(Continued from page 1) probably be ready for occupancy during the early part of the summer months. It will be three stories in height, with sufficient foundation to permit the adding of three more stories if needed. The lower floor will accommodate three stores and a garage, while the upper stories will be used entirely by physicians and dental offices.

Only two residences were constructed during the year, one being built by E. R. Hersh on Winchester street and the other by J. A. Peterson on Military street. Roseburg's residence construction has fallen off very noticeably during the past two years, but this is easily explained by the railroad terminal changes, which took a great many families away from the city two years ago, eliminating the house shortage that formerly existed.

HOME OF ITALIAN BANKER IN DETROIT WRECKED BY BOMB

(Associated Press Local Wire) DETROIT, Jan. 1.—The family of Vincent Giuliani, Italian banker and newspaper publisher, escaped injury early today when a bomb blew out one side of the house, wrecked the basement and broke all the windows on the first two floors. Police could assign no motive for the bombing, but recalled that Giuliani was a defense witness recently in the trial of an Italian alien to a Columbus day parade here. The shooting was the result of fascist and anti-fascist friction, the police said.

Giuliano is the president of a bank bearing his name and is the publisher of the Italian Tribune of America. Giuliani later said he believed an anarchistic organization against which his newspaper has been campaigning was responsible for the bombing. He deprecated suggestions that the Columbus day shooting had any connection with the affair.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—The New Year was hardly four hours old when its first bomb, a black-powder "time-bomb," exploded. The bomb had been planted in the doorway of Gus Francis' combination coffee shop and barber shop at 447 North Clark street, not far from the loop. Damage was slight.

USUAL HILARITY USHERS IN 1929 IN BIG CITIES (Continued from page 1) the boisterous and gaudy was over liquor," Hurlbut said. Only one raid had been reported up to early today. That was at the Putney cafe on East Ontario street, where liquor was seized. Morning newspapers did not view the prohibition department's view of the situation, reporting that many of the well known night clubs and cafes were packed, with considerable open drinking. Managers of loop hotels estimated 11,000 guests at their dining rooms, and the general expression was that it was the liveliest and noisiest celebration in many years.

HOW 1929 WAS GREETED ABROAD (Associated Press Local Wire) London.—The old year passed out with snow falling heavily in the north of Great Britain and a sloppy drizzle in the metropolis. As King George was thought out of immediate danger, festive greeting to 1929 was unabated. Berlin.—German carp, served with many sauces and carefully cooked, was the piece de resistance in Berlin's New Year's celebration. Along with it were eaten doughnuts filled with jam. Hot punch full of kick was drunk in toast to 1929. Lucky emblems were cast from lead to tell the future and 1929 went on with the crackling of firecrackers.

PARIS.—Hundreds of court-martialed soldiers received pardons or commutations of sentence as a New Year's gift from President Doumergue. Shanghai.—China began the new year as a united country under the national flag with civil warfare ended. As the solar calendar had been adopted recently, China for the first time observed New Year's day in common with the other countries of the world.

South Pole.—The new year arrived in daylight. Bucharest.—Queen Marie sent her affectionate remembrances and heartiest New Year's greetings to the American people. Arctic.—Major L. T. Burwash, Arctic explorer, drank a toast to the new year with Eskimo companions at the magnetic pole where he is conducting an investigation to find out if it has shifted since 1905. In various parts of the Arctic region 30 employees of the Canadian department of interior and more than 100 officers and men of the royal mounted police assembled to welcome the new year.

Antarctic.—Two expeditions bent on wresting new secrets from frozen wastes welcomed the new year 1,500 miles apart in the Antarctic. The expedition led by Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins was on the South American side of Antarctica and Commander Richard E. Byrd and 50 companions with him was at the Ross ice barrier 800 miles from the pole to send the chorus in greeting to 1929. ROGUE'S GALLERY LOVER, Ohio.—Major P. J. Grah, after trying everything from scientific treatment to padding in his effort to overcome his habit of drinking, has issued photographs of all local addicts to merchants with instructions not to sell the liquid to them.

LITTLE LIQUOR IN EVIDENCE AT NEW YEAR DANCES

New Year's celebrations throughout the county passed off very peacefully upon the whole, according to city and county officers. Special assignments were made to all officers last night to watch the various dances that were in progress, and while liquor was in evidence at several of the dances there was little disorder, and no arrests. Reports were placed in circulation this morning that many arrests were made in Roseburg last night, but this was not true. At Ten Mile the officers apprehended a group of young people drinking, but the bottles were thrown away as the officers approached, the evidence being destroyed so that arrests could not be made.

