressional committee could refuse to answer questions which call for the disclosure of the private affairs of the witness and another asked if a witness might refuse to answer questions in matters where relief or redress could be had only by a judicial proceeding.

Reedport is a very busy place, according to C. McC. Johnson, mill operator, who was in Roseburg today on local business. Mr. Johnson operates a large mill at Reedport and is also interested in the new pulp plant at Newby. He is now working his Reedport plant at full capacity, getting out wood for pulp. All of the other Reedport mills are working full time, he reports.

Markets

(Associated Press Local Wire) PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—Turkey receipts of yesterday were the largest of the season. The demand was heavy to offset the plentiful supply. No. 1 grade dressed turkey dropped to 35 cents a pound with other quotations unchanged. Cranberries, walnuts, almonds and muskings, which comprise the remaining substance of holiday dinners, were steady with no general changes in price.

Recent cold nights have had their effect on the cauliflower crop. Cauliflower is now selling on the retail market at 5 to 25 cents a head. Much cauliflower was reported injured in the fields. No damage was reported to celery at church the price was higher, ranging from 5 to 15 cents a bunch on the retail market.

Dairy market quotations remain unchanged today with the exception of underdressed eggs which rose one cent in keeping with the general gains in other classes yesterday. Egg prices now range from standard extras at 51c to underdressed at 29 cents.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—Wholesale prices: Eggs—Underdressed 28c. Butter, milk, poultry, onions, potatoes, wool, oats, casars, bark and hops steady.

Hay—Alfalfa, $19-19.50.

WOMAN FAILS TO AID SOLUTION OF ROTHSTEIN CASE

(Associated Press Local Wire) NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The blonde wife of a Chicago railroad brakeman, Mrs. Ruth Keyes, was counted on today by the police and the district attorney's office to help them in their efforts to solve the slaying of Arnold Rothstein, gambler.

The slender 24-year-old woman, his blond wife that she has several drinks with a man she knew as "Jack" in room No. 349 of the Park Central hotel a few hours before Rothstein was in another room the night of November 4, Room 349, was occupied by George McManus, gambler friend of Rothstein. Police have been attempting to find McManus for questioning ever since the shooting.

Her arrival in the city last night with her husband, Floyd, and two detectives as escorts, gave police a breathing spell. Mayor Walker changed his mind about an intimidated shakeup of the police department and decided to give them further opportunity to make good on the case.

Mrs. Keyes was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Marro and police and was asked to appear again.

Police Inspector Conghlin said photographs had been submitted to her in an effort to establish the identity of the two men she met in the hotel room.

She explained to police that she knew nothing about Rothstein, that she was in the city on a shopping tour at the time he was slain and that she met "Jack" by chance on the third floor of the hotel, where she also had a room.

The police said she had come to the city on her own free will and was not under arrest.

FURNITURE BIDS SOUGHT

A list of all of the furniture and fixtures required for the new courthouse has been prepared, together with blueprints showing the sizes, types and specifications of articles wanted. The list is being submitted to bid and proposals will be received by the county court, December 17, at 10 a. m. The specifications call for fireproof desks, filing cabinets and other fixtures throughout.

TRUMPING PARTNER'S ACE WEIGHTY COURT PROBLEM

(Associated Press Local Wire) CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Some folks would say that trumping a partner's ace in a bridge game is justification even for manslaughter. The superior court is now asked to determine if it is cause for divorce.

Mrs. Virginia Chapman Schmidt, who at 19 secretly married to the son of a wealthy Chicago architect, has filed the suit, declaring that simply because she laid down a trump on her husband-partner's ace in a bridge game, he beat her. "Suitable alimony" is sought.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Taylor returned last night from Portland where they have been since Sunday. Mr. Taylor attending to business interests.