HERBERT HASTINGS IS ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGES Herbert Hastings, of Winchester, who has been arrested previously on charges of violation of the liquor law, was picked up early this morning by Deputy Sheriff Branham and City Officer George Dietsch charged with drunkenness, possession of liquor and indecent exposure. A federal charge of transportation of liquor was also brought against him to confiscate his car in which the officers claim they found a bottle of liquor. Hastings is said to have been intoxicated and acting in a disorderly manner at the time of his arrest. He resisted the efforts of the officers to lodge him in jail, and they had quite a tussle with him. He was quieted before he was finally lodged in the county jail to await a hearing. No action has been taken as yet to confiscate his automobile, but officers report that proceedings may soon be undertaken.

BODY SPANISH WAR VETERAN TO ARRIVE HERE FOR BURIAL Edward Sanders, Spanish war veteran and a member of the California Soldiers' Home, passed away at Chico, California, December 29 on his way to Walla Walla, according to a message received here by Commandant Geo. Stammers, of the Oregon Soldiers' Home, and the body is being sent on to Roseburg for burial. The remains will arrive tonight from Chico and will be taken to the Douglas Funeral Home where services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will be in the Soldiers' Home cemetery. Although not known here, Mr. Sanders is believed to be a member of the 6804 Young camp at Portland.

ARMY'S PLANE GIVING MOTOR SUPREME TEST (Continued from page 1.) The initial refueling another 100 gallons of gasoline were taken aboard. The plane carried 40 gallons of oil, and took no more aboard at refueling. Refueled 2,800 Feet Up Lieutenant Moon reported, when he landed his refueling ship at the airport at 8:35 a. m., that the contact was made with the Question Mark at 8:19 a. m. and maintained for 8 minutes. The contact was made at 2,800 feet altitude, and the ships, flying within 17 feet of each other, settled 80 feet before the gasoline was transferred. The Question Mark returned to the airport, circled the tower, and turned toward San Diego, flying evenly at about 2,500 feet. The next refueling will be made at 11:30 a. m. in San Diego, where refueling ship No. 1 is stationed. Lieutenant Moon is to take the refueling ship from his airport to Imperial county airport to be prepared to refuel the ship should bad weather force it off its planned course.

WHISKEY LIMIT WIDENED TO AID INFLUENZA CURE (Associated Press Local Wire) WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Restrictions on physicians' prescription of whiskey have been loosened by the prohibition bureau in the face of the continued spread of influenza. Any doctor wishing a larger number of medicinal whiskey prescriptions to care for his patients can obtain them, the bureau said, by applying at the prohibition office in his territory. Under the law a doctor is allowed to prescribe a pint of whiskey for a patient every ten days and 100 such prescriptions can be made monthly. Prohibition officials said there was no letting up in the liquor laws and that the announcement was made to inform doctors that they would obtain more prescriptions if they needed them. It was said that it was practice to give a physician more than 100 prescrip-

DANCE OF LEGION DRUM CORPS VERY WELL ATTENDED

One of the most enjoyable of affairs coming at the close of the holidays was the dance on New Year's eve sponsored by the drum corps of Umpqua Post of the American Legion at the Oriental Gardens. A large crowd was in attendance throughout the evening. The hall made a very attractive setting for the dance with fir boughs and green paper ropes and the set arranged in decoration and a large Christmas tree centering the room. Excellent music, provided by the Merry-makers Orchestra, was furnished for the dance program. Several tickets for airplane rides at the Umpqua flying service were given away through drawing last night, this feature being provided by the post.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS BRING BACK ERRING DAUGHTER (Associated Press Local Wire) OXFORD, Pa., Dec. 31.—The singing of Christmas carols in Salt Lake City, Utah, served to unravel the mystery of the disappearance of Miss Frances Brown, 17, who left here last May with Gay Redmond, 24, her uncle, her parents revealed. The girl's father, Kirk Brown, had enlisted an almost nationwide search for his only daughter, and police circulars and fliers had been sent out to scores of cities and even to foreign countries. Today the parents received a letter from their daughter in which she said that when she heard Sunday school children singing Christmas carols in a church in Salt Lake City she became homesick and "just had to write," although professing to be happy with her uncle. Redmond is a brother of Mrs. Brown, and his wife and two children are living at the Brown home. Brown immediately sent a message to his daughter and will leave immediately for the west hoping to bring her back home with him.

SKUNK DINES ON BEES (Associated Press Local Wire) PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 1.—Beekeepers in Arizona are convinced that a skunk couldn't have any other name and be what he is. One bright moonlight night, in an aptly where bees were mysteriously disappearing, guards were posted. Out of the shadows came a skunk, to tap on the front of the hive with his feet and claws. The bees, cold and sluggish, came out to investigate and the intruder lapped them up. The next night a poisoned bait of ground pork-cracklings and strecholine was set and four skunks died. Seven died the next night. One, examined, had 265 bees in his stomach.
